20. Air raid (Red) signal. This is an audible public warning signal indicating the proximity of enemy aircraft and the imminence of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal (approximately two minutes) will be a series of short blasts of horns or whistles or a warbling or fluctuating sound of varying pitch of a siren. Upon the sounding of this signal, in addition to the actions required by the mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal, as contained in paragraph 19 above, within such warning district blackout shall be completed by extinguishing or obscuring all lights, except as permitted by paragraphs 24 to 35, inclusive, and pedestrians, vehicles and other conveyances shall comply with the requirements of paragraphs 38 to 42, inclusive.

21. All clear (White) signal. This signal is a public signal indicating All Clear in the district so warned. This signal may be transmitted by radio, telephone, police, by turning on street lights which have been extinguished on the Blue signal, or other available means. This signal may also be given by horns, whistles, or sirens, as specified by local civilian defense authorities: Provided, however, That such audible signal shall not be the same as the mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal and the air raid (Red) signal, as provided in paragraphs 19 and 20 above, and shall not resemble said signals so as to be confused therewith. Where such audible signal is used, as provided above, in a metropolitan area, embodying two or more municipalities, such signal shall be first coordinated by the Military District of Washington or service commands within which such area is located. When an All Clear (White) signal follows a Yellow signal without an intervening mobilization and blackout (Blue) or air-raid (Red) signal, it shall not be an audible signal but shall be transmitted only in the manner provided for the Yellow signal, as in paragraph 18 above.

NOTE: Ordinarily, a Yellow Signal shall precede a Blue Signal and a Blue Signal shall precede a Red Signal. However, if sufficient time is not available for these signals to be separated by at least five (5) minutes, the Yellow Signal and or the Blue Signal may be omitted, so that a Blue Signal may be given without a prior Yellow Signal and a Red Signal may be given without a prior Yellow and or Blue Signal. A Blue Signal shall follow every Red Signal, after an interval of not less than five (5) minutes and may in turn be followed by a White Signal or by another Red Signal. Upon the sounding of a Blue Signal, pedestrians and vehicles should give consideration to movement to places of safety in anticipation of an air raid (Red) Signal. The same action shall be required upon a Blue Signal whether it precedes or follows a Red Signal, that is, a return to a status of blackout rather than a condition of air raid; this will permit traffic and pedestrians to resume movement but maintain the blackout condition indicating that raiders have passed the areas so warned but that a condition of blackout is still required in anticipation of another Red Signal upon the approach of a new wave of raiders or a return of the original raiders. The sequence of signals in such case would be Blue, Red, Blue. Red, Blue. A White Signal may follow a Yellow Signal or a Blue Signal, but will not follow a Red Signal without an intermediate Blue Signal. A White Signal shall not be given within ten (10) minutes of a preceding Blue Signal. The All-Clear (White) Signal will not be given until the probability of attack no longer exists.

SECTION III—PROHIBITED LIGHTING

22. Prohibited lighting. During the period and in the area of blackout occurring during hours of darkness, persons in control of lighting shall cause all lights[4] visible from the outside to be extinguished or blacked-out as promptly as possible, except as permitted in paragraphs 24 to 37, inclusive.

a. In Coastal Dimout Areas designated as such, the goal or time objective for the completion of all blackout measures shall be five (5) minutes.

b. In all other parts of the Military District of Washington of the Eastern Military Area, all blackout measures shall be completed as near five (5) minutes as possible but in any event not to exceed fifteen (15) minutes.[5]

23. Unattended lighting. At all times during hours of darkness, occupants of premises and operators of road vehicles and other conveyances shall not have any unattended lighting, except as permitted in paragraphs 24 to 35. Lighting shall be considered unattended unless a competent individual, who is a member, employee, or guest of the household or business establishment of the occupier, or who is the operator or occupant of a road vehicle or other conveyance, or who, by arrangement with any such individual has undertaken responsibility for said lighting, can blackout as provided in paragraph 22 above.[1]

SECTION IV—LIGHTING PERMITTED DURING PERIODS OF BLACKOUT AND DURING PERIODS OF AIR RAID

24. General. During the periods and in the areas of blackout or air raid, during hours of darkness, whether attended or not, lighting is permitted as provided in paragraphs 25 to 35, inclusive.

25. Lights in buildings and residences. a. In building interiors a small amount of controlled illumination, sufficient to permit reasonable facility of movement without necessitating complete obscuration of doors and windows, is permitted only when the indoor incandescent lamps or lighting units are installed in accordance with the directions contained in subparagraph b below and which:—

(1) Are marked "Indoor Blackout—War Department Standard" (See W. D. Specifications—Blackout of Buildings) or

(2) Conform to the following requirements:

(a) Watts—not more than fifteen (15);

(b) Bulb coating—opaque except for circular aperture on bulb end;

(c) Circular aperture—maximum diameter of one (1) inch;

(d) Color of aperture—orange or orange-red,[3] or

(3) Conform to the following requirements:

(a) Watts—not more than twenty-five (25).

(b) Circuit—230 volt bulb used on 115 volt circuit.

(c) Bulb coating—opaque except for circular aperture on end of bulb.

(d) Circular aperture—maximum diameter of one (1) inch.

(e) Color of aperture—clear or frosted.

b. All indoor blackout lights, permitted as above, shall be installed in accordance with the following directions:

(1) In any room, only one unit is permitted to each two hundred square feet of floor area or a fraction thereof.

(2) Units shall be spaced not less than ten feet apart in any direction.

(3) In corridors, one row of units is permitted at a spacing of not less than fifteen feet.

(4) Units shall be placed at least three feet from any window, exterior door, or other opening.

(5) Units shall not be pointed toward any window, exterior door, or other opening.

(6) Units may be installed at any height when openings are covered in the usual manner with drawn window shades, drapes, blinds, or one thickness of newspaper, or whenever each unit has a shade which screens the unit from outside observation above the horizontal.

(7) Units shall be located above the tops of such openings, when exterior openings are not covered and when units are not otherwise shaded from outside observation above the horizontal.

c. Interior red exit lights are permitted in all public buildings, with the restriction that each exit light shall be so located or shielded as to screen direct light from falling on windows or doors, and that it shall be equipped with one lamp of not more than 15 watts.

26. Emergency motor vehicles. Emergency motor vehicles, as defined in paragraph 41, may move during periods stated in paragraph 24 above, using only headlights (on low or depressed beam) and normal tail lights and license plate lights.[2]

27. Traffic signals and traffic signs. Traffic signals, traffic signs, fire and police box markers and other illuminated signal devices, complying with War Department Specifications "Traffic Control During Blackouts," are permitted during periods stated in paragraph 24 above.[4]

28. Street lighting luminaires. Street lighting luminaires complying with War Department Specification "Street Lighting During Blackouts," are permitted during periods stated in paragraph 24 above.[5]

29. Flashlights, lanterns and flares. Flashlight, lanterns and flares complying with War Department Specification "Flashlights, Lanterns and Flares," are permitted during periods stated in paragraph 24 above. Pending the availability of specified filters or automatic cut-offs, flashlights not so equipped may be used provided the light is filtered through (a) three thicknesses of newspaper, or (b) one thickness of newspaper and one sheet of red cellophane. Flashlights shall not be pointed above the horizontal. Pending the availability of lanterns complying with the above specification, lanterns equipped with red or orange globes may be used to mark excavations or other dangerous obstructions.

30. Water navigation lights. During the periods as stated in paragraph 24, the following water navigation lights are permitted:

a. Lights on fixed or floating structures except such as are specified by the United States Navy as not essential to indicate safe channels of navigation.

b. Lights on boats to the extent required by the United States Navy.

31. Aeronautical lights. During the periods as stated in paragraph 24, the following aeronautical lights are permitted:

a. Flood lights and runway approach lights only at those fields and only to the extent necessary to expedite clearing the air of flights.

b. Position lights on aircraft in flight as required by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

c. Obstruction lights, except such as are specified by the Military District of Washington as not essential.

d. Beacon lights as specifically authorized by the Military District of Washington. (Otherwise beacon lights shall comply with the provisions of paragraph 22.)

32. Thermal processes. During the periods specified in paragraph 24, light emitted from industrial processes, such as furnace glow in glass, pottery and cement works, iron foundries, steel mills, and coke works, is permitted: Provided however, That such light shall be shielded, obscured, reduced in intensity or otherwise treated to as great an extent as may be practicable in order to reduce to a minimum the light visible from the outside. Steam or smoke shall be reduced to the minimum.

33. Railroad lights. During the periods as specified in paragraph 24 above, all railroad lights on rolling stock and fixed installations are permitted provided they comply with "Rules and Regulations for Railroads During Blackout or Air Raid Alarms within the Eastern Defense Command," approved by the War Department September 3, 1942.

34. Lighting of military necessity. All lights of the armed forces necessarily used in active defense measures are permitted during the periods stated in paragraph 24.

35. Specially authorized lights. Any lights specifically authorized by the Military District of Washington are permitted during such period and to such extent as the Commanding General thereof may deem appropriate.

SECTION V—LIGHTING PERMITTED DURING PERIODS OF BLACKOUT BUT PROHIBITED DURING PERIODS OF AIR RAID

36. Special permitted lights. During the period and in the area of blackout (Blue), but not during the period of air raid (Red), (1) street lights and traffic signals, (2) lights in military and naval installations and manufacturing plants or other facilities essential to the war effort, and (3) lights in railroad classification yards, are permitted, provided such three classes of lights comply with the following conditions:

a. That such lights comply with dimout regulations in effect in such area, or, in the absence of such regulations, if they do not contribute materially to skyglow; and

b. That such lights shall be extinguished or blacked out within one (1) minute from the sounding of the air raid (Red) signal when such signal follows a blackout (Blue) signal.

[1] See pars. 12 to 16, incl.

[2] Section II hereof supersedes certain provisions of O. C. D. pamphlet, "Air Raid Warning System."

[3] Local civilian defense authorities should maintain records of the time of beginning and ending of sounding of all audible air warning signals.

[4] This prohibition applies to lights of every description, electrical, gas, oil, or any other source, including matches, cigarette lighters etc. It prohibits lights that are blue or any other color except as specifically permitted.

[5] Although fifteen minutes are allowed outside of the Coastal Dimout Area (due to the fact that lighting is not already substantially reduced), five minutes is the ultimate goal to be attained in all areas. It should be recognized that it may not always be possible to give fifteen minutes' warning and in fact a Red signal may at times be required without a prior Blue signal; hence an effort should be made to blackout in as short a period as possible.

[1] It is to be noted that the provisions of this paragraph, requiring that lighting be attended, apply every night whether or not there is a period of air raid or a period of blackout.

[2] Blue is prohibited for blackout lights.

[3] It is anticipated that the provisions of this paragraph will be superseded when standard blackout lighting equipment meeting War Department Specifications or substitute equipment as approved by proper military authority is available and is provided for all the emergency motor vehicles in any specified city or metropolitan area. In Coastal Dimout Areas, headlights must also comply with Dimout Regulations.

[4] See also War Department Specification "Luminescent Materials."

[5] See also paragraph 34 for street lighting permitted during periods of blackout (Blue) but prohibited during periods of air raid (Red).

37. Lights on road vehicles and other conveyances.[1] During the period and in the area of blackout (Blue), but not during the period of air raid (Red):

a. All moving motor vehicles are permitted to use headlights (on low or depressed beam) and normal tail lights and license plate lights.

b. Street cars, elevated trains and subway trains operating above ground level are permitted to use normal exterior and interior lights.

c. Road vehicles other than motor vehicles are permitted to use normal lights.

SECTION VI—MOVEMENT OF VEHICLES AND OTHER CONVEYANCES; PEDESTRIANS

38. General. During the period and in the area of air (Red) alarm:

a. All road vehicles, except emergency vehicles as defined in paragraph 41, shall be immediately stopped (except as provided in paragraphs 39 and 40) and parked so that roadway space shall be left for the passage of traffic, and all lights shall be extinguished. Occupants shall leave said vehicles as soon as parked and shall take shelter, except that occupants of road vehicles carrying property which must be guarded may remain in said parked vehicles.

b. Street cars shall be stopped at loading points or other safe and convenient locations, and passengers shall be discharged and take shelter. All exterior and interior lights shall be extinguished.

c. Ridden or herded animals shall clear the public way for the passage of traffic.

d. Boats shall comply with regulations issued by the United States Navy.

e. Movement of railroad trains and personnel shall be in accordance with the provisions of "Rules and Regulations for Railroads During Blackout or Air Raid Alarms within the Eastern Defense Command," approved by the War Department September 3, 1942.

39. Bridges and tunnels. During the period and in the area of air raid (Red) alarm, road vehicles, other than emergency vehicles, and street cars shall not enter bridges, viaducts, or tunnels and, if already there, shall proceed to the end or exit thereof and as far beyond as necessary to park in accordance with the preceding paragraph 38a.

40. Vehicles transporting dangerous materials. Vehicles transporting explosives, gasoline, or other dangerous combustibles shall, upon the signal for an air raid (Red), proceed forthwith, where possible, to a place more than one hundred (100) feet from the nearest habitation or business premises and there park as provided in paragraph 38a. Vehicles so proceeding may use headlights (low or depressed beam), normal tail lights, and license plate lights.

41. Emergency vehicles. The term "Emergency Vehicles" shall mean the following road vehicles:

a. Vehicles of, or acting under orders of, or traveling with the express permission of, the armed forces of the United States and her allies;

b. Vehicles of fire departments and governmental police agencies;

c. Ambulances and official rescue cars and other vehicles converted to such use in emergency service;

d. Public utility repair vehicles operating in emergency service;

e. Vehicles in emergency service identified by insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense. In exceptional cases vehicles without such identifying insignia will be permitted to move as emergency vehicles provided the appropriate civilian defense authorities are satisfied that the use of such vehicles is necessary in the performance of emergency duties.

42. Pedestrians. Upon the signal for an air raid (Red), all persons shall immediately take shelter in the nearest building in which they are legally permitted to enter or in the designated shelter area most convenient to them, except those required for the performance of their official duties as follows:

a. Uniformed members of the armed forces of the United States and her allies, and of the State Guards.

b. Members of fire departments and governmental police agencies.

c. Persons as authorized by civilian defense authorities who wear arm-bands or carry identification cards with insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense, or persons wearing arm-bands authorized for the Aircraft Warning Service; provided all such persons are required to move in the performance of their emergency duties.

SECTION VII—RADIO

43. Radio stations will be silenced at such time and for such periods as may be ordered by fighter command[2] as follows:

a. Radio stations operating on frequencies between three thousand (3,000) and thirty thousand (30,000) kilocycles will not be silenced.

b. Radio stations operating on frequencies below three thousand (3,000) and above thirty thousand (30,000) kilocycles will be ordered silenced when the tactical situation warrants, except as follows:

(1) During periods of blackout and air raid, special broadcast messages on selected frequencies may be made under the specific direction and control of the Military District of Washington.[3]

(2) Army and Navy stations may operate to a necessary minimum when necessity dictates as determined by the local commander.

(3) Police, fire and other special emergency radio stations may remain in operation upon the following basis:

(a) Each transmission will not exceed thirty (30) seconds.

(b) Transmissions will be at intervals of not less than two (2) minutes.

(c) The normal call letter will be omitted.

(d) The intelligence transmitted will not disclose identity or location of station.

SECTION VIII—PRACTICE BLACKOUTS AND PRACTICE AIR RAIDS

44. Practice blackouts and practice air raids may be conducted by federal, state and local authorities in such area, at such times, and to such extent as may be authorized by the Military District of Washington in which the area is located. The Commanding General, Military District of Washington may excuse from such practice blackouts or practice air raids, for such periods and to such extent as he may determine, any military or naval installation, manufacturing plant or other facility essential to the war effort, provided the said Commanding General, Military District of Washington has ascertained that such installation, plant, or facility is prepared to and is proficient in blackout, or for such other reasons as he may deem appropriate.

SECTION IX—FALSE BLACKOUTS OR AIR RAIDS

45. False blackouts or air raids. No person shall order, utter, publish, sound, or otherwise simulate or cause to be ordered, uttered, published, sounded, or otherwise simulated, any air warning signal unless ordered or authorized to do so by the fighter command or, in the case of practice blackouts or practice air raids, as authorized by the Military District of Washington, or for the testing of air warning equipment on Saturdays between twelve (12) o'clock noon and five (5) minutes following, as authorized by the civilian defense authorities.

SECTION X.—ILLEGAL USE OF INSIGNIA

46. Illegal use of insignia. No person shall wear, exhibit, display, use, manufacture, sell, or offer for sale for any purpose, or cause to be worn, exhibited, displayed, used, manufactured, sold, or offered for sale for any purpose, any armband, badge, emblem, uniform, pennant, card, or other identification or credential embodying the insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense or prescribed for the aircraft warning service, or any simulation or adaptation of such insignia, except in accordance with rules and regulations of the director of civilian defense or the aircraft warning service.

SECTION XI. ENFORCEMENT AND PENALTIES

47. Any person who violates any regulation contained herein is subject to the penalties provided by Title 18, Section 97A, United States Code,[4] and to immediate exclusion from the Eastern Military Area by the Commanding General, Eastern Defense Command and First Army. In addition, if two or more persons conspire to violate said Section 97A, United States Code, and one or more persons do any act to effect the object of such conspiracy each of said parties will be subject to the penalties provided by Title 18, section 88, United States Code.[4] In case of an alien enemy, such person will, in addition, be subject to immediate apprehension and internment.

48. The United States Coordinator of Civilian Defense for the Metropolitan Area and civilian defense authorities within the District of Columbia, the Counties of Arlington and Fairfax and the City of Alexandria in the State of Virginia, and the Counties of Montgomery, Prince Georges, and that part of Charles lying north of Mattawoman Creek in the State of Maryland, with their consent, are designated as the principal agencies to assist in the enforcement of these regulations.

49. These regulations shall not in any way modify the Dimout Regulations heretofore or hereafter prescribed for the Coastal Dimout Area of the Military District of Washington.

50. These regulations shall apply to persons in, or performing or permitting acts in the Military District of Washington, which embraces the District of Columbia and the Counties of Arlington and Fairfax and the City of Alexandria in the State of Virginia and the Counties of Montgomery, Prince Georges, and that part of Charles lying north of Mattawoman Creek in the State of Maryland, and shall become effective on February 17, 1943.

[Air Raid Protection Regulations 1]

AIR RAID PROTECTION

Governing blackout, the control of lighting and radio, the movement of vehicles and other conveyances, and activities of persons during periods of blackout and air raid, and related matters, within the First Service Command (Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut).

SECTION II—AIR WARNING SIGNAL SYSTEM[6]

17. Transmission of signals. The air warning signals described in paragraphs 18, 19, 20 and 21 shall be issued, sounded, or announced only upon the order or the authorization of the fighter command to the district warning center which is operated by civilian defense authorities. The fighter command is responsible only that the district warning center receives the order or authorization for the giving of such signals. Civilian defense authorities are responsible for the transmission of such signals from the district warning center through their alarm warning systems to the public.[6] In the case of practice blackouts or practice air raids, such air warning signals shall be issued, sounded, or announced only upon the order or authorization of the service command to civilian defense authorities.

18. Yellow signal. This is a confidential preliminary caution signal not to be given by audible public alarm. It indicates the possibility of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal shall be transmitted by civilian defense authorities only to such key persons, essential industries, railroads, and places within such warning district as such authorities deem essential to initiate proper steps to insure timely blackout or air raid precautions.

19. Mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal. This is an audible warning signal indicating the probability of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal will be a long note (approximately two minutes) at steady pitch of sirens, horns, or whistles. Upon the

[1] In Coastal Dimout Areas, such lights must also comply with Dimout Regulations.

[2] Consideration is given to visibility prior to imposing radio silences.

[3] The selected frequencies will be announced by the Military District of Washington. Persons having radio receivers should keep them tuned to one of the selected frequencies during periods of blackout or air raid. No broadcasts on any frequency are authorized during periods of blackout or air raid except as authorized by the Military District of Washington on the selected frequencies.

[4] This section provides a penalty of a fine not to exceed $5,000, or imprisonment for not more than one (1) year, or both, for each offense.

[5] This section provides a penalty of a fine not to exceed $10,000, or imprisonment for not more than two (2) years, or both, for each offense.

[6] See pars. 12 to 16, incl.—References.

[6] Local civilian defense authorities should maintain records of the time of beginning and ending of sounding of all audible air warning signals.

sounding of this signal, within such warning district, civilian defense forces will mobilize or remain mobilized; if during hours of darkness, lighting will be extinguished or obscured except as permitted by paragraphs 24 to 37, inclusive, and pedestrians and traffic may continue or resume movement.

20. Air raid (Red) Signal. This is an audible public warning signal indicating the proximity of enemy aircraft and the imminence of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal (approximately two minutes) will be a series of short blasts of horns or whistles or a warbling or fluctuating sound of varying pitch of a siren. Upon the sounding of this signal, in addition to the actions required by the mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal, as contained in paragraph 19 above, within such warning district blackout shall be completed by extinguishing or obscuring all lights, except as permitted by paragraphs 24 to 35, inclusive, and pedestrians, vehicles and other conveyances shall comply with the requirements of paragraphs 38 to 42, inclusive.

21. All clear (White) signal. This signal is a public signal indicating All Clear in the district so warned. This signal may be transmitted by radio, telephone, police, by turning on street lights which have been extinguished on the Blue signal, or other available means. This signal may also be given by horns, whistles, or sirens, as specified by local civilian defense authorities: Provided, however, That such audible signal shall not be the same as the mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal and the air raid (Red) signal, as provided in paragraphs 18 and 20 above, and shall not resemble said signals so as to be confused therewith. Where such audible signal is used, as provided above, in a metropolitan area, embodying two or more municipalities, such signal shall be first coordinated by the service command or service commands within which such area is located. When an All Clear (White) signal follows a Yellow signal without an intervening mobilization and blackout (Blue) or air-raid (Red) signal it shall not be an audible signal but shall be transmitted only in the manner provided for the Yellow signal, as in paragraph 18 above.

NOTE: Ordinarily, a Yellow Signal shall precede a Blue Signal and a Blue Signal shall precede a Red Signal. However, if sufficient time is not available for these signals to be separated by at least five (5) minutes, the Yellow Signal and or the Blue Signal may be omitted, so that a Blue Signal may be given without a prior Yellow Signal and a Red Signal may be given without a prior Yellow and or Blue Signal. A Blue Signal shall follow every Red Signal, after an interval of not less than five (5) minutes and may in turn be followed by a White Signal or by another Red Signal. Upon the sounding of a Blue Signal, pedestrians and vehicles should give consideration to movement to places of safety in anticipation of an air raid (Red) Signal. The same action shall be required upon a Blue Signal whether it precedes or follows a Red Signal, that is, a return to a status of blackout rather than a condition of air raid; this will permit traffic and pedestrians to resume movement but maintains the blackout condition indicating that raiders have passed the area so warned but that a condition of blackout is still required in anticipation of another Red Signal upon the approach of a new wave of raiders or a return of the original raiders. The sequence of signals in such case would be Blue, Red, Blue, Red, Blue. A White Signal may follow a Yellow Signal or a Blue Signal, but will not follow a Red Signal without an intermediate Blue Signal. A White Signal shall not be given within ten (10) minutes of a preceding Blue Signal. The All-Clear (White) Signal will not be given until the probability of attack no longer exists.

SECTION III—PROHIBITED LIGHTING

22. Prohibited lighting. During the period and in the area of blackout occurring during hours of darkness, persons in control of lighting shall cause all lights [1] visible from the outside to be extinguished or blacked-out as promptly as possible, except as permitted in paragraphs 24 to 37, inclusive.

a. In Coastal Dimout Areas designated as such, the goal or time objective for the completion of all blackout measures shall be five (5) minutes.

b. In all other parts of the First Service Command of the Eastern Military Area, all blackout measures shall be completed as near five (5) minutes as possible but in any event not to exceed fifteen (15) minutes.[2]

23. Unattended lighting. At all times during hours of darkness, occupants of premises and operators of road vehicles and other conveyances shall not have any unattended lighting, except as permitted in paragraphs 24 to 35. Lighting shall be considered unattended unless a competent individual, who is a member, employee, or guest of the household or business establishment of the occupier, or who is the operator or occupant of a road vehicle or other conveyance, or who, by arrangement with any such individual has undertaken responsibility for said lighting, can black out as provided in paragraph 22 above.[3]

SECTION IV—LIGHTING PERMITTED DURING PERIODS OF BLACKOUT AND DURING PERIODS OF AIR RAID

24. General. During the periods and in the areas of blackout or air raid, during hours of darkness, whether attended or not, lighting is permitted as provided in paragraphs 25 to 35, inclusive.

25. Lights in buildings and residences. a. In building interiors a small amount of controlled illumination, sufficient to permit reasonable facility of movement without necessitating complete obscuration of doors and windows, is permitted only when the indoor incandescent lamps or lighting units are installed in accordance with the directions contained in subparagraph b below and which:

(1) Are marked "Indoor Blackout—War Department Standard" (See W. D. Specifications—Blackout of Buildings) or

(2) Conform to the following requirements:

(a) Watts—not more than fifteen (15).

(b) Bulb coating—opaque except for circular aperture on bulb end;

(c) Circular aperture—maximum diameter of one (1) inch;

(d) Color of aperture—orange or orange-red,[4] or

(3) Conform to the following requirements:

(a) Watts—not more than twenty-five (25).

(6) Units may be installed at any height when openings are covered in the usual manner with drawn window shades, drapes, blinds, or one thickness of newspaper, or whenever each unit has a shade which screens the unit from outside observation above the horizontal.

(7) Units shall be located above the tops of such openings, when exterior openings are not covered and when units are not otherwise shaded from outside observation above the horizontal.

c. Interior red exit lights are permitted in all public buildings, with the restriction that each exit light shall be so located or shielded as to screen direct light from falling on windows or doors, and that it shall be equipped with one lamp of not more than 15 watts.

31. Aeronautical lights. During the periods as stated in paragraph 24, the following aeronautical lights are permitted:

a. Flood lights and runway approach lights only at those fields and only to the extent necessary to expedite clearing the air of flights.

b. Position lights on aircraft in flight as required by the Civil Aeronautics Adminstraton.

c. Obstruction lights except such as are specified by the service command as not essential.

d. Beacon lights as specifically authorized by the service command. (Otherwise beacon lights shall comply with the provisions of paragraph 22.)

32. Thermal processes. During the periods specified in paragraph 24, light emitted from industrial processes, such as furnace glow in glass, pottery and cement works, iron foundries, steel mills, and coke works, is permitted: Provided however, That such light shall be shielded, obscured, reduced in intensity or otherwise treated to as great an extent as may be practicable in order to reduce to a minimum the light visible from the outside. Steam or smoke shall be reduced to the minimum.

SECTION V—LIGHTING PERMITTED DURING PERIODS OF BLACKOUT BUT PROHIBITED DURING PERIODS OF AIR RAID

36. Special permitted lights. During the period and in the area of blackout (Blue), but not during the period of air raid (Red), (1) street lights and traffic signals, (2) lights in military and naval installations and manufacturing plants or other facilities essential to the war effort, and (3) lights in railroad classification yards, are permitted, provided such three classes of lights comply with the following conditions:

a. That such lights comply with dimout regulations in effect in such area, or, in the absence of such regulations, if they do not contribute materially to skyglow; and

b. That such lights shall be extinguished or blacked out within one (1) minute from the sounding of the air raid (Red) signal when such signal follows a blackout (Blue) signal.

37. Lights on road vehicles and other conveyances.[4] During the period and in the area of blackout (Blue), but not during the period of air raid (Red):

a. All moving motor vehicles are permitted to use headlights (on low or depressed beam) and normal tail lights and license plate lights.

b. Street cars, elevated trains and subway trains operating above ground level are permitted to use normal exterior and interior lights.

c. Road vehicles other than motor vehicles are permitted to use normal lights.

SECTION VI—MOVEMENT OF VEHICLES AND OTHER CONVEYANCES; PEDESTRIANS

38. General. During the period and in the area of air raid (Red) alarm:

a. All road vehicles, except emergency vehicles as defined in paragraph 41, shall be immediately stopped (except as provided in paragraphs 39 and 40) and parked so that roadway space shall be left for the passage of traffic, and all lights shall be extinguished. Occupants shall leave said vehicles as soon as parked and shall take shelter, except that occupants of road vehicles carrying property which must be guarded may remain in said parked vehicles.

b. Street cars shall be stopped at loading points or other safe and convenient locations, and passengers shall be discharged and take shelter. All exterior and interior lights shall be extinguished.

c. Ridden or herded animals shall clear the public way for the passage of traffic.

d. Boats shall comply with regulations issued by the United States Navy.

e. Movement of railroad trains and personnel shall be in accordance with the provisions of "Rules and Regulations for Railroads During Blackout or Air Raid Alarms within the Eastern Defense Command," approved by the War Department September 3, 1942.

39. Bridges and tunnels. During the period and in the area of air raid (Red) alarm, road vehicles, other than emergency vehicles, and street cars shall not enter bridges, viaducts, or tunnels and, if already there, shall proceed to the end or exit thereof and as far beyond as necessary to park in accordance with the preceding paragraph 38a.

40. Vehicles transporting dangerous materials. Vehicles transporting explosives, gasoline, or other dangerous combustibles shall, upon the signal for an air raid (Red), proceed forthwith, where possible, to a place more than one hundred (100) feet from the nearest habitation or business premises and there park as provided in paragraph 38a. Vehicles so proceeding may use headlights (low or depressed beam), normal tail lights, and license plate lights.

[1] This prohibition applies to lights of every description, electrical, gas, oil, or any other source, including matches, cigarette lighters, etc. It prohibits lights that are blue or any other color except as specifically permitted.

[2] Although fifteen minutes are allowed outside of the Coastal Dimout Area (due to the fact that lighting is not already substantially reduced), five minutes is the ultimate goal to be attained in all areas. It should be recognized that it may not always be possible to give fifteen minutes' warning and in fact a Red Signal may at times be required without a prior Blue Signal; hence an effort should be made to black out in as short a period as possible.

[3] It is to be noted that the provisions of this paragraph, requiring that lighting be attended, apply every night whether or not there is a period of air raid or a period of blackout.

[4] Blue is prohibited for blackout lights.

[1] It is anticipated that the provisions of this paragraph will be superseded when standard blackout lighting equipment meeting War Department Specifications or substitute equipment as approved by proper military authority is available and is provided for all the emergency motor vehicles in any specified city or metropolitan area. In Coastal Dimout Areas, headlights must also comply with Dimout Regulations.

[2] See also War Department Specification "Luminescent Materials."

[3] See also paragraph 36 for street lighting permitted during periods of blackout (Blue) but prohibited during periods of air raid (Red).

[4] In Coastal Dimout Areas, such lights must also comply with Dimout Regulations.

or carry identification cards with insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense, or persons wearing arm-bands authorized for the Aircraft Warning Service; provided all such persons are required to move in the performance of their emergency duties.

SECTION VII—RADIO

43. Radio stations will be silenced at such time and for such periods as may be ordered by fighter command[1] as follows:

a. Radio stations operating on frequencies between three thousand (3,000) and thirty thousand (30,000) kilocycles will not be silenced.

b. Radio stations operating on frequencies below three thousand (3,000) and above thirty thousand (30,000) kilocycles will be ordered silenced when the tactical situation warrants, except as follows:

(1) During periods of blackout and air raid, special broadcast messages on selected frequencies may be made under the specific direction and control of the service command.[2]

(2) Army and Navy stations may operate to a necessary minimum when necessity dictates as determined by the local commander.

(3) Police, fire and other special emergency radio stations may remain in operation upon the following basis:

(a) Each transmission will not exceed thirty (30) seconds.

(b) Transmissions will be at intervals of not less than two (2) minutes.

(c) The normal call letter will be omitted.

(d) The intelligence transmitted will not disclose identity or location of station.

SECTION VIII—PRACTICE BLACKOUTS AND PRACTICE AIR RAIDS

44. Practice blackouts and practice air raids may be conducted by federal, state and local authorities in such area, at such times and to such extent as may be authorized by the service command in which the area is located. The service command may excuse from such practice blackouts or practice air raids, for such periods and to such extent as he may determine, any military or naval installation, manufacturing plant or other facility essential to the war effort, provided the said service command has ascertained that such installation, plant, or facility is prepared to and is proficient in blackout, or for such other reasons as he may deem appropriate.

SECTION IX—FALSE BLACKOUTS OR AIR RAIDS

45. False blackouts or air raids. No person shall order, utter, publish, sound, or otherwise simulate or cause to be ordered, uttered, published, sounded, or otherwise simulated, any air warning signal unless ordered or authorized to do so by the fighter command or, in the case of practice blackouts or practice air raids, as authorized by the service command, or for the testing of air warning equipment on Saturdays between twelve (12) o'clock noon and five (5) minutes following, as authorized by the civilian defense authorities.

SECTION X—ILLEGAL USE OF INSIGNIA

46. Illegal use of insignia. No person shall wear, exhibit, display, use, manufacture, sell, or offer for sale for any purpose, or cause to be worn, exhibited, displayed, used, manufactured, sold, or offered for sale for any purpose, any arm-band, badge, emblem, uniform, pennant, card, or other identification or credential embodying the insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense or prescribed for the aircraft warning service, or any simulation or adaptation of such insignia, except in accordance with rules and regulations of the director of civilian defense or the aircraft warning service.

SECTION XI—ENFORCEMENT AND PENALTIES

47. Any person who violates any regulation contained herein is subject to the penalties provided by Title 18, section 97A, United States Code,[3] and to immediate exclusion from the Eastern Military Area by the Commanding General, Eastern Defense Command and First Army. In addition, if two or more persons conspire to violate said section 97A, United States Code, and one or more persons do any act to effect the object of such conspiracy, each of said parties will be subject to the penalties provided by Title 18, section 88, United States Code.[4] In the case of an alien enemy, such person will, in addition, be subject to immediate apprehension and internment.

48. The First Regional Office of the Office of Civilian Defense and civilian defense authorities within the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, with their consent, are designated as the principal agencies to assist in the enforcement of these regulations.

49. These regulations shall not in any way modify the Dimout Regulations heretofore or hereafter prescribed for the Coastal Dimout Area of the First Service Command.

50. These regulations shall apply to persons in, or performing or permitting acts in the First Service Command, which embraces the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, and shall become effective on February 17, 1943.

[F. R. Doc. 43-3350; Filed, March 3, 1943; 9:49 a. m.]

[1] Consideration is given to visibility prior to imposing radio silences.

[2] The selected frequencies will be announced by the service command. Persons having radio receivers should keep them tuned to one of the selected frequencies during periods of blackout or air raid. No broadcasts on any frequency are authorized during periods of blackout or air raid except as authorized by the service command on the selected frequencies.

[3] This section provides a penalty of a fine not to exceed $5,000, or imprisonment for not more than one (1) year, or both, for each offense.

[4] This section provides a penalty of a fine not to exceed $10,000, or imprisonment for not more than two (2) years, or both, for each offense.

d. With respect to all light sources, individuals who, by reason of relationship as licensee or guest, may light or extinguish lights; and

e. Employees, agents and representatives of the persons described in the foregoing paragraphs a to d, inclusive, whose duties include the lighting or extinguishing of lights, and all persons having authority to supervise or direct such employees, agents or representatives.

SECTION II—AIR WARNING SIGNAL SYSTEM[2]

17. Transmission of signals. The air warning signals described in paragraphs 18, 19, 20 and 21 shall be issued, sounded, or announced only upon the order or the authorization of the fighter command to the district warning center which is operated by civilian defense authorities. The fighter command is responsible only that the district warning center receives the order or authorization for the giving of such signals. Civilian defense authorities are responsible for the transmission of such signals from the district warning center through their alarm warning systems to the public.[3] In the case of practice blackouts or practice air raids, such air warning signals shall be issued, sounded, or announced only upon the order or authorization of the service command to civilian defense authorities.

18. Yellow signal. This is a confidential preliminary caution signal not to be given by audible public alarm. It indicates the possibility of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal shall be transmitted by civilian defense authorities only to such key persons, essential industries, railroads, and places within such warning district as such authorities deem essential to initiate proper steps to insure timely blackout or air raid precautions.

19. Mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal. This is an audible warning signal indicating the probability of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal will be a long note (approximately two minutes) at steady pitch of sirens, horns, or whistles. Upon the sounding of this signal, within such warning district, civilian defense forces will mobilize or remain mobilized; if during hours of darkness, lighting will be extinguished or obscured except as permitted by paragraphs 24 to 37, inclusive, and pedestrians and traffic may continue or resume movement.

20. Air raid (Red) signal. This is an audible public warning signal indicating the proximity of enemy aircraft and the imminence of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal (approximately two minutes) will be a series of short blasts of horns or whistles or a warbling or fluctuating sound of varying pitch of a siren. Upon the sounding of this signal, in addition to the actions required by the mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal, as contained in paragraph 19 above, within such warning district blackout shall be completed by extinguishing or obscuring all lights, except as permitted by paragraphs 24 to 35, inclusive, and pedestrians, vehicles and other conveyances shall comply with the requirements of paragraphs 38 to 42, inclusive.

21. All clear (White) signal. This signal is a public signal indicating All Clear in the district so warned. This signal may be transmitted by radio, telephone, police, by turning on street lights which have been extinguished on the Blue signal, or other available means. This signal may also be given by horns, whistles, or sirens, as specified by local civilian defense authorities, Provided, however, That such audible signal shall not be the same as the mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal and the air raid (Red) signal, as provided in paragraphs 19 and 20 above, and shall not resemble said signals so as to be confused therewith. Where such audible signal is used, as provided above, in a metropolitan area, embodying two or more municipalities, such signal shall be first coordinated by the service command or service commands within which such area is located. When an All Clear (White) signal follows a Yellow signal without an intervening mobilization and blackout (Blue) or air raid (Red) signal, it shall not be an audible signal but shall be transmitted only in the manner provided for the Yellow signal, as in paragraph 18 above.

NOTE: Ordinarily, a Yellow Signal shall precede a Blue Signal and a Blue Signal shall precede a Red Signal. However, if sufficient time is not available for these signals to be separated by at least five (5) minutes, the Yellow Signal and or the Blue Signal may be omitted, so that a Blue Signal may be given without a prior Yellow Signal and a Red Signal may be given without a prior Yellow and or Blue Signal. A Blue Signal shall follow every Red Signal, after an interval of not less than five (5) minutes and may in turn be followed by a White Signal or by another Red Signal. Upon the sounding of a Blue Signal, pedestrians and vehicles should give consideration to movement to places of safety in anticipation of an air raid (Red) Signal. The same action shall be required upon a Blue Signal whether it precedes or follows a Red Signal, that is, a return to a status of blackout rather than a condition of air raid; this will permit traffic and pedestrians to resume movement but maintains the blackout condition indicating that raiders have passed the area so warned but that a condition of blackout is still required in anticipation of another Red Signal upon the approach of a new wave of raiders or a return of the original raiders. The sequence of signals in such case would be Blue, Red, Blue, Red, Blue. A White Signal may follow a Yellow Signal or a Blue Signal, but will not follow a Red Signal without an intermediate Blue Signal. A White Signal shall not be given within ten (10) minutes of a preceding Blue Signal. The All Clear (White) Signal will not be given until the probability of attack no longer exists.

SECTION III—PROHIBITED LIGHTING

22. Prohibited lighting. During the period and in the area of blackout occurring during hours of darkness, persons in control of lighting shall cause all lights[4] visible from the outside to be extinguished or blacked-out as promptly as possible, except as permitted in paragraphs 24 to 37, inclusive.

a. In Coastal Dimout Areas designated as such, the goal or time objective for the completion of all blackout measures shall be five (5) minutes.

b. In all other parts of the Second Service Command of the Eastern Military Area, all blackout measures shall be completed as near five (5) minutes as possible but in any event not to exceed fifteen (15) minutes.[5]

[1] See pars. 12 to 16, incl.

[2] Section II hereof supersedes certain provisions of O. C. D. pamphlet, "Air Raid Warning System."

[3] Local civilian defense authorities should maintain records of the time of beginning and ending of sounding of all audible air warning signals.

[4] This prohibition applies to lights of every description, electrical, gas, oil, or any other source, including matches, cigarette lighters, etc. It prohibits lights that are blue or any other color except as specifically permitted.

[5] Although fifteen minutes are allowed outside of the Coastal Dimout Area (due to the fact that lighting is not already substantially reduced), five minutes is the ultimate goal to be attained in all areas. It should be recognized that it may not always be possible to give fifteen minutes' warning and in fact a Red Signal may at times be required without a prior Blue Signal; hence an effort should be made to blackout in as short a period as possible.

23. Unattended lighting. At all times during hours of darkness, occupants of premises and operators of road vehicles and other conveyances shall not have any unattended lighting, except as permitted in paragraphs 24 to 35. Lighting shall be considered unattended unless a competent individual, who is a member, employee, or guest of the household or business establishment of the occupier, or who is the operator or occupant of a road vehicle or other conveyance, or who, by arrangement with any such individual has undertaken responsibility for said lighting, can blackout as provided in paragraph 22 above.[1]

SECTION IV—LIGHTING PERMITTED DURING PERIODS OF BLACKOUT AND DURING PERIODS OF AIR RAID

24. General. During the periods and in the areas of blackout or air raid, during hours of darkness, whether attended or not, lighting is permitted as provided in paragraphs 25 to 35, inclusive.

25. Lights in buildings and residences. a. In building interiors a small amount of controlled illumination, sufficient to permit reasonable facility of movement without necessitating complete obscuration of doors and windows, is permitted only when the indoor incandescent lamps or lighting units are installed in accordance with the directions contained in subparagraph (b) below and which.—

(1) Are marked "Indoor Blackout—War Department Standard" (See W. D. Specifications—Blackout of Buildings) or

(2) Conform to the following requirements:

(4) Units shall be placed at least three feet from any window, exterior door, or other opening.

(5) Units shall not be pointed toward any window, exterior door, or other opening.

(6) Units may be installed at any height when openings are covered in the usual manner with drawn window shades, drapes, blinds, or one thickness of newspaper, or whenever each unit has a shade which screens the unit from outside observation above the horizontal.

(7) Units shall be located above the tops of such openings, when exterior openings are not covered and when units are not otherwise shaded from outside observation above the horizontal.

c. Interior red exit lights are permitted in all public buildings, with the restriction that each exit light shall be so located or shielded as to screen direct light from falling on windows or doors, and that it shall be equipped with one lamp of not more than 15 watts.

26. Emergency motor vehicles. Emergency motor vehicles, as defined in paragraph 41, may move during periods stated in paragraph 24 above, using only headlights (on low or depressed beam) and normal tail lights and license plate lights.[3]

Pending the availability of specified filters or automatic cut-offs, flashlights not so equipped may be used provided the light is filtered through (a) three thicknesses of newspaper, or (b) one thickness of newspaper and one sheet of red cellophane. Flashlights shall not be pointed above the horizontal. Pending the availability of lanterns complying with the above specification, lanterns equipped with red or orange globes may be used to mark excavations or other dangerous obstructions.

30. Water navigation lights. During the periods as stated in paragraph 24, the following water navigation lights are permitted:

a. Lights on fixed or floating structures except such as are specified by the United States Navy as not essential to indicate safe channels of navigation.

b. Lights on boats to the extent required by the United States Navy.

31. Aeronautical lights. During the periods as stated in paragraph 24, the following aeronautical lights are permitted:

a. Floodlights and runway approach lights only at those fields and only to the extent necessary to expedite clearing the air of flights.

b. Position lights on aircraft in flight as required by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

c. Obstruction lights, except such as are specified by the service command as not essential.

d. Beacon lights as specifically authorized by the service command. (Otherwise beacon lights shall comply with the provisions of paragraph 22.)

32. Thermal processes. During the periods specified in paragraph 24, light emitted from industrial processes, such as furnace glow in glass, pottery and cement works, iron foundries, steel mills, and coke works, is permitted: Provided however, That such light shall be shielded, obscured, reduced in intensity or otherwise treated to as great an extent as may be practicable in order to reduce to a minimum the light visible from the outside. Steam or smoke shall be reduced to the minimum.

33. Railroad lights. During the periods as specified in paragraph 24 above, all railroad lights on rolling stock and fixed installations are permitted provided they comply with "Rules and Regulations for Railroads During Blackout or Air Raid Alarms within the Eastern Defense Command," approved by the War Department September 3, 1942.

34. Lighting of military necessity. All lights of the armed forces necessarily used in active defense measures are permitted during the periods stated in paragraph 24.

35. Specially authorized lights. Any lights specifically authorized by the service command are permitted during such period and to such extent as he may deem appropriate.

SECTION V—LIGHTING PERMITTED DURING PERIODS OF BLACKOUT BUT PROHIBITED DURING PERIODS OF AIR RAID

36. Special permitted lights. During the period and in the area of blackout (Blue) but not during the period of air raid (Red), (1) street lights and traffic signals, (2) lights in military and naval installations and manufacturing plants or other facilities essential to the war effort, and (3) lights in railroad classification yards, are permitted, provided such three classes of lights comply with the following conditions:

a. That such lights comply with dimout regulations in effect in such area, or, in the absence of such regulations, if they do not contribute materially to sky-glow; and

b. That such lights shall be extinguished or blacked out within one (1) minute from the sounding of the air raid (Red) signal when such signal follows blackout (Blue) signal.

37. Lights on road vehicles and other conveyances.[1] During the period and in the area of blackout (Blue), but not during the period of air raid (Red):

Occupants shall leave said vehicles as soon as parked and shall take shelter, except that occupants of road vehicles carrying property which must be guarded may remain in said parked vehicles.

b. Street cars shall be stopped at loading points or other safe and convenient locations, and passengers shall be discharged and take shelter. All exterior and interior lights shall be extinguished.

c. Ridden or herded animals shall clear the public way for the passage of traffic.

e. Movement of railroad trains and personnel shall be in accordance with the provisions of "Rules and Regulations for Railroads During Blackout or Air Raid Alarms within the Eastern Defense Command," approved by the War Department September 3, 1942.

39. Bridges and tunnels. During the period and in the area of air raid (Red) alarm, road vehicles, other than emergency vehicles, and street cars shall not enter bridges, viaducts, or tunnels and, if already there, shall proceed to the end or exit thereof and as far beyond as necessary to park in accordance with the preceding paragraph 38a.

40. Vehicles transporting dangerous materials. Vehicles transporting explosives, gasoline, or other dangerous combustibles shall, upon the signal for an air raid (Red) proceed forthwith, where possible, to a place more than one hundred (100) feet from the nearest habitation or business premises and there park as provided in paragraph 38a. The service command may excuse from such practice blackouts or practice air raids, for such periods and to such extent as he may determine, any military or naval installation, manufacturing plant or other facility essential to the war effort, provided the said service command has ascertained that such installation, plant, or facility is prepared to and is proficient in blackout, or for such other reasons as he may deem appropriate.

SECTION IX.—FALSE BLACKOUTS OR AIR RAIDS

45. False blackouts or air raids. No person shall order, utter, publish, sound, or otherwise simulate or cause to be ordered, uttered, published, sounded, or otherwise simulated, any air warning signal unless ordered or authorized to do so by the fighter command or, in the case of practice blackouts or practice air raids, as authorized by the service command, or for the testing of air warning equipment on Saturdays between twelve (12) o'clock noon and five (5) minutes following, as authorized by the civilian defense authorities.

SECTION I—DEFINITIONS

1. Period of blackout. The period of time beginning with the blackout (Blue) signal (or the air raid (Red) signal if there has been no preceding blackout (Blue) signal) and continuing during hours of darkness or until the all clear (White) signal. (See also pars. 19, 20 and 21.)

[1] This section provides a penalty of a fine not to exceed $10,000, or imprisonment for not more than two (2) years, or both, for each offense.

4. Area of blackout or air raid alarm. The warning district or districts in and for which a period of blackout (Blue) signal or air raid (Red) signal is in effect.

5. Hours of darkness. The time from a half hour after sunset to a half hour before sunrise the following morning between October 1 and April 30, inclusive, and from one hour after sunset until one-half hour before sunrise the following morning between May 1 and September 30, inclusive.

6. Civilian defense authorities. Officials or bodies of a state or political subdivision thereof or of the District of Columbia authorized by legislation, regulation or order to administer matters pertinent to the subject matters of these regulations.

7. Service command. The Commanding General of the Service Command, SOS, in which the affected area is located, or of the Military District of Washington, or his authorized representative.

8. Director of Civilian Defense. The Director of Civilian Defense appointed by the President of the United States pursuant to Executive Order No. 8757, dated May 20, 1941, or any amendment thereof, or his authorized representative.

9. Persons. Individuals (including officials and employees of the United States, or of any state or territory, or of any political subdivision thereof), partnerships, associations, corporations (municipal, public or private), or any organized groups of individuals whether incorporated or not.

10. Persons in control of lighting. a. With respect to light sources attached to publicly or privately owned real property of any character, the persons entitled, as owners or tenants, to occupy or enter such property or parts thereof;

b. With respect to light sources attached to road vehicles,[2] boats,[2] railroad trains,[2] street cars,[2] and aircraft, the persons in control of the operation of such conveyances;

c. With respect to light sources not attached to real property or to the conveyances described in the foregoing paragraph b, the persons in possession or entitled to possession thereof;

d. With respect to all light sources, individuals who, by reason of relationship as licensee or guest, may light or extinguish lights; and

e. Employees, agents and representatives of the persons described in the foregoing paragraphs a to d, inclusive, whose duties include the lighting or extinguishing of lights, and all persons having authority to supervise or direct such employees, agents or representatives.

11. Public way. Streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, alleys, and other public thoroughfares, but not including sidewalks or other ways for use primarily by pedestrians.

12. Road vehicle. Every device in, upon, or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a public way, not operated on rails, including all such devices motivated by mechanical means, or by animal or human power.

[2] See paragraphs 12 to 16, inclusive.

13. Motor vehicle. Any road vehicle which is self-propelled.

14. Boat. Any means of transportation by water.

15. Railroad train. Any means of transportation by rail, except street cars.

16. Street car. Any vehicle or train of vehicles operating on rails at or above ground level (including elevated trains and subway trains while operating in the open), primarily for the purpose of transporting persons, principally on or over public ways lying within one municipality or metropolitan area as defined by the United States Bureau of Census.

SECTION II—AIR WARNING SIGNAL SYSTEM[3]

17. Transmission of signals. The air warning signals described in paragraphs 18, 19, 20 and 21 shall be issued, sounded, or announced only upon the order or the authorization of the fighter command to the district warning center which is operated by civilian defense authorities. The fighter command is responsible only that the district warning center receives the order or authorization for the giving of such signals. Civilian defense authorities are responsible for the transmission of such signals from the district warning center through their alarm warning systems to the public.[4] In the case of practice blackouts or practice air raids, such air warning signals shall be issues, sounded, or announced only upon the order or authorization of the service command to civilian defense authorities.

18. Yellow signal. This is a confidential preliminary caution signal not to be given by audible public alarm. It indicates the possibility of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal shall be transmitted by civilian defense authorities only to such key persons, essential industries, railroads, and places within such warning district as such authorities deem essential to initiate proper steps to insure timely blackout or air raid precautions.

19. Mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal. This is an audible warning signal indicating the probability of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal will be a long note (approximately two minutes) at steady pitch of sirens, horns, or whistles. Upon the sounding of this signal, within such warning district, civilian defense forces will mobilize or remain mobilized; if during hours of darkness, lighting will be extinguished or obscured except as permitted by paragraphs 24 to 37, inclusive, and pedestrians and traffic may continue or resume movement.

20. Air raid (Red) signal. This is an audible public warning signal indicating the proximity of enemy aircraft and the imminence of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal (approximately two minutes) will be a series of short blasts of horns or whistles or a warbling or fluctuating sound of varying pitch of a siren. Upon the sounding of this signal, in addition to the actions required by the mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal, as contained in paragraph 19 above, within such warning district blackout shall be completed by extinguishing or obscuring all lights, except as permitted by paragraphs 24 to 35, inclusive, and pedestrians, vehicles and other conveyances shall comply with the requirements of paragraphs 38 to 42, inclusive.

[3] Section II hereof supersedes certain provisions of O. C. D. pamphlet "Air Raid Warning System."

[4] Local civilian defense authorities should maintain records of the time of beginning and ending of sounding of all audible air warning signals.

21. All clear (White) signal. This signal is a public signal indicating All Clear in the district so warned. This signal may be transmitted by radio, telephone, police, by turning on street lights which have been extinguished on the Blue signal, or other available means. This signal may also be given by horns, whistles, or sirens, as specified by local civilian defense authorities: Provided, however, That such audible signal shall not be the same as the mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal and the air raid (Red) signal, as provided in paragraphs 19 and 20 above, and shall not resemble said signals so as to be confused therewith. Where such audible signal is used, as provided above, in a metropolitan area, embodying two or more municipalities, such signal shall be first coordinated by the service command or service commands within which such area is located. When an All Clear (White) signal follows a Yellow signal without an intervening mobilization and blackout (Blue) or air raid (Red) signal, it shall not be an audible signal but shall be transmitted only in the manner provided for the Yellow signal, as in paragraph 18 above.

NOTE: Ordinarily, a Yellow Signal shall precede a Blue Signal and a Blue Signal shall precede a Red Signal. However, if sufficient time is not available for these signals to be separated by at least five (5) minutes, the Yellow Signal and/or the Blue Signal may be omitted, so that a Blue Signal may be given without a prior Yellow Signal and a Red Signal may be given without a prior Yellow and/or Blue Signal. A Blue Signal shall follow every Red Signal, after an interval of not less than five (5) minutes and may in turn be followed by a White Signal or by another Red Signal. Upon the sounding of a Blue Signal, pedestrians and vehicles should give consideration to movement to places of safety in anticipation of an air raid (Red) Signal. The same action shall be required upon a Blue Signal whether it precedes or follows a Red Signal, that is, a return to a status of blackout rather than a condition of air raid; this will permit traffic and pedestrians to resume movement but maintains the blackout condition indicating that raiders have passed the area so warned but that a condition of blackout is still required in anticipation of another Red Signal upon the approach of a new wave of raiders or a return of the original raiders. The sequence of signals in such case would be Blue, Red, Blue, Red, Blue. A White Signal may follow a Yellow Signal or a Blue Signal, but will not follow a Red Signal without an intermediate Blue Signal. A White Signal shall not be given within ten (10) minutes of a preceding Blue Signal. The All-Clear (White) Signal will not be given until the probability of attack no longer exists.

SECTION III—PROHIBITED LIGHTING

22. Prohibited lighting. During the period and in the area of blackout occurring during hours of darkness, persons in control of lighting shall cause all lights[1] visible from the outside to be extinguished or blacked-out as promptly as possible, except as permitted in paragraphs 24 to 37, inclusive.

a. In Coastal Dimout Areas designated as such, the goal or time objective for the completion of all blackout measures shall be five (5) minutes

b. In all other parts of the Third Service Command of the Eastern Military Area, all blackout measures shall be completed as near five (5) minutes as possible but in any event not to exceed fifteen (15) minutes.[2]

23. Unattended lighting. At all times during hours of darkness, occupants of premises and operators of road vehicles and other conveyances shall not have any unattended lighting, except as permitted in paragraphs 24 to 35. Lighting shall be considered unattended unless a competent individual, who is a member, employee, or guest of the household or business establishment of the occupier, or who is the operator or occupant of a road vehicle or other conveyance, or who, by arrangement with any such individual has undertaken responsibility for said lighting, can blackout as provided in paragraph 22 above.[3]

SECTION IV—LIGHTING PERMITTED DURING PERIODS OF BLACKOUT AND DURING PERIODS OF AIR RAID

24 General. During the periods and in the areas of blackout or air raid, during hours of darkness, whether attended or not, lighting is permitted as provided in paragraphs 25 to 35 inclusive.

25. Lights in buildings and residences. a. In building interiors a small amount of controlled illumination, sufficient to permit reasonable facility of movement without necessitating complete obscuration of doors and windows, is permitted only when the indoor incandescent lamps or lighting units are installed in accordance with the directions contained in subparagraph b below and which:

(1) Are marked "Indoor Blackout—War Department Standard" (See W. D. Specifications—Blackout of Buildings) or

(2) Conform to the following requirements:

(a) Watts—not more than fifteen (15);

(b) Bulb coating—opaque except for circular aperture on bulb end;

(c) Circular aperture—maximum diameter of one (1) inch;

(d) Color of aperture—orange or orange-red,[4] or

(3) Conform to the following requirements:

(a) Watts—not more than twenty-five (25).

(b) Circuit—230 volt bulb used on 115 volt circuit.

(c) Bulb coating—opaque except for circular aperture on end of bulb.

(d) Circular aperture—maximum diameter of one (1) inch.

(e) Color of aperture—clear or frosted.

b. All indoor blackout lights, permitted as above, shall be installed in accordance with the following directions:

(1) In any one room, only one unit is permitted to each two hundred square feet of floor area or a fraction thereof.

(2) Units shall be spaced not less than ten feet apart in any direction.

(3) In corridors, one row of units is permitted at a spacing of not less than fifteen feet.

(4) Units shall be placed at least three feet from any window, exterior door, or other opening.

(5) Units shall not be pointed toward any window, exterior door, or other opening.

(6) Units may be installed at any height when openings are covered in the usual manner with drawn window shades, drapes, blinds, or one thickness of newspaper, or whenever each unit has a shade which screens the unit from outside observation above the horizontal.

(7) Units shall be located above the tops of such openings, when exterior openings are not covered and when units are not otherwise shaded from outside observation above the horizontal.

c. Interior red exit lights are permitted in all public buildings, with the restriction that each exit light shall be so located or shielded as to screen direct light from falling on windows or doors, and that it shall be equipped with one lamp of not more than 15 watts.

26. Emergency motor vehicles. Emergency motor vehicles, as defined in paragraph 41, may move during periods stated in paragraph 24 above, using only headlights (on low or depressed beam) and normal tail lights and license plate lights.[5]

27. Traffic signals and traffic signs. Traffic signals, traffic signs, fire and police box markers and other illuminated signal devices, complying with War Department Specifications "Traffic Control During Blackouts," are permitted during periods stated in paragraph 24 above.[6]

28. Street lighting luminaires. Street lighting luminaires complying with War

[1] This prohibition applies to lights of every description, electrical, gas, oil, or any other source, including matches, cigarette lighters, etc. It prohibits lights that are blue or any other color except as specifically permitted.

[2] Although fifteen minutes are allowed outside of the Coastal Dimout Area (due to the fact that lighting is not already substantially reduced), five minutes is the ultimate goal to be attained in all areas. It should be recognized that it may not always be possible to give fifteen minutes' warning and in fact a Red signal may at times be required without a prior Blue signal; hence an effort should be made to blackout in as short a period as possible.

[3] It is to be noted that the provisions of this paragraph, requiring that lighting be attended, apply every night whether or not there is a period of air raid or a period of blackout.

[4] Blue is prohibited for blackout lights.

[5] It is anticipated that the provisions of this paragraph will be superseded when standard blackout lighting equipment meeting War Department Specifications or substitute equipment as approved by proper military authority is available and is provided for all the emergency motor vehicles in any specified city or metropolitan area. In Coastal Dimout Areas, headlights must also comply with Dimout Regulations.

[6] See also War Department Specification "Luminescent Materials."

Department Specification "Street Lighting During Blackouts," are permitted during periods stated in paragraph 24 above.[1]

29. Flashlights, lanterns and flares. Flashlights, lanterns and flares complying with War Department Specification "Flashlights, Lanterns and Flares," are permitted during periods stated in paragraph 24 above. Pending the availability of specified filters or automatic cutoffs, flashlights not so equipped may be used provided the light is filtered through (a) three thicknesses of newspaper, or (b) one thickness of newspaper and one sheet of red cellophane. Flashlights shall not be pointed above the horizontal. Pending the availability of lantern complying with the above specification, lanterns equipped with red or orange globes may be used to mark excavations or other dangerous obstructions.

30. Water Navigation lights. During the periods as stated in paragraph 24, the following water navigation lights are permitted:

a. Lights on fixed or floating structures except such as are specified by the United States Navy as not essential to indicate safe channels of navigation.

b. Lights on boats to the extent required by the United States Navy.

31. Aeronautical lights. During the periods as stated in paragraph 24, the following aeronautical lights are permitted:

a. Floodlights and runway approach lights only at those fields and only to the extent necessary to expedite clearing the air of flights.

b. Position lights on aircraft in flight as required by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

c. Obstruction lights, except such as are specified by the service command as not essential.

d. Beacon lights as specifically authorized by the service command. (Otherwise beacon lights shall comply with the provisions of paragraph 22.)

32. Thermal processes. During the periods specified in paragraph 24, light emitted from industrial processes, such as furnace glow in glass, pottery and cement works, iron foundries, steel mills, and coke works, is permitted: Provided however, That such light shall be shielded, obscured, reduced in intensity or otherwise treated to as great an extent as may be practicable in order to reduce to a minimum the light visible from the outside. Steam or smoke shall be reduced to the minimum.

33. Railroad lights. During the periods as specified in paragraph 24 above, all railroad lights on rolling stock and fixed installations are permitted provided they comply with "Rules and Regulations for Railroads During Blackout or Air Raid Alarms within the Eastern Defense Command," approved by the War Department September 3, 1942.

34. Lighting of military necessity. All lights of the armed forces necessarily used in active defense measures are permitted during the periods stated in paragraph 24.

35. Specifically authorized lights. Any lights specifically authorized by the service command are permitted during such period and to such extent as he may deem appropriate.

SECTION V—LIGHTING PERMITTED DURING PERIODS OF BLACKOUT BUT PROHIBITED DURING PERIODS OF AIR RAID

36. Special permitted lights. During the period and in the area of blackout (Blue), but not during the period of air raid (Red), (1) street lights and traffic signals, (2) lights in military and naval installations and manufacturing plants or other facilities essential to the war effort, and (3) lights in railroad classification yards, are permitted, provided such three classes of lights comply with the following conditions:

a. That such lights comply with dimout regulations in effect in such area, or, in the absence of such regulations, if they do not contribute materially to skyglow; and

b. That such lights shall be extinguished or blacked out within one (1) minute from the sounding of the air raid (Red) signal when such signal follows a blackout (Blue) signal.

37. Lights on Road Vehicles and Other Conveyances.[2] During the period and in the area of blackout (Blue), but not during the period of air raid (Red):

a. All moving motor vehicles are permitted to use headlights (on low or depressed beam) and normal tail lights and license plate lights.

b. Street cars, elevated trains and subway trains operating above ground level are permitted to use normal exterior and interior lights.

c. Road vehicles other than motor vehicles are permitted to use normal lights.

SECTION VI—MOVEMENT OF VEHICLES AND OTHER CONVEYANCES; PEDESTRIANS

38. General. During the period and in the area of air raid (Red) alarm:

a. All road vehicles, except emergency vehicles as defined in paragraph 41, shall be immediately stopped (except as provided in paragraphs 39 and 40) and parked so that roadway space shall be left for the passage of traffic, and all lights shall be extinguished. Occupants shall leave said vehicles as soon as parked and shall take shelter, except that occupants of road vehicles carrying property which must be guarded may remain in said parked vehicles.

b. Street cars shall be stopped at loading points or other safe and convenient locations, and passengers shall be discharged and take shelter. All exterior and interior lights shall be extinguished.

c. Ridden or herded animals shall clear the public way for the passage of traffic.

d. Boats shall comply with regulations issued by the United States Navy.

e. Movement of railroad trains and personnel shall be in accordance with the provisions of "Rules and Regulations for Railroads During Blackout or Air Raid Alarms within the Eastern Defense Command," approved by the War Department September 3, 1942.

39. Bridges and tunnels. During the period and in the area of air raid (Red) alarm, road vehicles, other than emergency vehicles, and street cars shall not enter bridges, viaducts, or tunnels and, if already there, shall proceed to the end or exit thereof and as far beyond as necessary to park in accordance with the preceding paragraph 38 a.

40. Vehicles transporting dangerous materials. Vehicles transporting explosives, gasoline, or other dangerous combustibles shall, upon the signal for an air raid (Red), proceed forthwith, where possible, to a place more than one hundred (100) feet from the nearest habitation or business premises and there park as provided in paragraph 38 a. Vehicles so proceeding may use headlights (low or depressed beam), normal tail lights, and license plate lights.

41. Emergency vehicles. The term "emergency vehicles" shall mean the following road vehicles:

a. Vehicles of, or acting under orders of, or traveling with the express permission of, the armed forces of the United States and her allies;

b. Vehicles of fire departments and governmental police agencies;

c. Ambulances and official rescue cars and other vehicles converted to such use in emergency service;

d. Public utility vehicles operating in emergency service;

e. Vehicles in emergency service identified by insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense. In exceptional cases vehicles without such identifying insignia will be permitted to move as emergency vehicles provided the appropriate civilian defense authorities are satisfied that the use of such vehicles is necesarry in the performance of emergency duties.

42. Pedestrians. Upon the signal for an air raid (Red), all persons shall immediately take shelter in the nearest building in which they are legally permitted to enter or in the designated shelter area most convenient to them, except those required for the performance of their official duties as follows:

a. Uniformed members of the armed forces of the United States and her allies, and of the State Guards.

b. Members of fire departments and governmental police agencies.

c. Persons as authorized by civilian defense authorities who wear arm bands or carry identification cards with insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense, or persons wearing arm bands authorized for the Aircraft Warning Service; provided all such persons are required to move in the performance of their emergency duties.

SECTION VII—RADIO

43. Radio stations will be silenced at such time and for such periods as may be ordered by fighter command[2] as follows:

a. Radio stations operating on frequencies between three thousand (3,000) and thirty thousand (30,000) kilocycles will not be silenced.

b. Radio stations operating on frequencies below three thousand (3,000) and above thirty thousand (30,000) kilocycles will be ordered silenced when the tactical situation warrants, except as follows:

(1) During periods of blackout and air raid, special broadcast messages on selected frequencies may be made under the specific direction and control of the service command.[3]

(2) Army and Navy stations may operate to a necessary minimum when necessity dictates as determined by the local commander.

(3) Police, fire and other special emergency radio stations may remain in operation upon the following basis:

(a) Each transmission will not exceed thirty (30) seconds.

(b) Transmissions will be at intervals of not less than two (2) minutes.

(c) The normal call letter will be omitted.

(d) The intelligence transmitted will not disclose identity or location of station.

SECTION VIII—PRACTICE BLACKOUTS AND PRACTICE AIR RAIDS

44. Practice blackouts and practice air raids may be conducted by federal, state and local authorities in such area, at such times, and to such extent as may be authorized by the service command in which the area is located. The service command may excuse from such practice blackouts or practice air raids, for such periods and to such extent as he may determine, any military or naval installation, manufacturing plant or other facility essential to the war effort, provided the said service command has ascertained that such installation, plant, or facility is prepared to and is proficient in blackout, or for such other reasons as he may deem appropriate.

SECTION IX—FALSE BLACKOUTS OR AIR RAIDS

45. False blackouts or air raids. No person shall order, utter, publish, sound, or otherwise simulate or cause to be ordered, uttered, published, sounded, or otherwise simulated, any air warning signal unless ordered or authorized to do so by the fighter command or, in the case of practice blackouts or practice air raids, as authorized by the service command, or for the testing of air warning equipment on Saturdays between twelve (12) o'clock noon and five (5) minutes following, as authorized by the civilian defense authorities.

SECTION X—ILLEGAL USE OF INSIGNIA

46. Illegal use of insignia. No person shall wear, exhibit, display, use, manufacture, sell, or offer for sale for any purpose, or cause to be worn, exhibited, displayed, used, manufactured, sold, or offered for sale for any purpose, any arm-band, badge, emblem, uniform, pennant, card, or other identification or credential embodying the insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense or prescribed for the aircraft warning service or any simulation or adaptation of such insignia, except in accordance with rules and regulations of the director of civilian defense or the aircraft warning service.

SECTION XI—ENFORCEMENT AND PENALTIES

47. Any person who violates any regulation contained herein is subject to the penalties provided by Title 18, section 97A, United States Code[4] and to immediate exclusion from the Eastern Military Area by the Commanding General, Eastern Defense Command and First Army. In addition, if two or more persons conspire to violate said section 97A, United States Code, and one or more persons do any act to effect the object of such conspiracy, each of said parties will be subject to the penalties provided by Title 18, section 88, United States Code.[4] In the case of an alien enemy, such person will, in addition, be subject to immediate apprehension and internment.

48. The Third Regional Office of the Office of Civilian Defense and civilian defense authorities within the states of Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia, with their consent, are designated as the principal agencies to assist in the enforcement of these regulations.

49. These regulations shall not in any way modify the Dimout Regulations heretofore or hereafter prescribed for the Coastal Dimout Area of the Third Service Command.

50. These regulations shall apply to persons in, or performing or permitting acts in the Third Service Command, which embraces the states of Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia, and shall become effective on February 17, 1943.

HEADQUARTERS, FOURTH SERVICE COMMAND,
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

AIR RAID PROTECTION

Governing blackout, the control of lighting and radio, the movement of vehicles and other conveyances, and activities of persons during periods of blackout and air raid, and related matters, within the Fourth Service Command (North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and that part of Florida within the Eastern Military Area).

Pursuant to an order of Lieutenant General Hugh A. Drum, Commanding General, Eastern Defense Command and First Army, dated January 9, 1943, the attached regulations are hereby promulgated, effective February 17, 1943, and all persons entering or remaining in the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and that part of Florida within the Eastern Military Area, must comply herewith.

Pursuant to said order, enforcement of these regulations is under the direction and control of the undersigned.

WM. BRYDEN,
Major General, U. S. Army,
Commanding the Fourth Service Command.

JANUARY 27, 1943.

SECTION I—DEFINITIONS

1. Period of blackout. The period of time beginning with the blackout (Blue) signal, (or the air raid (Red) signal if there has been no preceding blackout (Blue) signal) and continuing during hours of darkness or until the all clear (White) signal. (See also pars. 19, 20 and 21.)

2. Period of air raid. The period of time beginning with the air raid (Red) signal and ending with the blackout (Blue) signal, following the air raid (Red) signal. (See also pars. 19 and 20.)

3. Warning district. The basic territorial division of an air defense region for the issuance of air warning signals.

4. Area of blackout or air raid alarm. The warning district or districts in and for which a period of blackout (Blue) signal or air raid (Red) signal is in effect.

5. Hours of darkness. The time from a half hour after sunset to a half hour before sunrise the following morning between October 1 and April 30, inclusive, and from one hour after sunset until one-half hour before sunrise the following morning between May 1 and September 30, inclusive.

6. Civilian defense authorities. Officials or bodies of a state or political subdivision thereof or of the District of Columbia authorized by legislation, regulation or order to administer matters pertinent to the subject matter of these regulations.

7. Service command. The Commanding General of the Service Command, SOS, in which the affected area is located, or of the Military District of Washington, or his authorized representative.

8. Director of Civilian Defense. The Director of Civilian Defense appointed by the President of the United States pursuant to Executive Order No. 8757, dated May 20, 1941, or any amendment thereof, or his authorized representative.

9. Persons. Individuals (including officials and employees of the United States, or of any state or territory, or of any political subdivision thereof), partnerships, associations, corporations (municipal, public or private), or any organized groups of individuals whether incorporated or not.

10. Persons in control of lighting. a. With respect to light sources attached to publicly or privately owned real property of any character, the persons entitled, as owners or tenants, to occupy or enter such property or parts thereof;

b. With respect to light sources attached to road vehicles, boats, railroad trains, street cars,[1] and aircraft, the persons in control of the operation of such conveyances;

c. With respect to light sources not attached to real property or to the conveyances described in the foregoing paragraph b, the persons in possession or entitled to possession thereof;

d. With respect to all light sources, individuals who, by reason of relationship as licensee or guest, may light or extinguish lights; and

e. Employees, agents and representatives of the persons described in the foregoing paragraphs a to d, inclusive, whose duties include the lighting or extinguishing of lights, and all persons having authority to supervise or direct such employees, agents or representatives.

11. Public way. Streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, alleys, and other public thoroughfares, but not including sidewalks or other ways for use primarily by pedestrians.

12. Road vehicle. Every device in, upon, or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a public way, not operated on rails, including all such devices motivated by mechanical means, or by animal or human power.

13. Motor vehicle. Any road vehicle which is self-propelled.

14. Boat. Any means of transportation by water.

15. Railroad train. Any means of transportation by rail, except street cars.

16. Street car. Any vehicle or train of vehicles operating on rails at or above ground level (including elevated trains and subway trains while operating in the open), primarily for the purpose of transporting persons, principally on or over public ways lying within one municipality or metropolitan area as defined by the United States Bureau of Census.

SECTION II—AIR WARNING SIGNAL SYSTEM[2]

17. Transmission of signals. The air warning signals described in paragraphs 18, 19, 20 and 21 shall be issued, sounded, or announced only upon the order or the authorization of the fighter command to the district warning center which is operated by civilian defense authorities. The fighter command is responsible only that the district warning center receives the order or authorization for the giving of such signals. Civilian defense authorities are responsible for the transmission of such signals from the district warning center through their alarm warning systems to the public. In the case of practice blackouts or practice air raids, such air warning signals shall be issued, sounded, or announced only upon the order or authorization of the service command to civilian defense authorities.

18. Yellow signal. This is a confidential preliminary caution signal not to be given by audible public alarm. It indicates the possibility of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal shall be transmitted by civilian defense authorities only to such key persons, essential industries, railroads, and places within such warning district as such authorities deem essential to initiate proper steps to insure timely blackout or air raid precautions.

19. Mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal. This is an audible warning signal indicating the probability of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal will be a long note (approximately two minutes) at steady pitch of sirens, horns, or whistles. Upon the sounding of this signal, within such warning district, civilian defense forces will mobilize or remain mobilized; if during hours of darkness, lighting will be extinguished or obscured except as permitted by paragraphs 24 to 37, inclusive, and pedestrians and traffic may continue or resume movement.

20. Air raid (Red) signal. This is an audible public warning signal indicating the proximity of enemy aircraft and the imminence of an air raid in the warning district so warned. This signal (approximately two minutes) will be a series of short blasts of horns or whistles or a warbling or fluctuating sound of varying pitch of a siren. Upon the sounding of this signal, in addition to the actions required by the mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal, as contained in paragraph 19 above, within such warning district blackout shall be completed by extinguishing or obscuring all lights, except as permitted by paragraphs 24 to 35, inclusive, and pedestrians, vehicles and other conveyances shall comply with the requirements of paragraphs 38 to 42, inclusive.

21. All clear (White) signal. This signal is a public signal indicating All Clear in the district so warned. This signal may be transmitted by radio, telephone, police, by turning on street lights which have been extinguished on the Blue signal, or other available means. This signal may also be given by horns, whistles, or sirens, as specified by local civilian defense authorities: Provided, however, That such audible signal shall not be the same as the mobilization and blackout (Blue) signal and the air raid (Red) signal, as provided in paragraphs 19 and 20 above, and shall not resemble said signals so as to be confused therewith. Where such audible signal is used, as provided above, in a metropolitan area, embodying two or more municipalities, such signal shall be first coordinated by the service command or service commands within which such area is located. When an all clear (White) signal follows a Yellow signal without an intervening mobilization and blackout (Blue) or air raid (Red) signal, it shall not be an audible signal but shall be transmitted only in the manner provided for the Yellow signal, as in paragraph 18 above.

NOTE: Ordinarily, a Yellow Signal shall precede a Blue Signal and a Blue Signal shall precede a Red Signal. However, if sufficient time is not available for these signals to be separated by at least five (5) minutes, the Yellow Signal and or the Blue Signal may be omitted, so that a Blue Signal may be given without a prior Yellow Signal and a Red Signal may be given without a prior Yellow and/or Blue Signal. A Blue Signal shall follow every Red Signal, after an interval of not less than five (5) minutes and may in turn be followed by a White Signal or by another Red Signal. Upon the sounding of a Blue Signal, pedestrians and vehicles should give consideration to movement to places of safety in anticipation of an air raid (Red) Signal. The same action shall be required upon a Blue Signal whether it precedes or follows a Red Signal, that is, a return to a status of blackout rather than a condition of air raid; this will permit traffic and pedestrians to resume movement but maintains the blackout condition indicating that raiders have passed the area so warned but that a condition of blackout is still required in anticipation of another Red Signal upon the approach of a new wave of raiders or a return of the original raiders. The sequence of signals in such case would be Blue, Red, Blue, Red, Blue. A White Signal may follow a Yellow Signal or a Blue Signal, but will not follow a Red Signal without an intermediate Blue Signal. A White Signal shall not be given within ten (10) minutes of a preceding Blue Signal. The All-Clear (White) Signal will not be given until the probability of attack no longer exists.

SECTION III—PROHIBITED LIGHTING

22. Prohibited lighting. During the period and in the area of blackout occurring during hours of darkness, persons in control of lighting shall cause all lights visible from the outside to be extinguished or blacked-out as promptly as possible, except as permitted in paragraphs 24 to 37, inclusive.

a. In Coastal Dimout Areas designated as such, the goal or time objective for the completion of all blackout measures shall be five (5) minutes.

b. In all other parts of the Fourth Service Command of the Eastern Military Area, all blackout measures shall be completed as near five (5) minutes as possible but in any event not to exceed fifteen (15) minutes.[5]

23. Unattended lighting. At all times during hours of darkness, occupants of premises and operators of road vehicles and other conveyances shall not have any unattended lighting, except as permitted in paragraphs 24 to 35. Lighting shall be considered unattended unless a competent individual, who is a member, employee, or guest of the household or business establishment of the occupier, or who is the operator or occupant of a road vehicle or other conveyance, or who, by arrangement with any such individual has undertaken responsibility for said lighting, can blackout as provided in paragraph 22 above.[1]

SECTION IV—LIGHTING PERMITTED DURING PERIODS OF BLACKOUT AND DURING PERIODS OF AIR RAID

24. General. During the periods and in the areas of blackout or air raid, during hours of darkness, whether attended or not, lighting is permitted as provided in paragraphs 25 to 35, inclusive.

25. Lights in buildings and residences. a. In building interiors a small[3] amount of controlled illumination, sufficient to permit reasonable facility of movement without necessitating complete obscuration of doors and windows, is permitted only when the indoor incandescent lamps or lighting units are installed in accordance with the directions contained in subparagraph b below and which:

(1) Are marked "Indoor Blackout—War Department Standard" (See W. D. Specifications—Blackout of Buildings) or

(2) Conform to the following requirements:

(a) Watts—not more than fifteen (15);

(b) Bulb coating—opaque except for circular aperture on bulb end;

(c) Circular aperture—maximum diameter of one (1) inch;

(d) Color of aperture—orange or orange-red,[3] or

(3) Conform to the following requirements:

(a) Watts—not more than twenty-five (25).

(b) Circuit—230 bulb used on 115 volt circuit.

(c) Bulb coating—opaque except for circular aperture on end of bulb.

(d) Circular aperture—maximum diameter of one (1) inch.

(e) Color of aperture—clear or frosted.

b. All indoor blackout lights, permitted as above, shall be installed in accordance with the following directions:

(1) In any one room, only one unit is permitted to each two hundred square feet of floor area or a fraction thereof.

(2) Units shall be spaced not less than ten feet apart in any direction.

(3) In corridors, one row of units is permitted at a spacing of not less than fifteen feet.

(4) Units shall be placed at least three feet from any window, exterior door, or other opening.

(5) Units shall not be pointed toward any window, exterior door, or other opening.

(6) Units may be installed at any height when openings are covered in the usual manner with drawn window shades, drapes, blinds, or one thickness of newspaper, or whenever each unit has a shade which screens the unit from outside observation above the horizontal.

(7) Units shall be located above the tops of such openings, when exterior openings are not covered and when units are not otherwise shaded from outside observation above the horizontal.

c. Interior red exit lights are permitted in all public buildings, with the restriction that each exit light shall be so located or shielded as to screen direct light from falling on windows or doors, and that it shall be equipped with one lamp of not more than 15 watts.

26. Emergency motor vehicles. Emergency motor vehicles, as defined in paragraph 41, may move during periods stated in paragraph 24 above, using only headlights (on low or depressed beam) and normal tail lights and license plate lights.[3]

27. Traffic signals and traffic signs. Traffic signals, traffic signs, fire and police box markers and other illuminated signal devices, complying with War Department Specifications "Traffic Control During Blackouts," are permitted during periods stated in paragraph 24 above.[4]

28. Street lighting luminaries. Street lighting luminaries complying with War Department Specification "Street Lighting During Blackouts," are permitted during periods stated in paragraph 24 above.[5]

29. Flashlights, lanterns and flares. Flashlights, lanterns and flares complying with War Department Specification "Flashlights, Lanterns and Flares," are permitted during periods stated in paragraph 24 above. Pending the availability of specified filters or automatic cutoffs, flashlights not so equipped may be used provided the light is filtered through (a) three thicknesses of newspaper, or (b) one thickness of newspaper and one sheet of red cellophane. Flashlights shall not be pointed above the horizontal. Pending the availability of lanterns complying with the above specification, lanterns equipped with red or orange globes may be used to mark excavations or other dangerous obstructions.

30. Water navigation lights. During the periods as stated in paragraph 24, the following water navigation lights are permitted:

a. Lights on fixed or floating structures except such as are specified by the United States Navy as not essential to indicate safe channels of navigation.

b. Lights on boats to the extent required by the United States Navy.

31. Aeronautical lights. During the periods as stated in paragraph 24, the following aeronautical lights are permitted:

a. Flood lights and runway approach lights only at those fields and only to the extent necessary to expedite clearing the air of flights.

b. Position lights on aircraft in flight as required by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

c. Obstruction lights, except such as are specified by the service command as not essential.

d. Beacon lights as specifically authorized by the service command. (Otherwise beacon lights shall comply with the provisions of paragraph 22.)

32. Thermal processes. During the periods specified in paragraph 24, light emitted from industrial processes, such as furnace glow in glass, pottery and cement works, iron foundries, steel mills, and coke works, is permitted: Provided, however, That such light shall be shielded, obscured, reduced in intensity or otherwise treated to as great an extent as may be practicable in order to reduce to a minimum the light visible from the outside. Steam or smoke shall be reduced to the minimum.

33. Railroad lights. During the periods as specified in paragraph 24 above, all railroad lights on rolling stock and fixed installations are permitted provided they comply with "Rules and Regulations for Railroads During Blackout or Air Raid Alarms within the Eastern Defense Command," approved by the War Department September 3, 1942.

34. Lighting of military necessity. All lights of the armed forces necessarily used in active defense measures are permitted during the periods stated in paragraph 24.

35. Specially authorized lights. Any lights specifically authorized by the service command are permitted during such period and to such extent as he may deem appropriate.

SECTION V—LIGHTING PERMITTED DURING PERIODS OF BLACKOUT BUT PROHIBITED DURING PERIODS OF AIR RAID

36. Special permitted lights. During the period and in the area of blackout (Blue), but not during the period of air raid (Red), (1) street lights and traffic signals, (2) lights in military and naval installations and manufacturing plants or other facilities essential to the war effort, and (3) lights in railroad classification yards, are permitted, provided such three classes of lights comply with the following conditions:

a. That such lights comply with dimout regulations in effect in such area, or, in the absence of such regulations, if they do not contribute materially to skyglow; and

b. That such lights shall be extinguished or blacked out within one (1) minute from the sounding of the air raid (Red) signal when such signal follows a blackout (Blue) signal.

37. Lights on road vehicles and other conveyances.[6] During the period and in the area of blackout (Blue), but not during the period of air raid (Red):

[1] See paragraphs 12 to 16, inclusive.

[2] Section II hereof supersedes certain provisions of O. C. D. pamphlet, "Air Raid Warning System."

[3] Local civilian defense authorities should maintain records of the time of beginning and ending of sounding of all audible air warning signals.

[4] This prohibition applies to lights of every description, electrical, gas, oil, or any other source, including matches, cigarette lighters, etc. It prohibits lights that are blue or any other color except as specifically permitted.

[5] Although fifteen minutes are allowed outside of the Coastal Dimout Area (due to the fact that lighting is not already substantially reduced), five minutes is the ultimate goal to be attained in all areas. It should be recognized that it may not always be possible to give fifteen minutes' warning and in fact a Red signal may at times be required without a prior Blue signal; hence an effort should be made to blackout in as short a period as possible.

[1] It is to be noted that the provisions of this paragraph, requiring that lighting be attended, apply every night whether or not there is a period of air raid or a period of blackout.

[2] Blue is prohibited for blackout lights.

[3] It is anticipated that the provisions of this paragraph will be superseded when standard blackout lighting equipment meeting War Department Specifications or substitute equipment as approved by proper military authority is available and is provided for all the emergency motor vehicles in any specified city or metropolitan area. In Coastal Dimout Areas, headlights must also comply with Dimout Regulations.

[4] See also War Department Specification "Luminiscent Materials."

[5] See also paragraph 34 for street lighting permitted during periods of blackout (Blue) but prohibited during periods of air raid (Red).

[6] In Coastal Dimout Areas, such lights must also comply with Dimout Regulations.

a. All moving motor vehicles are permitted to use headlights (on low or depressed beam) and normal tail lights and license plate lights.

b. Street cars, elevated trains and subway trains operating above ground level are permitted to use normal exterior and interior lights.

c. Road vehicles other than motor vehicles are permitted to use normal lights.

SECTION VI—MOVEMENT OF VEHICLES AND OTHER CONVEYANCES; PEDESTRIANS

38. General. During the period and in the area of air raid (Red) alarm:

a. All road vehicles, except emergency vehicles as defined in paragraph 41, shall be immediately stopped (except as provided in paragraphs 39 and 40) and parked so that roadway space shall be left for the passage of traffic, and all lights shall be extinguished. Occupants shall leave said vehicles as soon as parked and shall take shelter, except that occupants of road vehicles carrying property which must be guarded may remain in said parked vehicles.

b. Street cars shall be stopped at loading points or other safe and convenient locations, and passengers shall be discharged and take shelter. All exterior and interior lights shall be extinguished.

c. Ridden or herded animals shall clear the public way for the passage of traffic.

d. Boats shall comply with regulations issued by the United States Navy.

e. Movement of railroad trains and personnel shall be in accordance with the provisions of "Rules and Regulations for Railroads During Blackout or Air Raid Alarms within the Eastern Defense Command," approved by the War Department, September 3, 1942.

39. Bridges and tunnels. During the period and in the area of air raid (Red) alarm, road vehicles, other than emergency vehicles, and street cars shall not enter bridges, viaducts, or tunnels and, if already there, shall proceed to the end or exit thereof and as far beyond as necessary to park in accordance with the preceding paragraph 38a.

40. Vehicles transporting dangerous materials. Vehicles transporting explosives, gasoline, or other dangerous combustibles shall, upon the signal for an air raid (Red), proceed forthwith, where possible, to a place more than one hundred (100) feet from the nearest habitation or business premises and there park as provided in paragraph 38 a. Vehicles so proceeding may use headlights (low or depressed beam), normal tail lights, and license plate lights.

41. Emergency vehicles. The term "Emergency Vehicles" shall mean the following road vehicles:

a. Vehicles of, or acting under orders of, or traveling with the express permission of, the armed forces of the United States and her allies;

b. Vehicles of fire departments and governmental police agencies;

c. Ambulances and official rescue cars and other vehicles converted to such use in emergency service;

d. Public utility repair vehicles operating in emergency service;

e. Vehicles in emergency service identified by insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense. In exceptional cases vehicles without such identifying insignia will be permitted to move as emergency vehicles provided the appropriate civilian defense authorities are satisfied that the use of such vehicles is necessary in the performance of emergency duties.

42. Pedestrians. Upon the signal for an air raid (Red), all persons shall immediately take shelter in the nearest building in which they are legally permitted to enter or in the designated shelter area most convenient to them, except those required for the performance of their official duties as follows:

a. Uniformed members of the armed forces of the United States and her allies, and of the State Guards.

b. Members of fire departments and governmental police agencies.

c. Persons as authorized by civilian defense authorities who wear arm-bands or carry identification cards with insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense, or persons wearing arm-bands authorized for the Aircraft Warning Service; provided all such persons are required to move in the performance of their emergency duties.

SECTION VII—RADIO

43. Radio stations will be silenced at such time and for such periods as may be ordered by fighter command[1] as follows:

a. Radio stations operating on frequencies between three thousand (3,000) and thirty thousand (30,000) kilocycles will not be silenced.

b. Radio stations operating on frequencies below three thousand (3,000) and above thirty thousand (30,000) kilocycles will be ordered silenced when the tactical situation warrants, except as follows:

(1) During periods of blackout and air raid, special broadcast messages on selected frequencies may be made under the specific direction and control of the service command.[2]

(2) Army and Navy stations may operate to a necessary minimum when necessity dictates as determined by the local commander.

(3) Police, fire and other special emergency radio stations may remain in operation upon the following basis:

(a) Each transmission will not exceed thirty (30) seconds.

(b) Transmissions will be at intervals of not less than two (2) minutes.

(c) The normal call letter will be omitted.

(d) The intelligence transmitted will not disclose identity or location of station.

[1] Consideration is given to visibility prior to imposing radio silences.

[2] The selected frequencies will be announced by the service command. Persons having radio receivers should keep them tuned to one of the selected frequencies during periods of blackout or air raid. No broadcasts on any frequency are authorized during periods of blackout or air raid except as authorized by the service command on the selected frequencies.

SECTION VIII—PRACTICE BLACKOUTS AND PRACTICE AIR RAIDS

44. Practice blackouts and practice air raids may be conducted by federal, state and local authorities in such area, at such times, and to such extent as may be authorized by the service command in which the area is located. The service command may excuse from such practice blackouts or practice air raids, for such periods and to such extent as he may determine, any military or naval installation, manufacturing plant or other facility essential to the war effort, provided the said service command has ascertained that such installation, plant, or facility is prepared to and is proficient in blackout, or for such other reasons as he may deem appropriate.

SECTION IX.—FALSE BLACKOUTS OR AIR RAIDS

45. False blackouts or air raids. No person shall order, utter, publish, sound, or otherwise simulate or cause to be ordered, uttered, published, sounded, or otherwise simulated, any air warning signal unless ordered or authorized to do so by the fighter command or, in the case of practice blackouts or practice air raids, as authorized by the service command, or for the testing of air warning equipment on Saturdays between twelve (12) o'clock noon and five (5) minutes following, as authorized by the civilian defense authorities.

SECTION X—ILLEGAL USE OF INSIGNIA

46. Illegal use of insignia. No person shall wear, exhibit, display, use, manufacture, sell, or offer for sale for any purpose, or cause to be worn, exhibited, displayed, used, manufactured, sold, or offered for sale for any purpose, any armband, badge, emblem, uniform, pennant, cards, or other identification or credential embodying the insignia prescribed by the director of civilian defense or prescribed for the aircraft warning service, or any simulation or adaptation of such insignia, except in accordance with rules and regulations of the director of civilian defense or the aircraft warning service.

SECTION XI—ENFORCEMENT AND PENALTIES

47. Any person who violates any regulation contained herein is subject to the penalties provided by Title 18, section 97A, United States Code,[3] and to immediate exclusion from the Eastern Military Area by the Commanding General, Eastern Defense Command and First Army. In addition, if two or more persons conspire to violate said section 97A, United States Code, and one or more persons do any act to effect the object of such conspiracy, each of said parties will be subject to the penalties provided by Title 18, section 88, United States Code.[4] In the case of an alien enemy, such person will, in addition, be subject to immediate apprehension and internment.

[3] This section provides penalty of a fine not to exceed $5,000, or imprisonment for not more than one (1) year, or both, for each offense.

[4] This section provides a penalty of a fine not to exceed $10,000, or imprisonment for not more than two (2) years, or both for each offense.

48. The Fourth Regional Office of the Office of Civilian Defense and civilian defense authorities within the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and that part of Florida within the Eastern Military Area, with their consent, are designated as the principal agencies to assist in the enforcement of these regulations.

49. These regulations shall not in any way modify the Dimout Regulations heretofore or hereafter prescribed for the Coastal Dimout Area of the Fourth Service Command.

50. These regulations shall apply to persons in, or performing or permitting acts in the Fourth Service Command, which embraces the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and that part of Florida within the Eastern Military Area, and shall become effective on February 17, 1943.

SOUTHWESTERN ILLINOIS COAL CORPORATION

ORDER GRANTING AMENDED APPLICATION, ETC.

Order granting amended application filed pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, terminating code membership, providing for payment of tax for restoration of code membership and to cease and desist upon restoration.

A complaint dated August 5, 1942, pursuant to the provisions of sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), having been duly filed on August 7, 1942, by the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 10, a district board (the "Complainant"), with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") alleging that the Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation, a code member (the "Code Member"), whose address is 1317 Fletcher Trust Building, Indianapolis, Indiana, wilfully violated the provisions of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code") and orders, rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, as more fully set forth in the complaint; and

The complaint herein, dated August 5, 1942, having been duly served on the Code Member on August 15, 1942; and

An application of the Code Member for the disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing, dated August 24, 1942, having been duly filed with the Division on August 26, 1942, and having been denied on September 2, 1942; and

An amended application of the Code Member for the disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing dated September 22, 1942, and a verified statement dated October 13, 1942 in clarification of said amended application having been duly filed with the Division as of November 12, 1942; and

Notice of the filing of said amended application, dated November 21, 1942, having been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on November 24, 1942, pursuant to said § 301.132, and a conformed copy thereof having been duly mailed to the Complainant herein; and

Said notice of filing having provided that interested parties desiring to do so might, within fifteen (15) days from the date of said notice, file recommendations or requests for informal conferences with respect to said amended application, and it appearing that no such recommendations or requests have been filed with the Division within said 15-day period; and

It appearing from said amended application that the Code Member admits that it wilfully violated the Act, the Code, and regulations thereunder and consents to the entry of orders therein as follows:

(1) Wilfully violated section 4 Part II (e) of the Act and Part II (e) of the Code by selling on April 1, 1939, and loading and delivering during the period October 1, 1940, to December 31, 1940, both dates inclusive, 2,556.2 net tons of 1¼" washed screenings coal produced by it at its Streamline Mine, located in District No. 10, to the National Lead Company of Carondolet, Missouri, at less than the minimum price established therefor by the Division, upon the basis of which violations the Code Member consents to the entry of a cease and desist order;

It further appearing in said amended application that the Code Member represents that it has not to the best of its knowledge committed any violations of the Act, the Code, or regulations thereunder, other than those violations admitted and more particularly described in said amended application;

Now, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in the Division by section 4 II (j) of the Act, authorizing it to adjust complaints of violations and to compose the differences of the parties thereto and upon the amended application of the Code Member, dated September 22, 1942, for disposition without formal hearing of the charges contained in the complaint herein which was filed with the Division as of November 12, 1942, pursuant to said § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, and upon evidence in the possession of the Division, it is hereby found that:

A. Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation is a corporation organized and existing by virtue of the laws of the State of Indiana, with its principal place of business at 1317 Fletcher Trust Building, Indianapolis, Indiana, and is qualified to do business in the State of Illinois, and is engaged in the business of mining and producing bituminous coal;

D. The amount of tax imposed by section 5 (b) of the Act, with respect to the coal described in paragraph C (2) hereof amounting to 1519 net tons, and required to be paid as a condition precedent to restoration of membership of Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation in the Code, is $829.37, which amount is 39 per cent of the aggregate of the effective minimum prices of such coal f. o. b. the said Streamline Mine.

It is further ordered, That the Division, upon any failure to comply with this order, may apply to the Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States having jurisdiction for the enforcement thereof, or take other appropriate action.

SEAMLESS HOSIERY INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW CAUSE

In the matter of the determination of the prevailing minimum wage in the Seamless Hosiery Industry.

Whereas the prevailing minimum wage determination for the Seamless Hosiery Industry, issued by the Secretary of Labor on July 28, 1937, pursuant to the provisions of section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. Supp. III, 35), otherwise known as the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, as amended March 12, 1942, provides that the minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government, subject to the provisions of that Act, for the manufacture and furnishing of seamless hosiery, shall be 36 cents an hour or $14.40 for a week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece-work basis, provided that learners and handicapped workers may be employed in accordance with the regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division issued under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938; and

Whereas the minimum wage required to be paid by seamless hosiery manufacturers subject to the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 became 40 cents an hour on February 15, 1943, pursuant to the Wage Order of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division for the Seamless Hosiery Industry; and

Whereas it appears that substantially all employees subject to the Seamless Hosiery Wage Determination of the Secretary are engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, as that term is defined in the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and that the Wage Order of the Administrator has, therefore, the effect of establishing 40 cents an hour as the prevailing minimum wage in the Seamless Hosiery Industry.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given to all interested parties of the opportunity to show cause on or before March 23, 1943, why the Seamless Hosiery Wage Determination of the Secretary should not be amended by increasing the prevailing minimum wage from 36 cents an hour to 40 cents an hour.

All objections, protests, or any statements in opposition to or in support of the proposed amendments should be addressed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, Department of Labor, Washington, D. HANDKERCHIEF INDUSTRY

In the matter of the determination of the prevailing minimum wage in the Handkerchief Industry.

Whereas the Secretary of Labor on January 10, 1938, pursuant to the provisions of section 1 (b) of the Act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. Supp. III, 35), otherwise known as the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, determined the prevailing minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government, subject to said Act, for the manufacture or supply of handkerchiefs to be 35 cents an hour or $14 for a week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece-work basis; and

Whereas the minimum wage required to be paid by manufacturers of handkerchiefs subject to the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 became 40 cents an hour on February 15, 1943, pursuant to the Wage Order of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division for the Handkerchief Industry; and

Whereas it appears that substantially all employees subject to the Handkerchief Wage Determination of the Secretary are engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, as that term is defined in the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, and that the Wage Order of the Administrator has, therefore, the effect of establishing 40 cents an hour as the prevailing minimum wage in the Handkerchief Industry; and

Whereas it appears desirable for the purpose of coordinating the administration of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and the Public Contracts Act (1) to amend the Handkerchief Wage Determination of the Secretary to provide that learners may be employed at subminimum rates in accordance with the present applicable regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division (Reg. Title 29, chapter V, Part 522), and (2) to clarify the Handkerchief Wage Determination of the Secretary by adopting the following definition of the Handkerchief Industry contained in the aforementioned Wage Order of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division:

The manufacture of men's, women's, and children's handkerchiefs, plain or ornamented, from any material.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given to all interested parties of the opportunity to show cause on or before March 23, 1943, why the Handkerchief Wage Determination of the Secretary should not be amended by

(1) Increasing the prevailing minimum wage from 35 cents an hour to 40 cents an hour.

(2) Providing that learners may be employed at subminimum rates in accordance with the present applicable regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, and

(3) Adopting the definition of the Handkerchief Industry contained in the Wage Order of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division.

All objections, protests, or any statements in opposition to or in support of the proposed amendments should be addressed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, Department of Labor, Washington, D. No sales or deliveries may be made under its authority after April 1, 1943.

Listed below are the maximum prices for sales by the manufacturer, wholesalers, and retailers. The prices listed may be charged only if the manufacturer attaches to the grate the written warranty described in paragraph (b). If the manufacturer does not make the warranty, the maximum prices for sales by the manufacturer, wholesalers, and retailers, shall be computed by deducting 15% from the prices listed below.

(1) For sales by the manufacturer to jobbers, the maximum price is $4.50, f. o. b. factory.

(2) For sales at wholesale by persons other than the manufacturer, the maximum price is $6.00, f. o. b. the seller's city.

(3) For sales at retail, the maximum price is $9.00.

(b) The maximum prices set forth in paragraph (a) can be charged only if the manufacturer sells the grate with a written warranty in the following form:

"Nelson Cement Stone Co., Inc., 25 Hayward Street, East Braintree, Massachusetts, the manufacturer of this grate, warrants to the retailer and to any person buying from him that it is fit for burning coal or wood in a fireplace." If the manufacturer desires to do so, he may add: "This warranty, however, does not protect against rough handling by the consumer."

The warranty shall be attached to the grate by the manufacturer and shall not be detached until after the grate has been delivered to the consumer.

(c) Before delivery of a fireplace grate to any purchaser for resale, the manufacturer shall attach a tag or label which plainly states the retail ceiling price of the grate. For example, a statement in the following form would be sufficient: "Retail Ceiling Price $9.00." The tag or label shall not be detached until the grate has been delivered to the consumer.

(d) At or before the time of first delivery after the effective date of this order, the manufacturer shall notify in writing every person who buys from him of the maximum price set by this Order No. 182 for resales by the purchaser. This written notice may be given in any convenient manner; for example, it may be shown or attached to the invoice, or packed with the merchandise.

(e) This Order No. 182 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to terms used herein.

(g) This Order No. 182 shall become effective on the 3d day of March 1943, and shall terminate on the 1st day of April 1943.

SCHEDULE B

STANDARD SPECIFICATIONS FOR AIR-COOLED ENGINES, SPECIFIED ENGINE PARTS, AND ENGINE PARTS

1. Painting and plating for air-cooled engines, specified engine parts, and engine parts. (a) Rust, grease, oil and other foreign matter should be thoroughly removed from all surfaces to be painted or plated so that the metal exhibits excellent adhesion characteristics.

(b) All exposed surfaces shall be painted with a single coat of rust-inhibiting primer and one cross-coat of semi-gloss olive drab enamel that shall have a dry film thickness of 1.0 to 1.5 mils. The primer and the enamel shall conform to Ordnance Tentative Specification TAC–ES–No 680a dated November 20, 1942, Class 101 and Class 440 respectively. For application, the primer and the enamel should be reduced with a thinner as specified in paragraph C–6b of the above-mentioned specification.

(c) Parts which will be exposed to the elements and which cannot be painted after assembly must receive a single coat of rust-inhibiting primer previous to assembly. Ferrous bolts and nuts, if not painted, shall be corrosion-proofed by any method approved by the producer. Bolt heads and nuts which will be exposed to the elements need not be so treated if they are painted in the final finishing.

(d) All zinc base die castings which will be exposed to the elements must be dichromated.

(e) Copper and brass parts need not be painted or otherwise protected.

(f) The foregoing Painting and Plating Specifications are not applicable to air-cooled engines produced for civilian uses. These shall be finished to meet the producer's commercial standards.

2. Minimum performance requirements. (a) Air-cooled engines upon delivery shall develop at least eighty-five per cent (85%) of the producer's published brake horsepower, corrected for standard conditions of atmospheric pressure and temperature.

(b) Test methods to establish the requirement of paragraph (a) above may be determined by the producer.

3. Specified engine parts—(a) Air cleaners. A producer shall equip any one basic engine model produced by him with but one model of air cleaner which must be of the oil-bath type.

(b) Automatic chokes. Automatic chokes shall be used on carburetors only where remote control equipment is specified.

(c) Carburetors. A producer shall equip any one basic engine model produced by him with but one model of suction feed and one model of float feed carburetor.

(d) Removable caps and plugs. All gasoline tank caps, oil filler caps and drain plugs shall be fastened to the engine by a chain or equivalent fastening.

(e) Gasoline tanks. A producer shall equip any one basic engine model produced by him with one size of gasoline tank assembly and fittings, conforming to the following specifications:

Horsepower of engine	Capacity of tank	Specified spare
	Qts.
5 to 10	4	Not less than #24 Terne Plate.
11 to 5	5	Not less than #24 Terne Plate.
6 to 10	8	Not less than #24 Terne Plate.
11 to 19	24	Not less than #20 Terne Plate.
20 to 32	58	Not less than #20 Terne Plate.

(f) Mufflers. A producer shall equip any one basic engine model produced by him with but one model of muffler.

(g) Spark plugs. All spark plugs used on basic engine models shall be either of the following sizes:

18 millimeters.

(h) Starters. Rope starters shall be used on all single and twin cylinder basic engine models, except where remote control is specified, or the engine is to be used on a scooter.

4. Manuals describing parts and maintenance of air-cooled engines. (a) All manuals describing engine parts and maintenance, furnished with basic engine models, shall be published only in one size, six inches in width by nine inches in length, and shall be properly indexed.

(b) Illustrations in such manuals shall be reproduced from either line drawings or photographs, exploded when necessary to illustrate either the isometric or plan view. Producers may select whichever method is best suited to their facilities, but only one method shall be used.

(c) Each assembly or sub-assembly best serviceable as a unit shall be listed or illustrated. Such assemblies and sub-assemblies shall be held to the lowest practical number. Individual parts shall be listed where practical repair procedure requires the use of individual parts.

SUGAR RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Rationing Order No. 3 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1407.85 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) There shall not be included in the computation of the sugar base any sugar used in products which were delivered to the Army or Navy or to any of the persons or agencies enumerated on April 21, 1942, in paragraph (b) of § 1407.183.

2. Section 1407.182 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1407.182 Deliveries of sugar to exempt agencies. (a) The Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States and the Food Distribution Administration, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration and Office of Lend-Lease Administration are known as exempt agencies for the purpose of General Ration Order 3B and are authorized to open one or more exempt accounts under the provisions of General Ration Order 3B. In addition, the Army Exchange Service, to the extent it acquires sugar for export to a foreign country or a territory or possession of the United States other than the District of Columbia, and Ships' Service Departments Afloat, are exempt agencies under this order and General Ration Order 3B. Sugar may be delivered to and accepted by these agencies only in exchange for a check of weight value equal to the amount of sugar delivered except that sugar may be delivered by one exempt agency to another exempt agency without the exchange of stamps, certificates, or checks.

(b) An exempt agency shall issue a check in the proper amount to the person making delivery at the time of delivery or as soon as practicable thereafter.

(c) If, for any reason, a check cannot be used when sugar is delivered to an agency listed in paragraph (a), an emergency acknowledgment shall be given to the person making the delivery at the time of delivery instead of a check. This acknowledgment may be in any form but shall set forth the name of the agency, the name and address of the activity within the agency to which the sugar is to be delivered, the name and address of the activity to which the emergency acknowledgment must be sent for replacement by a check, the weight value of the check to be issued for the delivery, and date of delivery. The acknowledgment must be signed by an authorized officer or employee of the agency, and must state his official title or rank. A person to whom such an acknowledgment is given may not change it at a Board or use it to acquire sugar but shall send it to the agency activity designated thereon, and the agency shall issue to him a check equal in weight value to the sugar delivered in exchange for the acknowledgment.

3. Section 1407.183 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1407.183 Deliveries of sugar to certain persons and agencies. (a) A registering unit which at any time after registration delivers sugar to any of the persons or agencies enumerated in paragraph (b) and (c) except those agencies which are also listed in § 1407.182 (a) as exempt agencies, or delivers sugar to and for consumption in any territory or possession of the United States other than the District of Columbia, or delivers sugar to any ocean-going vessel operating in foreign, coastwise, or intercoastal trade as ship stores for consumption aboard such vessel, may deliver such sugar without receiving stamps or certificates therefor. If certificates, stamps or emergency acknowledgments were not received, the registering unit may apply to the Board for a certificate in weight value equal to the amount of sugar delivered. The application shall be made on OPA Form No. R-315, which shall be accompanied by receipts, bills of lading, and such other detailed evidence including affidavits as substantiates such deliveries, and in the case of a delivery to a vessel as aforesaid the application must be accompanied by a statement signed by the Collector of Customs or his deputy authorizing the owner of the vessel or his agent to take delivery of sugar as ship stores in an amount equal to that for which application is being made. In a proper case the board shall grant the application.

(b) The persons and agencies included within the provisions of this section are the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States, and the Food Distribution Administration, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration and any government agency or other person when such government agency or person, in one transaction, acquires sugar or products containing sugar for export to and consumption or use in any foreign country, or in any territory or possession of the United States, other than the District of Columbia, and when such sugar or products containing sugar so acquired in such transaction exceeds the value of $25.00.

(c) During March 1943, Army Exchanges, Post Exchanges, Ships' Service Departments Ashore and similar designated activities, may, if checks are unavailable, use emergency acknowledgements to acquire sugar, in the way described in § 1407.182 (c). An emergency acknowledgment given under this section may not be used by the person to whom it was given to acquire sugar, but must be exchanged for a check at the agency activity designated thereon.

5. Section 1407.185 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1407.185 Products containing sugar delivered to Army Exchanges and similar agencies. (a) The Army Exchange Service of the United States War Department is authorized to issue checks to replace sugar in products delivered to Army Exchanges on or after July 15, 1942. At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 3d day of March, A. D. 1943.

It appearing that certain shippers of fresh or green fruits or vegetables in refrigerator cars have been moving cars from one point of delivery within the switching limits of a city or town to other points of delivery within such limits, and thereby delaying the unloading and increasing the free time for unloading under the demurrage rules; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists requiring immediate action to prevent shortage of railroad equipment and congestion of traffic: It is ordered, That:

§ 95.305 Free time on fresh or green fruits or vegetables in refrigerator cars. (a) The maximum free time allowed at destination on any refrigerator car loaded with fresh or green fruits or vegetables as defined in Service Order No. 70, as amended, shall be 48 hours, computed from the first 7:00 a. m. after the first notice and placement on any hold or inspection track or unloading track, or constructive placement on an other-than-public-delivery track, until car is unloaded, provided that the time between receipt of an order to move a car from one location to another and placement of the car at the new location shall not be counted against the car, except that any period of time between 7:00 a. m. of the day an order to move a car is received and the hour such order is received shall be counted as one day. The provisions of this order shall apply whether the car is reconsigned or reshipped to other points within the switching limits of the destination. For purposes of this order the destination shall be any point of railroad delivery within the switching limits of the city or town at which the car is unloaded. The operation of all rules relating to free time in demurrage tariffs (other than port demurrage tariffs) in so far as the provisions thereof are inconsistent with this order are suspended, except the provision for eliminating Sundays and legal holidays in computing free time. This order shall not affect demurrage rule No. 8 of Agent B. T. Jones' I.C.C. 3722, or similar rules in other demurrage tariffs relating to the cancelation or refunding of demurrage under emergency conditions. Nothing in this order shall be construed to amend or modify the provisions of Service Order No. 70, as amended. (40 Stat. 101, sec. 402, 41 Stat. 476, sec. 4, 54 Stat. 901; 49 U.S.C. 1 (10)–(17))

(b) Each of said railroads, on or before the effective date of this section, and upon not less than one day's notice to the Commission and to the public, shall file and post a supplement to each of its tariffs affected hereby, substantially in the form authorized in Rule 9 (k) of Tariff Circular No. 20, announcing the suspension of the operation of any of the provisions therein.

It is further ordered, That this order shall become effective March 10, 1943, and shall remain in force until further order of the Commission; that copies of this order and direction shall be served upon all common carriers by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act and upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. The Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") finds it necessary in the proper administration of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act") and the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code") promulgated thereunder to determine:

A. Whether Thos. S. 5. Granted adjustments for alleged substandard quality or preparation to various purchasers during the period November 14, 1940 to July 21, 1941, inclusive, which adjustments had the effect of reducing the sales prices below the effective minima, on approximately 481.50 net tons of various sizes of coal produced at their respective mines by said Carbon Coal Company, Crescent Coal Company, New Union Coal Company, Rainbow Coal Company and by Paris Purity Coal Company, Mine Index No. 43, without reporting such adjustments to the Statistical Bureau as required by section X of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, resulting in violations of paragraphs (b) and (e) of the Agreement.

[Docket Nos. A-1730, A-1741; A-1730, Part II, A-1869]

DISTRICT BOARD 7

MEMORANDUM OPINION, ETC

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 7 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 7—Dockets Nos. A-1730, A-1741.

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 7 for a change in the territorial boundary between districts Nos. 7 and 8, in Nicholas County, West Virginia—Dockets Nos. A-1730, Part II, A-1869.

Memorandum opinion and order reopening dockets Nos. A-1730 and A-1741, severing docket No. A-1730, Part II, consolidating dockets Nos. A-1730, Part II, and A-1869 and notice of and order for hearing.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, was duly filed with the Division in Docket No. A-1730, by District Board No. 7, requesting, among other things, that minimum prices and price classifications be established for the coals produced at the Imperial No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 322, of Imperial Smokeless Coal Company. This petition was consolidated with that filed by this party in Docket No. A-1741, and temporary and conditionally final relief was granted in such consolidated matter, by an order issued therein on December 7, 1942, which became final on February 5, 1943.

A petition of intervention was filed in this consolidated matter by District Board No. 8, requesting that the relief prayed for with respect to the said Imperial No. 2 Mine be denied and that the temporary relief granted by said order dated December 7, 1942, be modified, with respect to the said Imperial No. 2 Mine, by granting temporary and conditionally final relief establishing price classifications and minimum prices for this mine in the Schedules of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 8 for All Shipments Except Truck and For Truck Shipment.

In support of its requests, District Board 8 alleged in its petition of intervention that the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Imperial No. 2 Mine would be ineffectual for the reason that this mine is located in District No. 8.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 was filed with the Division by District Board No. 7, requesting that the boundaries and limits of District No. 7 be altered to include within District No. 7 that part of Nicholas County, West Virginia, lying south and east of the Gauley River and west of Panther Creek (extended from the head thereof on a line due south to the Greenbrier County line). This petition was assigned Docket No. A-1869.

In this petition it is alleged that the production of low volatile coals in Nicholas County, West Virginia, has resulted in a pattern of distribution and in competitive relationships, which should be reflected in the coordinated effective minimum f. o. b. mine prices for these coals. The petitioner requested that this result should be accomplished by a redesignation of the boundaries and limits of District No. 7 as described above.

District Board No. 3 has intervened generally in this matter.

It appears from the allegations contained in the petition of intervention filed in consolidated Dockets Nos. A–1730 and A–1741 by District Board No. 8, and in the original petition and petition of intervention filed in Docket No. A–1869 by District Boards Nos. 7 and 3, respectively, that these matters raise similar issues upon which the interested parties should have an opportunity to be heard, and that these matters should be consolidated for purposes of hearing.

Therefore, it is ordered, That that portion of consolidated Dockets Nos. A–1730 and A–1741 relating to the coals produced by Imperial Smokeless Coal Company, at the Imperial No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 322, be and the same hereby is, reopened for further hearing, and that said reopened portion of Dockets Nos. A–1730 and A–1741, be, and the same hereby is, severed from said consolidated Dockets Nos. A–1730 and A–1741, and designated as Docket No. A–1730, Part II.

It is further ordered, That said Docket No. A–1730, Part II, and Docket No. A–1869 be, and the same hereby are consolidated for the purposes of hearing.

It is further ordered, That a hearing in Dockets Nos. A–1730, Part II, and A–1869 under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules of the Division be held on March 25, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C. On such day the Chief of the Records Section will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Travis Williams, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all parties herein and to persons or entities having an interest in this proceeding and eligible to become a party herein. Any person desiring to be admitted as a party to this proceeding may file a petition of intervention in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division for proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, setting forth the facts on the basis of which the relief in the original petition is supported or opposed or on the basis of which other relief is sought. Such petitions of intervention shall be filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before March 20, 1943.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered therein, may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the petition, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the petition, petitions of intervention or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the relief, if any, granted on the basis of these petitions.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the petition of intervention filed in Dockets Nos. A–1730 and A–1741 by District Board No. 8, that portion of the original petition filed in Docket No. A–1730 which has been designated as Docket No. A–1730, Part II, and the original petition and petition of intervention filed in Docket No. A–1869 by District Boards Nos. 7 and 3, respectively, which relate (1) to the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for shipment by both rail and truck for the coals produced by Imperial Smokeless Coal Company, at the Imperial No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 322, and (2) to the request that the boundaries and limits of District No. 7 be altered to include within District No. 7 that part of Nicholas County, West Virginia, lying south and east of the Gauley River and west of Panther Creek (extended from the head thereof on a line due south to the Greenbrier County line).

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter II—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A-1817]

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 8

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices; and for a change in shipping points for the coals of certain mines in District No. 8.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices and for a change in the shipping points and Freight Origin Group numbers for the coals of certain mines in District No. 8; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 328.11 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, § 328.34 (General prices for high volatile coals in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T–I and T–III, and § 328.42 (General prices for low volatile coals) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T–II, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and commencing forthwith the shipping points and Freight Origin Group numbers appearing in the aforesaid Supplement R for certain mines are effective in place of the shipping points and Freight Origin Group numbers heretofore established for said mines.

No relief is granted herein for the coals of the Cutshin No. 13 Mine, of Cutshin Coal Company, for the reason that this mine is a successor of Arnold Sally, Mine Index No. 3950 for which price classifications and minimum prices were established for rail and truck shipments in Docket No. A–1165.

Prices for truck shipments are established in Supplement T for the coals produced at the Helton and Vance Mine, Mine Index No. 3113 of Helton and Vance (Ira Helton). In Docket No. A–1743 prices for truck shipments for the coals in the Upper Banner Seam of Helton and Vance (Ira Helton) were requested but not established since the former were considered successors of R. L. Reedy (Reedy Coal Company), Mine Index No. 2246, who was priced for truck shipment in the original Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for Truck Shipments and for rail prices and classifications in Dockets Nos. A–1489 and A–1502. An investigation reveals that R. L. Reedy (Reedy Coal Company) is operating Mine Index No. 2246 and Helton and Vance (Ira Helton) are operating Mine Index No. 3113. Accordingly Mine Index No. 2246 is no longer assigned to Helton and Vance (Ira Helton).

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure Before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: February 3, 1943.

PART 331—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 11

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 11 for establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for Mine Index No. 159.

Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, an original petition and amendment thereto having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of Mine Index No. 159 in District No. 11; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 331.5 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, which supplement is hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the amended petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

The amended petition requests that there be established for shipments from Mine Index No. 159 to Waynetown in Market Area 32 an adjustment of 5 cents less than the adjustment heretofore established for shipments from Mine Index No. 288 to this destination. Because the freight rate from Mine Index No. 159 to Waynetown is the same as the freight rate from Mine Index No. 288 to this destination, however, Mine Index No. 159 is accorded the same adjustment for shipments to Waynetown as have been established for Mine Index No. 288.

PART 808—PROCEDURE RELATING TO SHIPMENT OF LICENSED EXPORTS TO THE OTHER AMERICAN REPUBLICS

SPACE ALLOCATION FOR SHIPMENT OF COMMODITIES

Part 808—Procedure relating, etc., is hereby amended in the following particulars:

1. Section 808.3 Space allocation, etc., is amended to read as follows:

§ 808.3 Space allocation for shipment of commodities weighing less than 2240 pounds. (a) An exporter, shipping directly or through an agent, may make not more than one shipment weighing less than 2240 pounds on a single vessel to each port of call of such vessel, until such exporter or his agent has applied on Form BEW–138 and obtained shipping space for more than one such proposed shipment.

(b) Bookings for shipments weighing less than 2240 pounds are to be made by the exporter or his agent directly with the ship operator without the submission of an application or compliance with the procedure set forth in §§ 808.5 to 808.7, both inclusive, of this subchapter, except when application is made on Form BEW–138 as provided above in paragraph (a) and except as specifically otherwise provided in this Part. All such bookings are subject to the control of the War Shipping Administration and the Office of Exports who will fix the total amount of space on each ship which will be available for the carriage of such small shipments. Such available space will then be allocated in accordance with the priority ratings fixed by the Office of Exports, as provided in Part 809 of this subchapter.

2. The following new section is to be inserted between §§ 808.3a and 808.4:

PART 1042—IMPORTS OF STRATEGIC MATERIALS

[General Imports Order M-63 as Amended March 5, 1943]

§ 1042.1 General Imports Order M–63—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether or not incorporated.

(2) "Owner" of any material means any person who has any property interest in such material except a person whose interest is held solely as security for the payment of money.

(3) "Consignee" means the person to whom a material is consigned at the time of importation.

(4) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from any foreign country or from any territory or possession of the United States (including the Philippine Islands). It includes shipments into a free port, free zone, or bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States and shipments in bond into the continental United States for transshipment to Canada, Mexico, or any other foreign country.

(5) "Place of initial storage" means any warehouse, yard ground storage, or other place, to which the person making the entry or withdrawal from custody of the United States Bureau of Customs of material imported subject to this order directs or has directed that such material be transported from the port of entry to be held until disposed of pursuant to this order.

(6) Material shall be deemed "in transit" if it is afloat, if an on board ocean bill of lading has actually been issued with respect to it, or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier, for transportation to a point within the continental United States.

(7) "Governing date" with respect to any material means the date when such material first became subject to General Imports Order M–63.

(b) Restrictions on imports of materials—(1) General restriction. No person, except as authorized in writing by the Director General for Operations, shall purchase for import, import, offer to purchase for import, receive, or offer to receive on consignment for import, or make any contract or other arrangement for the importing of, any material subject to this order after the governing date. The foregoing restrictions shall apply to the importation of any material subject to the order, regardless of the existence on the governing date or thereafter of any contract or other arrangement for the importation of such material. The materials subject to this order are those listed from time to time upon List I, List II, and List III attached hereto.

(2) Authorization by Director General for Operations. Any person desiring such authorization, whether owner, purchaser, seller, or consignee of the material to be imported, or agent of any of them, shall make application therefor in duplicate on Form PD–222C, addressed to the War Production Board, Ref.: M–63, Washington, D. C. Unless otherwise expressly permitted, such authorization shall apply only to the particular material and shipment mentioned therein and to the persons and their agents concerned with such shipment; it shall not be assignable or transferable either in whole or in part.

(3) Restrictions on financing of imports. No bank or other person shall participate, by financing or otherwise, in any arrangement which such bank or person knows or has reason to know involves the importation of any material subject to this order after the governing date unless such bank or person has received either a copy of the authorization issued by the Director General for Operations, or, if the transaction comes within the exceptions set forth in paragraph (b) (4), an affidavit stating the facts which show the exception.

(4) Exceptions. Unless otherwise directed by the Director General for Operations, the restrictions set forth in this paragraph (b) shall not apply:

(i) To the Board of Economic Warfare, Commodity Credit Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, Defense Supplies Corporation, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation, or any agent acting for any such department, agency, or corporation; or

(ii) To any material of which any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation is the owner at the time of importation, or to any material which the owner at the time of importation had purchased or otherwise acquired from any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation; or

(iii) To any material which on the governing date was in transit to a point within the continental United States.

(iv) To materials imported by mail where the value of the shipment is less than $100.00; or

(v) To materials consigned as gifts or as samples, or for use as samples, or imported for personal use, where the value of each consignment or shipment is less than $200.00; or

(vi) To materials consigned as gifts for personal use by or to members of the Armed Services of the United States.

(vii) To any material on List I or List II imported by any person under any contract or other arrangement made before, or in existence on, the governing date and which, on December 28, 1942, was in transit to a point within the continental United States.

(c) Restrictions on disposition of List I material. Except as hereinafter specifically provided in paragraph (d) hereof:

(1) Restrictions upon owners and consignees. No owner or consignee of any material on List I which is imported after the governing date shall in any way, directly or indirectly:

(i) Dispose of any interest in such material;

(ii) Process or in any way change the physical condition of such material;

(iii) Transfer possession, or cause or permit a transfer of possession, of such material except to the port of entry and from the port of entry to the place of initial storage of such material; or

(iv) Change, or cause or permit a change of, the location of such material except to the port of entry and from the port of entry to the place of initial storage of such material.

Provided: That a consignee of such material may dispose of his interest in such material to the extent necessary to complete any commitment or contract made prior to the governing date. The person to whom he disposes of such interest shall be subject to all restrictions imposed upon owners by this order.

(2) Restrictions upon banks and persons similarly situated. No bank or other person which, as agent, pledgee, beneficiary under a trust receipt, or otherwise, has possession of or any interest in any written instrument evidencing any interest in any material on List I shall in any way, directly or indirectly, dispose of any such interest, or transfer possession, or cause or permit a transfer of possession, of such instrument, unless:

(i) Such material was imported before the governing date; or

(ii) Such person neither knows nor has reason to know that such material was imported after the governing date; or

(iii) Such disposition or transfer is necessary to permit a consignee to make a permissible disposition of material in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (c); or

(iv) Such disposition or transfer is made to the owner of the material and such owner has complied with all the provisions of this order.

(d) Permissible disposition of List I materials— (1) Transfer to Governmental agency. Nothing contained in this order shall prohibit an owner or consignee of any material on List I imported after the governing date, or a bank or other person having possession of, or an interest in, a written instrument evidencing an interest in such material, from disposing of, or making any arrangement to dispose of, any interest in such material to the Board of Economic Warfare, Commodity Credit Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, Defense Supplies Corporation, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation.

(2) Authorization by Director General for Operations. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c), an owner or consignee of material on List I imported after the governing date or a bank or other person having possession of or an interest in a written instrument evidencing an interest in such material, may process such material or may dispose of any interest in such material or any such written instrument, or transfer possession or change the location thereof, or cause or permit such a transfer of possession or change of location, upon written authorization by the Director General for Operations. Any such person may make application in duplicate for such an authorization on Form PD–222A, which form shall be addressed to the War Production Board. Ref.: M–63, Washington, D. C.

(3) Exceptions. The restrictions set forth in paragraph (c) shall not apply to any material after any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation becomes the owner thereof, and shall not apply to any material of which any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation is the owner at the time of importation, and shall not apply to any material purchased or otherwise acquired from any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation.

(e) Restrictions on disposition of List II or List III material. Any material on List II or List III, which is imported after the governing date, may be sold, delivered, processed, consumed, purchased, or received without restriction under this order, but all such transactions shall be subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board and to all orders and directions of the Director General for Operations which now or hereafter may be in effect with respect to such material.

(f) Reports—(1) Reports on customs entry. No material which is imported after the governing date, including materials imported by or for the account of the Board of Economic Warfare, Commodity Credit Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, Defense Supplies Corporation, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation, shall be entered through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose, whether for consumption, for warehouse, in transit, in bond, for re-export, for appraisal, or otherwise, unless the person making the entry shall file with the entry Form PD–222B in duplicate. The filing of such form a second time shall not be required upon any subsequent entry of such material through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose; nor shall the filing of such form be required upon the withdrawal of any material from bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs, regardless of the date when such material was first transported into the continental United States. Both copies of such form shall be transmitted by the Collector of Customs to the War Production Board, Division of Stockpiling and Transportation, Ref.: M–63, Washington, D. C.

(2) Other reports. All persons having any interest in, or taking any action with respect to, any material imported after the governing date, whether as owner, agent, consignee, or otherwise, shall file such other reports as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board.

(g) Routing of communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise herein directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–63.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or who furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority assistance.

(i) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

Issued this 5th day of March 1943.

INTERPRETATION 1

No authorization under paragraph (b) of the order is necessary for the release or withdrawal of materials on List II or List III from a free port, a free zone, or the bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States regardless of the date when such materials first entered such place. The actual importation, which is the subject of restriction under paragraph (b), is deemed to have occurred before the question of release or withdrawal arises. Also, no authorization under paragraph (d) of the order is necessary for the subsequent disposition, processing, or shipment of such released or withdrawn List II and List III materials.

As to List I materials which are similarly situated, no authorization under paragraph (b) of the order is necessary for their release or withdrawal from free port, free zone, or bonded custody, but authorization under paragraph (d) of the order is necessary for their subsequent disposition, processing, or shipment unless they are shipped in bond to Canada, Mexico, or some other foreign country, in which event the foreign destination is deemed to be the place of initial storage as such term is used in the order. (Issued June 30, 1942.)

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to the meaning of the term "in transit" as defined in paragraph (a) (6) of General Imports Order M-63 (§ 1042.1) as amended:

By amendment dated December 17, 1942, the definition of material "in transit" was changed by adding the following clause, "or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier, for transportation to a point within the continental United States." The question has been raised as to the meaning of the term as applied to a case where the material on the governing date had been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on a through bill of lading for transportation to a specified port and from thence by boat to a point within the continental United States.

The material in the stated case is not deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order. If the material is to be carried to the port of arrival in the continental United States by ship, the material must have been afloat, or an on board ocean bill of lading must have been issued with respect to it, on the governing date in order for it to be considered as having been in transit on such date.

Material which has been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on the governing date for transportation to a point within the continental United States is deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order only when the transportation specified in the bill of lading issued by such carrier calls for delivery of the material at the port of arrival in the continental United States by rail, truck, or air carrier, not by ship. (Issued March 5, 1943.)

[Interpretation 2 of General Imports Order M-63 as amended]

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to the meaning of the term "in transit" as defined in paragraph (a) (6) of General Imports Order M-63 (§ 1042.1) as amended:

By amendment dated December 17, 1942, the definition of material "in transit" was changed by adding the following clause, "or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier, for transportation to a point within the continental United States." The material in the stated case is not deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order. If the material is to be carried to the port of arrival in the continental United States by ship, the material must have been afloat, or an on board ocean bill of lading must have been issued with respect to it, on the governing date in order for it to be considered as having been in transit on such date.

Material which has been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on the governing date for transportation to a point within the continental United States is deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order only when the transportation specified in the bill of lading issued by such carrier calls for delivery of the material at the port of arrival in the continental United States by rail, truck, or air carrier, not by ship.

The Director General for Operations may also in advance of each quarter issue directions with respect to use by suppliers in such quarter, but he may issue directions at any time to any person respecting use which may or may not be made of copper chemicals to be delivered or then on hand. Applications for copper chemicals not filed in advance of the quarter to which they relate at the times and in the manner provided by paragraph (d) (1) hereof, will not be approved in the absence of a showing of special circumstances.

(3) Each person authorized to accept delivery of copper chemicals shall use the same for the purpose authorized and only for such purpose except as otherwise specifically directed by the Director General for Operations.

(4) Copper chemicals allocated for inventory shall not be used or redelivered except as otherwise specifically directed by the Director General for Operations.

(5) Deliveries specifically authorized or directed to be made in any quarter by the Director General for Operations where the authorization or direction does not specify dates or order of shipment, may be made by any supplier in such quarter, without regard to preference ratings applicable to particular orders.

(3) Acceptance of delivery by any person from any supplier solely for use, or for resale for use, for soil treatment or as an insecticide or fungicide in connection with the cultivation of any agricultural crop or in the manufacture of animal medicinals; provided that such person has filed with his supplier from whom delivery is accepted, a certificate in substantially the form set out in paragraph (c) (2).

PART 1389—APPAREL

[MPR 332,[2] Amendment 1]

SIMPLIFIED MEN'S AND BOYS' SHIRTS AND PAJAMAS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 332 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1389.502 (a) (3) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) Savings which constitute the reduction in cost. The saving in each of these items of cost must be figured separately in computing the amount of the reduction in cost. These savings shall be determined (a) by the reduction in yardage at the current cost of the material used in the simplified garment, (b) by the current cost of trimmings eliminated, (c) by the cost at current rates of the direct and indirect labor operations which have been eliminated or decreased, and (d) by the current cost of the boxing and other supplies reduced or eliminated. The measure of each saving shall be based on a comparison with the yardage taken, trimmings used, labor employed and boxing and other supplies used for the comparable unsimplified garment put into process by the manufacturer prior to November 25, 1942. These savings may be reasonably estimated by a manufacturer and this estimate may be used to establish his cost reduction for all simplified garments delivered prior to April 15, 1943. For all simplified garments delivered on or after April 15, 1943, the savings shall be computed on the basis of his cost records and his experience in producing simplified garments. The amount determined from this computation shall replace the previously estimated amount and shall thereafter constitute his reduction in cost.

2. Section 1389.505 (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) Labeling or marking. On and after March 1, 1943, a manufacturer must not deliver any simplified garment unless it has a label attached or other mark placed thereon which shall clearly bear the symbol "–R–". However, if the garment had been put into process before that date, the symbol "–R–" may be placed upon the box. No person shall remove any such label or mark from the garment before it is delivered to the ultimate consumer.

3. Section 1389.505 (b) is amended by inserting a period after the phrase "a statement in the following form containing the seller's maximum price for the garment delivered" and adding the sentence "However, if the delivery is made before March 20, 1943, the statement may be forwarded at any time before that date."

4. Section 1389.505 (b) is further amended by inserting a period after the sentence "Under each of the following headings, list the items sold" and adding the sentence "However, the information to be supplied under these headings may be given, instead, on the invoice or any other document which is sent at the same time as this notice."

This amendment shall become effective March 4, 1943.

(2) Permits for slaughter or for delivery after slaughter as provided in paragraph (b) (1), shall not be issued until the applicant has filed an application on a form approved by the Director containing the information required by such form. (2) No local slaughterer, butcher, or farm slaughterer shall deliver, or offer for delivery, any meat or products prepared in whole or in part from meat which is diseased, unsound, unhealthful, unwholesome, or otherwise unfit for human food.

(3) No local slaughterer or butcher shall be eligible for a permit to slaughter unless the agency designated by the Director to issue permits deems that he has first provided adequate facilities for the conservation and preservation of all edible and the principal inedible by-products.

(d) Restrictions on slaughter of livestock. (1) No local slaughterer shall slaughter in any one month, in addition to his deliveries to governmental agencies and authorized processors for delivery to governmental agencies, more livestock of each type than his quota of each type for the month.

(2) No butcher shall slaughter in any one month more livestock than his quota for the month, except that he may slaughter any livestock which he has raised or produced in whole or substantial part for consumption by himself or his household of any meat produced therefrom.

(3) No farm slaughterer shall slaughter in any calendar quarter more livestock for the delivery of meat produced therefrom than his quota for the quarter. If his quota is established on the basis of the calendar year, he shall not slaughter more livestock for delivery of meat produced therefrom than his quota for the year.

(e) Quotas for the slaughter of livestock. (1) The swine quota for each local slaughterer in any one month shall be a percentage of the total live weight of swine that he slaughtered in the corresponding month of 1941.

(2) The quota of cattle, calves, or sheep, including lambs, for each local slaughterer in any one month shall be a percentage of the quantity of meat produced by his slaughter of each type in the corresponding month of 1941.

(3) The quota for each butcher in any one month shall be his choice of (i) the number of each type of livestock which he slaughtered in the corresponding month of 1941, or (ii) the total live weight of livestock which he slaughtered in the corresponding month of 1941.

(4) The quota for any calendar quarter for any farm slaughterer who furnishes a record of his slaughter in 1941 shall be his choice of (i) the number of each type of livestock which he slaughtered in the corresponding quarter of 1941 and from which any meat was delivered, or (ii) the total live weight of livestock which he slaughtered in the corresponding quarter of 1941 and from which any meat was delivered. The local agency issuing the slaughter permit may authorize transfer of such slaughter quotas from one quarter to the immediately preceding quarter or next succeeding quarter.

(5) The quota for any calendar year for any farm slaughterer who does not furnish a record of his slaughter in 1941 shall be his choice of (i) 300 pounds of meat, or (ii) any part of the meat produced from three head of livestock, which may include not more than one head of cattle.

(6) Nothwithstanding any other provisions of this paragraph (e), the quotas for any local slaughterer, butcher, or farm slaughterer shall be reduced during as many successive quota periods immediately following March 31, 1943, as necessary to make the amounts of such reductions equal the amounts by which the Office of Price Administration determines that his deliveries during the period between October 1, 1942, and March 31, 1943, have exceeded the amounts permitted under Meat Restriction Order No. 1, as amended. Such amounts may be calculated on the same basis as the quotas are calculated.

(7) The percentages to be used in the determination of quotas for local slaughterers referred to in paragraphs (e) (1) and (e) (2) shall be 80 percent for the month of April 1943, and shall be such percentages for succeeding months as shall be established by the Director in accordance with the level of civilian meat allocations established from time to time by the Secretary.

(8) The Director is authorized to adjust the percentages or quotas for any class of slaughterers in any area where he determines that the total quantity of meat available is insufficient to fill ration requirements and that the quantity of livestock available for slaughter exceeds the quantity that may be slaughtered within the quotas of all classes of slaughterers.

(9) The Director may issue regulations authorizing regional agencies to adjust the quotas for any butcher or farm slaughterer, or authorizing State or county agencies, including State or County USDA War Boards, to adjust the quotas for any farm slaughterer, in the following cases:

(i) In any area in which the Director determines that adjustments for butchers or farm slaughterers are needed because the total quantity of meat available is insufficient to fill ration requirements and that the quantity of livestock available for slaughter exceeds the quantity that may be slaughtered within the quotas of all classes of slaughterers, or

(ii) In any instance in which the slaughter of any butcher or farm slaughterer in the corresponding period of 1941 was not normal for him.

(f) Markings required on meat. (1) Each accessible wholesale cut of meat whether in the entire carcass or detached therefrom, when delivered by a local slaughterer, butcher, or farm slaughterer, shall be marked in a plain and conspicuous manner one or more times with the letter "P" and the permit number assigned. After a permit has been obtained, any slaughterer under Federal, State, county, or city inspection who has been assigned an establishment number may use such number in lieu of his permit designation. Any farm slaughterer who delivers meat directly to an individual or household by whom the meat is to be consumed may comply with this requirement by attaching to such meat a tag bearing his permit number.

(2) In the case of veal carcasses delivered with the skin on, the mark shall be placed on the hind shanks and brisket.

(3) Such marking as prescribed in paragraphs (f) (1) and (f) (2) shall be done in letters at least ¼ inch in height and width. It shall be done with a pencil approved for Kosher marking or with a stamp or stencil and marking fluid conforming to the approved formula for violet branding fluid, which is as follows:

	Ounces
Water	3.5
Grain Alcohol—95%	2.5
Cane Sugar	1.0
Methyl Violet	0.1

The methyl violet is dissolved in the alcohol and a portion of the water; the sugar is dissolved in the remaining portion of the water and added to the methyl violet solution. Thorough stirring facilitates solution of the methyl violet.

(g) Records and reports. Every person subject to this order shall keep an accurate record by quota periods of the numbers, live weight, or meat production of livestock slaughtered, as specified in his quota, and shall maintain such other records and shall execute and file such reports upon such forms as the Director may request or direct, and within such time as he may prescribe. This record keeping requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(h) Audits and inspections. Every person subject to this order shall, upon request, permit inspections, at all reasonable times, of his stocks of meat and of the premises used in his business, and all his books, records, and accounts shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by the Director.

(i) Territorial scope. The provisions of this order shall apply only to operations conducted within any of the 48 States or the District of Columbia.

(j) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may petition, in writing (in triplicate), for relief to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate and such action shall be final.

(k) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order, or who wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the scope of this order, may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including the suspension or the revocation of his permit, and including recommendations for prosecution under section 35a of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(l) Communications to Director. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Ref.: FD–27.

(m) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 12:00 o'clock midnight on March 31, 1943.

RESTRICTIONS ON DELIVERY OF MEAT

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of meat to meet war and essential civilian needs, It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1410.2 Meat required to be set aside, allocation and restrictions on sale and delivery of—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(1) The term "meat" means the carcasses of cattle, calves, sheep, lambs, or swine (hereinafter referred to as beef, veal, mutton, lamb, and pork, respectively) slaughtered or processed in an establishment having Federal inspection pursuant to the Act of March 4, 1907, 34 Stat. 1260, as amended, 21 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 71, and as extended by Public Law 602, 77th Cong., 2nd Sess., Approved June 10, 1942, 56 Stat. 351, or any processed or unprocessed edible product or by-product, cut or trimming thereof, or any edible product produced in whole or in part from such animals regardless of how prepared or packaged excluding, however, oils, lard, rendering fats, raw leaf, by-products not ordinarily used for human consumption, and skins when prepared for use in leather, glue, or gelatin.

(2) The term "reserved meat" means all meat required to be set aside and reserved pursuant to the provisions of this order.

(3) The term "dressed carcass" means a carcass dressed in accordance with normal trade custom and in the following state:

(i) In the case of beef, with the kidney knob in;

(ii) In the case of veal, with the hide off;

(iii) In the case of pork, with the leaf fat and kidney out, the jowls on and the head off; and

(iv) In the case of lamb and mutton, with pluck out.

(4) The term "slaughterer" means any person who owns cattle, calves, sheep, lambs, or swine, in whole or in part, at the time they are slaughtered in an establishment having Federal inspection under the provisions of the Act of March 4, 1907, 34 Stat. 1260, as amended, 21 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 71, and as extended by Public Law 602, 77th Cong., 2d Sess., approved June 10, 1942, 56 Stat. 351.

(5) The term "conversion weight" means the dressed weight equivalent of the meat derived from the slaughter of cattle, calves, sheep, lambs, and swine determined as prescribed in paragraph (c) hereof.

(6) The term "authorized processor" means any person who processes meat and who is under contract to sell or deliver to a governmental agency products prepared, in whole or in part, from meat, or any meat processor who is authorized by the Director to purchase reserved meat.

(7) The term "person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business entity.

(8) The term "governmental agency" means the Food Distribution Administration, United States Department of Agriculture (including but not restricted to the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation), the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Veterans Administration, and any other agency which the Director finds is directly essential to the war effort and which is designated by him: Provided, however, That post exchanges, service men's clubs, ship service stores, sales commissaries, and similar organizations shall not be deemed part of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States.

(9) The term "Director" means the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by such Director.

(b) Restrictions. (1) Each slaughterer shall set aside, reserve, and hold for delivery to governmental agencies or authorized processors such quantities, types, cuts, and grades of meat during such periods of time as may be determined and specified from time to time by the Director. All such meat so set aside, unless and until released, shall be subject to allocation by the Director among governmental agencies and authorized processors. Except as otherwise provided herein, all sales or deliveries of meat reserved pursuant to this order shall be made only in accordance with such allocations.

(2) Orders to set aside and reserve meat or orders allocating reserved meat pursuant to the provisions hereof may be made by the Director in the form of general orders or written notices to the individual slaughterers. In the absence of an allocation by the Director to or among specific governmental agencies or authorized processors, slaughterers may sell the reserved meat to any governmental agency or to any authorized processor: Provided, however, That no reserved meat shall be sold to any authorized processor unless such processor shall furnish a certificate in conformity with the provisions of paragraph (b) (3) hereof.

(3) Each authorized processor who purchases any reserved meat for use in fulfillment of a contract with a governmental agency shall, for each specific purchase, furnish to the slaughterer from whom he buys such reserved meat a certificate signed by an authorized official in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A which shall constitute a certification to the Director that such authorized processor is familiar with the terms of this order (as originally issued or subsequently amended) and with all orders of the Director issued pursuant hereto (as they may be amended from time to time) and that the purchase of the reserved meat has been authorized by Food Distribution Order 28, or by the Director pursuant to such order and that he will use the reserved meat purchased from the slaughterer, or an amount of meat equivalent thereto, other than reserved meat, in the fulfillment of contracts with governmental agencies. No slaughterer shall, however, be entitled to rely on any such certificate if he knows or has reasonable cause to believe it to be false.

(4) The Director may, by general orders or by written notices to individual slaughterers, give instructions with respect to the selection and to the manner of processing, cutting, and packaging of reserved meat, or he may authorize any governmental agency to issue such instructions.

(5) Notwithstanding any of the provisions hereof, the Director may at any time, by general orders or written notices, release any or all of the reserved meat whether such meat is held by slaughterers or by authorized processors. Upon receipt of notice from the Director that reserved meat is released, the slaughterer or authorized processor may dispose of the meat so released without regard to any of the restrictions contained in this order.

(6) All reserved meat shall be stored in such a manner as to maintain the quality thereof.

(7) The provisions of any order or instruction issued by the Director pursuant to the provisions hereof shall be observed without regard to the rights of creditors, existing contracts, or payments made thereunder. No order or instruction shall, however, be construed as reducing the amount of meat which any slaughterer is required to offer or to deliver under any existing contract with any governmental agency, but any meat required to be delivered after the effective date of such order or instruction of the Director to any governmental agency pursuant to a preexisting contract may be used as a credit against the amount of meat required to be set aside and reserved pursuant to the provisions thereof.

(c) Method of computing conversion weight. (1) The conversion weight of the meat production of any slaughterer derived from the slaughter of swine, for any period specified by the Director, shall be determined either by the method set forth in paragraph (c) (2), or by computing the average purchase weight of the total number of swine slaughtered (less condemnations) and multiplying the total live purchase weight of such swine by the appropriate conversion factor set forth below for the weight range within which the average falls:

241–300 lbs.	.59

(3) The conversion weight of meat required to be set aside pursuant to the provisions of this order shall be computed by multiplying the weight of the carcasses, cuts, trimmings, canned meats, and other products prepared, in whole or in part, from meat by the appropriate conversion factor set forth in the following table:

USE OF CONTINUOUS WHITE LIGHT AS REAR POSITION EQUIPMENT

Order permitting Pan American Airways, Inc., and Pan American-Grace Airways, Inc., to use continuous white light as rear position equipment in scheduled operations.

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 1st day of March, 1943.

Whereas Pan American Airways, Inc., and Pan American-Grace Airways, Inc., have requested the Board to permit them, for a period of six months, to use a continuous white rear position light instead of the flashing rear position light required by § 15.2015 of the Civil Air Regulations; it appearing that:

These companies cannot obtain and install on all of their aircraft used in scheduled operations the rear position lights required by § 15.2015 of the Civil Air Regulations until on or about August 31, 1943; it further appearing that:

Pan American Airways, Inc., conducts only very limited operations over the civil airways and that Pan American-Grace Airways, Inc., operates entirely outside the continental limits of the United States;

WESTERN ELECTRIC COMPANY, INCORPORATED

ORDER GRANTING ADJUSTMENT

Revised Order No. 3 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 225—Printing and Printed Paper Commodities.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, Order No. 3 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 225 is hereby revised as amended, as set forth below:

(a) Adjustment of certain maximum prices. A maximum price may be calculated according to this paragraph for the resale of any commodity purchased by the Western Electric Company, Incorporated, through its central purchasing organization for which the actual cost of acquisition (calculated on the basis of the accounting method used in March, 1942 by Western Electric Company, Incorporated) determined as of November 4, 1942, exceeds the maximum price established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 225 for the resale of the commodity. Western Electric Company, Incorporated, may sell such a commodity at a price no higher than the price determined by adding the dollar margin received by Western Electric Company, Incorporated, on the resale of such commodity in March, 1942 to the actual cost of acquisition (calculated as above) as of November 4, 1942, or to the supplier's maximum price for the sale of the commodity to Western Electric Company, Incorporated, whichever is lower.

(b) Determination of certain maximum prices. A maximum price may be determined according to this paragraph for the resale by the Western Electric Company, Incorporated, of a commodity which cannot be priced under paragraph (a) above, which is not manufactured by Western Electric Company, Incorporated, which did not appear in a price list in effect in March, 1942 issued by the headquarters pricing organization of Western Electric Company, Incorporated, or by the regional distributing house seeking to establish such a maximum price.

(i) Items to appear in price list of headquarters pricing organization. If the commodity being priced is to be included in a price list issued by the headquarters pricing organization of Western Electric Company, Incorporated, the maximum price shall be determined in accordance with § 1347.454 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 225.

(ii) Regional price list items and non-price list items. If the commodity being priced is not to be included in a price list of the headquarters pricing organization, the maximum price shall be determined by applying to the actual cost of acquisition (calculated on the basis of the accounting method used in March, 1942 by Western Electric Company, Incorporated) the percentage mark-up ("pricing factor") prescribed by the headquarters pricing organization of Western Electric Company, Incorporated, for use in March, 1942 in pricing commodities of the same class as that being priced.

(c) Reports. The Western Electric Company, Incorporated shall submit reports as required by § 1347.454 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 225 with respect to maximum prices established under (b) (i), and shall submit such reports in connection with the purchase and resale of the commodities covered by paragraphs (a) and (b) (ii) of this Revised Order No. 3 as may be required from time to time by the Office of Price Administration.

(d) Amendment of order. This Revised Order No. 3 may be revoked or amended by the Administrator at any time.

This Revised Order No. 3 shall become effective March 5, 1943.

§ 900.101 Definitions. * * *

5. The regulations in this part are further amended in that wherever the word "Administrator" appears there shall be substituted in lieu thereof the word "Director."

6. Section 900.12 is amended to read as follows:

§ 900.12 Director's report—(a) Preparation. As soon as practicable following the termination of the period allowed for the filing of written arguments or briefs, the Director shall cause to be prepared for his signature and shall file with the hearing clerk a report. Such a report shall be prepared by the personnel of the Administration through which such marketing agreement or marketing order, or both, if executed or issued, would be administered.

(b) Contents. The Director's report shall include: (1) a preliminary statement containing a description of the history of the proceedings, a brief explanation of the major issues developed at the hearing, and proposed conclusions with respect to such issues; and (2) a proposed marketing agreement or marketing order, as the case may be, based upon the evidence introduced at the hearing, if it is concluded that such an agreement or order should be proposed.

(c) Exceptions. If, after examination of the report which has been prepared for his signature, the Director is of the opinion that the marketing agreement or marketing order proposed in said report differs substantially from the marketing agreement or marketing order upon which the hearing was held, and that the execution or issuance of the proposed marketing agreement or marketing order, or both, as the case may be, will give rise to a substantial controversy (by virtue of the variance between the proposed marketing agreement or marketing order and the marketing agreement or marketing order upon which the hearing was held) between the Department and the persons who will become subject to such agreement or order, notice of the Director's report and opportunity to file exceptions thereto shall be given. If the Director determines that such opportunity be given, he shall, immediately following the filing of his report with the hearing clerk, give notice thereof (together with notice of the date fixed by the Director for the filing of exceptions thereto) in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in § 900.4 (relating to the giving of notice of the hearing). Within a period of time (to be fixed by the Director, but not to exceed 20 days) after the filing of the report with the hearing clerk, any interested person may then file exceptions to the Director's proposed marketing agreement or marketing order, or both, as the case may be, and a brief in support of such exceptions. Any such person shall transmit his exceptions, in writing, to the hearing clerk, referring, where practicable, to the related pages of the transcript and suggesting appropriate changes in the proposed marketing agreement or marketing order.

7. Section 900.13 is amended to read as follows:

§ 900.13 Submission to Secretary. The hearing clerk, immediately following the filing of the Director's report, shall transmit to the Secretary the record of the proceedings. Such record shall include: all motions and requests filed with the hearing clerk and rulings thereon; the transcript of testimony taken at the hearing, together with the exhibits filed therein; any written arguments or briefs that may have been filed in connection with the hearing; and the Director's report: Provided, however, That if the Director provides that opportunity be given to file exceptions to his proposed marketing agreement or marketing order, as provided in § 900.12 (c), he shall, immediately following the termination of the period for the filing of exceptions to the Director's proposed marketing agreement or marketing order, cause to be prepared (by the personnel of the appropriate division of the Administration) for his signature, and shall file with the hearing clerk such revision of the Director's report as he shall deem to be appropriate in view of the exceptions. Promptly upon the filing of the revision of the Director's report or upon notification by the Director that no revision will be made, the hearing clerk shall transmit to the Secretary the record of the proceedings. Such record shall include: all motions and requests filed with the hearing clerk and rulings thereon; the transcript of the testimony taken at the hearing, together with the exhibits filed therein; any written arguments or briefs that may have been filed in connection with the hearing; the Director's report; such exceptions and briefs in support thereof as may have been filed pursuant to § 900.12 (c); a statement containing an analysis of such exceptions filed; and the Director's revised report, if any revision is made.

Chapter XI—Food Distribution Administration

FOOD PRIORITIES

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and in order to supply war and other acute emergency needs, It is hereby ordered as follows:

§ 1595.1 Food priorities—(a) Definitions. When used in this regulation, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(1) The term "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business entity and includes the States or any subdivisions thereof and the United States and any department, agency, or instrumentality thereof.

(2) The term "food" means all commodities and products, simple, mixed, or compound, or complements to such products, that are or may be eaten or drunk by either humans or animals, irrespective of other uses to which such commodities or products may be put, and at all stages of processing from the raw commodity to the product thereof in a vendible form for immediate human or animal consumption, and including all starches, sugars, vegetable and animal fats and oils.

(3) The term "emergency order" means:

(i) Any contract or purchase order for food to be delivered to the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, or Marine Corps of the United States; to any person feeding, under contract (directly or indirectly), personnel of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, or Marine Corps of the United States (to the extent necessary to feed such personnel); to the United States Maritime Commission; and to the War Shipping Administration; or for food to be delivered, under a contract or purchase order placed by an agency of the United States, to or for the account of the government of any country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act): Provided, That any contract or purchase order of the foregoing for food

(a) Which is the subject of any ration order issued by the Office of Price Administration, or

(b) Which is the subject of any food order issued by the Secretary of Agriculture requiring quantities of food to be set aside for delivery to any of the agencies or persons named in this paragraph (a) (3) (i), shall not be an emergency order under this paragraph (a) (3) (i); or

(ii) Any contract or purchase order for food to which the Director assigns a priority rating under this regulation.

(4) The term "Director" means the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by such Director.

(b) Assignment of priority ratings. The Director may assign priority ratings to contracts, purchase orders, or deliveries concerning food by means of priority rating certificates or at his discretion, by other means. Such ratings may be assigned to deliveries under accepted contracts or purchase orders and also to purchase orders which have not been placed or accepted at the time application is made for such rating. The Director may also issue specific orders as to particular deliveries without assigning ratings thereto, and such orders shall take precedence over all priority ratings issued hereunder.

(c) Certain emergency orders rated FR–10. Every emergency order as defined in paragraph (a) (3) (i) hereof is hereby assigned a priority rating of FR–10. This automatic assignment of priority ratings does not apply to contracts or purchase orders for foods which are the subject of ration orders issued by the Office of Price Administration or orders issued by the Secretary of Agriculture requiring food to be set aside for delivery to the Government agencies or persons named in paragraph (a) (3) (i). However, priority ratings may be assigned by the Director to contracts or purchase orders for such food under paragraph (b) hereof.

(d) Duration of priority ratings. Unless an emergency order, other than an order rated FR–10 under paragraph (c) hereof, is placed with or delivered to a person for acceptance within 15 days following the date of issuance of such rating or within such other period of time as may be specified by the Director, on the food priority rating certificate or otherwise, such rating shall expire and be without force and effect. All priority ratings may be revoked at any time by the Director.

(e) Extension of priority ratings. (1) Priority ratings assigned to contracts or purchase orders of or deliveries to an agency or person named in paragraph (a) (3) (i) hereof, may be extended to the suppliers or subsuppliers of any person required to deliver pursuant to such emergency orders to the extent authorized by the contracting officer of such agency or person, such authorization to be given in writing. Priority ratings assigned to other contracts, purchase orders, or deliveries may not be extended to any suppliers or subsuppliers unless the Director specifically authorizes such extension.

(2) Any person authorized to extend priority ratings may do so:

(i) On the written contract or purchase order by endorsing on or attaching to each contract or purchase order placed by him to which the rating is to be extended a certification in substantially the form provided in Appendix A hereof, signed by an official duly authorized for such purpose; and

(ii) On a purchase order placed by telegraph, by including in the telegram a certification substantially as follows:

Ratings indicated are certified pursuant to Food Distribution Regulation No. 1, and a copy of such telegram signed by a duly authorized official shall, in every case, be furnished to the addressee thereof.

(3) The person receiving the certification and rating shall be entitled to rely on such representation unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false. Each person extending a rating or filling an order bearing an extended rating shall maintain at his regular place of business all the records prescribed in paragraph (n) hereof.

(4) Unless the person authorized to extend a priority rating places his order to which such rating is extended, or delivers such order to a person for acceptance, within fifteen days following the date upon which such extension is authorized or within such other period of time as may be specified by the Director or the contracting officer of an agency or person named in paragraph (a) (3) (i), hereof, such extended rating shall expire and be without force and effect.

(5) No person shall duplicate in whole or in part purchase orders which he has placed with one or more suppliers for delivery of food to which he has extended a rating in such manner that the amount of the food ordered exceeds the amount to which he is authorized to extend the rating, even though he intends to cancel or reduce his purchase orders to the authorized amount prior to completion of delivery.

(6) No priority rating may be extended to any material other than food.

(f) Sequence of priority ratings. Priority ratings under this regulation shall be referred to and designated as Food Priority Ratings and shall have the following order of precedence: FR–1, FR–2, FR–3, FR–4, FR–5, FR–6, FR–7, FR–8, FR–9, FR–10.

(g) Set aside quantities of food. Unless specifically authorized by the Director, no person shall fill any emergency order by delivering the set aside portion of any food required by any order of the Secretary of Agriculture to be set aside, except to the agency or agencies named in the order requiring the food to be set aside.

(h) Compulsory acceptance of emergency orders. Emergency orders must be accepted and filled in preference to any other contracts or purchase orders for food, except that such order need not be accepted:

(1) If delivery on schedule thereunder would be impossible by reason of the requirements of previously accepted orders bearing higher or equal priority ratings, unless acceptance is specifically required by the Director;

(2) If the person seeking to place such orders is unwilling or unable to meet regularly established prices and terms of sale or payment; however, there shall be no discrimination against such orders in establishing such prices or terms; or

(3) If the food ordered is of a kind which is not usually sold by the person to whom such order is offered and which is not capable of being produced by such person without substantial alteration of, or addition to, such person's facilities, unless such person has a supply of such food in sufficient quantity to fill such order.

(i) Sequence of deliveries. (1) Every delivery under an emergency order shall be made in preference to deliveries under all other contracts or purchase orders whenever and to the extent necessary to meet the delivery schedule provided in the food priority rating certificate covering such delivery. Deliveries bearing no priority rating or lower priority rating shall be deferred to the extent necessary to assure those deliveries bearing higher priority ratings, even though such deferment may cause defaults under other contracts or purchase orders. Each person who has emergency orders on hand must so schedule his production and deliveries that deliveries thereunder will be made on the dates required, giving precedence in the case of unavoidable delay to deliveries bearing the higher rating.

(2) The sequence of deliveries under emergency orders bearing the same priority rating shall be determined by the respective dates on which the emergency orders are placed, the emergency order placed first in point of time having precedence over other emergency orders. If emergency orders bearing the same priority rating are placed on the same day and it is impossible to deliver all the quantities specified on schedule, the sequence of deliveries shall be determined by the delivery dates specified in the respective priority rating certificate by which priority ratings were assigned to such orders.

(j) Rejected orders and deferred deliveries. When an emergency order has been rejected in violation of this regulation or when deliveries under emergency orders have been unreasonably or improperly deferred, the person seeking to place such order or the person entitled to delivery may file with the Director a report, setting forth the facts in connection with the rejection or the deferment. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate, including the imposition of penalties as provided in paragraph (r) hereof.

(k) Allocations. When specific allocations of a food are made by the Secretary of Agriculture or the Director by allocation orders, such allocations shall, unless otherwise provided by the Secretary or Director (as the case may be), be made without regard to any priority ratings which have been assigned to deliveries under particular contracts or purchase orders and shall prevail over any such priority ratings.

(l) Use of food obtained under priority rating. Any person who obtains a delivery of any food by a priority rating or pursuant to an order of the Director must use such food for the purpose for which it was obtained. If it cannot be used for such purpose for any reason, such person shall redeliver the food to the person who originally delivered it to him. If and to the extent that such person is not able to use or dispose of such food, he shall file with the Director a report describing the same so that such food can be redistributed.

(m) Existing contracts. The requirements of this regulation shall be observed without regard to existing contracts or any rights accrued or payment made thereunder.

(n) Records and reports. Every person participating in a transaction involving food to which any priority rating issued hereunder applies shall keep and preserve accurate records sufficient to show the following details concerning all transactions (priority and nonpriority) in such food: (1) a copy of contracts or purchase orders and invoices or sales slips, (2) the dates on which all purchase orders were accepted or rejected, (3) the delivery dates requested and the dates of actual delivery, (4) a description of the food involved, (5) a record of delivery by classes, types, quantities, and values, (6) the names of parties involved in each transaction, (7) the priority rating, if any, assigned or extended to the purchase order or contract, (8) the names of persons, if any, to whom the priority rating is extended and the quantity of food received under each extension, (9) the priority rating certificate, if any, (10) and such other information as may be required by the Director. The records required above may be kept by preserving the usual business papers and records insofar as they provide the information required. If the emergency order is accepted and delivered on time, the above records need cover only the period between the acceptance of the order and delivery and must be preserved for a period of two years. If the emergency order is rejected or delivery is deferred, the required records must cover the period beginning with the receipt of the order and ending two months after the rejection or deferment, and must be preserved for a period of two years. Each person also shall execute and file reports and submit other information requested by the Director within the time period specified by him. (This record-keeping requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.)

(o) Audits and inspections. All books, records, and accounts of any person participating in any transaction to which any priority rating issued hereunder applies, shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by the Director.

(p) Illegal use of priority rating. No person shall claim or assert any priority rating for any contract or purchase order unless such contract or order is rated under paragraphs (b), (c), or (s) hereof.

(q) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this regulation who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may petition in writing (in triplicate) for relief to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate and such action shall be final.

(r) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this regulation or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this regulation or wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or agency of the United States may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation, may be deprived of priorities assistance, and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35a of the Criminal Code (18 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of Section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(s) Priorities regulations of the War Production Board superseded. This regulation supersedes all priorities regulations of the War Production Board in so far as such priorities regulations apply to food except that as to preference ratings heretofore assigned to contracts or orders or as to violations of said priorities regulations or rights accrued, liabilities incurred, or appeals taken under any of said priorities regulations prior to the effective date hereof, such priorities regulations shall be deemed in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding with respect to any such violation, right, or liability. All preference ratings for food under the War Production Board priorities regulations not heretofore placed with any person shall expire and be without force and effect 15 days after the effective date of this regulation.

(t) Communications to the Department of Agriculture. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this regulation shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Ref: FDR-1.

(u) Territorial scope. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to all persons in the United States, its territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

(v) Effective date. This regulation shall be effective March 6, 1943.

(E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179)

[SEAL] CLAUDE R. WICKARD,
Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

DELTA AIR CORPORATION

WAIVER OF CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS

Waiver of the requirements of § 40.2611 (b) of the Civil Air Regulations with respect to Delta Air Corporation.

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Board held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 1st day of March 1943.

Having had under consideration the regular use of the new Monroe Airport near Monroe, Louisiana, in scheduled air transportation, the Board finds that:

1. A new airport has been constructed on the site of the Selman Airport, Monroe, Louisiana, which is adequate for regular use by aircraft operated in scheduled air transportation, being located in level terrain and having 3 unobstructed runways, the shortest of which is 5000 feet;

2. First pilots serving in air transportation for Delta Air Corporation on routes touching Monroe, Louisiana, have had an opportunity to become familiar with the new Monroe Airport through constant examination from the air so that compliance with the provisions of the Civil Air Regulation requiring the first pilot to have landed at least once at such airport may not be required in the interest of safety if the familiarity of the first pilot with the new Monroe Airport is sufficiently demonstrated as hereinafter provided:

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That: Any first pilot listed in the Delta Air Corporation's Airman Operations Specifications on February 28, 1943, who is qualified as competent to operate an aircraft in scheduled air transportation between Atlanta, Georgia, and Fort Worth, Texas, on February 28, 1943, may pilot aircraft in scheduled transportation for said carrier into and out of the new Monroe Airport, Monroe, Louisiana, upon furnishing evidence satisfactory to a representative of the Administrator of the pilot's thorough familiarity with the form and condition of the airport and with the location and nature of any obstructions in the vicinity.

§ 22.1 Definitions. For the purpose of these regulations:

(a) The term "United States" shall be deemed to mean all land and water, continental or insular, in any way within the jurisdiction of the United States or occupied by the military or naval forces thereof.

(b) The term "person" shall be deemed to mean any citizen of the United States, whether within the United States or within any foreign country; any person within the United States; any individual, or any partnership, association, corporation, or other organization which is organized under the laws of the United States, or which has its principal place of business within the United States, or which is owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by one or more persons subject to the jurisdiction of the United States; or any agent, subsidiary, affiliate, or other person owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by any person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

(2) The government of any nation with which the United States is at war, or any political or municipal subdivision thereof, or any officer, official, agent, or agency thereof.

(3) Such other individuals, or body or class of individuals, as may be natives, citizens, or subjects of any nation with which the United States is at war, wherever resident or wherever doing business, as the President may designate by proclamation, if he deems that the safety of the United States or the successful prosecution of the war shall so require.

§ 22.2 General license for transportation. A general license is hereby granted, authorizing for the purpose of section 3 (b) of the Trading-with-the-enemy Act:

(a) The transportation of any citizen or subject of an enemy nation or ally-of-an-enemy nation, from any point within the United States to any point outside of the United States: Provided, That such citizen or subject has a valid permit to depart, a valid exit visa, a valid border-crossing identification card issued on or after December 7, 1941, or a valid re-entry permit issued with the concurrence of the Secretary of State as to destination, or that he is exempted under § 58.23 of title 22 of the Code of Federal Regulations (6 F.R. 5927) from the necessity of obtaining a permit to depart: Provided further, however, That if such citizen or subject has obtained a permit to depart, an exit visa, a border-crossing identification card, or a re-entry permit, the license hereby granted shall extend only to transportation to the destination for which such documents were granted, or to the destination specified therein.

(b) The transportation of any citizen or subject of an enemy nation or ally-of-an-enemy nation, who has a valid permit to enter the United States issued on or after December 7, 1941 or who is exempted under § 58.44 or § 58.45 of title 22 of the Code of Federal Regulations (6 F.R. 5930) from the necessity of obtaining a permit to enter: Provided, That such transportation shall be from a point outside of the United States to a point within the United States in the ordinary course of the alien's journey and shall not include travel over or through the Panama Canal Zone, or over or through any restricted military or naval area, unless permission to travel through the Panama Canal Zone or other such restricted area shall have been procured from the appropriate authorities of the United States.

(c) The transportation within the United States of any citizen or subject of an enemy nation, or ally-of-an-enemy nation, whose transportation has been authorized by the Attorney General or the Secretary of War under Proclamations 2525 (6 F.R. 6321), 2526 (6 F.R. 6323), and 2527 (6 F.R. 6324), and rules and regulations issued thereunder.

§ 22.3 Reservation of power to withdraw the general license. A general license issued under § 22.2 may be withdrawn with respect to the carriage of any citizen or subject of an enemy nation or ally-of-an-enemy nation, or any class thereof, by order of the Secretary of State; and nothing in these regulations shall be construed as exempting any alien from the necessity of complying with any other laws, regulations, or requirements relating to travel to or from the United States.

§ 22.4 Travel without license prohibited. Unless a license has been granted by or on behalf of the Secretary of State, no American transportation company, firm, corporation, concern, person, or individual shall transport by water, land, or air, from any point outside of the United States to any other point, any person who is a citizen or subject of a nation with which the United States is at war, or a citizen or subject of any nation allied with a nation with which the United States is at war, or any national included in the Proclaimed List.[1]

§ 22.5 Issuance of licenses by diplomatic and consular officers. Diplomatic and consular officers in independent countries of the Western Hemisphere may, without reference to the Department of State, issue licenses for transportation to persons who are residents of the country to which they are accredited and who are subject to the restrictions of the Trading-with-the-enemy Act, for travel within that country, only if they are satisfied that the travel of that person is not prejudicial to the interests of the United States.

§ 22.6 Advance notice regarding persons who have applied for passage. Each American transportation company, firm, corporation, concern, person, or individual shall, unless it is not deemed feasible, submit in advance to the appropriate diplomatic mission or consulate a list of persons who have applied for passage from any point outside of the United States to any other point. The diplomatic mission will determine whether such lists should be submitted and, if so, whether they should be submitted to the mission or to a consulate, adopting appropriate measures to avoid duplication. If submission of such a list is not deemed feasible, some other procedure should be adopted to insure that the mission or consulate will be informed in advance of all requests for passage by aliens. The Department of State is to be informed of the procedure adopted.

[1] Proclaimed List of Certain Blocked Nationals, promulgated pursuant to Proclamation 2497 of July 17, 1941, and revised and supplemented from time to time (22 CFR, ch. III).

§ 22.7 Provisions regarding stateless persons and persons who may have dual nationality. (a) Care should be exercised in determining for licensing purposes the status of persons claiming to be stateless. All aliens 14 years of age or older, who at the present time are stateless but who at the time they became stateless were citizens or subjects of Germany, Italy, Japan, Hungary, Rumania, or Bulgaria, or who were citizens or subjects of an ally of these countries, shall be considered, for licensing purposes under the Trading-with-the-enemy Act, as being enemy nationals or ally-of-enemy nationals.

(b) Care should also be exercised in determining, for licensing purposes, the nationality of persons who may have dual nationality.

§ 22.8 Applications for required licenses not covered by General License No. 1. In a case which is not covered by General License No. 1 of July 8, 1942 (7 F.R. 5368) but one in which a license for travel is nevertheless required, the transportation agency will execute the application for license on form ET–1, copy of which is obtainable from the Secretary of State. This form may be transmitted by the transportation agency to the diplomatic or consular officer at the intended originating transportation point, for transmission to the Department of State; or it may be transmitted by the transportation agency direct to the Department. Such applications, with the exception of those covering travel from one point in an independent country of the Western Hemisphere to another point in the same country, outlined in § 22.5 hereof, will be considered by the Department before a license is granted. The diplomatic or consular officer at the intended originating transportation point will be notified of the Department's decision. If a license is granted by the Department, the diplomatic or consular officer, if he believes the circumstances warrant, may temporarily suspend the license and immediately forward a full report to the Department.

§ 22.9 Temporary suspension of permit to enter the United States. In the case of an enemy national or ally-of-enemy national, where an advisory approval has been given for the issuance of a permit to enter the United States and where the diplomatic or consular officer issuing such permit knows or has reason to believe that the transportation of such alien by an American transportation line would be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, a full report shall be forwarded to the Department of State and issuance of the permit to enter shall be held in abeyance; or the permit, if previously issued, shall be taken up and held for possible cancelation, as the Secretary of State may decide to withdraw the applicability of General License No. 1 to such case in accordance with § 22.3 of these regulations.

§ 22.10 Requests to American agencies not to carry persons whose carriage would endanger the rights and interests of the United States. In the case of a person who is not on the Proclaimed List, or a person who is not an enemy national or an ally-of-enemy national, a request may be made by the diplomatic or consular officer to American agencies not to carry such person if it appears that his carriage would endanger the rights and interests of the United States or if, after reasonable investigation, it is concluded that he is a member of any party, organization, association, society, union, club, clique, or faction which engages in subversive political activities or in the dissemination of propaganda advocating the establishment in an American republic of a form of government not in conformity with the form of government existing under the constitution of such republic, or which attempts to extend to any country of the Western Hemisphere any political system contrary to that now existing in such country. Any attempt on the part of such party, organization, association, society, union, club, clique, or faction to extend its system to any portion of this hemisphere should be considered as dangerous to the peace and safety of the United States and prejudicial to the defense of the Western Hemisphere. The Department of State should be informed of such cases as soon as they arise.

§ 22.11 Licenses granted not to include permission to travel over or through the Panama Canal Zone. Licenses granted under the regulations in this part will not include permission to travel over or through the Panama Canal Zone or over or through any other restricted military or naval area. Either the transportation agency or the alien concerned must procure such permission from the appropriate military or naval authorities.

SUMNER WELLES,

MEMORANDUM OPINION, ETC.

Memorandum opinion and order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition filed by Byrnes Coal Company, a code member in District No. 1, requesting permission to mix and load certain coals; and of the petition filed by Walnut Run Coal Company, a code member in District No. 1, requesting permission to mix and load certain coals.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4, Part II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, was duly filed with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") by Byrnes Coal Company, a copartnership consisting of O. R. Byrnes, L. G. Byrnes and M. A. Byrnes, a code member, (the "petitioners") which operates the Byrnes No. 2 mine, Mine Index No. 75, and one of the Mines of Walnut Run Coal Company, Mine Index No. 74, located in Cambria County, Pennsylvania, in District No. 1. This petition requested that the petitioners be permitted (a) to load coal in railroad cars on the sidetrack of Walnut Run Coal Company, Mine Index No. 74 and (b) to mix such coal with other coal loaded on said sidetrack of Walnut Run Coal Company.

It appears that the above-named petitioners are lessees of the Walnut Run Coal Company, and that the said M. A. Byrnes is also a partner in Walnut Run Coal Company.

Subsequently, an amended petition was filed in the above-entitled matter by Walnut Run Coal Company, a partnership composed of M. A. Byrnes and William F. Dill, Barnesboro, Pennsylvania, a code member, who operate the Byrnes No. 1 Mine, Mine Index No. 74, located in District No. 1. This amended petition requested permission for Walnut Run Coal Company (1) to mix coals produced by this petitioner with those produced by Byrnes Coal Co. at the Byrnes No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 75, in the "D" seam and by Scalese Brothers, at the Sunshine Mine, Mine Index No. 492, in the "E" seam; and (2) to ship such mixture from Siding No. 6134 of the Walnut Run Coal Company on the Pennsylvania Railroad. This petitioner also requests that pending final disposition of the matter, a preliminary or temporary order be entered granting the relief prayed for.

It appears from the petition that Byrnes Coal Company and Scalese Brothers are lessees of the Walnut Run Coal Company, that all the coal involved herein is owned in fee by the Walnut Run Coal Company, and is classified as "G" in Size Group 3 for rail shipment.

Petitions of intervention have been filed by Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel and District Board No. 1. In his petition of intervention, the Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel requested that if relief be granted permitting the sale of the coals involved herein as a mixture, the following provision be included in any temporary or final relief orders: "When such mixture is sold the invoices shall properly identify the coal." District Board No. 1 intervened urging that the requested relief be granted.

Upon the basis of the allegations contained in the amended petition, it appears that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth, and that the following action is deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act.

Therefore, It is ordered, That pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief be, and the same hereby is, granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 321.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, which supplement is hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this Order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this Order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: February 15, 1943.

PART 322—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 2

MEMORANDUM OPINION, ETC.

Memorandum opinion and order granting motion to amend petition, amending petition, consolidating petitions, granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petitions of District Board No. 2 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines and for changes in shipping points for the coals of certain other mines.

Original petitions, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, were duly filed with this Division by District Board No. 2, (the "Petitioner"), requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2 and requesting changes in shipping points for the coals of certain other mines also located in District No. 2.

A motion was filed by the petitioner on January 20, 1943 with this Division in Docket No. A–1831, requesting that the original petition filed therein be amended by (1) deleting therefrom the proposal that Shaw Siding, Pennsylvania, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, be established as a shipping point for the coals produced at the Sturgiss No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 380, of the Pennsylvania Coal Company (Myers Nobel) and inserting in lieu thereof, Sackett, Pennsylvania, on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, as a shipping point for said coals; and by (2) adding to said petition a proposal that the shipping point heretofore established for the coals produced at the Rider Strip Mine, Mine Index No. 449, of the said Pennsylvania Coal Company (Myers Nobel) at Fairchance, Pennsylvania, on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, be deleted and that there be established in lieu thereof, Rich Hill Siding, Outcrop, Pennsylvania, and Sackett, Pennsylvania, on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad as shipping points for the coals of this mine.

It appears that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; that no petitions of intervention and motions in opposition to the granting of said motion have been filed with the Division; that the original petition, as amended, filed in Docket No. A–1831 and the original petition filed in Docket No. A–1843 should be consolidated; and that the following action is deemed necessary to effectuate the purposes of the Act.

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That said motion be and the same hereby is, granted, and that the original petition filed in Docket No. A–1831 be, and the same hereby is, amended in accordance therewith.

It is further ordered, That the said petitions be, and the same hereby are, consolidated.

It is further ordered, That pending final disposition of the above entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith § 322.7 (Alphabetical list of Code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplements R–I and R–II, and § 322.23 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petitions in the above-entitled matters and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this Order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this Order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE
DISTRICT NO. 8

FINDINGS OF FACT, ETC.

Findings of fact, conclusions of law, memorandum opinion and order in the matter of petitions of District Board No. 8 for a change in price classifications and minimum prices for rail, lake and truck shipments for the coals produced by High Point #1 Mine (Mine Index No. 241) of High Point Coal Company, a code member.

This proceeding was instituted upon a petition filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on September 12, 1942, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 by District Board 8. The petition requested a change in price classifications for coals produced by High Point Coal Company, a code member in District 8, operating the High Point No. 1 Mine (Mine Index No. 241), located in Caryville, Campbell County, Tennessee. On October 28, 1942, District Board 8 filed a motion to amend its petition so as to include additional size groups. No objection having been made thereto, the motion is hereby granted. The petition, as amended, requests changes in price classifications and minimum prices as follows:

Rail—Size Groups 1 to 8, inclusive, from "B" to "A"; Size Groups 11 to 14, inclusive, from "B" to "A".

Lake—Size Groups 1 to 6, inclusive, from "B" to "A".

Truck—Size Group 1, from $3.25 to $3.35; Size Group 2, from $3.05 to $3.15; Size Group 4, from $2.55 to $2.60.

Pursuant to appropriate orders, and after due notice to interested persons, a hearing was held on October 29, 1942, before Edward J. Hayes, a duly designated Examiner of the Division, at a hearing room thereof in Washington, D. C. Interested persons were afforded an opportunity to be present, adduce evidence, cross-examine witnesses and otherwise be heard. Petitioner and Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel appeared. All parties waived the preparation and filing of a report by the Examiner, and the matter was thereupon submitted to me for consideration.

The High Point No. 1 Mine (Mine Index No. 241) of the High Point Coal Company operates in the Peewee seam, and is located in Campbell County, Tennessee, Southern Appalachian Subdistrict of District 8. This mine is adjacent to or in the near vicinity of certain other mines operating in the Peewee seam,[1] which were classified "A" in the size groups in question for rail and lake shipment, and for which the effective minimum prices in Size Groups 1, 2, and 4 for truck shipment were established at $3.35, $3.15, and $2.60 per ton f. o. b. the mine.

respectively by the order of the Director in General Docket No. 15. The petition requests that the price classifications and effective minimum prices of the High Point No. 1 coals should be advanced to the price classifications and minimum prices of similarly sized coals produced by these Peewee seam mines, and particularly by the Sun Mine, which is owned by the same interests which own the High Point No. 1 Mine.

The position of District Board 8 is that the High Point No. 1 coals are comparable to and of equal market value with the coals in the same size groups produced by all other mines operating in the Peewee seam.[1] In support of its position District Board 8 adduced uncontradicted evidence that the coals of the High Point No. 1 Mine in the size groups involved, are used exclusively in the domestic market and that in structure, appearance, size and burning characteristics, are identical with the coals produced by all other mines operating in the Peewee seam.

According to W. P. Neekamp, a member of the Classification and Price Committee of District Board 8, the lower classification of High Point No. 1 coals was based on the recommendation of the Southern Appalachian Coal Operators' Association and on the then available information which showed some slight variation in size consist. Neekamp further testified that recent investigations by the Price and Classification Committee, a comparison of analyses, and an examination of realization data and the general market history of these coals indicate that the High Point No. 1 coals are of the same quality and characteristics as and are of equal value with similarly sized coals produced from the Peewee seam, and that there is no information indicating any variations or faults in the Peewee seam. He maintained also that the structure, appearance, size and burning characteristics of the High Point No. 1 mine coals which make for its market acceptability in domestic markets, are identical with those of the other Peewee seam coals and that the variation in size consist has no effect on their respective market values. O. W. Robinson, President of High Point Coal Company and Sun Coal Company, explained, further, that the slightly higher screening percentages in High Point No. 1 coals were, in large measure, caused by the loading facilities of the High Point No. Mine which have produced excessive breakage. The testimony of R. H. McCormick, Vice President and Sales Manager of the Kearns Coal Company, exclusive sales agent for the High Point and Sun Mines, to the effect that the coals in these mines are both marketed under the "Sun-Ra" trademark, are sold interchangeably, and from October 1, 1940 to the date of the hearing had the same sales realization, confirms the contention of District Board 8 that there should be no differential between effective minimum prices for the domestic sizes of the High Point No. 1 Mine and those produced from the other Peewee seam mines.[2]

From all of the evidence presented herewith, I am satisfied that the coals of the Peewee seam are all of comparable quality and characteristics, and of equal market value, and that the classification of High Point No. 1 coals, which apparently was erroneously made, was based upon the inadequate information available at the time of such classification. I am aware in this case that an increase in minimum prices will result in increased maximum prices applicable for rail shipment in all of the size groups except Size Group 1. I have, however, had occasion recently to hold that the increase in minimum prices will not be denied because it may result in an increase in maximum prices.[3] The underlying principle which guides the Division in determining the propriety of a revision of prices is whether the revision is necessary to effectuate the standards set forth in the Act. During this present period of emergency, when undue rises in the prices of commodities and the consequent tendencies toward inflation must be avoided, the Division has a duty and is enjoined to consider with great care such applications as may be presented for revision. The Division has generally relied, and will continue to rely, in matters of classification upon the information and experience which the District Boards have. For that reason, however, the District Boards have the serious duty of scrutinizing with redoubled care and attention, all applications for revision of minimum prices which may result in increased maximum prices. It is expected that the Boards will conscientiously scrutinize all requests for reclassification with infinite care.

In reliance upon the petition of District Board 8, the evidence adduced at the hearing in support thereof, and in view also of the fact that no objection to the request of District Board 8 was expressed at the hearing, I am of the opinion that the coals of High Point No. 1 Mine are comparable to and of equal value with the coals produced by other mines operating in the Peewee seam, and that in order for minimum prices for these coals to be just and equitable, to reflect as nearly as possible relative market values, and to preserve as nearly as may be existing fair competitive opportunities, the classification of the coals of the High Point No. 1 Mine should be advanced to the classification of the coals produced by such other Peewee seam mines. I find that, upon the basis of the entire record in this proceeding, such classification complies with the standards set forth in section 4 II (a) and (b) of the Act, and is required to effectuate the policy and purpose thereof.

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That effective fifteen (15) days from the date hereof, § 328.11 (High Volatile Coals—Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 328.34 (General prices for high volatile coals in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas)[4] is amended by adding thereto Supplement T,[5] which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

Dated: February 23, 1943.

[SEAL] DAN H. WHEELER,
Director.

[1] This includes, in addition to the mines mentioned in footnote 1 above, the mine of the Peewee Coal Company, Incorporated, which also operates in the Peewee seam. It is significant that by order of the Director dated September 10, 1941 (6 F.R. 4729), the coals of this mine in the same size groups were given the same classifications and prices as the coals of the above-mentioned mines, despite the protest of the Peewee Coal Company, Incorporated, and after a hearing on its petition which alleged that its coals were comparable to and of equal value with the coals of the High Point No. 1 Mine. See In the Matter of the Petition of District Board No. 8, etc., Dockets A–446 and A–446, Part II.

[2] Comparison of gross realization for block and egg coals of the High Point No. 1 and Sun Mines for the period from October 1940 to June 1942, indicates that the average per ton realization for the High Point No. 1 Mine was slightly higher than that for the Sun Mine.

[4] By order of the Director in General Docket No. 21, (7 F.R. 6943), effective October 1, 1942, and therefore, subsequent to the filing of the petition herein, it was provided, inter alia, that minimum prices for truck shipment be increased 20 cents per net ton. The petition is hereby amended in accordance therewith and the relief herein granted will reflect such increases.

If the registrant has been denied a claim for a classification in Class I–A–O or Class IV–E, the local board shall enter on each copy of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) opposite Item 27 (a), a statement to that effect.

PART 962—IRON AND STEEL

[Supplementary Order M-21-b, as Amended March 6, 1943]

WAREHOUSES AND DEALERS

Supplementary Order M-21-b (§ 962.3) is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 962.3 Supplementary Order M-21-b—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this supplementary order:

(1) "Warehouse" means any person who receives physical delivery of iron or steel from a producer for sale or resale in the form received; but does not include any structural shape, plate, or sheet fabricator unless his warehouse sales during 1940 represented at least 25 percent of the total tonnage of iron or steel products handled by him during that year.

(2) "Dealer" means any person who receives physical delivery of iron or steel from a warehouse for sale or resale in the form received.

(3) "Delivery" includes deliveries on consignment.

(4) "Minimum carload" means a carload weighing not less than 40,000 lbs.

(b) Schedule A products. With respect to the iron or steel products listed in Schedule A hereto:

(1) Quota restrictions. No warehouse shall accept from any person during any calendar quarter deliveries except within the limits of the quota established for such warehouse by the Director General for Operations. Such quota shall be computed on the base tonnage herein described. The base tonnage of any Schedule A product classification is the tonnage of such product classification shipped by the warehouse from stock during the first calendar quarter of 1941. The quota of the warehouse in each calendar quarter is the percentage of such base tonnage shown in columns 2 or 3 of Schedule A. No warehouse which, during 1940, purchased more than 25 percent of its tonnage of any product classification in a grade invoiced as less than prime quality, may, during any calendar quarter, purchase prime quality iron or steel products of the same classification from all producers in an amount greater than one-fourth of the tonnage of such prime quality material purchased from all producers during 1940. The base tonnage or the quota may be changed from time to time by the Director General for Operations.

(2) Preference rating. The Director General for Operations will issue to each warehouse for which a quota may be established pursuant to paragraph (b) (1), and which has reported monthly on form PD-83, a certificate assigning a preference rating of A-1-k to deliveries of iron or steel to such warehouse, within the limits of such quota. No person may deliver Schedule A products to any warehouse, and no warehouse may accept such deliveries, unless such warehouse shall have filed with such person a copy of its A-1-k preference rating certificate. Such preference rating may be changed from time to time by the Director General for Operations.

(3) Reports. Each warehouse unless specifically exempted shall file with the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C., on or before the 15th day of each month, a report on form PD-83 Revised, or in such other form as may from time to time be prescribed by the Director General for Operations.

(4) Supplementary quota. In addition to the quarterly quota provided for in paragraph (b) (1), any warehouse may during the calendar quarter ending March 31, 1943, accept deliveries of any steel product classification in an amount which, when added to its total receipts of such product classification during the calendar year 1942 will not exceed the total quota assigned for such product classification for the period January 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943; however, in no event shall a warehouse accept deliveries which, when added to its total receipts of all Schedule A product classifications during the calendar year 1942, result in an excess over its total quota for all product classifications for the period January 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943.

(c) Schedule B products. With respect to the iron and steel products listed in Schedule B hereto:

(1) Quota restrictions. No producer shall make to a warehouse, and no warehouse shall accept from any producer during any calendar quarter, deliveries for stock except within the limits of the quota which such warehouse is entitled to receive from such producer. Such quota shall be computed on the base tonnage herein described. Except for wire and wire products, the base tonnage of all Schedule B product classifications is the tonnage of such product classification shipped by the producer to the warehouse stock during the corresponding calendar quarter of 1940. The base tonnage for wire and wire products is the tonnage shipped by the producer to the warehouse stock during the corresponding calendar quarter of the period July 1, 1940 to June 30, 1941. By written notice delivered to the producer on or before March 31 of any year, the warehouse may change the base tonnage of any Schedule B product classification for that year to one-fourth of the annual base tonnage provided for above; but the base tonnage cannot thereafter be changed for any subsequent calendar quarter during that year. The quota which each producer may deliver to each warehouse in each calendar quarter following December 31, 1942, is the percentage of such base tonnage shown in column 3 of Schedule B herein. The base tonnage or the quota may be changed from time to time by the Director General for Operations. Any warehouse whose base tonnage of all Schedule B products with any producer for the calendar year is 120,000 pounds or less may accept its annual quota from such producer at any time during the calendar year, provided that not more than two minimum carloads are accepted in any calendar quarter. After approval by the Steel Division, War Production Board, on Form PD-83-e Revised, the base tonnage and quota of a warehouse for any product classification may be transferred from one producer to another.

(2) Preference rating. A preference rating of A-3 is assigned to deliveries of each product classification from any producer to a warehouse up to the percentage of the base tonnage shown in column 2 of Schedule B herein. Shipment of Schedule B products to any warehouse may be increased to the percentage shown in column 3 of Schedule B only if the warehouse through the use of Form PD-83-g is able to develop ratings higher than A-3 for additional tonnage. Where the amount of all Schedule B products assigned the A-3 rating in any calendar quarter is less than one minimum carload for the haul in question but more than one-half of such minimum carload, such rating may be applied up to one minimum carload.

(3) Reports. Each producer making deliveries of Schedule B products to a warehouse shall file with the Steel Division, War Production Board, on or before July 15, 1942, and quarterly thereafter, a report on form PD-83-f Revised, or in such other form as may from time to time be authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(4) Deliveries to warehouses and dealers by persons other than producers. A preference rating of A-3 is assigned to deliveries of Schedule B products from persons other than producers and their agents to warehouses and dealers who handled such products in 1940; Provided, however, That a dealer may not use this rating to purchase any Schedule B product from a warehouse stock during a calendar quarter in quantities greater than would be obtained by applying the percentage shown in column 2 of Schedule B herein to his total purchases of such product from such warehouse stock during the corresponding calendar quarter of the base period established for such product in paragraph (c) (1) above.

(d) Limitations on deliveries by warehouses and dealers. (1) No warehouse or dealer shall deliver steel or iron products on any preference rated order unless such order is accompanied, in addition to the preference rating certification required by Priorities Regulation No. 3, by the appropriate group classification as prescribed by General Preference Order M-21 with respect to purchase orders placed with producers.

(2) Except as hereinafter provided, or with the specific permission of the Director General for Operations, no warehouse or dealer shall deliver steel or iron products except on an order bearing a preference rating of AA-5 or higher; Provided, however, That

(i) A warehouse or dealer may deliver carbon steel or iron products on an order certified for essential repair or maintenance purposes and bearing a preference rating of A-10 or higher: Provided, That deliveries of the following carbon steel or iron products in this manner by any warehouse or dealer during any calendar quarter do not exceed the amounts indicated below:

Tool steel products—3% of quarterly quota for such products.
All other carbon steel or iron products—Whichever is the greater of (A) 5% of the quarterly quota for all such products, or (B) an aggregate of 150 tons of all such products (but not more than the quarterly quota for all such products).

(ii) A warehouse or dealer may deliver flat rolled carbon steel or iron products which were received by him, or which have been accumulated from warehouse shearings, in sizes not greater than those specified below on an order bearing a preference rating of A-1-k or higher:

PLATES

Gauge	Width	Length
⅜" and lighter	Under 72"	Under 120".
Over ⅜" but under 1"	Under 48"	Under 120".

SHEETS

Gauge	Width	Length
⅜" through 16 gauge	Under 60"	Under 60".
Lighter than 16 gauge	Any	Under 72".

(iii) A warehouse or dealer may deliver black or galvanized welded pipe up to and including 3½" O. D. standard pipe size, wrought iron pipe, oil country tubular goods rated under Order P-98-b, pressure tubing, wire rope and strand, woven or welded wire fence, poultry netting, barbed wire, wire (except stainless or alloy wire), water well casing, or posts and gates on an order bearing a preference rating of A-10 or higher.

(iv) A warehouse or dealer may deliver nails, staples, or bale ties on lower rated or unrated orders, and may deliver formed roofing and siding on lower rated or unrated orders for maintenance and repair purposes.

(v) A warehouse or dealer may deliver any carbon steel or iron products pursuant to Food Production Order 3 of the Secretary of Agriculture.

(3) No warehouse or dealer shall make a delivery to any one customer to one destination at any one time or against any one order from warehouse stock in quantities representing 40,000 lbs. or more except with the specific approval of the Director General for Operations, unless such delivery includes ten or more different items, each item to be of a specific quality, length, or cross-section, and no item of which shall weigh more than 8,000 lbs.: Provided, however, That the provisions of this paragraph (d) (3) do not apply to deliveries of oil country tubular goods rated under Order P-98-b.

(4) A warehouse or dealer called upon under the terms of Priorities Regulation No. 1, as amended, to deliver from stock at any one time one or more items weighing 8,000 lbs. each or more, which delivery would seriously deplete the warehouse inventory of such item or items, thereby impairing the service which the warehouse or dealer must render to all other buyers, may appeal to the Director General for Operations for relief from any part of such delivery.

(5) The limitations on deliveries set forth in this paragraph (d) may be changed from time to time by the Director General for Operations.

(e) Special instructions. The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue specific directions to warehouses or dealers requiring them to earmark stocks or to make deliveries during specified periods in fulfillment of contracts, commitments, or purchase orders for particular purposes or to particular persons. Such directions will be made primarily to insure satisfaction of all war requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made, in the discretion of the Director General for Operations without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts, commitments, or purchase orders, and without regard to any quota established under paragraphs (b) or (c).

(f) Extensions of higher ratings. The provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 3 or of any preference rating certificate or order heretofore or hereafter issued to the contrary notwithstanding, no rating higher than A-1-k on Schedule A products or higher than A-3 on Schedule B products shall be extended by a warehouse for deliveries to stock except on form PD-83-g and in accordance with the following:

(1) For deliveries of Schedule A products to warehouses having a quarterly quota of Schedule A products amounting to 500 tons or less. (i) For the purposes of extension, preference ratings received on the sale of one or more product classifications representing the same type of steel (carbon, stainless or alloy) may be grouped.

(ii) Except as permitted by paragraph (f) (3), extension of a rating higher than A-1-k for any type of steel shall be made only when the warehouse has within 90 days prior to such extension, shipped from stock on ratings higher than A-1-k an accumulated total weight of such type of steel not less than the following:

	Pounds
Carbon steel, all products	40,000
Stainless steel, all products	6,000
Alloy steel, all products	20,000

(2) For deliveries of Schedule A products to all other warehouses and for deliveries of all Schedule B products to warehouses. (i) For the purposes of extension, the rating received by the warehouse for each product classification and type of steel as shown in Schedule C shall be separately accumulated.

(ii) Except as permitted by paragraph (f) (3), extension of a rating higher than A-1-K for any Schedule A product classification or higher than A-3 for any Schedule B product classification shall be made only when the warehouse has within 90 days prior to such extension, shipped from stock on ratings higher than A-1-k or A-3 as the case may be, an accumulated total weight of such product classification and type not less than the minimum shown in Schedule C.

(3) As to iron or steel specialty products (such as wire rope and strand, spring wire, manufacturers' wire, and music wire) extension of a rating higher than A-1-k for any Schedule A product classification or higher than A-3 for any Schedule B product classification shall be made only when the warehouse has within 90 days prior to such extension shipped from stock on ratings higher than A-1-k or A-3, as the case may be, 1,000 pounds or more of such specialty item.

(4) The rating to be extended to the delivery of any product classification shall be the lowest rating received on shipments within the accumulated total.

(5) An amount of each product listed in paragraph (d) (2) (iii) or (iv) equal to the amount obtained through the use of preference ratings higher than A-1-k shall be reserved for a period of 90 days following the date of receipt by the warehouse for delivery on orders rated higher than A-1-k, except when otherwise specifically ordered by the Director General for Operations. If such material is not sold at the end of 90 days on ratings higher than A-1-k, it may then be sold on other purchase orders, subject to the provisions of this or other orders of the War Production Board.

(6) Consolidated ratings established pursuant to this paragraph (f) must be based solely on deliveries from one location, and deliveries pursuant to such consolidated ratings must be made to the same location.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1028—DOMESTIC COOKING APPLIANCES

[Supplementary Limitation Order L-23-b, as Amended March 6, 1943]

DOMESTIC ELECTRIC RANGES

Section 1028.3 Supplementary Limitation Order L-23-b is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1028.3 Supplementary Limitation Order L-23-b—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Domestic electric range" means any range or cooking stove designed primarily for home use, having as functional parts electric heating elements of a total rated wattage of 2½ kilowatts or over.

(2) "New domestic electric range" means any domestic electric range which has never been used by an ultimate consumer, including but not limited to, any such range which has been used after May 2, 1942, merely for demonstration purposes.

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing or assembling any domestic electric range or parts (including repair parts) specifically intended for incorporation therein.

(4) "Distributor" means any person engaged in the business of selling domestic electric ranges to one or more dealers for resale.

(5) "Dealer" means any person engaged in the business of making sales at retail of domestic electric ranges to the public.

Any person who acts in more than the single capacity of manufacturer, distributor or dealer as defined in paragraphs (a) (3), (a) (4) and (a) (5) of this order shall for the purposes of this order be deemed a manufacturer, distributor or dealer, depending upon the capacity in which he acts in each specific transaction he engages in.

(6) "Transfer" means the sale, lease, trading, loan, delivery, shipment or transfer of domestic electric ranges by one person to any other person, but shall not include:

(i) Transfers of title merely for security purposes;

(ii) Transfers of domestic electric ranges to and from warehouses where no substantial change in right, title or ownership to such domestic electric ranges is affected;

(iii) Transfers to and from carriers in order to effect the transfers specified in this paragraph.

(7) "Repair or replacement part" means any part for a domestic electric range which is not intended for use in the manufacture or assembly of any new domestic electric range.

(8) "Preferred order" means any purchase order, contract or subcontract for delivery of domestic electric ranges, or parts (including repair parts) for such ranges, to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(b) Prohibition of manufacture. On and after March 6, 1943, no manufacturer shall produce or assemble any new domestic electric range or any part for such range other than a repair or replacement part.

(c) Restrictions on transfer of new domestic electric ranges. (1) On and after March 6, 1943, no manufacturer, distributor or dealer shall transfer any new domestic electric range, except

(i) Manufacturers may transfer new domestic electric ranges to other manufacturers;

(ii) Distributors may transfer new domestic electric ranges to other distributors or manufacturers;

(iii) Dealers may transfer new domestic electric ranges to other dealers, distributors or manufacturers;

(iv) Dealers may transfer any new domestic electric ranges to ultimate consumers in accordance with paragraph (c) (2) of this order;

(v) Pursuant to specific authorization of the Director General for Operations on Form PD-556 pursuant to an application filed on said form.

(2) Any transfer of a new domestic electric range to an ultimate consumer pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) (iv) of this order may be made only if the transferee personally or by an authorized official (either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7) shall sign a certificate in writing in substantially one of the following forms, either on a separate document or on the bill of sale or on any other document normally used in connection with transfers of new domestic electric ranges:

(i) I hereby certify in accordance with the provisions of Limitation Order L-23-b that I require a new domestic electric range to replace a domestic electric range which is worn out, damaged beyond repair or destroyed.

By ----------

(ii) I hereby certify in accordance with the provisions of Limitation Order L-23-b that no other cooking equipment is available, that my premises are wired for the installation of a domestic electric range, and that electric utility service facilities for range operation have been installed.

By ----------

Any such certificate shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board and to the transferor. A dealer may not transfer any new domestic electric range pursuant to such a certificate if he knows or has reason to believe that the certificate is false.

(d) Repair and replacement parts. (1) No manufacturer may produce any repair or replacement parts except heating units, thermostats, switches, relays, lead-in and connection wires, handles and hinges, and components of such parts, provided that no copper or copper base alloy is used except to conduct electricity. The production of heating units for repair or replacement purposes and the use of electrical resistance material in such units shall conform to the restrictions of Limitation Order L-65, as amended.

(2) No manufacturer shall produce any type of repair or replacement part if such production will result in his having more parts of such type in his inventory than the number of parts of such type which he sold during the preceding six calendar months.

(3) Except in fulfillment of preferred orders, no manufacturer shall sell or deliver any repair or replacement part unless a similar used part has been delivered to him in exchange therefor (notwithstanding the provisions of Copper Conservation Order M-9-b), or unless he has received a certificate in writing (which shall constitute a representation to the manufacturer and to the War Production Board) in substantially the following form, signed by a distributor, dealer or other person engaged in the business of repairing domestic electric ranges or parts for such ranges, or by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

I hereby certify in accordance with the provisions of Limitation Order L-23-b that I have disposed of, through scrap channels, a used part of similar kind and size for each repair or replacement part to be delivered to me under this purchase order.

---------- (Signature)

By ----------

A manufacturer may rely on such certificate unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(e) Applicability of other orders. In so far as any other order heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities, the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations limits the use of any materials in the production of domestic electric ranges or repair or replacement parts to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this Order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(f) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(g) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time require.

PART 1029—FARM MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT AND ATTACHMENTS AND REPAIR PARTS THEREFOR

[Limitation Order L-170, as Amended March 6, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of critical materials entering into the manufacture of farm machinery and equipment and attachments and repair parts therefor, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1029.10 Limitation Order L-170—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. (1) This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(2) Protection of production schedules. Producers of any items of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts under the terms of this order may, notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, as amended, schedule their production of such items as if the orders therefor bore a rating of AA-3.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person, other than a supplier, engaged in the manufacture of farm machinery and equipment or of repair parts for farm machinery and equipment; Provided, That:

(i) No person who did not manufacture any farm machinery and equipment or repair parts in 1940 or 1941 shall be deemed a "producer", nor shall any such person manufacture any such products of an aggregate value exceeding $2,500 for the period November 1, 1942, to September 30, 1943, inclusive; and

(ii) No state prison institution shall engage in the manufacture of any such products until such time as it has received a specific quota from the Director General for Operations.

(3) "Class A producer" means any producer whose total net sales (including sales of all affiliates of such producer) of all products during the calendar year 1941 exceeded $10,000,000 in value (including domestic sales and exports).

(4) "Class B producer" means any producer whose total net sales (including sales of all affiliates of such producer) of all products during the calendar year 1941 exceeded $750,000 but did not exceed $10,000,000 in value (including domestic sales and exports).

(5) "Class C producer" means any producer whose total net sales (including sales of all affiliates of such producer) of all products during the calendar year 1941 did not exceed $750,000 in value (including domestic sales and exports).

(6) "Affiliate" of a producer means any subsidiary thereof, any subsidiary of such a subsidiary, any parent company, and any subsidiary or parent of such a parent company.

(7) "Supplier" means any person engaged in the manufacture (for sale to a producer) of materials, parts, assemblies or sub-assemblies to be physically incorporated into farm machinery and equipment or repair parts manufactured by such producer, or to be resold by such producer as repair parts.

(8) "Distributor" means any person not a producer whose business consists, in whole or in part, of the sale of farm machinery and equipment or attachments and repair parts from inventory and includes wholesalers, jobbers, retailers and other persons performing similar functions.

(9) "Farm machinery and equipment" means agricultural machinery, mechanical equipment and implements (including all attachments used in conjunction therewith) used for the production or care of crops, livestock, livestock products, or other produce on a farm (or elsewhere in the case of poultry), including irrigation and drainage equipment (excluding tile), horseshoes (including muleshoes), horseshoe nails, harness hardware, and water well casing (fabricated by other than pipe mills); but excluding repair parts, and also excluding all of the following: tracklaying type tractors, equipment ordered by the United States Department of Agriculture or other United States Government agencies, buildings and repairs thereto, fencing, poultry nettings and wire, wire fencing, bale ties or straps, oil well casing and water pipe, nails (other than horseshoe nails) and sundry hardware, grain bins and corn cribs (other than those made of iron and steel), and hand tools and water storage tanks.

(10) "Attachment" for farm machinery and equipment means a supplementary appliance which may be added to an otherwise complete machine to extend the utility of such machine.

(11) "Repair parts" means all types of replacement parts considered separately or as assemblies which are manufactured for use and used in the repair and maintenance of farm machinery and equipment, and shall include plow shares and shapes, and water pump cylinders. No item listed on Schedule A (except to the extent provided in paragraph (g) (5) hereof) shall be deemed a repair part, except that items of harness hardware may be deemed repair parts to the extent actually sold for repair or replacement purposes.

(12) "Base production" means the weight of a producer's total production of any item of farm machinery and equipment during either the calendar year 1940 or 1941, in whichever year such weight was the greater; except that, as to items which are bracketed together in Schedule A, the base production shall be the weight of the total production of each group of items so bracketed; and except that, as to silos (item 296 of Schedule A), the base production shall be the total weight of iron and steel entering into the production of such items.

(13) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly or product of any kind, which will be physically incorporated into any item of farm machinery and equipment or repair parts.

(14) "Weight" means the net shipping weight of any item of farm machinery and equipment which is completely manufactured, or completely fabricated and ready for shipment in knock-down form; except that, as to silos (Item 296 of Schedule A), weight means the total weight of iron and steel entering into the production of such items.

(15) "Schedule A" means the schedule of quota percentages attached hereto and made a part hereof, as amended from time to time. If any item of farm machinery and equipment or repair parts is not specifically listed or otherwise provided for in such schedule, the quota percentage therefor shall be deemed to be 0%.

(16) "Lend-lease order" means any order for farm machinery and equipment or repair parts placed by any agency of the United States Government in response to a requisition filed pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(c) General restrictions on production for domestic use (including "concentration of production"). (1) Except as provided in paragraph (g) hereof, and subject to the provisions of paragraphs (c) (2), (c) (3) and (e) hereof, during the period November 1, 1942, to September 30, 1943, inclusive, no producer shall:

(i) Manufacture, for sale in the continental United States, a total quantity by weight of any item of farm machinery and equipment listed in Schedule A in excess of that quantity obtained by multiplying the applicable quota percentage (designated in the appropriate column of said Schedule A for Class A producers, Class B producers and Class C producers respectively) for such item by his base production of such item for such sale; except that:

(a) Wherever, in said Schedule A, two or more items are bracketed together and only one quota percentage assigned thereto, such percentage shall be applied to such producer's total base production of all such bracketed items, and the total permissible weight thus determined may be distributed among all or any one or more of such bracketed items at his election;

(b) As to silos (Item 296 of Schedule A), the permitted production of a producer shall not exceed the number of units produced by him during either 1940 or 1941, whichever was the greater; and

(c) Any producer, instead of conforming to his quota percentages for the items of attachments as indicated respectively in Schedule A, may at his option manufacture not more than an aggregate of 30% of his total base production of such attachments, and the total permissible weight thus determined may be distributed among all or any one or more of such items of attachments at his election: Provided, That once such option is made, it shall apply to all attachments to be produced.

(ii) Manufacture for sale in the continental United States, a total quantity of repair parts of a value (manufacturer's current selling price at the factory) in excess of an aggregate of 100% of one-half the total value (manufacturer's selling price at the factory during 1940 and 1941) of his entire net sales of repair parts during the calendar years 1940 and 1941 combined;

(iii) Manufacture, for sale in the continental United States, any farm machinery and equipment requiring rubber tires;

(iv) Sell in the continental United States any quantity of farm machinery and equipment or repair parts which is in excess of the quantity thereof authorized to be manufactured for such sale by the provisions of this order.

(2) The Director General for Operations may, by specific directions issued to any one or more producers, increase or decrease any such producer's quotas as to all or any one or more items authorized to be produced by him by this paragraph (c), and may transfer any portion of such quotas between any such producers (including the transfer thereof from producers located in critical areas as the same may be designated from time to time by the War Manpower Commission).

(3) As to any portion of any such producer's quota as so established which he may decide not to produce at any time after November 1, 1942, he shall immediately notify the War Production Board, so that appropriate action can be taken to transfer such portion of his quota:

(4) No producer, whose quota of any item of farm machinery and equipment has been increased by reason of the amendment to Schedule A dated March 6, 1943, shall manufacture such increase over his former Schedule A quota.

(i) Except to the extent that it exceeds the weight of all quantities of such item both specifically authorized pursuant to paragraph (c) (2) hereof as an increase in his quota, and authorized on any appeal granted him prior to March 6, 1943, and

(ii) Unless such producer certifies to the War Production Board within 15 days after such date that he intends to manufacture his total quota of all such items, including such increase, such certification to be in substantially the following form:

The undersigned company hereby certifies that, except as indicated below, it intends to produce prior to September 30, 1943, its total quotas of all items listed on Schedule A of Order L-170, including all amendments and appeals, in accordance with paragraph (c) (4) of that order. Quantities of items within such quotas not intended to be so produced will be reported promptly in accordance with paragraph (c) (3) thereof.

(d) General restrictions on production for export.—(1) Except as provided in paragraph (g) hereof, and subject to the provisions of paragraphs (d) (2), (d) (3) and (e) hereof, during the period November 1, 1942, to September 30, 1943, inclusive, no producer shall manufacture for shipment, or ship:

(i) To all foreign countries within any group of countries listed respectively on Schedules B-1, B-3, B-4 and B-6, attached hereto and made a part hereof, as amended from time to time, a quantity by weight of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts in the aggregate in excess of a designated percentage (listed respectively on each such schedule) of one-half the net shipping weight of the total quantity thereof exported by said producer during the calendar years 1940 and 1941 in the aggregate to all such countries within the particular group;

(ii) To any foreign country listed respectively on Schedule B-2 and B-5, attached hereto and made a part hereof, as amended from time to time, a quantity by weight of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts in the aggregate in excess of that quantity obtained by multiplying the quota percentage designated on the applicable Schedule for such country by one-half the net shipping weight of the total quantity thereof exported by said producer during the calendar years 1940 and 1941 to that country;

(iii) To Canada a quantity by units of any item of farm machinery and equipment or attachments and repair parts (as listed in Schedule B-7, attached hereto and made a part hereof, as amended from time to time) in excess of that quantity obtained by multiplying the quota percentage designated in said Schedule B-7 for such item by the quantity thereof shipped by said producer to Canada during the calendar year 1940; or

(iv) To any foreign country (including Canada and territories and possessions of the United States) any farm machinery and equipment requiring rubber tires.

(2) Except as to items destined for Canada (Schedule B-7) and for territories and possessions of the United States (Schedule B-6), no producer shall fabricate or process any material to be physically incorporated into any item of farm machinery and equipment which may be authorized to be manufactured for export by paragraph (d) (1) above, unless and until he has received from the Director General for Operations specific authorization for such fabrication or processing as to any or all such items, application for which may be by letter setting forth the pertinent facts: Provided, That nothing in this paragraph (d) (2) shall be deemed to prevent any such producer from earmarking for export, within his export quota, any items of farm machinery and equipment or repair parts from his inventory, whether or not such items were manufactured specifically for export.

As to any portion of any such producer's export quota, as established by paragraph (d) (1) above, which he may decide not to produce at any time after November 1, 1942, he shall immediately notify the War Production Board, so that appropriate action can be taken to transfer such portion of his export quota.

(3) The Director General for Operations may, by specific directions issued to any one or more producers, increase or decrease any such producer's quotas as established by paragraph (d) (1) above, and may transfer any portion of such quotas between any such producers (including the transfer thereof from producers located in critical areas as the same may be designated from time to time by the War Manpower Commission).

(e) Further restrictions on production.—(1) Restrictions on production for specific periods. The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue supplementary orders (or specific directions to any one or more producers) governing the production of all or any one or more items of farm machinery and equipment or repair parts for specified monthly, bi-monthly or quarterly periods. On and after the effective date of any such supplementary order or specific direction, no producer affected thereby shall, notwithstanding the provisions of this Order L-170, manufacture any such item during the period specified except in accordance with the terms of such supplementary order or specific direction.

(2) Items containing iron and steel. No person shall put into process any iron or steel (excluding screws, nails, rivets, bolts, or wire, strapping or small hardware for joining or other similar essential purposes) to make any of the following items:

Grain bins.	Thills.
Grit boxes.	Tongues.
Guide handles.	Weaners.

Provided, however, That nothing in this subparagraph (e) (2) shall be deemed to prevent the manufacture or processing of cattle stalls, stanchions or stock pens solely from rerolled rail steel plus strapping and essential hardware.

(f) Overproduction under Order L-26. Any items of farm machinery and equipment or attachments and repair parts which have been manufactured and or sold by any producer prior to November 1, 1942, and which are in excess of such producer's authorized quota under Limitation Order L-26 (including all amendments thereto and appeals granted thereunder), shall be deducted from such quotas as may be authorized for such producer by the provisions of this order or subsequent orders: Provided, That no such deduction shall constitute a condonation of any violation of any order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(g) Exceptions.—(1) To the extent that the weight of any item or items of a producer's quota as established by paragraph (c) (1) hereof has been or will be increased by his substituting for more critical materials entering into such item or items any one or more of the following materials:

Glass or other ceramic products.
Plain concrete.
Fibre board.
Wood fibre products.
Plywood (produced with binder or adhesive not restricted by Conservation Order M-25 or any other applicable M or L order).
Gum and other hardwood lumber.
Softwood lumber (subject to the restrictions of Conservation Order M-208 or any other applicable M or L order); such increased weight shall not operate to reduce the number of units which he could have otherwise manufactured pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) above. In addition, if any such producer has made, or shows that he can make, in any item or items of his quota as established by paragraphs (c) and (d) hereof, a substitution of any of the materials listed above for more critical materials entering into such item or items, he may apply by letter to the Director General for Operations for reconsideration of his quota, based on such substitution.

(2) Any item of farm machinery and equipment or attachments and repair parts which was manufactured for sale within the continental United States by a producer within his authorized quota under Limitation Order L-26 (including all amendments thereto and appeals granted thereunder) and which is, prior to November 1, 1942, completely manufactured, or completely fabricated and ready for shipment in knock-down form, may be sold on and after such date without reference to the provisions of this order.

(3) Nothing in paragraph (d) of this order shall be deemed to prohibit or control the shipment of any item of farm machinery and equipment or attachments and repair parts which:

(i) Was manufactured for export by a producer within his authorized quota under paragraph (c) (1) (iii) of Limitation Order L-26 (including all amendments thereto and appeals granted thereunder), and

(ii) Is covered by either an export license issued by the Board of Economic Warfare or by a lend-lease order, dated prior to November 1, 1942, (except as to items destined for Canada and territories and possessions of the United States), and

(iii) Is, prior to such date, completely manufactured or completely fabricated and ready for shipment in knock-down form.

Any such items for export which, prior to November 1, 1942, are in production or on order but not completely manufactured or ready for shipment in knock-down form, shall be deducted from such export quotas as may be authorized for such producer by the provisions of this order or subsequent orders, and shall not be manufactured on and after such date except in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) above.

(4) The restrictions of this Order L-170 shall not apply to the manufacture by any person of any of the following items of farm machinery and equipment:

Bee hives.
Farm gates.
Feed trucks.
Grit boxes.
Hog troughs.
Laying nests.
Livestock feeders.
Milk stools
Poultry feeders.
Poultry waterers (other than those made from iron and steel).

Provided, however, That such items are made entirely (except for nails and essential strappings and fastenings) from any one or more of the following materials:

Glass or other ceramic products
Plain concrete.
Fibre board
Wood fibre products.
Plywood (produced with binder or adhesive not restricted by conservation order M-25 or any other applicable M or L order).
Gum and other hardwood lumber.
Softwood lumber (subject to the restrictions of conservation order M-208 or any other applicable M or L order).

(5) Any producer of any of the following items listed in Group 17 of Schedule A:

Feed carriers.
Litter carriers.
Track for feed and litter carriers.
Hay carriers.
Track for hay carriers.
Cattle stalls and fittings.
Cattle stanchions and fittings may consider not more than 30% of his base production of each such item as "repair parts" rather than "farm machinery and equipment". The value of such 30% may be added to his total repair parts quota established pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) (ii) hereof, and should be so reported on such forms as are filed pursuant to paragraph (m) hereof. His production quota for the remaining 70% shall be determined by multiplying his applicable Schedule A quota percentage for the particular item by 70% of his base production thereof.

(h) Restrictions on sales for domestic use. Subject to such directions as may be issued from time to time as to rationing control, by, or pursuant to delegations from the Director General for Operations.

(1) No person shall sell any item of new farm machinery and equipment (except horseshoes, muleshoes, horseshoe nails and harness hardware) which he knows or has reason to know will not be used in the hands of the ultimate consumer for the production or care of crops, livestock, livestock products or other produce on a farm (or elsewhere in the case of poultry), except to fill a contract or purchase order bearing a preference rating of A-9 or higher;

(2) On and after November 1, 1942, no distributor shall sell or deliver to a consumer any new repair part which he knows or has reason to know will not be incorporated reasonably promptly into farm machinery and equipment in the possession of such consumer.

(i) Inventory provisions. (1) No distributor shall keep in his inventory, in his possession or under his control, for a period of more than thirty days, any used, traded-in, imperfect or non-usable item of farm machinery and equipment or repair parts which cannot be reconditioned, but must dispose of the same through the customary disposal or scrap channels.

(2) Any producer may sell to any other producer any material in his inventory which is in excess of his requirements for the items of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts permitted to be manufactured under the provisions of this order. Such sales shall be expressly permitted within the terms of paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation No. 13 as amended.

(j) Standardization, simplification, substitution, and conservation of critical materials. (1) In the manufacture of any item of farm machinery and equipment or repair parts, no producer shall use any alloy steel, stainless steel, aluminum, magnesium, copper, brass, bronze, zinc, nickel, tin, cadmium or fabricated rubber products for any purpose where the use of other less critical materials will not impair the efficiency of operation of such item.

No materials shall be used which are prohibited by M Orders or other restrictions on use of critical materials as now or hereafter ordered by the Director General for Operations.

(2) The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue supplementary orders or schedules establishing required specifications with respect to the production of any item or items of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts. "Required specifications" may include requirements to standardize or simplify the types, sizes or models of, or the specifications for, any such item or items; to eliminate, reduce or conserve the use of critical materials in the production thereof; and to substitute less critical for more critical materials in the production thereof. On and after the effective date of any such supplementary order or schedule, no farm machinery and equipment and repair parts affected thereby shall be produced, fabricated, assembled, or delivered, if such production, fabrication, assembly, or delivery is prohibited by the terms thereof.

(k) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(l) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(m) Reports. (1) All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

(2) Each producer shall file not later than thirty days after October 19, 1942, a report of his production quotas on Form PD-629.

(3) Each producer shall file by the 10th day of each month a report on Form PD-630 of his production during the preceding month, the first report to be made on or before December 10, 1942.

(4) Each producer affected by paragraph (d) hereof shall file by the 10th day of each month a report on Form PD-387 (revised) of his shipments during the preceding month (starting with November, 1942) to all foreign countries (including all countries listed on Schedules B-1, B-2, B-3, B-4, B-5, B-6, and B-7).

(n) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(o) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him in comparison with others similarly situated, may appeal to the War Production Board, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(p) Communications. All communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Farm Machinery and Equipment Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: L-170.

(q) Inconsistent orders. This order supersedes as of November 1, 1942, Limitation Order L-26, and Supplementary Limitation Orders L-26-a and L-26-b, and all amendments thereto and appeals granted thereunder.

Issued this 6th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

In order to clarify the classification of producers under paragraphs (b) (3), (4), (5) and (6) of § 1029.10 Limitation Order L-170, resulting from transfers of quotas pursuant to § 944.28 (Interpretation of Limitation and Conservation Orders with respect to the Assignability of Quotas), the following official interpretation is hereby issued with respect to said § 1029.10:

(1) Whenever a producer's total farm equipment business has been or may be sold as a going concern, continuing, in the hands of the purchaser, to make substantially the same product at the same plant and with substantially the same personnel (other than executive officers), the classification of the purchaser shall be based upon his total net sales (including those of affiliates) of all products during 1941, plus total sales of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts by the acquired company during 1941. However, if the purchaser uses the acquired company's 1940 base production under paragraph (b) (12) of Order L-170, then, for purposes of the purchaser's classification, sales of the acquired company during 1940, rather than 1941, must be used.

(2) Any other arrangement whereby a producer purports, or has purported, to assign to another person his quota (or a portion thereof) for the production of farm machinery and equipment or repair parts is invalid, unless specifically authorized for the period covered by Order L-170 by the Director General for Operations pursuant to an appeal, which should be made jointly. If such an appeal is granted, the classification of the assignee, unless otherwise directed, will be based upon his total net sales (including those of affiliates) of all products during 1941, plus the 1941 sales of that portion of the assignor's farm machinery and equipment or repair parts business acquired by the assignee. If the assignee is authorized to use the assignor's 1940 base production of such portion, then, for purposes of the assignee's classification, sales of the assignor during 1940, rather than 1941, must be used.

(3) Assignments of quota specifically authorized by appeal under Limitation Order L-26 for the period ending October 31, 1942, are not recognized for the period covered by Order L-170. Accordingly, a new appeal should be made in each case where the assignee wishes to continue producing pursuant to an assignment of quota authorized under Order L-26. Appeals by any such assignee and his classification are governed by § 944.28 and paragraph (2) above. (Issued December 12, 1942.)

PART 3034—MATERIALS ENTERING INTO THE PRODUCTION OF REPLACEMENT STORAGE BATTERIES FOR PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES AND LIGHT TRUCKS, MEDIUM AND HEAVY TRUCKS, TRUCK TRACTORS, TRUCK TRAILERS, PASSENGER CARRIERS AND OFF-THE-HIGHWAY MOTOR VEHICLES

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of antimony, lead, tin, rubber, and other materials entering into the production of automotive replacement storage batteries used in the operation of passenger automobiles and light trucks, medium and heavy trucks, truck tractors, truck trailers, passenger carriers and off-the-highway motor vehicles, for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3034.1 Limitation Order L-180—(a) Certain orders hereby superseded. This order, Limitation Order L-180, supersedes Supplementary Limitation Order L-4-b, issued April 25, 1942, and Limitation Order L-35, issued January 22, 1942, as amended.

(b) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of applicable priorities regulations, as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(1) Protection of production schedules. Producers under the terms of this order may, notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944), schedule production of automotive replacement storage batteries without regard to purchase orders or contracts placed with them for other materials on ratings lower than A-2.

(c) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Passenger automobile" means any passenger vehicle, including station wagons and taxicabs, propelled by an internal combustion engine, and having a seating capacity of less than eleven (11) persons.

(3) "Light truck" means a complete motor truck or truck-tractor with a gross vehicle weight rating of less than 9,000 pounds, as authorized by the manufacturer thereof, or the chassis therefor.

(4) "Medium and/or heavy motor truck" means a complete motor truck or truck-tractor with a gross vehicle weight rating of 9,000 pounds or more, as authorized by the manufacturer thereof, or the chassis therefor.

(13) "Producer" means any individual, partnership, association, corporation, or other form of business enterprise engaged in the manufacture or rebuilding of automotive replacement storage batteries for sale.

(14) "Inventory" means a stock of automotive replacement storage batteries (new and rebuilt) on hand, on consignment, or held for the account of the owner thereof in any other name, manner or place.

(15) "Distributor" means any person not a producer whose business consists, in whole or in part of the sale from inventory of storage batteries, as defined in sub-paragraphs (8), (9) and (10) above. Distributor includes wholesalers, warehouses, jobbers, dealers, retailers and other persons performing similar functions.

(16) "Consumer" means the owner or operator of the automotive vehicle for which a replacement battery is acquired, or the user of such battery for any other purpose.

(17) "Double insulation" means, in battery construction, the use of a retaining sheet of porous or perforated material between the positive plate and the single separator.

(18) "Single insulation" means, in battery construction, the use of wood separators only.

(d) Limitations on ampere hour capacities of replacement batteries for passenger automobiles and light trucks: (1) On and after August 29, 1942, no producer shall manufacture any replacement batteries for passenger automobiles and light trucks except with single insulation and only in the following minimum ampere hour capacities:

AABM	SAE	Minimum ampere hour capacity 20-hour rate 80° F.
Group	Group
I	1M	80
I	1H	90
I		100
I		90

11S	3L	110
III	3M (3H-133)	124
(Special 12 Volt)		45-50

(2) Notwithstanding the limitations on insulation of replacement batteries specified in paragraph (d) (1) above, a producer may manufacture one (1) model with double insulation in not more than three of the above groups.

(3) From Groups IV and V of AABM, or from Groups 4H and 5H of SAE, a producer may manufacture only one battery in each group. However, such batteries may be constructed either with single or double insulation.

(e) Limitations on ampere hour capacities and container sizes of replacement batteries for medium and heavy trucks, truck tractors, truck trailers, passenger carriers and off-the-highway motor vehicles. (1) On and after September 30, 1942, other than as permitted in sub-paragraph (2) below no producer shall manufacture any replacement batteries for medium and heavy trucks, truck tractors, truck trailers, passenger carriers and off-the-highway motor vehicles except one (1) in each size within the following minimum-maximum ampere hour capacities and minimum-maximum container sizes:

October 1 to December 31	25

(2) Notwithstanding subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (f), a producer may, in addition to the quotas permitted thereby,

(i) Manufacture during the second, third and fourth calendar quarters of 1943 that number of replacement batteries by which he failed to reach his full quota during the next preceding calendar quarter provided that this additional production does not exceed 5% of the number of replacement batteries sold by him during the calendar year 1941; and, in addition,

(ii) Manufacture during the first, second and third calendar quarters of 1943 not in excess of 5% of the number of such batteries sold by him during the calendar year 1941, provided he deducts such number from his quota for the next succeeding calendar quarter of 1943;

And Provided further, That in no event shall any producer manufacture during the calendar year 1943 a number of such replacement batteries in excess of 100% of the number of such batteries which he sold during the calendar year 1941.

(g) Restrictions on inventories of producers of automotive replacement batteries. (1) No producer shall have in inventory on the first day in any month a stock of replacement batteries and rebuilt batteries as defined in paragraphs (c) (8) and (9) above, in excess of one third of the number of batteries sold by him during the calendar year 1941.

(h) General restrictions—(1) Certificate of compliance required. No distributor shall order and no distributor or producer shall deliver replacement batteries to a distributor unless each order (or written confirmation thereof, if such order is placed by telephone or telegraph) is accompanied by a certificate in the following form:

The provisions of this paragraph (h) (2) shall not apply to any Federal or Territorial department, bureau or agency, State or political subdivision thereof, which is forbidden by law from making such disposal of used batteries.

(3) Consumer's certificate. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (h) (2) above, a producer or distributor may sell and deliver a replacement battery to a consumer without receiving a used battery in exchange therefor provided that: (i) The producer or distributor does not install such replacement battery in the consumer's vehicle; and (ii) the consumer signs and delivers to the producer or distributor with each purchase order (or written confirmation thereof if such order is placed by telephone or telegraph) a certificate in the following form:

PART 997—PRODUCTION AND DELIVERY OF MACHINE TOOLS

[General Preference Order E–1–b, as Amended March 8, 1943]

General Preference Order E–1–b (§ 997.2) is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of machine tools for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 997.2 General Preference Order E–1–b—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Machine tool" means any nonportable, power driven metal working machine listed on Exhibit A hereto attached, excluding any light power driven tool defined in Limitation Order L–237, having a list price on October 15, 1942, of $350 or less.

The term "machine" as used in this order means a machine tool. Each machine tool includes not only the basic machine but also all fixtures, equipment and tooling covered by the original purchase order which are required to be delivered with the machine to make it usable in production for the purposes intended, but does not include any replacements, or spare parts or equipment, or extra tooling, ordered by the purchaser.

(2) "Producer" means any individual, partnership, association, corporation or other form of enterprise engaged in producing machine tools.

(3) "Service purchasers" means those whose preference rating certificates show that the preference rating applied to such delivery was assigned thereto by an original Preference Rating Certificate PD–3, PD–3A, or PD–4, by a Preference Rating Order P–19–h, and also those whose purchase orders show that they are direct purchase orders for machine tools placed by the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Navy), Coast Guard, or other Supply Arm or Bureau, rated in accordance with procedures authorized for them to use in place and stead of using Form PD–3A: Provided, That such purchase orders call for delivery to a Supply Arm or Bureau of the Army or Navy or to the United States Maritime Commission, or to one of their prime contractors, or to a subcontractor of such a prime contractor.

(4) "Foreign purchasers" means those whose purchase orders show that the machine is to be delivered to or for the account of a foreign country, other than Canada, or a subdivision, agency, or instrumentality thereof.

(5) "Other purchasers" means all purchasers other than service purchasers and foreign purchasers, whose purchase orders have been assigned a preference rating of A–10 or higher. Other purchasers include Canadian purchasers except those who are service purchasers by reason of their purchasing machines for use on direct United States prime contracts or subcontracts.

(6) "Class" when used herein means one of the foregoing three classes of purchasers: namely, service purchasers, foreign purchasers, or other purchasers.

(7) "Size" may include all of those dimensions or variations of a particular type of machine which can be used interchangeably for production purposes. Size classification shall remain the same as heretofore used by each producer unless he is specifically permitted or directed to use a different classification by the Director General for Operations. Producers may apply for such permission by writing to the Tools Division, War Production Board, Ref: E–1–b.

(b) Delivery of machine tools until May 1, 1943. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this order, schedules of production and delivery of machine tools to be delivered prior to May 1, 1943, shall be maintained as now established subject only to schedule changes hereafter ordered by diversion orders or by other specific direction from the Director General for Operations. After May 1, 1943 the preferences heretofore accorded to the Air Services and other Preferred Customers by Amendment 3 to General Preference Order E–1–b, issued November 5, 1942, shall no longer remain in effect but every producer shall schedule his production and deliveries according to the provisions of this order.

(c) Allocation of production to service purchasers and to foreign purchasers and other purchasers. (1) Except as provided in subparagraphs (2), (3) and (4) of this paragraph (c), each producer shall schedule his production for each calendar month so as to deliver 75 percent of his production of each size of each type of machine which he produces in that month to service purchasers, and each producer shall schedule his production for each calendar month so as to deliver 25 percent of his production of each size of each type of machine which he produces in that month, in the aggregate, to foreign purchasers and other purchasers.

(2) A producer may schedule for delivery to service purchasers more than 75 percent of his production of any size of a type of machine in the months of May, June or July to the extent that he has failed to receive purchase orders from foreign purchasers and from other purchasers for machines of such size and type prior to March 1, 1943.

(3) A producer may likewise schedule for delivery to foreign purchasers and other purchasers more than 25 percent of such production of any size of a type of machine in the months of May, June or July to the extent that he has failed to receive purchase orders from service purchasers for machines of such size and type prior to March 1, 1943.

(4) Similarly, a producer may schedule deliveries to service purchasers in excess of 75 percent of his production in the months of August, September or October 1943 to the extent that he has failed to receive purchase orders from foreign purchasers and other purchasers prior to June 1, 1943, and he may schedule deliveries to foreign purchasers and other purchasers in excess of 25 percent of his production in the months of August, September or October 1943 to the extent that he has failed to receive purchase orders from service purchasers prior to June 1, 1943.

(5) In preparing his schedules of deliveries for a given month a producer shall fix the dates of his deliveries to service purchasers, to foreign purchasers, and to other purchasers within such month so that each class will receive its quota of machines equitably in point of time within the month.

(d) Distribution of 75 percent of production among service purchasers. Deliveries of 75 percent of each producer's production shall be scheduled among service purchasers as follows:

(1) Service purchasers are hereby subdivided into seven groups, consisting of the following, and their respective prime contractors and subcontractors: Bureau of Ships (Navy), Bureau of Ordnance (Navy), Ordnance Department (Army), Air Services, Miscellaneous Branches and Bureaus, the Maritime Commission, and the Signal Corps. The fourth group, designated "Air Services," includes the Army Air Forces and the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics and their respective prime contractors and subcontractors. The fifth group, designated "Miscellaneous Branches and Bureaus," includes the Quartermaster Corps, the Corps of Engineers, the Army Medical Department, the Chemical Warfare Service, the Bureau of Yards and Docks, the Marine Corps, and the Transportation Service of the Services of Supply, together with any other corps, department, bureau or service of the Army or Navy not heretofore specifically designated as a separate group, and their respective prime contractors and subcontractors.

(2) (i) Each producer shall determine the number of purchase orders on his books for each size of a given type of machine from each of the seven service purchaser groups as of March 1, 1943 or, at the producer's option, the nearest date within ten days prior or subsequent to March 1, 1943 on which the producer may have compiled his record of orders.

No order shall be deemed a purchase order placed on a producer's book unless the purchaser has placed a firm order accompanied by specifications or other description of the machine in sufficient detail to enable the producer to place the machine in his production schedule, together with such priority information as is required for scheduling by paragraph (g) of this order.

(ii) He shall then deduct from such respective numbers for each service group the number of machines of such size and type which he estimates he will deliver to purchasers in such service group during the month of March 1943. He shall not deduct deliveries scheduled to be made during April 1943. The figure resulting from such deduction shall be termed the "net backlog" of each such service group.

(iii) He shall then distribute the number of machines of such size and type allocated in each of the months of May, June and July 1943 to all service purchasers pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) among each of the seven service purchaser groups according to each group's quota. The quota for each service group of such size and type shall be the ratio of

(a) Net backlog of such service group of such size and type to

(b) The total of all net backlogs of such size and type of all the service groups, multiplied by the total number of machines of such size and type allocated for that month to all service purchasers. An example of the calculation required by this paragraph (d) (2) is attached to this order, marked "Illustration of paragraph (d) (2)."

(3) Quotas for each service group for August, September and October 1943 shall be determined in the same manner as prescribed by paragraph (d) (2), based, however, on purchase orders on the producer's books as of June 1, 1943 after deducting therefrom the number of machines which the producer estimates he will deliver to service purchasers in each group during both the months of June and July 1943.

Similarly, quotas for each service group for November and December 1943 and January 1944 shall be determined in the same manner as prescribed by paragraph (d) (2), based, however, on purchase orders on the producer's books as of September 1, 1943 after deducting therefrom the number of machines which the producer estimates he will deliver to service purchasers in each group during both the months of September and October 1943.

(4) Commencing with May 1943, and each month thereafter, the producer shall deliver to each service group the number of machines of that size and type equal to its quota for that month, to the extent that he has orders from purchasers in such group requiring delivery in the month being scheduled.

(5) No producer shall schedule delivery of any machine tool manufactured by him earlier than the date on which the purchaser requires delivery thereof, unless all required delivery dates on other purchase orders are being met.

If a producer does not have on hand on March 1, 1943 rated purchase orders from a particular service group requiring delivery in any of the months of May, June or July 1943 equal to its quota for that month, such "unabsorbed quota" shall be scheduled for delivery to the service group having the lowest number of unfilled orders on the producer's books.

Similarly, if a producer does not have on hand on June 1, 1943 rated purchase orders from a particular service group calling for delivery in any of the months of August, September or October 1943 equal to its quota for that month, such "unabsorbed quota" shall be scheduled for delivery to the service group having the lowest number of unfilled orders on the producer's books.

(6) A purchase order which has been scheduled as provided in paragraph (d) (5) of this order shall represent an addition to the quota of the group of which the purchaser in question is a member and such purchase order shall not thereafter be affected by receipt of a purchase order from a member of any other group, irrespective of the urgency standing of the latter.

(7) In preparing his schedules of deliveries for a given month for service purchasers, a producer shall fix the dates of his deliveries to the different groups so that each group will receive its quota of machines equitably in point of time within the month.

(e) Distribution of 25 percent of machine tools among foreign purchasers and other purchasers. Foreign purchasers and other purchasers shall be treated as one group, and each producer shall schedule his orders for each size of each type for delivery each month within such group's aggregate 25 percent of production for that month, in accordance with the sequence of deliveries determined as hereinafter specified in paragraph (h), subject, however, to the order of the Director General for Operations freezing delivery schedules to foreign and other purchasers until July 1, 1943, contained in letter of January 30, 1943, which order remains in full force and effect.

(f) Treatment of fractions. Where the number of machines which results from any computation required by this order contains a fraction of more than one-half, the fraction shall be counted as a whole machine. A fraction under one-half shall be disregarded, except that where the computation results in a fraction only (less than one whole machine) for any one month, and such fraction is less than one-half, it shall be counted in computing the next month's quota. Where each of the computations of two or more different quotas for the same month shows a fraction of one-half, and there is only one remaining machine to which such fractions can apply, such machine shall be allotted to the group having the largest quota, and the other fractions of one-half shall be disregarded for that month, but shall be counted in computing the other quota or quotas for the next month.

(g) Necessity for preference ratings. (1) No purchase order for any machine tool shall be placed in production schedules, and no machine tool shall be sold or delivered, whether by a producer or distributor, unless a preference rating of A-10 or higher has been assigned thereto by a Preference Rating Certificate PD-1A, by a Preference Rating Certificate PD-3 or PD-3A, by a Preference Rating Certificate in the PD-408 or PD-311 series, by a Preference Rating Order P-19-h, or by a direct purchase order of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Navy), Coast Guard, or other Supply Arm or Bureau, endorsed according to procedures authorized for them to use in place and instead of using Form PD-3A. In placing the endorsement required by Priorities Regulation No. 3 on the purchase order there must also be included therein or set forth in a separate endorsement on the purchase order:

(i) The urgency standing of the purchaser, if any;

(ii) The required delivery date of the machine;

(iii) A statement as to whether the purchaser is a "service purchaser," a "foreign purchaser," or an "other purchaser," and

(iv) In the case of service purchasers, the Supply Arm or Bureau of the Army or Navy, or the Maritime Commission, which placed the prime contract, the number of the prime contract, the name of the prime contractor;

(v) In the case of foreign purchasers, the foreign country for which the machine is purchased; and

(vi) In the case of other purchasers, a statement as to the product or production program for which the machine is to be used.

In addition to making the endorsement upon his purchase order as required, any person placing such an order shall furnish to the producer a photostatic copy (or another copy accompanied by his signed statement that it is a true copy) of the preference Rating Certificate PD-1A, PD-3, PD-3A, PD-408, PD-311 or Preference Rating Order P-19-h: Provided, That where the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Navy), Coast Guard, or other Supply Arm or Bureau has issued its direct purchase order for a machine tool and rated the same in accordance with procedures authorized for them to use in place and instead of issuing Form PD-3A, no copy of any preference rating certificate shall be required.

Reproduction of any of the foregoing preference rating certificates or orders for the foregoing purposes is hereby permitted.

(h) Operation of Numerical Master Preference List, and preference ratings. (1) The Numerical Master Preference List, Exhibit B attached to this order, herein called "the list," shall determine the sequence of deliveries as between service purchasers as hereinafter set forth, but shall have no effect upon foreign purchasers or other purchasers.

(2) The sequence of deliveries among each group of service purchasers within its respective quota shall be determined without regard to preference ratings as follows:

(i) Deliveries to service purchasers who are either on the list or are subcontractors of persons on the list shall be preferred to and shall take precedence over deliveries to service purchasers who are not on the list.

(ii) As between deliveries which have conflicting required delivery dates to be made to two or more service purchasers, both on the list, deliveries shall be made according to their respective urgency standings specified on such list. The highest urgency standing in each group is No. 1.

(iii) As between deliveries which have conflicting required delivery dates to be made to two or more service purchasers, neither of whom is on the list, the sequence of deliveries shall be determined by the respective dates on which the producer receives the photostatic or certified copy of the preference rating certificate, or if a direct purchase order of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Navy), Coast Guard, or other Supply Arm or Bureau rated by them in accordance with procedures authorized for them to use instead and in place of using Form PD-3A, the order properly endorsed under such procedure.

The delivery for which such copy of the certificate or properly endorsed order was first received takes precedence.

(iv) A delivery to a subcontractor who is not specifically named on the list shall take the urgency standing of his prime contractor; the urgency standing of the prime contractor must be endorsed in writing on the subcontractor's preference rating certificate by an officer designated for such purpose by the supply arm or bureau concerned.

(v) In the event that the urgency standing shown on the copy of the preference rating certificate differs from the urgency standing shown for the contract in question on the Numerical Master Preference List, Revision No. 5, the latter shall govern.

(3) The sequence of deliveries among foreign purchasers and other purchasers within the portion of production allocated to such purchasers shall be determined as follows:

(i) As between deliveries which have conflicting required delivery dates and which bear different preference ratings, delivery shall be made according to the preference ratings of the respective purchasers.

(ii) As between deliveries which have conflicting required delivery dates and which bear the same preference rating, the sequence of deliveries shall be determined by the respective dates on which the producer received the photostatic or certified copy of the preference rating certificate. The delivery for which the preference rating certificate was first received takes precedence.

(i) Additions to list. Additions to, withdrawals from, and other changes may be made in the Numerical Master Preference List from time to time by the Director General for Operations or such other official as may be specifically authorized by him. Where it is desired to assign an urgency standing between existing urgency standings, the new urgency standing will consist of a number including a decimal. Such an urgency standing will take a position in the sequence of deliveries as indicated by the following example: Urgency Standing 792.1 will be scheduled after 792 and before 793.

(j) Revision of schedules for May and subsequent months. On or before April 1, 1943 each producer shall determine the May, June and July 1943 quotas for the various groups of purchasers in accordance with the provisions of this order, and shall also revise his schedules of deliveries for each type of machine to the extent that he can do so without seriously interrupting his production line. In revising such schedules he shall give full effect to all WPBL-1588's, diversion orders, and other specific directions heretofore issued by the Director General for Operations which have scheduled specific machines during May or any subsequent month. On or before July 1, 1943 he shall determine the August, September and October 1943 quotas and revise his schedules accordingly; and on or before October 1, 1943 he shall do likewise with respect to November and December 1943 and January 1944 schedules.

The rescheduling of orders necessitated by E-1-b as amended March 8, 1943 shall be reported on Form PD-670, which shall be identified under "Remarks" as follows: "E-1-b amendment of March 8, 1943" (or on Form PD-671 which shall be identified on line 22 in an identical manner). Upon filing the last Form PD-670 (or PD-671) affecting deliveries scheduled for May, June and July 1943 which result from the initial rescheduling required to be done by April 1, 1943, the producer shall certify to the Tools Division, War Production Board, Ref: E-1-b, in writing, that the rescheduling required thereby and the reporting thereof have been completed.

After May 1, 1943 each producer shall make delivery of machines in accordance with his revised schedules.

(k) Postponement of new purchase orders. Unless the Director General for Operations specifically orders otherwise, and notwithstanding any other provisions of this order, no higher preference rating or urgency standing shall operate to postpone or in any way affect any delivery under a purchase order already scheduled where such delivery is to be made within sixty days of receipt of such higher preference rating or urgency standing.

(l) Replacement parts. Nothing in this order shall be construed to prohibit the delivery by any producer of repair and replacement parts for machine tools in accordance with applicable regulations and orders of the War Production Board concerning maintenance, repair and replacement items.

(m) Deliveries to distributors for inventory. No distributor is permitted to purchase any machine tools for purposes of inventory or stock, and no producer shall deliver any machine tool to any distributor where he knows or has reason to believe that such distributor is buying such machine tool for inventory or for stock.

(n) Changes in schedules. Notwithstanding any other provision of this order, the Director General for Operations may direct or change any schedule of production or delivery of machine tools, allocate any order for machine tools to any other producer, divert or otherwise direct the delivery of any machine tool to any other person.

(o) Reports. Every producer shall file reports on Form PD-669, PD-670 and PD-671, and WPB-417 or WPB-1440, in accordance with the instructions on such forms and such supplemental instructions as may be given in respect thereto.

(p) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(q) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(r) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Tools Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: E-1-b.

Issued this 8th day of March 1943.

Director General for Operations.

[General Preference Order M-112, as Amended March 8, 1943]

Section 1138.1 General Preference Order M-112 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1138.1 General Preference Order M-112—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Antimony" means and includes:

(i) Ores and concentrates, including beneficiated or treated forms, containing antimony, commercially recognized;

(ii) Antimony metal, otherwise known as "regulus" and the element antimony in commercially pure form;

(iii) Liquidated antimony, sometimes known, respectively, as "needle antimony", "crude antimony", or "crudum", which is in any case the result of separating antimony sulphide from antimony ores by fusion, without essential chemical change;

(iv) Any alloy containing 50 per cent or more by weight of antimony, as defined in (i), (ii), and (iii) above;

(v) Chemical compounds which result from the primary processing of antimony ores and concentrates;

(vi) Mixtures or fusions (including frits) containing antimony oxide.

(b) Deliveries and allocations—(1) Restrictions on deliveries. Hereafter no person shall deliver or accept delivery of antimony except pursuant to specific authorization by the Director General for Operations; Provided, That until further order and in the absence of a specific direction to the contrary by the Director General for Operations the following deliveries of antimony and the receipt of such deliveries are permitted:

(i) Antimony ores or concentrates in amounts totaling not more than 50 tons of contained antimony during any one calendar month, by any person who produced such ores or concentrates from mines located within the continental United States or Alaska;

(ii) Antimony in any of the forms specified in paragraph (a) of this order, to any person in lots of 2240 pounds or less (contained antimony) provided that the total quantity of contained antimony which any person may receive in one calendar month from all sources of supply pursuant to the authorization contained in this paragraph (b) (1) (ii) shall be limited to 2240 pounds.

(iii) To the Metals Reserve Company or to any other Corporation organized under Section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended (15 U. S. C., Section 606 (b)), or to any duly authorized agent of any such Corporation.

(2) Allocations. The Director General for Operations will from time to time allocate the supply of antimony and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to particular persons and for particular uses shall be made or withheld. The Director may also require any person seeking to place a purchase order for antimony to place the same with one or more particular suppliers. Such allocations and directions will be made primarily to insure satisfaction of all defense requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts or purchase orders.

(c) Applications and reports. (1) Unless otherwise ordered or specifically directed by the Director General for Operations, no person shall be entitled to receive an allocation of antimony unless not later than the 20th day of the month next preceding the month in which delivery is desired, he shall have filed with the War Production Board and with each supplier with whom he may place a purchase order for antimony an application for such material on form PD-381, and in addition, shall have filed with the War Production Board a report on form PD-380, or such other form as said Board may from time to time prescribe.

(2) Any person who on the first day of any calendar month has in his possession or under his control a quantity of antimony in excess of 2240 pounds (contained antimony), shall file a report with the War Production Board on form PD-380, on or before the 20th day of such month, whether or not such person applies for an allocation of antimony for delivery during the succeeding month.

(3) Failure by any person to file an application pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (c) (1) of this order may be construed as notice to the Director General for Operations and to all suppliers of antimony that such person does not desire an allocation of antimony for the succeeding month.

(d) Special directions. The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue specific directions with respect to the kind and quantity of antimony, including antimony in the inventory of a person on March 8, 1943, which may be used in the manufacture or composition of any product or material, and the Director may also in his discretion, require the use of antimony-bearing lead scrap, secondary antimony-bearing lead alloys or any other practicable substitute in lieu of antimony, in the production of any materials or products.

(e) Restrictions on use of antimony in certain products. No person shall use antimony in any form, including the antimony content of any alloy, scrap or secondary material, in the preparation, processing or manufacture of:

(1) White inorganic pigments for non-ceramic enamels, paints, lacquers, or printing inks, except as a reinforcing or chemical agent not to exceed 2% by weight of pure pigment contained.

(2) Toys or decorative or ornamental objects or parts thereof.

(f) Exceptions to paragraph (e). The prohibitions and restrictions contained in paragraph (e) of this order shall not apply to the use of antimony in any product or part thereof which is being produced for purchase by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the War Shipping Administration, the United States Maritime Commission, or the Coast Guard, where the use of antimony to the extent employed, is required by the specifications (including performance specifications) of the Army or Navy of the United States, the War Shipping Administration, the United States Maritime Commission, or the Coast Guard applicable to the contract, subcontract, or purchase order.

(g) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(i) General Imports Order M-63 unaffected. Nothing contained in this order shall be construed as altering or modifying in any way the provisions of General Imports Order M-63 applicable to antimony.

(j) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Antimony Branch, Tin and Lead Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Reference M-112.

Issued this 8th day of March 1943.

Director General for Operations.

(4) "Supplier" means any person who imports or produces from domestic sources quartz crystals for the purpose either of his own fabrication or of sale to others, or who sells quartz crystals to others.

(5) "Fabricator" means any person who fabricates blanks or other semi-fabricated or fabricated forms from quartz crystals.

(6) "Put into fabrication" means the first change by the fabricator in the form of quartz crystals from that form in which such crystals were received by him.

(7) "Fabricate" means cut, saw, file, grind, polish, or otherwise change the form, shape, or characteristics. The term includes mounting or installing in holders.

(1) Quartz crystals or blanks, except for fabrication as permitted under the provisions of paragraph (b), or

(2) Fabricated forms of quartz crystals, except for purposes for which fabrication of quartz crystals is permitted under the provisions of paragraph (b): Provided, however, That the restrictions of this paragraph (c) (2) shall not apply to fabricated forms of quartz crystals which were already mounted or installed in holders on May 18, 1942, or to fabricated forms of quartz crystals, the purchase, receipt, or use of which has been specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(d) Special directions. The Director General for Operations at his discretion may at any time issue special directions to any person with respect to the use, fabrication to final product, delivery, acceptance of delivery, or placing of orders by such person of or for quartz crystals, blanks, or semi-fabricated or fabricated forms thereof, or special directions to any fabricator with respect to the types and sizes of semi-fabricated and fabricated forms of quartz crystals which he may or must fabricate, and the grades and types of quartz crystals which he may or must use in the fabrication of such blanks or fabricated forms of quartz crystals.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

The following interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to § 3175.1, CMP Regulation No. 1, as amended February 27, 1943.

Questions have arisen as to what constitutes discrimination between customers within the meaning of paragraphs (s) (4) and (t) (2) (i) of CMP Regulation No. 1. These provisions prohibit producers of controlled materials from discriminating between customers in rejecting or accepting orders which are filed later than the prescribed time or which call for deliveries of less than the minimum mill quantities. These provisions mean that, in similar situations, different customers must receive similar treatment. A controlled materials producer who has rejected a late order or small order from one customer, is not prohibited from accepting such an order from another customer if the difference in treatment of the two orders is based in good faith on differences in the practicability of filling the orders in view of the nature of the material ordered, the condition of the production schedule at the time the orders are received, or similar factors.

Issued this 8th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Gen. Ration Order 7]

METHOD OF SURRENDER AND DEPOSIT OF RATION STAMPS AND COUPONS

Preamble: Several ration orders issued by the Office of Price Administration require that ration stamps and coupons be affixed to gummed sheets or cards before they may be surrendered or deposited. However, the supply of gummed sheets and cards has been seriously depleted and they are now and will continue to be unavailable for general use. It is necessary, therefore, to provide an alternative means by which ration stamps and coupons may be surrendered and deposited. This general ration order provides the alternative procedure. Ration stamps and coupons may, where gummed sheets are unavailable, be enclosed in sealed envelopes, and when enclosed may be used in the same way as if they were affixed to gummed sheets or cards. The gummed sheets which are available are being reserved for use in the gasoline rationing program. That program is, therefore, not affected by this order.

§ 1305.204 General Ration Order 7. Under the authority vested in the Administrator by Executive Orders No. 9125 and 9280, issued by the President on April 7, 1942 and December 5, 1942, respectively, Directive No. 1, issued by the War Production Board on January 24, 1942, and Supplementary Directives thereto, and Food Directives No. 1, 3 and 5, issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, General Ration Order 7 (Method of surrender and deposit of ration stamps and coupons), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1305.204 issued under Pub Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub Laws 89, 421 and 507, 77th Cong., E.O. 9125 7 F.R. 2719, E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179, WPB Dir 1, Supp. Dir. 1E, 1M, 1O, 1R, and 1T, 7 F.R. 562 2965, 7234, 8418, 9684, and 8 F.R. 1727, respectively, and Food Directives 1, 3 and 5, 8 F.R 827, 2005, and 2251, respectively.

GENERAL RATION ORDER 7—METHOD OF SURRENDER AND DEPOSIT OF RATION STAMPS AND COUPONS

SECTION 1.1 This order governs method of surrendering or depositing stamps or coupons where gummed sheets are not available. (a) Whenever any ration order of the Office of Price Administration (other than Ration Order 5C) requires that stamps or coupons be affixed to gummed sheets or cards (OPA Form R-120, and R-304), and that stamps or coupons be surrendered or deposited only in that form, the requirement shall be deemed satisfied if the procedure set forth in this Order for enclosing them in sealed envelopes is followed.

SEC. 1.2 Stamps or coupons may be enclosed in sealed envelopes. (a) Any person who is required to affix stamps or coupons to gummed sheets or cards for surrender or deposit, may enclose them in sealed envelopes instead. Only stamps or coupons of the same type and value, and with the same validity period, may be enclosed in the same envelope. No more than 500 stamps or coupons may be enclosed in any one envelope.

SEC. 1.3 Envelopes must be signed and must contain information as to enclosed stamps or coupons. (a) Any person who encloses stamps or coupons in a sealed envelope, pursuant to Sec. 1.2, must write in ink on its face the number and type of stamps or coupons enclosed, their total value, the commodity for which the stamps or coupons are used (for example, sugar, coffee, processed foods), and his name and address. In addition, he must sign his name across the sealing flap of the envelope in such a way that the edge of the flap is crossed by a continuous stroke of the pen. His signature on the envelope shall constitute a certification as to the truth of the statements written on it.

(b) Stamps or coupons enclosed in a sealed envelope bearing the information required by paragraph (a), may be surrendered or deposited, and must be accepted, in that form, for the same purposes and with the same effect as if they were affixed to gummed sheets or cards.

SEC. 1.4 Value of stamps or coupons in sealed envelopes need not be verified by person who receives them. (a) A person who receives stamps or coupons enclosed in sealed envelopes in accordance with this order, need not verify the information stated on the envelope with respect to the contents, but may accept the envelope on the basis of the statements thereon. However, no person shall accept such an envelope if he knows or has reason to believe that the statements written on it are not true.

(b) When stamps or coupons enclosed in a sealed envelope are deposited, the contents of the envelope shall be subject to the verification required by the Office of Price Administration pursuant to General Ration Order 3 and 3A.

ARTICLE III—ZONES AND CEILING PRICE LIST

18 O. P. A. List of Retail Ceiling Prices for Pork Cuts.

Article I—General Provisions

SECTION 1 What this regulation does. This regulation fixes dollar-and-cents ceiling prices on all retail sales of fresh and processed pork cuts made on and after April 1, 1943. The United States is divided into 11 zones and different ceiling prices are fixed for sales made in each zone and for sales made by different classes of retail stores. Your ceiling prices depend on the zone where your store is and its class. A store includes any place where pork cuts are sold at retail.

SEC. 2 Your ceiling prices. (a) You will find your ceiling prices on your "O. P. A. List of Retail Ceiling Prices for Pork Cuts" (Article III, section 18). A copy of the list for your zone and class will be attached to this regulation or may be obtained from your local War Price and Rationing Board or from your local O. P. A. office. (If you are a "Class 3 and 4" store, you should obtain your copy from the national office of O. P. A. in Washington, D. C.)

(b) Your zone. You can find out from your local War Price and Rationing Board or your O. P. A. office what zone your store is in. The zones are fixed by Article III of this regulation.

(c) Your class. Your store is in "Class 1 and 2" if its annual gross sales are less than $250,000 and if it is not a "chain store." Otherwise, it is in "Class 3 and 4."

(d) Your store is a "chain store" if it is one of a group of four or more stores owned by one person which have combined annual gross sales of $500,000 or more. If you are in doubt whether your store is in "Class 1 and 2," consult the directions given in sections 11, 12, and 13.

SEC. 3 When the new ceiling prices take effect. On April 1, 1943, the dollar-and-cents ceiling prices fixed by this regulation take the place of all previous ceiling prices fixed by the Office of Price Administration upon retail sales of pork cuts. On and after April 1, 1943, you must not sell any pork cut at a price higher than the ceiling price fixed by this regulation.

SEC. 4 What pork products you may sell. On and after April 1, 1943, the only pork products you may sell are (1) those fresh or frozen and processed pork cuts which are given dollar-and-cents prices under this regulation and (2) the following pork products for which your ceiling prices are to remain as fixed under the General Maximum Price Regulation, namely, pork sausage, canned pork, pork variety meats or offal (including temple meat cutlets, brains, chitterlings, liver, plucks, kidneys, tongues, lips, snouts, ears, hearts, cheek and head meat, stomachs, weasand meat and heads), and quick-frozen cuts which are sold and delivered to you in the individual packages in which you sell them.

[1] 8 F.R. 865.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5 Sales to eating places. Your ceiling prices for sales to hotels, restaurants, institutions and other eating places selling or furnishing meals are the ceiling prices fixed by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148. Nevertheless, you may, during any month, use the ceiling prices fixed by this regulation in selling to eating places if 80% or more of your total sales of meat during the previous calendar month were retail sales to consumers, that is, to persons who buy the pork cut to be eaten by themselves or their families.

SEC. 6 Post your ceiling prices. Beginning April 1, 1943, you must post at your store your "O.P.A. List of Retail Ceiling Prices for Pork Cuts." This list must be put up in a place in your store where customers can easily see it and read it. You can get your copy for posting from your War Price and Rationing Board or from your local O. P. A. office. (If you are a "Class 3 and 4" store, you should obtain your copy from the national office of O.P.A. in Washington, D. C.) You may, if you wish, underline on the list you post those cuts which you carry. If you display any pork cut, as in your show case, you must put on it your ceiling price for that cut.

SEC. 7 Records, sales slips and receipts. After April 1, 1943, you shall keep the same kind of records you have customarily kept, showing the prices you charge for pork cuts. You shall show the records to any representative of the Office of Price Administration upon request. If you have customarily given a customer a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you shall continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your previous custom, you shall, upon request by any customer, give a receipt showing the date, your name and address, the name and weight of each pork cut sold and the price you received for it.

SEC. 8 Licensing and registration. The licensing and registration provisions of sections 15 and 16 of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to every person making sales subject to this regulation. Sections 15 and 16 provide, in brief, that a license is required of all persons selling at retail commodities for which maximum prices are established. A license is automatically granted. It is not necessary to apply for the license, but all sellers may later be required to register. The license may be suspended for violations in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. No person whose license is suspended may sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

SEC. 9 Indirect price increases. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded directly or indirectly by you; and you shall not require the purchaser to buy at any price other food products as a condition of selling pork cuts.

SEC. 10 Prohibitions. On and after April 1, 1943, the date this regulation takes effect, if you sell or deliver any pork cut at a price higher than your ceiling price, or if you otherwise violate any provision of this regulation, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Also, any person, who in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that Act.

Article II—Special Provisions

SECTION 11. How you figure the annual gross sales of your store in most cases. (a) To find your annual gross sales, take your gross sales for the calendar year 1942. Include all sales, whether of foods or not, as shown on your books. A Federal Income Tax Return will be accepted as good evidence of your gross sales for all or any part of the calendar year 1942 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating it as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were not in operation during the entire year 1942, you must divide your total gross sales from the time you began operation up to March 1, 1943 by the number of weeks you were in operation. This will give your weekly average gross sales. Multiply this figure by 52 and take the result as your "annual gross sales."

SEC. 12 How you figure the annual gross sales of your store in special cases— (a) Department stores. If you operate a department store, that is, a store in which the greater volume of business is in the sale of general merchandise and not foods, and you sell foods in a separate department, then you must find in what class your store falls by using only the gross annual sales of your food department.

(b) Stores in which more than one retailer operates. (1) If you sell foods in a retail store in which more than one retailer sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you will be treated as operating a separate retail store of your own and you must find its class by using your own separate sales.

(2) If you sell food in a retail store in which there are other food retailers, none of whom sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you must find your annual gross sales by taking the combined annual gross sales of all the food retailers in that store.

SEC. 13 How to find your annual gross sales if you are a new retailer. If you open a retail store after March 1, 1943, which is not a chain store, you must consider yourself a "Class 1 and 2" retailer and figure your ceiling prices accordingly. But after you have been in operation for three months you must determine again what class your store is in. To do this, take your gross sales for the 3-month period and multiply by 4. Use the result as your "annual gross sales" in order to find in what class your store falls. If you then find that your store no longer falls in "Class 1 and 2," it is in "Class 3 and 4," and you must take the ceiling prices for "Class 3 and 4" stores in your zone.

SEC. 14 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If you acquire in any manner the business, assets or stock in trade of any store subject to this regulation after March 31, 1943, and you carry on the business or continue to deal in pork cuts in a store, separate from any other store previously owned or operated by you, then your ceiling prices should be the same as those of the former owner as if no transfer had taken place; unless as a result of the transfer the business changes from one class of stores to another, in which case your ceiling prices shall be those fixed for the class to which the store belongs after the transfer. You must keep all records sufficient to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to you all records of transactions prior to your acquiring the store which are necessary to enable you to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 15 Retail sales taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, a sale at retail of pork cuts covered by this regulation which is imposed by any statute of any state or subdivision thereof may be collected by you in addition to the ceiling price, if the statute does not prohibit you from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price.

SEC. 16 Certain stores in "Class 3 and 4" which may, upon certain conditions, use the prices of stores in "Class 1 and 2." (a) If your store is in "Class 3 and 4," and does business in the manner outlined below, you may request permission under paragraph (b) to use the ceiling prices for "Class 1 and 2" stores:

(1) Most of your sales in your grocery department are made by sales clerks who assist customers in selecting, collecting and wrapping merchandise; and

(2) Your store generally offers to all its customers the services of (i) taking orders over the telephone, and (ii) carrying monthly charge accounts, and (iii) providing free delivery service; and

(3) The general level of your prices for meat and grocery products is as high or higher than that maintained for such products by "Class 1 and 2" stores in the same community and is generally higher than the level of prices charged for similar products by "Class 3 and 4" stores; and

(4) The total gross margin on all sales in your store, if you are not a "chain store," was more than 21% in your fiscal year 1941; or, if you are a "chain store," the total gross margin on the combined sales of all stores in your chain was more than 21% in your fiscal year 1941. If you were not in operation in 1941, your gross margin for the most recent fiscal year, or if you were not in operation for a year, for the most recent fiscal period, must be more than 21%.

(b) If your store does business in the way set forth above and you want to sell at the ceiling prices for "Class 1 and 2" stores you must by April 1, 1943, file with your State or District O.P.A. office a request to use such ceiling prices. This request must be filed on a form which you may get from such O.P.A. office. If you have filed this form, you may on the effective date of this regulation, use the ceiling prices of "Class 1 and 2" stores. However, O.P.A. reserves the right to withdraw this permission, and if you receive a notice to such effect you must from that time forward use the ceiling prices for stores in "Class 3 and 4."

SECTION 1 Definitions. (a) When used herein the term—

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representatives of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Mill" means a paper mill, board mill, pulp mill or similar consumer of pulpwood.

(3) "Pulpwood" means any wood sold for manufacture into woodpulp.[1]

(4) "Cord" means the unit by cubic feet or feet board measure, in which any particular seller made deliveries of, or had in contracts for the delivery of pulpwood, in the period February 27, 1943 to March 4, 1943.

(5) "Sale" or "sell" includes any sale, delivery or transfer of pulpwood, and any contract or agreement to do any of the foregoing.

(6) "The Southeastern States" include the States of Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Mississippi.

(7) "Roadside" means the side of a public highway maintained by Federal, state, or county authority.

(8) "Prior to the period February 27, 1943 to March 4, 1943," means the six months prior to February 27, 1943.

SEC. 2. Prohibitions. (a) On and after March 5, 1943, regardless of any contract or arrangement of any kind to the contrary notwithstanding, no person shall sell or deliver pulpwood cut from the stump in the Southeastern States, and no person shall buy or receive such pulpwood in the course of trade or business at prices in excess of those set forth in section 3 below.

(b) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

SEC. 3. Maximum prices for pulpwood cut from the stump in the Southeastern States.—(a) A seller's maximum price per cord for pulpwood cut from the stump in the Southeastern States shall be the highest price which he charged per cord for deliveries in or prior to the period February 27, 1943 to March 4, 1943, or the highest price which he had charged in a firm contract existing during that period even though the contract called for later delivery. Maximum prices are established on the basis of the types of delivery points listed below in this paragraph. (A delivery point means a point at which the price is set.) The maximum price at any one of the delivery points becomes the seller's maximum price for all deliveries at a similar point to all buyers, whether or not delivery in that particular way was previously made to that buyer. The types of delivery points are as follows:

Delivered millyard
F.o.b. or f.a.s. railway cars
F.o.b. or f.a.s. trucks
F.o.b. or f.a.s. vessel
At a roadside

(b) If a seller made no such deliveries of or had no such contracts for deliveries for the same kind of pulpwood at one or more of said points in or prior to said period, then his maximum price at such point or points shall be the highest price at which he made a delivery or had a contract at another of the points mentioned above, less the actual transportation and loading costs incurred by him in moving the wood from the roadside to the delivery point involved in such highest priced delivery, and plus the actual transportation and loading costs he will incur in the delivery which he wishes to make. The seller's maximum price thus established shall thereafter be his maximum price for all deliveries to the same type of pricing point.

(c) If a seller cannot determine his maximum prices under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, he shall communicate this fact to the nearest regional office of the Office of Price Administration, together with a statement of the reasons why he cannot ascertain his said maximum price. Such regional office of the Office of Price Administration shall thereupon assist the seller to ascertain his maximum price under paragraphs (a) or (b) or, if this cannot be done, will proceed to establish a maximum price for such seller, which price shall be a price in line with prices generally prevailing in the period February 27, 1943 to March 4, 1943, and in line with the prices paid by the seller's prospective buyers in said period, or in the nearest five-day period thereto in which said buyers received deliveries of wood.

SEC. 4. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 5. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to pulpwood, alone or in connection with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying agreement, or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

SEC. 6. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses as provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 7. Amendments. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[2]

SEC. 8. Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. In appropriate situations where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

This Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 30 shall become effective on March 5, 1943, and shall, unless earlier revoked or replaced, expire at 12 o'clock midnight, May 4, 1943.

Issued this 5th day of March 1943.

Administrator.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 292,[1] Amendment 2]

SALES OF CITRUS FRUITS BY PACKERS, BROKERS, AUCTION MARKETS, TERMINAL SELLERS AND INTERMEDIATE SELLERS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. Section 1351.1403 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Freight and refrigeration services performed by packers and common carriers. Freight to be used in calculating any base price or maximum price under this regulation shall include actual costs or charges for pre-cooling, initial icing and refrigeration services and shall mean freight by common or contract carrier. In determining actual costs and charges for pre-cooling, initial icing and refrigeration services incurred by any person, such actual costs and charges may be included as part of freight regardless of whether the services are performed by a common carrier, a packer or any other person. If a packer or any other person performs the pre-cooling, initial icing or refrigeration services such costs shall be calculated on the basis of the lowest available common or contract carrier rate for similar services. If citrus fruit is imported by any mode of transportation other than common or contract carrier, freight shall be computed at lowest available common or contract carrier rates. Freight shall not include trucking or unloading but shall include actual charges for unloading cars for sales at a terminal market.

2. In § 1351.1403 (e), a proviso is added to read as follows:

(e) Fractions of a cent. * * * Provided, That any maximum price stated in terms of a fraction of a cent in § 1351.1416 hereof shall not be rounded to the nearest cent.

3. Section 1351.1404 (a), (c), and (h) are amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1404 Definition of a maximum price for packers, brokers, auction markets, terminal markets, terminal sellers and commission merchants. (a) For the purposes of this regulation:

(1) A "packer" is any person who grades, sizes, packs or otherwise prepares citrus fruits for shipment to a terminal market or any other wholesale receiving point. A person who has citrus fruit packed for him shall be deemed to be a packer and the point of shipment shall be deemed to be a packing house.

(2) A "broker" is a person who acts as an agent for the sale of citrus fruits and who does not customarily warehouse, storage or otherwise distribute citrus fruits. The term "broker" shall not include a salaried representative of a packer or any other person.

(3) An "auction market" is a market in which competitive bids are made for the purchase of citrus fruits and which market charges a fee for its services.

(4) A "terminal seller" is a person who receives or purchases citrus fruits, whether for his own account or for the account of another person, customarily sells ex track, ex truck or ex shipping shed, at the terminal market, and who does not customarily warehouse nor deliver beyond the terminal market area.

(5) A "commission merchant" is a person who receives citrus fruits on consignment from a packer or any other seller and who performs the customary wholesale functions of unloading cars, warehousing, and selling through such warehouse in less than carlots.

(e) The maximum price for sales of citrus fruits by an auction market shall be the packer's maximum price for direct sales, delivered at the market, multiplied by 1.015, plus the usual auction charge or fee, computed on the basis of such delivered maximum price.

* * * * *

(h) Every sale of citrus fruits by a packer, broker, auction market or terminal seller, to an intermediate seller, shall be accompanied by a notification in writing to the intermediate seller, showing the maximum price for such sale, which price shall be called the "base price" in such notice. The "base price" so reported shall be the maximum price determined under the foregoing paragraphs of this section, whether or not such maximum price was paid, except that in the event of a direct sale by a packer, or a sale by a packer through a broker, on an f. o. b. packing house basis, the "base price" so reported shall be the maximum price for such sale on a delivered basis at the purchaser's customary receiving point. Every sale of citrus fruits by a commission merchant to an intermediate seller shall be accompanied by a notification in writing to the intermediate seller showing the packer's maximum price for direct sales delivered at the commission merchant's customary receiving point, which price shall be called the "base price" in such notice. The "base price" so reported shall be the packer's maximum price for direct sales delivered at the commission merchant's customary receiving point whether or not such maximum price was paid.

4. Section 1351.1416 is amended to read as follows:

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED, AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

FROZEN LAKE SMELTS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the prices of frozen Lake smelts have risen to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of frozen Lake smelts prevailing between October 1, 1941, and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said Act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

The maximum prices established herein are not below the average price of such commodities in the year 1941.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1364.1101 to 1364.1111, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1364.1101 Sales by processors of frozen Lake smelts at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On or after March 12, 1943, regardless of any contract, agreement, or other obligation, no processor shall sell or deliver any frozen Lake smelts, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any Lake smelts from a processor at prices higher than the maximum prices set by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

§ 1364.1102 Where the regulation applies. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

§ 1364.1104 Relation to other regulations. (a) The provisions of this regulation repeal the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

(b) The maximum price at which a person may export frozen Lake Smelts shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1364.1105 Conditional agreement. No seller of frozen Lake smelts shall enter into an agreement permitting the adjustment of the prices to prices which may be higher than the maximum prices provided by § 1364.1111; in the event that this regulation is amended or is determined by a court to be invalid or upon any other contingency: Provided, That if a petition for amendment has been duly filed, and such petition requires extensive consideration, the Administrator may grant an exception from the provisions of this section permitting the making of contracts adjustable upon the granting of the petition for amendment.

§ 1364.1106 Records and reports. The reporting and recording provisions of this regulation are approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(a) Every person making a purchase or sale of frozen Lake smelts in the course of trade or business or otherwise dealing therein, other than a purchaser at retail, after March 11, 1943, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, complete

RED CEDAR SHINGLES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1381.11 is amended by adding paragraph (e) as set forth below.

§ 1381.11 Appendix A: Maximum prices for red cedar shingles. * * *

(e) When a truck haul precedes rail shipment, as when a mill located away from a railhead hauls shingles by truck to the railhead, no addition may be made for the truck haul. However, in the following three cases mills may apply for special permission to make an addition:

(1) Where the mill was located away from rail connections because it specialized in water-borne shipments, and has been forced to ship by rail because of a lack of water carrier facilities;

(2) Where the mill prior to December 7, 1941, shipped shingles to the particular final destination, principally by all-truck haul, and now wishes to convert to truck-and-rail haul to save tires and gasoline;

(3) Where a mill's rail connections have been abandoned since December 7, 1941.

The application should be made by letter to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and may be acted upon by letter. The addition may not be made on quotations or sales until permission has been received by the applicant.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

FLUID MILK AND CREAM

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Subdivision (vii) of § 1499.73 (a) (1) is redesignated subdivision (viii) of § 1499.73 (a) (1); subdivisions (b), (c), (j), and (k) of subdivision (ii) of § 1499.73 (a) (1) are revoked; and a new subdivision (vii) is added to § 1499.73 (a) (1), as set forth below:

§ 1499.73 Modification of maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of General Maximum Price Regulation for certain commodities, services, and transactions. (a) The maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for the commodities, services, and transactions listed below are modified as hereinafter provided:

(1) Fluid milk and cream. * * *

(vii) Maximum prices for approved fluid milk sold and delivered in the Atlanta Regional area. This subdivision (vii) establishes maximum prices for "approved fluid milk" sold and delivered within certain specified areas of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia. Maximum prices are established for specified types of wholesale and retail sales of approved fluid milk sold and delivered in glass and paper containers of one quart or less.

This subdivision (vii) fixes adjusted maximum prices for all counties in the State of Mississippi. However, certain counties in the States of Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia have been specifically excepted from this area adjustment.

Specific exception is made of retail sales of approved fluid milk by a hotel, restaurant, soda fountain, cafe, bar, or other eating establishment, such sales remaining in all respects subject to the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

A formula is provided by which persons who sold premium milk during January 1943 may determine a premium to be added to the prices specified for standard approved fluid milk.

A specific method is provided for the determination of maximum prices for sales and deliveries of approved fluid milk to the Army and Navy. "Army" and "Navy" are defined as including post exchanges, officers' messes, ships' stores ashore, and other related activities. The method of pricing provided for sales to the Army and Navy is applicable to any sale involving the delivery of milk at any point within the boundaries of the Atlanta Regional area, which comprises the States of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia. Such sales are covered by this subdivision (vii), whether made by sellers whose plants are located within the Atlanta Regional area, or outside thereof.

This area adjustment does not fix out-of-store or home-delivered retail prices in container sizes less than one quart, because any person who engages in the sale, distribution, or transportation of milk has been prohibited by Food Distribution Order No. 11, issued by the Secretary of Agriculture on January 21, 1943 from using container sizes of less than one quart in making sales of these types.

This subdivision (vii) establishes maximum prices for fluid sweet milk only. It is not applicable to buttermilk, chocolate milk, or other flavored milks, such products remaining subject in all respects to the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

The adjusted maximum prices authorized by this Amendment supersede the sellers' former ceiling prices as determined under § 1499.2 General provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation or under any supplementary or adjustment order issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(a) Maximum prices for sales other than Army or Navy sales. The maximum prices set forth below are the maximum prices for approval fluid milk sold and delivered to persons other than the Army or Navy in the respective size and type containers set forth, in the areas specified, before application of the seller's customary allowances, discounts, or other price differentials, which customary allowances, discounts, or other price differentials must be maintained in accordance with the provisions of § 1499.2 General provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(1) Mississippi. The maximum price for approval fluid milk sold and delivered by any person at wholesale or retail in glass and paper containers of one quart or less in Mississippi shall be a price determined either under Pricing Method No. 1 or Pricing Method No. 2 set forth below. [Any seller may choose either Pricing Method No. 1 or Pricing Method No. 2, but may not use both methods.] However, any person entering the business of selling approved fluid milk at wholesale or retail after March 5, 1943 shall be limited to Pricing Method No. 2. A person taking over an established business shall be subject to the same maximum prices as his transferor, in accordance with § 1499.5 General provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(i) Pricing Method No. 1 [Mississippi]. The maximum prices established by the seller under the General Maximum Price Regulation [if such seller has, prior to March 6, 1943, established such maximum price] or the following prices, whichever are lower:

	Quart		Pint		Half pint
	Glass	Paper	Glass	Paper	Glass	Paper
	Cts.	Cts.	Cts.	Cts.	Cts.	Cts.
Wholesale	14	15	8	9	4	5
Retail out-of-store	16	17	----	----	----	----
Retail home-delivered	16	17	----	----	----	----

⅓ quart container sizes: the seller shall adjust his maximum wholesale price for ⅓ quart container sizes, as determined under § 1499.2 General provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, by an amount proportionate to the increase or decrease in his ceiling price for quart container sizes as a result of the foregoing listed maximum prices.

Retail sales other than out-of-store sales or home-deliveries: The maximum prices for retail sales, other than out-of-store sales or home-deliveries, shall equal the listed wholesale prices, subject to any applicable discounts or allowances.

Provided: That any seller electing to use Pricing Method No. 1, set forth above, shall, on or before March 16, 1943, report such election and the price so determined to the Mississippi State Office of the Office of Price Administration, Tower Building, Jackson, Mississippi. [This report should be in letter form—no specific form being required].

(ii) Pricing Method No. 2 [Mississippi].

	Glass	Paper	Glass	Paper	Glass	Paper

Wholesale	13	14	7	8	3¾	4½
Retail out-of-store	15	16	----	----	----	----
Retail home-delivered	15	16	----	----	----	----

Except: That no seller may establish an adjusted retail price under Pricing Method No. 2 which exceeds the maximum retail price as determined under § 1499.2 General provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation by more than 2¢ per quart.

Example: A retailer having an established glass container price of 12¢ per quart may put into effect an adjusted retail price, under this pricing method, of not more than 14¢.

⅓ quart container sizes: The seller shall adjust his maximum wholesale price for ⅓ quart container sizes, as determined under § 1499.2 General provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, by an amount proportionate to the increase or decrease in his ceiling price for quart container sizes as a result of the foregoing listed maximum prices.

Retail sales other than out-of-store sales or home-deliveries: The maximum prices for retail sales, other than out-of-store sales or home-deliveries, shall equal the listed wholesale prices, subject to any applicable discounts or allowances.

(2) Georgia. (i) The maximum price for approved fluid milk sold and delivered in glass and paper containers of one quart or less in the State of Georgia [with the exception of those counties set forth in subdivision (ii) below] by any person at wholesale or retail shall be:

	Quart		Pint		Half pint
	Glass	Paper	Glass	Paper	Glass	Paper
	Cts.	Cts.	Cts.	Cts.	Cts.	Cts.
Wholesale	14	15	8	9	4	5
Retail out-of-store	16	17	----	----	----	----
Retail home-delivered	16	17	----	----	----	----

Except: That no seller may establish an adjusted retail price under the above pricing method [Georgia] which exceeds the maximum retail price established under § 1499.2 General provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation by more than 2¢ per quart.

Example: A retailer having an established glass container price of 12¢ per quart may put into effect an adjusted retail price under this pricing method of not more than 14¢.

⅓ quart container sizes: The seller shall adjust his maximum wholesale price for ⅓ quart container sizes, as determined under § 1499.2 General provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, by an amount proportionate to the increase or decrease in his ceiling price for quart container sizes as a result of the foregoing listed maximum prices.

Retail sales other than out-of-store sales or home-deliveries: The maximum prices for retail sales, other than out-of-store sales or home-deliveries, shall equal the listed wholesale prices, subject to any applicable discounts or allowances.

(ii) Counties in Georgia not covered above. The maximum prices for the sale of approved fluid milk in the following counties shall be the established maximum prices under the General Maximum Price Regulation or any supplementary or adjustment order of the Office of Price Administration issued with respect to such counties:

Where the plant of the seller is located in the Atlanta Regional Area: An amount equal to the maximum wholesale price established for the area wherein such plant is situated, or where the area of the plant's location is one not subject to the provisions of this Supplementary Regulation No. 14, then an amount equal to the seller's established maximum wholesale price for any class of wholesale purchaser for the particular size and type of container, plus (i) a premium of one-half cent per quart, or a proportionate amount for a part of a quart; or (ii) at the election of such seller, the actual transportation cost from seller's plant to point of delivery, not to exceed lowest common carrier rates: Provided, That, in the event the seller elects to add the transportation costs in lieu of one-half cent per quart premium, he shall, within ten days after entering into any contract with the Army or Navy, or after the making of the first delivery to an Army or Navy destination where no contract has been entered into, file with the Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Candler Building, Atlanta, Georgia, a statement, setting forth: the price established; the transportation charges added, together with the method of computation of the price established and the transportation charges; location of seller's plant; and place of delivery of such milk. [This report should be in letter form—no specific form being required].

Where the plant of the seller is located outside the Atlanta Regional Area. An amount equal to the seller's established maximum wholesale price for any class of wholesale purchaser under the General Maximum Price Regulation or any applicable supplementary or adjustment order issued by the Office of Price Administration, plus (i) a premium of one-half cent per quart; or (ii) at the election of such seller, the actual transportation costs from the seller's plant to point of delivery not to exceed the lowest common carrier rates: Provided, That any seller making sales or deliveries pursuant to this paragraph, regardless of the method of computation used by him, shall, within ten days after entering into an Army or Navy contract providing for deliveries within the Atlanta Regional area, or, after the making of the first delivery to an Army or Navy destination within such area, file with the Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Candler Building, Atlanta, Georgia, a statement, setting forth: the price established, the transportation charges added, if any, together with the method of computation of the price established and the transportation charges, location of seller's plant; and the place of delivery of such milk. [This report should be in letter form—no specific form being required].

(2) Completion of contracts entered into prior to March 6, 1943. Any person who has, prior to March 6, 1943, entered into a contract to make deliveries to the Army or Navy at prices properly established under appropriate regulations or orders issued by the Office of Price Administration may, until the expiration date of such contract, deliver and accept payment in accordance with the terms thereof without regard to the provisions of this area adjustment: Provided, however, That any such seller shall, on or before March 16, 1943, file with the Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Candler Building, Atlanta, Georgia, a statement, setting forth: the terms of such contract; the dates of execution and termination, together with the method of computing the contract prices; the location of seller's plant; and the place of delivery of such milk.

Upon the expiration of any such contract or a renewal thereof, the maximum prices fixed by the foregoing paragraph (1) shall be applicable to sales and deliveries to the Army or Navy.

(c) Premium milk. (1) A person who sold premium milk during January 1943 shall determine the maximum price for such milk as follows:

Take the highest price [before all discounts or quantity differentials have been deducted] at which he sold each different kind, grade, quality, or quantity of premium milk during January 1943 at wholesale, out-of-retail-store, or delivered-to-the-home, respectively.

Next, subtract from each of those prices the highest price [before discounts or quantity differentials have been deducted] at which he sold other approved fluid milk during January 1943 in containers of the same size and type at wholesale, out-of-retail-store, or delivered-to-the-home. The differentials thus obtained shall be the premium for each size and type of container and type of sale. These premiums may then be added to the specific maximum prices for non-premium milk fixed by this area adjustment: Provided, That the seller, on or before April 5, 1943, shall file a report with the Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Candler Building, Atlanta, Georgia, showing:

(i) The total quantity, expressed in quarts, of approved fluid milk sold by such seller during January 1943;

(ii) The types of premium milk sold by such seller during January 1943;

(iii) The differential at which he sold each type of such milk during January 1943; and

(iv) The total quantity, expressed in quarts, of each type of premium milk which he sold during January 1943.

The Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Atlanta, Georgia, may correct the prices so reported and shall revise any such prices if the differential reported is higher than that generally prevailing during January 1943 in the local market area or an adjoining area.

(2) A seller of approved fluid milk who did not sell premium milk, or who sold only premium milk during January 1943, may not add any premium to the maximum prices established under this area adjustment unless he first files an application in writing with the Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Candler Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for permission to sell such premium milk at prices requested, and has been granted a price at which to sell such premium milk under an appropriate order issued by such regional office.

(3) No seller of fluid milk who during January 1943 sold premium milk may add any premium to the maximum prices established pursuant to this subdivision if he increases the volume of premium milk sold in any calendar month more than 5% above the volume of such premium milk sold by him during January 1943, unless he shall first file an application with the Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Candler Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for permission to increase the volume of such premium milk sales, and has been granted such permission under an appropriate order issued by such Regional Office.

Any application filed pursuant to the foregoing subdivisions (2) or (3) shall contain the following:

(i) If the application is made by a seller who sold premium milk during January 1943, it shall contain a copy of the report required by the foregoing subdivision (c) (1);

(ii) A description of the different types of premium milk sold in the area in which the applicant desires to establish maximum prices for premium milk, or in which the applicant desires to increase the volume of premium milk which he sells, as the case may be. If no premium milk is sold in the area served by the seller, the application shall so state;

(iii) The maximum prices of such premium milk established pursuant to the foregoing inferior subdivision (c) by the applicant or other sellers of premium milk in the area served by the applicant;

(iv) A specific description of the kind, grade, and quality of the premium milk or milks concerning which the application is made;

(v) A full and complete statement of the reasons justifying the application for classifying such milk as premium milk, or for an increase in the volume of sale of an already established premium milk, as the case may be. It shall include a full statement showing that a denial of the application will result in substantial hardship to the applicant, and that a shortage or threatened shortage of a type of milk necessary to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war will result from such denial;

(vi) If the applicant was not selling premium milk during January 1943, the application shall show the total quantity of approved fluid milk, expressed in quarts, sold by him in January 1943, together with the quantity of premium milk which the applicant proposes to sell and the premium, expressed in cents per quart, which he desires to add to the maximum price established pursuant to this subdivision. If the applicant was not in the business of selling fluid milk during January 1943, he shall additionally show the total quantity of approved fluid milk, expressed in quarts, sold by him during the last calendar month preceding the application.

(d) Calculations. (1) On single sales at retail wherein the adjusted maximum price results in a fraction of a cent, the seller may adjust the price upward to the full cent if the fraction is ½¢ or more, and shall decrease the price to the lowest even cent if the fraction is less than ½¢. On sales of more than one unit, where the unit price is expressed in a fraction of a cent, the exact price established by the applicable subdivision shall be multiplied by the number of units. If the computation results in a fraction of a cent, the total shall be adjusted up or down to the nearest full cent, and, in such adjustment, a half-cent may be adjusted upward to the nearest full cent. Home-deliveries shall be considered multiple unit sales unless separate collections are made for single units delivered.

(e) Exempt sales under this area adjustment. (1) The provisions of this subdivision (vii) shall not be applicable to retail sales of approved fluid milk by a hotel, restaurant, soda fountain, bar, café, or other similar eating establishment. Such sales remain subject in all respects to the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(2) The provisions of this subdivision (vii) shall not apply to buttermilk, chocolate milk, or other flavored milks. Such sales remain subject in all respects to the general provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(3) The maximum prices fixed by this subdivision (vii) are not applicable to sales and deliveries to the Army or Navy under a contract entered into prior to March 6, 1943, during the term thereof.

(f) Adjustment of maximum prices. The Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration may, upon application of any seller, or on its own motion, adjust any maximum price established under this subdivision (vii) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 where it appears:

(1) That a shortage in the supply of approved fluid milk in a particular locality exists or threatens to exist;

(2) That such a local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum price of such seller and of like sellers; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage or a need for increase in prices in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

Such applications shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(g) Definitions. For purposes of this subparagraph (1):

(1) "Approved fluid milk" means fluid cows' milk, raw or pasteurized, at least satisfying the minimum butterfat content and sanitary and health requirements for fluid milk sold for human consumption in the particular area wherein it is delivered, including standards set by purchasing officers for sales to the Army or Navy.

SALT CURED HERRING

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, that maximum prices be established for processors of salt cured herring.

No charge or cost for unloading or local trucking shall be included.

The above-entitled proceeding having been instituted upon a complaint duly filed with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") on January 13, 1941, by the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 11, alleging that Stone Mining Company, Inc., a code member, had wilfully violated the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code"), or rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and praying that the Division enter an order directing the said code member to cease and desist from violations of the Code and minimum prices established thereunder, and take such other and further action as the Division may deem just and proper; and

A hearing on the complaint having been scheduled by Notice of and Order for Hearing, entered herein on January 31, 1941 and said hearing having been held before a duly authorized Examiner of the Division on March 10, 1941, after which hearing opportunities were given to the said code member to file briefs and to request oral argument before the Director; and

The Examiner's Report in this matter having been waived by the parties and thereafter the Director having issued herein on August 22, 1941 an Order enjoining and restraining the said code member, its officers, representatives, agents, servants, employees, and attorneys, and all persons acting or claiming to act in its behalf or interest from selling coal produced by the said code member at less than the applicable effective minimum prices established therefor, contrary to the said Act or any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder; and

Information in the possession of the Division indicating that the said code member has failed to comply with the Bituminous Coal Act and rules and regulations thereunder, in that it or its agents, servants, employees, officers, or representatives or persons acting or claiming to act in its behalf or interest, have sold coal produced by such persons at prices less than the applicable minimum prices established for such coal in disregard of the said Order entered herein on August 22, 1941; and

It appearing necessary in the proper administration of the Act to reopen the above-entitled matter pursuant to the provisions of section 5 (b) of the Act;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the above-entitled matter be, and it hereby is, reopened for the purpose of taking evidence to determine whether the above-named code member, its officers, representatives, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, or persons acting or claiming to act in its behalf or interest, have failed to comply with the said order entered herein on August 22, 1941, and whether, upon the basis of the violations alleged in the complaint as well as upon the indicated violations hereinafter referred to, an order should be entered herein revoking the membership of such code member in the Code and its right to an exemption from the taxes imposed by section 3 (b) of the Act (section 3520 of the Internal Revenue Code).

It is further ordered, That a hearing with respect to any failure to comply with the said Order dated August 22, 1942, shall be held on March 18, 1943, at 10 o'clock a. m. at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division at Daviess Circuit Court Owensboro, Kentucky.

Order Granting Exception

Administrative Exception Order No. 1 Under General Ration Order 6 (War Ration Book Two) and Ration Order 13 (Processed Foods).

The Willmark Service System, Inc., is a business enterprise engaged in rendering services to clients, consisting principally of owners of retail stores, to test the efficiency and honesty of the client's salesclerks. The method used involves the making of a complete purchase of an article and observing the actions of the salesclerk in the course of the transaction. The article purchased is later returned to the owner of the store for refund, at the same or another establishment of the client in a way to prevent revealing to the client's employees the identity of the individual making the test. The corporation, through its employees, normally makes 31,000 test purchases of processed food each year. The Willmark Service System, Inc., requests authority to secure ration currency to enable it to continue to make test purchases of processed foods in the course of its business.

The granting of the request in this and all similar cases would not defeat or impair the effectiveness of the policy of the ration order because it would not increase the quantity of processed foods withdrawn from civilian supply.

It is hereby ordered, That Willmark Service System, Inc., of 250 West 57th Street, New York, New York, is authorized to receive from the Office of the Executive Officer for Rationing, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., War Ration Book Two which its employees may use to make purchases of processed foods in the manner otherwise permitted by Ration Order 13.[1] Willmark Service System, Inc., must open a processed foods ration bank account at a bank in which it has a dollar checking account, in accordance with the provisions of General Ration Order 3A.[2]

As soon as practical after making a purchase of processed foods, Willmark Service System, Inc., shall return the processed foods to the client from whom the rationed commodity was purchased. Upon the return of the processed foods, the client shall issue to the Willmark Service System, Inc., a ration check for the points represented by the stamps given for the processed foods so returned. The Willmark Service System, Inc., shall deposit in its processed foods ration bank account all such ration checks and, at the end of each ration period, all unused blue ration stamps that were valid during the concluded period. Willmark Service System, Inc., shall not use the War Ration Books Two issued to it under this to acquire processed foods from any person who does not have a processed foods ration bank account. Within 10 days after the end of each ration period, Willmark Service System, Inc., must issue to the Executive Officer for Rationing, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a certified ration check equal in value to the total processed foods points available to the Willmark Service System, Inc., for use (in purchasing processed foods) during that ration period. Willmark Service System, Inc., will be held strictly accountable for any discrepancy between the processed food points available to it for use during any ration period and the points represented by the certified ration check which it must surrender to the Office of Price Administration after the close of the period. The Willmark Service System, Inc., and each of its clients shall keep complete records of the transactions entered into under this order and the records shall show the points received, the processed foods purchased and returned, the ration checks issued, and the date of each transaction. The only stamps in War Ration Book Two valid at the present time are the blue stamps. When the red stamps are validated for the rationing of other commodities, Willmark Service System, Inc., must open a ration bank account for those commodities. Willmark Service System, Inc., must deposit in that ration bank account, at the end of each ration period, the red ration stamps that were valid during the concluded period. Within 10 days after the end of each ration period (for the commodities for which the red stamps will be used) Willmark Service System, Inc., must issue to the Executive Officer for Rationing, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a certified ration check equal in value to the total point value of the red stamps, valid for that ration period, in the War Ration Books Two issued to Willmark Service System, Inc. Willmark Service System, Inc., will be held strictly accountable for any discrepancy between the points for any ration period, represented by the red stamps in the War Ration Book Two issued to them, and the points represented by the certified check drawn on its commodity ration bank account and surrendered to the Office of Price Administration after the close of the period.

It is hereby further ordered, That any other person similarly situated may be authorized on similar conditions to open a ration bank account and to be issued War Ration Books Two. Such authority may be granted in writing by the Director of the Food Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

This order shall become effective March 6, 1943.

Bauer and Black Division of the Kendall Company

Order No. 1 Under § 1315.21a (e) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 149—Mechanical Rubber Goods.

On November 13, 1942, the Bauer and Black Division of the Kendall Company of Chicago, Illinois, asked for approval of a proposed method of determining maximum prices for various special tapes. On December 2, 1942, Amendment No. 3 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 149 was issued. This amendment became effective on December 8, 1942. Provision is made in this amendment for specific authorization of methods of determining maximum prices for articles which cannot be priced under any other provision of the regulation. Due consideration has been given to the application and an opinion in support of this Order No. 1 has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register. For the reasons set forth in the opinion and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, It is hereby ordered:

(a) This Order No. 1 is applicable to any pressure sensitive adhesive tape produced by the Bauer and Black Division of the Kendall Company, hereinafter referred to as the "manufacturer", the maximum price of which cannot be determined under paragraph (a) of § 1315.21a of Maximum Price Regulation No. 149.

(b) The maximum price of such tape shall be determined as follows: The manufacturer shall first determine the direct costs of the tape being priced. The direct costs are the sum total of direct labor and direct materials costs. These costs shall be determined in accordance with provisions of paragraph (a) (2) of § 1315.21a of Maximum Price Regulation No. 149. The manufacturer shall then determine his maximum price by multiplying this figure by 200%. Provided, That the maximum price shall not exceed 125% of total costs. Total costs shall be determined by using the bases and rates that the manufacturer used in determining those costs on October 1, 1941, at the volume of production in his plant on that date.

(c) This Order No. 1 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(d) This Order No. 1 shall become effective March 6, 1943.

(b) Any wholesaler and jobber may sell or deliver to any person and any person may buy and receive from such wholesaler or jobber "My Own" brand of domestic whiskey in cases of 12 bottles, each bottle containing ⅕ gallon of such whiskey, at prices not in excess of those computed by the wholesaler or jobber as follows:

(1) Add to the amount of $22.84, freight charges, if any, at the rate applicable in March 1942 from the distillery or freight base point from which shipment is made to the receiving point of the particular wholesaler or jobber.

(2) Add to the resulting figure at (1) the amount of any tax incident to the sale, delivery, processing or use of the domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder which is imposed upon the wholesaler or jobber by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof in effect in March, 1942: Provided, That the amount of such tax has been paid or shall have accrued and shall be payable by the seller to the proper taxing authorities or to any prior vendor.

(3) Multiply the resulting figure at (2) by 1.18, or, in those states or subdivisions thereof where the markup of vendors of distilled spirits is fixed by a statute or ordinance in effect in March, 1942, by a figure which will produce a selling price for the particular vendor in accordance with the requirements of such statute or ordinance.

(4) Add to the resulting figure at (3) both the sum of $4.18, being the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942; and the amount of any new or increased tax incident to the sale, processing or use of domestic whiskey which is imposed upon the wholesaler or jobber by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof which became effective after March 31, 1942: Provided, That the amount of such new or increased tax has been paid or shall have accrued and be payable by the seller to the proper taxing authorities or to any prior vendor. (2) Add to the resulting figure at (1) the sum of $4.18, being the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942; and the amount of any new or increased tax incident to the sale, processing and use of the domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder which is imposed upon the seller by any statute or ordinance of any State of subdivision thereof which became effective after March 31, 1942; Provided, That the amount of such new or increased tax has been paid or shall have accrued and be payable by the seller to the proper taxing authorities or to any prior vendor.

(3) Divide the resulting figure at (2) by the figure 12. The retailer shall adjust the figure thus arrived at to the next higher even cent if the fraction is ½ cent or over, and to the next lower even cent if the fraction is less than ½ cent.

(4) Multiply the resulting figure at (3) by the percentage rate of any State or local sales tax or similar tax imposed upon the retailer by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof; Provided, That the amount thereof was separately stated and collected by the retailer in March, 1942, and the retailer now continues to state and collect the amount thereof separately. The resulting figure shall be rounded off to the nearest full cent in accordance with the practice of the seller in March, 1942, and added to the amount determined at (3). The resulting amount shall be the particular retailer's maximum price for "My Own" brand of domestic whiskey in bottles containing ⅕ gallon of such whiskey.

No notification shall be required after the first notification to any particular purchaser.

(e) On or before the first delivery of this commodity after the effective date hereof, all wholesalers and jobbers of this commodity shall notify retailer purchasers thereof of the wholesaler's or jobber's maximum price as established under paragraph (b); and they shall notify such retailers of the method for the computation of the retailer's maximum price as follows:

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File No. 70-675]

SUPERIOR WATER, LIGHT AND POWER CO., ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 3rd day of March, A. D. 1943.

In the matter of Superior Water, Light and Power Company, Northern Power Company, and American Power & Light Company.

Notice is hereby given that a joint declaration and application has been filed with this Commission under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by American Power & Light Company ("American"), a registered holding company under the Act, and a subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share Company, likewise a registered holding company, and by Superior Water, Light and Power Company ("Superior"), and Northern Power Company ("Northern"), utility subsidiaries of American.

All interested persons are referred to said document, which is on file in the office of the Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

The declaration and application proposes (a) the issuance by Superior to American of Common stock in exchange for the common stock of Northern, (b) the merger of Northern into Superior, and (c) the issuance of certain securities for cash to be applied by Superior in discharge of its presently outstanding debt and preferred stock.

Superior requests an order, pursuant to paragraph (a) (5) of Rule U-50, exempting the proposed issuance and sale of securities from the competitive bidding requirements of paragraphs (b) and (c) of Rule U-50 and seeks to have its application for such exemption acted upon prior to its application for exemption of the proposed sale of the bonds and debentures from the requirements of section 6 (a) pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Act.

The merger of Northern into Superior and the financing of the merged company has, according to the filing, been expressly authorized by the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin (the State in which Superior and Northern are organized and doing business) and would be finally consummated through the series of steps set forth below:

(1) American would contribute to the capital of Northern the principal of $794,000 of open account indebtedness of Northern to American, which contribution would be credited by Northern to its capital surplus as of December 31, 1942;

(2) As of December 31, 1942, Northern would, by appropriations from surplus, increase its depreciation reserve to $148,867.39, such amount being calculated by using the rates prescribed in an order of the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin certifying depreciation rates for Northern under a 4% compound-interest method;

(3) Northern would eliminate a deficit in earned surplus as of December 31, 1942, by a charge to the capital surplus to be created in the manner referred to in (1) above;

(4) American, as the owner of all of the issued and outstanding stock of Northern, consisting of 250 shares of $100 par value common stock, except 3 shares held by directors, which 3 shares American has an option to purchase, would transfer or cause to be transferred to Superior all of the stock of Northern in exchange for 5,000 shares of the $100 par value common stock of Superior;

(5) Northern would then be merged into Superior and the latter would issue and sell (a) $2,500,000 principal amount of first mortgage bonds, 3⅜% Series due 1973, (b) $1,000,000 principal amount of 4% Sinking Fund Debentures due 1958, such debentures to be retired over the life thereof through the operation of a sinking fund created for their retirement, and (c) 1,000 shares of $100 par value common stock. Such bonds and debentures would be sold privately to Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, at approximately the principal amount, and the 1,000 shares of common stock would be sold privately to American at par;

(6) Superior would apply the proceeds from the sale of such bonds, debentures and common stock to (a) the prepayment of the principal of, and accrued interest on, its presently outstanding $1,600,000 principal amount of notes held by Guaranty Trust Company of New York, (b) the payment of the principal of, and accrued interest on, $1,636,000 open account indebtedness of Superior to American and evidenced by an overdue note, (c) the payment of the redemption price of par and accrued dividends, plus a premium of $5 a share, on the shares of Superior's presently outstanding $100 par value 7% preferred stock held by the public, and (d) the payment to American of $172,926.50 asserted to be the cost to American of 1,663 shares of Superior's 7% preferred stock now held by American, plus accrued dividends thereon.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matters, and that said declaration and applications shall not become effective or be granted except pursuant to further order of the Commission.

It is ordered, That a hearing on said declaration and application under the applicable provisions of said Act and rules of the Commission thereunder be held on March 17th, 1943, at 10:00 A. M., E. W. T., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing, cause shall be shown why such declaration shall become effective and such application be granted. Notice is hereby given of said hearing to American Power & Light Company, Superior Water, Light and Power Company, Northern Power Company and to all interested persons, said notice to be given to said declarants and applicants by registered mail and to all other interested persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, Without limiting the scope of issues presented by said declaration and application, otherwise to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether the proposed issuance and sale of the common stock, bonds and debentures are solely for the purpose of financing the business of Superior;

(2) Whether the proposed issuance and sale of common stock, bonds and debentures have been expressly authorized by the State Commission of the State in which Superior is organized and doing business;

(3) Whether it is appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers to impose any terms or conditions in any order granting an exemption of the issue and sale by Superior of common stock, bonds and debentures from the provisions of section 6 (a) of the Act;

(4) Whether it is appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers that the proposed issue or sale of the bonds and debentures be exempted from the requirements of paragraphs (b) and (c) of Rule U-50; and, if so, whether such exemption should be granted prior to the entry of any orders with respect to such bonds and debentures under section 6 (b) or any other applicable section of the Act;

(5) Whether the proposed redemption of securities of Superior is in conformance with the applicable sections of the Act and whether it is necessary to enter any orders pursuant to section 12 (c) or section 12 (f) of the Act with respect to such transactions;

(6) Whether the proposed capital contribution by American to Northern is in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers;

(7) Whether the acquisition by Superior of the common stock of Northern and the acquisition by American of additional common stock of Superior will be in conformance with the applicable standards of section 10;

(8) The propriety of the proposed accounting treatment of the transactions on the books of Superior and American;

(9) Whether in any other respect the terms and conditions of the proposed transactions are detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers, or will tend to circumvent the provisions of the Act, or the rules, regulations, or orders thereunder; and the extent to which terms and conditions should be imposed to insure adequate protection of such interests in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Act.

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before March 12, 1943, his request or application therefor as provided by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That the first issue to be considered at the hearing herein ordered is issue (4) relative to competitive bidding.

By the Commission.

The President

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9309

CONTROLLING GOVERNMENT REQUESTS FOR THE SELECTIVE SERVICE DEFERMENT OF FEDERAL EMPLOYEES

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and statutes (including the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended) as President of the United States, and in order to further the prosecution of the war by conserving and most effectively utilizing manpower and by systematizing the handling of necessary selective service occupational deferment of employees in the Executive branch of the Federal Government, it is ordered as follows:

I. LIMITATIONS ON RIGHT TO REQUEST OCCUPATIONAL DEFERMENT

1. No agency shall request the selective service deferment of any employee on occupational grounds except in accordance with the provisions of this Order. No employee shall initiate a request for his own deferment on occupational grounds or advocate the making of such a request on his own behalf.

2. No such request shall be made unless it is determined, in the manner herein provided, that the employee's civilian services are essential in that the loss thereof would substantially impair activities essential to the war effort (including necessary supporting activities and the maintenance of the national health, safety, and interest). In determining whether such an employee's services are thus essential, consideration shall be given to all relevant factors, including the actual effectiveness of the employee, the difficulty of replacing him, his age, his qualifications, his assignment to duties outside the continental United States and the length of his service in the position he occupies or in positions with comparable duties.

3. No such request shall be made for a period longer than is deemed to be absolutely necessary nor for a period of more than six months.

II. ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMITTEES

1. The Chairman of the War Manpower Commission (hereinafter referred to as the Chairman) shall designate with the approval of the President a chairman and two members of a War Manpower Commission committee to be known as the Review Committee on Deferment of Government Employees (hereinafter referred to as the Review Committee). Such Committee shall be subject to the supervision and direction of the Chairman.

2. The head of each agency shall designate a Committee on Deferment of Government Employees (hereinafter referred to as an Agency Committee), of three to five members possessing a comprehensive view of the needs of the agency. For the purposes of this Order the Government of the District of Columbia shall be deemed to be an agency. Each Agency Committee shall be subject to the supervision and direction of the head of the agency.

3. When authorized by the Review Committee, the head of any agency may also designate regional committees whenever the number and geographical distribution of the personnel of the agency make such action desirable. Within their respective areas such regional committees shall have the authority and responsibility of an Agency Committee; and as used in this Order the term "Agency Committee" shall include a regional committee established under this section.

III. DESIGNATION OF KEY POSITIONS

1. Each Agency Committee, with the approval of the head of the agency, shall submit to the Review Committee for its approval a list of those positions in the agency deemed necessary to carry out activities essential to the war effort or to necessary supporting activities. All such positions approved by the Review Committee shall be known as "key positions." The Review Committee, either on its own motion or upon recommendation made by the Agency Committee and approved by the head of the agency, may revise the list of key positions of that agency as conditions warrant.

2. Key positions shall be limited to positions involving serious difficulty of replacement because a scarcity of available qualified personnel exists and because any incumbent of the position must have had, in order to perform the duties effectively, an extended period of training or specialized experience. The designation of key positions shall be further governed by the following criteria:

a. The work is of a responsible administrative, executive, or supervisory character in activities directly related to the war effort, or to the essential maintenance of orderly government (including the maintenance of the health, morale, and security of the nation); or

b. The work is a part of the actual production, transportation, or handling of war materials, equipment, or commodities, or of the maintenance or operation of war equipment, or of the transportation of war personnel; or

c. The work is of a professional, semi-professional, or highly specialized character, requiring extended training, in an occupation where a known scarcity of manpower exists; or

d. The work usually requires male employees because of peculiar circumstances or requisite physical abilities, including the occupations of seamen, investigatory agents, forest rangers, border patrolmen, prison guards, and other comparable occupations wherein replacement within necessary age limits is difficult.

IV. REQUESTS FOR DEFERMENT

1. In accordance with the provisions of this Order, and subject to the limitations set forth in Part I hereof, an Agency Committee may, in cases not covered by the Replacement Schedule procedure set forth in paragraph 5 of this Part, prepare and submit to the appropriate local selective service board a request for the occupational deferment of—

a. Any employee of the agency who occupies a key position and whose civilian services are essential within the meaning of paragraph 2 of Part I hereof.

b. Any employee of the agency not occupying a key position whose civilian services are essential within the meaning of paragraph 2 of Part I hereof, if unusual and special circumstances, such as the employee's unique fitness for the work or unique familiarity with a specific project in the course of completion make such deferment request necessary. No request for deferment shall be made under this subparagraph except with the prior specific approval of the Review Committee.

2. Subject to the conditions set forth in this Order, the Agency Committees shall make all requests for selective service occupational deferment of employees of their respective agencies, and shall prepare and submit such requests to local selective service boards in accordance with selective service regulations.

3. In preparing the prescribed selective service form for submitting a request for occupational deferment to the local selective service board, the Agency Committee shall enter on such form the words "Government Request," and shall also indicate thereon the name of the agency and the subordinate part thereof in which the registrant is employed.

4. In any case in which a Government request for deferment is denied by a local selective service board, the Agency Committee concerned shall at once file an appeal from such action. The appeal shall stay the induction of the employee affected until final decision in the case.

5. The Chairman, upon his own motion or upon recommendation made by an Agency Committee and approved by the head of the agency, shall determine, after consultation with the Review Committee, those manufacturing, servicing, operating, and transporting activities of an agency or part thereof with respect to which deferment problems can be best met through use of manning tables and replacement schedules. He shall thereupon direct the head of the agency concerned to prepare and use, with respect to those activities or organizations, manning tables and replacement schedules, in accordance with the regulations prescribed by the Chairman. Such agency or part thereof shall thereafter be exempt from the provisions of Part III of this Order (providing for the designation of key positions) and the provisions of this Order governing the making of requests for deferment of employees to the extent and in the respects provided in the regulations of the Chairman.

V. VOLUNTARY ENTRANCE INTO ARMED FORCES

1. Unless an Agency Committee has requested or would request deferment of an employee under this Order, the agency, upon his request, shall grant him a release to enter the armed forces voluntarily in a commissioned or enlisted status.

2. If an Agency Committee has requested or would request deferment of an employee under this Order, the agency shall deny him such a release unless it is determined that:

a. The employee is likely to be assigned to active combat service; or

b. The employee's skills and ability probably will be utilized equally or more effectively in the armed forces.

3. In the case of an employee who is in a deferred classification, or who is not subject to induction, for reasons unrelated to his occupation, such a release shall be granted or denied without regard to such reasons, in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Part.

4. When an Agency Committee denies release of an employee, such action shall upon his request be reviewed by the Review Committee. The Agency Committee shall be notified of the final decision, and if the denial is affirmed, such committee shall immediately notify the employee's local selective service board.

VI. DEPENDENCY—OCCUPATIONAL RECLASSIFICATION

Agency Committees may make requests for the selective service reclassification from Class III-A to Class III-B of employees other than those engaged in occupations designated by the Chairman as non-deferable. Such requests shall be made in accordance with standards, to be prescribed by the Chairman, for determining the relationship of employees' activities to the war effort, which standards shall conform, as nearly as may be, to the standards applicable to such reclassification in the case of persons not in the Federal service.

VII. GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. Under regulations to be prescribed by the Chairman, the Agency Committee in each agency shall supervise the preparation and maintenance, on a current basis, of adequate statistics on the selective service status of its male employees, and on related matters, which shall be summarized and reported to the Review Committee at periodic intervals.

2. Heads of agencies shall issue special instructions to insure that an employee will immediately report through proper channels any change in his selective service status or the receipt of notice to report for induction.

3. Each agency shall plan and carry out an orderly program of replacement and training occasioned by the entry or prospective entry of employees into the armed forces, on the basis of the information provided for in paragraph 1 of this Part of this Order.

4. The Chairman shall from time to time make recommendations to the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, based on information and experience acquired in the administration of this Order, for the effective utilization of the services of Government employees with respect to the conservation of manpower.

5. Under regulations to be prescribed by the Chairman, the several agencies shall submit to the Review Committee periodic reports concerning all action taken under this Order. The Review Committee shall currently review such reports and shall consult with Agency Committees with respect to any departures from this Order. The Review Committee may also designate representatives to attend meetings of Agency Committees. Such representatives shall at all times have full access to all records of such Committees.

6. The Chairman shall report to the President, at intervals of not more than three months, with respect to the administration of this Order and shall make recommendations to the President with respect to such modifications of this Order as he may deem advisable.

7. The Chairman may suspend the authority of any Agency Committee to submit requests for deferment if the Agency Committee submits requests in violation of this Order.

8. A request for deferment of an employee may be cancelled by the Review Committee if it determines that the request was made in violation of this Order.

9. The Chairman shall furnish copies of this Order to all local selective service boards.

10. The Chairman may delegate any of his duties and powers under this Order to any officer or employee of the War Manpower Commission and may utilize the services of any Federal officer, employee, or agency.

11. The Chairman shall prescribe such regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Order, including such additional criteria for the designation of key positions as he may deem necessary.

(m) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order or wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or agency of the United States may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35a of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(n) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may petition in writing (in triplicate) for relief to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final.

(o) Communications to Department of Agriculture. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Ref.: FD–29.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Director General for Operations

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

UNIFORM METHOD OF APPLICATION AND EXTENSION OF PREFERENCE RATINGS

§ 944.23 Priorities Regulation 3—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this regulation:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly or product of any kind.

(3) "Assignment" of a preference rating means the granting to any person, by order or certificate issued by or under the authority of the Director General for Operations, of the right to use such rating.

(4) "Application" of a preference rating means the use of the rating by the person to whom it is initially assigned by or under the authority of the Director General for Operations, and includes the initial issuance by any governmental agency, under authority of the Director General for Operations, of a preference rating certificate rating a delivery to be made directly to such agency.

(5) "Extension" of a preference rating means the use of the rating by any person to whom it is applied or extended by another person.

(b) General provisions. (1) Except to the extent otherwise provided in Priorities Regulation No. 11 (§ 944.32) with respect to persons required or permitted to qualify under the production requirements plan, any person may apply a preference rating assigned to him by any preference rating certificate or preference rating order issued to him in his name or as one of a class, and any person may extend any rating which has been applied or extended to deliveries to be made by him, subject to the provisions of this regulation.

(2) A preference rating may be applied by the person to whom it is assigned only to the specific quantities and kinds of material authorized, or to the minimum required amounts of material when no specific quantities are authorized. Any rating which has been applied or extended by others to deliveries to be made by a person may, subject to the provisions of this regulation, be extended by such person in order to obtain not more than the same amount and kind of material (except as specified in paragraph (c) (3) of this regulation) which he has delivered or is required to deliver pursuant to such rating.

(3) No person shall duplicate, in whole or in part, purchase orders which he has placed with one or more suppliers for delivery of material to which he has applied or extended a rating, in such manner that the amount of the material ordered exceeds the amount to which he is authorized to apply or extend the rating, even though he intends to cancel or reduce his purchase orders to the authorized amount prior to completion of delivery.

(c) Extension of ratings. The following provisions shall be applicable to all extensions of preference ratings notwithstanding any inconsistent provisions of the preference rating certificate or preference rating order assigning the rating, except to the extent otherwise provided in Priorities Regulation No. 11 (§ 944.32) with respect to persons required or permitted to qualify under the production requirements plan. No preference rating may be extended to the delivery of any material except:

(1) Material which will itself be delivered by the person extending the rating on a delivery bearing the rating which is being extended, or which will be physically incorporated into material to be so delivered, including the portion of such material normally consumed or converted into scrap or byproducts in the course of processing; or

(2) Material which is required to replace in inventory material so delivered or incorporated. Material shall not be deemed to be required if the delivery can be made and a practicable working minimum inventory of such material still retained; and if, in making delivery, the inventory is reduced below such minimum, the rating may be extended to replace such material only to the extent necessary to restore the inventory to such minimum: Provided, however, That the material ordered for replacement must be substantially the same as the material delivered or incorporated in the material delivered, subject only to minor variations in size, shape or design or substitutions of less scarce materials, which in any case do not substantially alter the purpose for which the same is to be used; or

(3) Maintenance, repair and operating supplies, but only if ordered for March 31, 1943, or prior delivery, and only subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(i) The amount of maintenance, repair and operating supplies obtained by any person under this regulation and under any preference rating ("P") order (except P-100) assigning a rating to such person shall not, in the aggregate, exceed during any period the limit, if any, specified in such preference rating order for use of the rating thereby assigned;

(ii) The cost of all maintenance, repair and operating supplies obtained by any other person by extension of a rating shall not exceed in any month ten percent of the cost of materials described in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph (c) to which the same grade of rating is extended during the same month (or, if such materials are obtained without preference rating assistance, to which the same grade of rating could be extended, during such month if priorities assistance were needed);

(iii) The cost of maintenance, repair and operating supplies consisting of metals in any of the forms listed on the Metals List attached to Priorities Regulation No. 11 (§ 944.32) to which the rating is extended in any month shall not in any event exceed two and one-half percent of the cost of materials described in said subparagraphs (1) and (2) to which the same grade of rating is extended during the same month (or, if such materials are obtained without preference rating assistance, to which the same grade of rating could be extended during such month if priorities assistance were needed);

(iv) The term "maintenance, repair and operating supplies" as used in this subparagraph (3) shall include only those supplies which are actually required for directly processing the material described in subparagraph (1) or (2) above of this paragraph (c) or for maintenance or repair of production machinery and equipment used in such processing. It does not include any of the following regardless of whether normally carried as operating supplies according to established accounting practices:

(a) Materials for maintenance or repair of buildings.

(b) Fabricated containers (in knockdown or set-up forms, whether assembled or unassembled), required for packaging products to be shipped or delivered.

(c) Printed matter, stationery and office supplies.

(d) Paper, paperboard and products manufactured therefrom; molded pulp products.

(e) Fuel or electric power.

(f) Office machinery or office equipment.

(g) Clothing, shoes or other wearing apparel, if made of leather or textiles, except that the following types may be included in operating supplies when specially designed and used to furnish protection against specific occupational hazards (other than weather):

(1) Asbestos clothing.

(2) Safety clothing impregnated or coated for the purpose of making the same resistant against fire, acids, other chemicals or abrasives.

(3) Safety industrial rubber gloves and hoods and lineman's rubber gloves and sleeves.

(4) Gauntlet type welders' leather gloves and mittens, and electricians' leather protector or cover gloves.

(5) Other safety leather gloves or mittens, but only if steel stitched or steel reinforced.

(6) Safety industrial leather clothing other than gloves or mittens.

(7) Metal mesh gloves, aprons and sleeves.

(8) Plastic and fibre safety helmets.

(h) Materials for plant expansion or plant construction.

(v) In cases where the material to be processed is furnished by the customer, the cost thereof to the customer shall, for the purposes of this paragraph (c) (3), be taken instead of cost to the processor and the month in which the processing order is placed shall be taken in lieu of the month in which the material to be processed is ordered.

(vi) Maintenance, repair and operating supplies on orders calling for delivery after March 31, 1943, should be procured as provided in CMP Regulation No. 5.

A person may not extend a rating to any materials in excess of the quantities specified in this paragraph (c) nor to materials for plant improvement, expansion or construction, to machine tools or other capital equipment, to business machines whether purchased or leased, or to maintenance, repair or operating supplies other than those specified above in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph (c).

(d) Method of application or extension. (1) Any person authorized to apply or extend preference ratings may do so:

(i) On a written contract or purchase order, by endorsing on, or attaching to, each contract or purchase order placed by him to which the rating is to be applied or extended, a certification in substantially the following form signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

CERTIFICATION

The undersigned purchaser hereby represents to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is entitled to apply or extend the preference ratings indicated opposite the items shown on this purchase order, and that such application or extension is in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 3 as amended, with the terms of which the undersigned is familiar.

---------- ----------
(Name of Purchaser and PRP Certificate No. if Purchaser is a PRP Unit) (Address)

By ---------- ----------
(Signature and Title of Duly Authorized Officer) (Date)

(ii) On a purchase order placed by telegraph, by including in the telegram the following abbreviated certification: "Ratings certified". The requirements for manual signature or authorization under Priorities Regulation No. 7 (§ 944.27) will be satisfied in such case if the copy of the outgoing telegram retained by the person placing the order is signed or authorized in the manner provided in that regulation.

(iii) On a purchase order placed by telephone and requiring shipment within seven days, by stating to the supplier at the time of placing the order the substance of the certification set forth in subdivision (i) of this paragraph (d) (1): provided, however, in such case, that the person making the statement is an official duly authorized to make such certification, and the person making the statement furnishes to the supplier within fifteen days after placing the purchase order confirmation in writing describing the material ordered and bearing a certification of such preference rating substantially in the form prescribed by subdivision (i) of this paragraph (d) (1). No preference rating received by telephone shall be extended by the supplier to replace in inventory any material delivered, until receipt by the supplier of the written confirmation herein required. On or before the twentieth day of each month, any supplier who has received in the prior month a preference rating applied or extended by telephone shall notify the War Production Board, Compliance Division, of any case in which a purchaser has failed to furnish to him the written certification when due.

(iv) The person receiving the certification and rating shall be entitled to rely on such representation, unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false. Each person applying or extending a rating must maintain at his regular place of business all documents, including purchase orders and preference rating orders and certificates, upon which he relies as entitling him to apply or extend such rating, segregated and available for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, or, filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated and made available for such inspection. In addition thereto, each person applying or extending a rating shall execute and file with the War Production Board all reports and questionnaires required by the applicable preference rating certificate or preference rating order and such other reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

(2) Such certification may be used in lieu of any other form of certification required by the terms of any regulation, preference rating order or preference rating certificate (including, without limitation, the instructions accompanying Forms PD-1A, PD-3A and PD-25A) as a means of applying or extending a preference rating and in lieu of furnishing any copy of any preference rating order required thereby; except that the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 9 (§ 944.30) with respect to the method of applying (but not extending) preference ratings covering certain types of exports must be complied with when ratings are applied pursuant to that regulation.

(3) Notwithstanding the requirements of any applicable preference rating order or certificate,

(i) A person may defer extending any rating for a period of not more than three months after he becomes entitled to extend the same;

(ii) Ratings of the same grade assigned by different preference rating certificates or orders may be combined and extended to a single delivery; and

(iii) Ratings of different grades, whether assigned by the same or different preference rating certificates or orders, may be extended to deliveries under a single purchase order provided the amount of each material to which a particular grade of rating is extended is shown either as a separate item, or on a percentage basis where the material involved is of such type and in such quantities that the supplier can readily determine, from percentage figures alone, the exact effect of the extension of the rating on his production and delivery schedule. To the extent necessary to avoid production or delivery of material in quantities smaller than the minimum commercially practicable, items to which ratings of different grades might be extended may be combined and the rating of the lowest grade extended to the total production or delivery.

(4) In addition to complying with the foregoing requirements of this paragraph (d), any person applying or extending a preference rating shall include on his purchase order or contract such information (except designation of the number or serial number of the preference rating certificate or preference rating order assigning the rating) as may be required by the terms of any applicable order of the Director General for Operations and which the person placing the purchase order is able to furnish.

(e) Applicability of other restrictions. Except as expressly otherwise provided in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this regulation, the application or extension of any rating shall be subject to any applicable restrictions contained in any order of the Director General for Operations assigning the preference rating in question or regulating transactions in the material involved, including, without limitation, restrictions as to the kind and amount of material to which preference ratings may be applied or extended, requirements of countersignature or other written approval of particular transactions, and restrictions on the use of material.

(f) Effect on existing certificates and orders. All existing forms of preference rating certificates issued by or under authority of the Director of Priorities, the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations are continued in full force and effect, and additional certificates on such forms may continue to be issued by the persons now or hereafter authorized to issue the same until such authority is revoked or amended, subject to the provisions of this and other regulations of the Director General for Operations. All certificates and all existing orders of the Director of Priorities, the Director of Industry Operations and the Director General for Operations are to be deemed amended by this regulation only where and to the extent that the provisions of this regulation indicate that it is to control.

Issued this 9th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 987—COBALT

[General Preference Order M-39 as Amended March 9, 1943]

Section 987.1 General Preference Order M-39 is hereby amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of cobalt for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 987.1 General Preference Order M-39—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Cobalt" means and includes:

(i) Ores, concentrates, and crudes, including beneficiated or treated forms containing cobalt (commercially recognized).

(ii) Cobalt metal, cobalt oxide, and other primary chemical compounds which result from the processing of cobalt ores, concentrates, crudes or residues; but not including products or by-products from which cobalt is not commercially recoverable.

(iii) All scrap or secondary material containing commercially recoverable cobalt as defined in (i) and (ii) above, excluding cobalt bearing iron and steel scrap.

(b) Refining ores. The Director General for Operations from time to time may direct the purposes for which any of the forms of cobalt specified in paragraph (a) (1) (i) above shall be refined or otherwise processed.

(c) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) Except as permitted in paragraph (c) (2), no person shall deliver or accept delivery of cobalt without the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations. The Director General for Operations will from time to time allocate the supply of cobalt and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to particular persons or for particular uses shall be made or withheld. Such allocations and directions may be made without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts or purchase orders. The Director General for Operations may also, in his discretion, require any person seeking to place a purchase order for cobalt to place the order with one or more particular suppliers.

(2) Permissible deliveries. Until further order or in the absence of a contrary direction by the Director General for Operations, the following transactions are permitted without specific authorization by the Director General for Operations:

(i) Cobalt in any form may be delivered by any person to the Metals Reserve Company or to any other corporation organized under section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended (15 U.S.C., section 606 (b)), or to any duly authorized agent of any such corporation.

(ii) Deliveries of cobalt in any form may be made and accepted by any person in quantities of 25 pounds or less contained cobalt, provided that the total quantity acquired by any person pursuant to this subparagraph, in any calendar month from all sources of supply, shall be limited to 25 pounds contained cobalt.

(d) Reports and applications. (1) No person shall be entitled to receive an allocation in accordance with paragraph (c) (1) above unless, not later than the 20th day of the month next preceding the month in which delivery is scheduled, he shall have filed with the War Production Board reports on Forms PD-581 and PD-582 as revised. Failure of any person to file a report in the manner and on the date required by this subparagraph may be construed as notice to the Director General for Operations and to all suppliers of cobalt that such person does not desire an allocation of cobalt during the succeeding month.

(2) Any person who on the first day of a calendar month has in his possession or under his control a quantity of cobalt in any of the forms specified in paragraph (a) above in excess of 100 pounds (contained cobalt) shall file a report with the War Production Board on Form PD-581 on or before the 20th day of such month, whether or not such person applies for an allocation of cobalt for delivery during the succeeding month.

(3) Each refiner or processor of cobalt ores, concentrates or crudes in any of the forms specified in paragraph (a) (1) (i) above shall on or before the 20th day of each month file with the War Production Board on Form PD-581 his production schedule for the succeeding month.

(e) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priorities control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Communications to War Production Board. All reports and applications required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Steel Division, Ferro-Alloys Branch, Washington, D. C., Reference: M-39.

Issued this 9th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

§ 1364.23 Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. In an appropriate situation, where a petition for amendment or for adjustment or exception requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1364.26 Evasion. (a) The price limitations set forth in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt of, or relating to, dressed hogs or wholesale pork cuts alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding: Provided, That a payment by a buyer to a broker of not to exceed $0.125 per cwt. in excess of the maximum prices fixed by this regulation for services rendered by the broker to the buyer in connection with a sale of wholesale pork cuts shall not be construed as an evasion of such price limitation with the seller and if the total compensation received by the broker from both buyer and seller in connection with the sale does not exceed $0.125 per cwt.: Provided further, That a payment by a buyer to a seller for icing services performed by the seller after March 1, 1943, and before delivery of dressed hogs or wholesale pork cuts to a railroad whose charges are paid directly to such railroad by the buyer shall not be construed as an evasion of such price limitations if the charge for such icing services is no higher than the cost actually incurred by the seller in performing such services and no higher than the charge which could lawfully have been made by the railroad if such services had been performed by the railroad.

(b) Specifically, but not exclusively, the following practices are prohibited:

(1) Falsely or incorrectly grading or invoicing dressed hogs or wholesale pork cuts;

(2) Selling or invoicing wholesale pork cuts to buyers other than bona fide purveyors of meals at the prices established for sales by hotel supply houses;

(3) Offering, selling or delivering dressed hogs or any wholesale pork cuts on condition that the purchaser is required to purchase some other wholesale pork cut or other commodity;

(4) Selling or transferring title to hogs at a lower price than was paid for such hogs and re-purchasing, purchasing or receiving title to dressed hogs or wholesale pork cuts derived from the hogs so purchased after they have been slaughtered;

(5) Charging, billing or receiving any consideration for or in connection with any service for which specific allowance has not been provided in this regulation;

(6) So curing wholesale pork cuts as to increase their cured weight, before draining and smoking beyond 110% of green weight;

(7) Selling wholesale pork cuts not referred to in Appendix A (§ 1364.35) and not customarily sold by the same seller prior to March 23, 1942.

(11) "Shipping container" means a sealed box or sealed barrel or a sack or burlap wrapping which becomes the property of the buyer upon delivery of the wholesale pork cuts therein contained, or a returnable container of solid wood or metal which must be of a type and size which the seller has customarily used in making delivery of wholesale pork cuts and must be carried into the buyer's place of business in making delivery of products packed therein.

(12) "Certified dressed hog processor" means any person who does not sell pork at retail except to his own employees or any person who obtained more than half of his pork supply during the year 1941 by cutting up dressed hogs or hog carcasses: Provided, That no person may qualify as a certified dressed hog processor until he has (a) filed with a district, state or regional office of the Office of Price Administration an affidavit that he does not sell pork at retail except to his own employees or that he obtained more than half of his pork supply during the year 1941 by cutting up dressed hogs and hog carcasses, and (b) secured from such field office of the Office of Price Administration an endorsement, written on a duplicate copy of such affidavit, acknowledging that he has filed such an affidavit. (This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.)

AIRCRAFT VENEER

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the DIVISION of the Federal Register.*

AUTHORITY: §§ 1384.151 to 1384.162, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1384.151 Sales of aircraft veneer at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On and after March 13, 1943, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any aircraft veneer at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, or attempt to do any of these things. The maximum f. o. b. mill prices are set out in Appendices A and B (§§ 1384.161 and 1384.162).

(b) If aircraft veneer has been received before March 13, 1943, by a carrier, other than one owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to a buyer, that shipment is not subject to the terms of this regulation. It remains subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

§ 1384.152 To what products, transactions, and persons this regulation applies—(a) Products and transactions covered by the regulation. This regulation covers, under the name "aircraft veneer," all sales of rotary cut, half round and sliced yellow poplar, sweet gum, and water tupelo veneer which satisfies the Army-Navy specifications (AN–NN–P–511a or AN–NN–B–511b) for aircraft grade veneer.

(b) Persons covered by this regulation. Any person who sells or purchases (in the course of trade or business) aircraft veneer is subject to this regulation. The term "person" includes: an individual, corporation, or any other organized groups; their legal successors or representatives; the United States, or any government, or any of its political subdivisions; or any agency of the foregoing.

§ 1384.153 Maximum prices—(a) In general. The maximum prices for standard width specifications of aircraft veneer are set out in the price tables in Appendices A and B (§§ 1384.161 and 1384.162).

(b) Special width specifications. Aircraft veneer in width specifications not listed in Appendices A and B is nevertheless subject to this regulation. The maximum price for this veneer will be established upon application by letter from the seller to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. The letter should contain a complete description of the specification and the ceiling price requested. No deliveries of this veneer can be made until the seller is notified of the maximum price which is established. Notification will be made by letter or telegram.

(c) Sales of more than one class of veneer. Where two or more classes of aircraft veneer are sold together, each class must be invoiced separately, and the price for each class cannot exceed the applicable maximum price.

§ 1384.154 Additions to maximum prices for transportation and crating. (a) The seller may add to the maximum f. o. b. mill prices (set out in Appendices A and B) any charge or expense for transportation from the mill paid or incurred by the seller.

(b) The seller may add to the maximum prices the following charges for crating veneer sold for export shipment:

	Per 1,000 surface feet
For veneer 1/32 of an inch or thinner	$1.00
For veneer thicker than 1/32 of an inch	1.50

(b) Transportation charges. In delivered sales, the invoice must contain the:

(1) Point of origin of the shipment;
(2) Destination;
(3) Amount added for transportation.

(c) Crating addition. Any charge made for crating veneer sold for export shipment must be shown separately on the invoice.

§ 1384.156 Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

(b) Specific prohibited practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Getting the effect of a higher price by changing credit practices or cash discounts from what they were on October 1, 1941. This includes reducing the cash discount period, decreasing credit periods, or making greater charges for extension of credit. In any case, on sales made through the Office of the Chief of Engineers, War Department, terms of 30 days net may be used. In all cases, if the sale is on cash terms, the maximum price must be reduced by the same amount as the sale price would have been reduced for similar cash terms on October 1, 1941. For example, if the maximum price without cash discount is $20.00, and if in sales of this item on October 1, 1941, to purchasers of a certain class the seller reduced sales prices 2 percent for cash within ten days, the ceiling cash price in sales to purchasers of this class is $19.60. For purposes of this paragraph, no discount over 2 percent is considered a cash discount.

(2) Refusing to sell on an f. o. b. mill basis and insisting on selling on a delivered basis. The purchaser must be given the option of making his own transportation arrangements.

(3) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount, the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(c) Service commissions. It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive or pay a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling or locating veneer, or for any related service (such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of veneer, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer of veneer which is higher than the maximum price of the veneer. For purposes of this regulation, a commission is any service charge or payment which is figured either directly or indirectly on the basis of the quantity, price or value of the veneer in connection with which the service is performed.

(d) Adjustable pricing. A price may not be made adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after delivery of the veneer has been completed. But the price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

§ 1384.157 Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment—(a) Government contracts. (1) The term "government contracts" is here used to include any contract with the United States or any of its agencies, or with the government or any governmental agency of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States". It also includes any subcontract under this kind of contract.

(2) Any person who has made or intends to make a "government contract" and who thinks that a maximum price established in this regulation is impeding or threatens to impede production of aircraft veneer which is essential to the war program and which is or will be the subject of the contract, may file an application for adjustment in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6 [1], issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 [2], issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1384.158 Records and reports—(a) Records. All sellers must keep records which will show a complete description of the items of veneer sold, the name and address of the buyer, the date of the sale and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the name and address of the seller. These records must be kept for all purchases and sales of aircraft veneer. They must be kept for two years, for inspection by the Office of Price Administration. Any records which the Office of Price Administration later requires must also be kept.

(b) Reports. Any reports that the Office of Price Administration has required in the past, or requires from time to time, must be submitted.

§ 1384.159 Enforcement and licensing. (a) Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this regulation or of any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration are urged to communicate with the nearest field, state, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

(c) War procurement agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation. "War procurement agencies" include the War Department, the Navy Department, the United States Maritime Commission and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies.

(d) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 18 (§ 1305.22) licensing all persons, except mills, manufacturers or producers, selling lumber, lumber products or building materials, are applicable to every person selling aircraft veneer for which maximum prices are established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 338. This order, in brief, provides that a license is necessary, except for mills, manufacturers or producers, to make sales under this regulation. A license is automatically granted to all sellers making these sales. It is not necessary to apply specially for the license, but a registration may later be required. The Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and Supplementary Order 18 tell the circumstances under which licenses may be suspended. The licenses cannot be transferred.

§ 1384.160 Relation to other regulations—(a) General Maximum Price Regulation. Any sale or delivery covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 338 is not subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.[3]

(b) Maximum Export Price Regulation. The maximum price for export sales of aircraft veneer is governed by the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[4]

§ 1384.161 Appendix A: Maximum prices for sliced aircraft veneer—(a) Classes of sliced aircraft veneer. The following are the classes of sliced aircraft veneer for purposes of this regulation:

Class 1: Flitches 10' to 16' (inclusive) in length, with at least one 100% aircraft grade cutting 7'2" to 8'2" (inclusive) in length and full width of the flitch.

Class 2: Flitches of random length 8' to 16' (inclusive)—100% aircraft grade.

Class 3: Flitches which may be longer than lengths specified by purchaser (from a minimum of 6'2") but which are billed at purchaser's specified length, plus an overlength of 10%. For example: If the order called for 98" length and if 120" length was shipped, the purchaser would be billed for a length of 108" (98" plus 10"). The flitches must have a 100% aircraft grade cutting equal in length to the purchaser's specified length and full width of the flitch.

Class 4: Flitches cut to exact length specified by purchaser, lengths 5'2" to 8'2" (inclusive)—100% aircraft grade.

Class 5: Flitches cut to exact length specified by purchaser, lengths 8'2¼" to 10'2" (inclusive)—100% aircraft grade.

Class 6: Flitches cut to exact length specified by purchaser, lengths 10'2¼" to 12'2" (inclusive)—100% aircraft grade.

Class 7: Flitches cut to exact length specified by purchaser, lengths 12'2¼" to 14'2" (inclusive)—100% aircraft grade.

Class 8: Flitches cut to exact length specified by purchaser, lengths 14' 2¼" to 16'2" (inclusive)—100% aircraft grade.

(b) Maximum prices for sliced aircraft veneer. The maximum f. o. b. mill prices for 1000 surface feet sliced aircraft veneer are set out in the tables that follow. These prices are for veneer with a minimum width of 6 inches. If the purchaser is willing to take ten percent or less in widths from 4½ to 5¾ inches, the maximum price for veneer in these narrow widths is ten percent less than the ceiling prices set out in the tables.

§ 1384.162 Appendix B: Maximum prices for rotary cut and half round aircraft veneer—(a) Classes of rotary cut and half round aircraft veneer. The following are the classes of rotary cut and half round aircraft veneer for purposes of this regulation.

Class A: Stock is to be cut to exact length up to and including 56" as specified by the purchaser. Widths are to be random, with a minimum width of 6" and a maximum width of 36", and the stock is to contain all of the wide sheets of aircraft quality veneer produced by the log.

Class B: Same specifications as Class A except lengths are to be from 56¼" to 74" (inclusive), as specified by purchaser.

Class C: Same specifications as Class A except lengths are to be from 74¼" to 86" (inclusive), as specified by purchaser.

Class D: Same specifications as Class A except lengths are to be from 86¼" to 98" (inclusive), as specified by purchaser.

Class E: Same specifications as Class A except lengths are to be from 98¼" to 110" (inclusive), as specified by purchaser.

Class F: Same specifications as Class A except lengths are to be from 110¼" to 125" (inclusive), as specified by purchaser.

Class AA: Same specifications as Class A except widths are to be from 12" to 38" (inclusive), and these widths may be built up from 2, 3, or 4 equal width part pieces, the minimum width of which shall be 6". The part pieces must measure in width 1" more for each joint than the specified dimension width.

Class BB: Same specifications as Class B except widths are to be from 12" to 38" (inclusive), and these widths may be built up from 2, 3, or 4 equal width part pieces, the minimum width of which shall be 6". The part pieces must measure in width 1" more for each joint than the specified dimension width.

Class CC: Same specifications as Class C except widths are to be from 12" to 38" (inclusive), and these widths may be built up from 2, 3, or 4 equal width part pieces, the minimum width of which shall be 6". The part pieces must measure in width 1" more for each joint than the specified dimension width.

Class DD: Same specifications as Class D except widths are to be from 12" to 38" (inclusive), and these widths may be built up from 2, 3, or 4 equal width part pieces, the minimum width of which shall be 6". The part pieces must measure in width 1" more for each joint than the specified dimension width.

Class EE: Same specifications as Class E except widths are to be from 12" to 38" (inclusive), and these widths may be built up from 2, 3, or 4 equal width part pieces, the minimum width of which shall be 6". The part pieces must measure in width 1" more for each joint than the specified dimension width.

Class FF: Same specifications as Class F except widths are to be from 12" to 38" (inclusive), and these widths may be built up from 2, 3, or 4 equal width part pieces, the minimum width of which shall be 6". The part pieces must measure in width 1" more for each joint than the specified dimension width.

WOMEN'S RAYON HOSIERY

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 339 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Dvision of the Federal Register.* In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum price established by this maximum price regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Maximum Price Regulation No. 339 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1401.101 to 1401.116 issued under Pub Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1401.101 Scope of the regulation—(a) What retailers should look for particularly in this regulation. (1) This regulation sets ceiling prices for women's rayon hosiery. It applies only to women's completely finished full-length hosiery which is made in whole or in part of rayon except that it does not apply to hosiery where the leg is made of rayon in combination with silk, wool, or nylon.

(2) The regulation divides retail sellers into three classes as to the ceiling prices which suppliers of rayon hosiery may charge them: Class I purchasers, Class II purchasers and Class III purchasers. Also retail sellers are divided into two classes as to the ceiling prices which they themselves may charge: Class I retail outlets and Class II retail outlets. In § 1401.104 (d) the differences between these classes is explained. It is very important that you find out the class in which you belong because your ceiling prices depend on it. After you find in what class you belong, you find your ceiling prices by referring to Tables (3) and (6), which are in Appendix C at the end of the regulation.

(3) If you want to find your ceiling prices for "full-fashioned", "cut and sewn" and "semi-fashioned" rayon hosiery:

(i) You look at the first part of Table (3), if you are a Class I retail outlet, and

(ii) You look at the second part of Table (3), if you are a Class II retail outlet.

(4) If you want to find your ceiling prices for circular knit rayon hosiery:

(i) You look at the first part of Table (6), if you bought the hosiery from a manufacturer, and

(ii) You look at the second part of Table (6), if you bought the hosiery from a wholesaler.

(5) You will note that in the tables of ceiling prices, different ceiling prices are set for Grade "A" and Grade "B" hosiery. Also different ceiling prices are set for "first quality" hosiery and for "substandard hosiery, and for various constructions of hosiery. All rayon hosiery which is sold or delivered to you by your suppliers on and after April 15, 1943 must be marked to show its particular construction and whether it is Grade "A" or "B" and whether it is "first quality" or "substandard" (irregular, second or third). By reading Appendix A, you can find the differences between "first quality" and "substandard" hosiery. By reading Appendix B you find the differences between Grade "A" and Grade "B" hosiery. It is important to note that all ceiling prices for Grade "B" hosiery are automatically cut 25% on and after July 16, 1943. In § 1401.111 you will see the explanation of the technical terms which appear in the tables of ceiling prices.

(b) Application of this regulation generally. (1) The definitions of "sale at retail", "sale at wholesale" and "sales by manufacturers" are set forth in § 1401.104. It is important that these definitions be read very carefully since different ceiling prices are set for each class of seller. For example, if a company considers itself a "wholesaler", but it does not come within the definition of "wholesaler" set out in this regulation, it must observe the maximum prices for sales by manufacturers.

(2) The tables of ceiling prices are given in Appendix C of the regulation. Except for a limited number of special constructions, separate ceiling prices are established for Grade "A" and Grade "B" hosiery. In § 1401.115 minimum requirements for Grade "A" stockings are given; these are minimum standards of quality and construction. Grade "A" stockings are stockings that meet all of the listed requirements. Stockings that do not meet the requirements of Grade "A" are called Grade "B".

(3) The tables of prices provide for differentials or premiums at the manufacturing, wholesale and retail levels for special constructions. These include constructions that are more costly, such as outsizes and extra-lengths, as well as constructions which enhance the utility of hosiery as, for example, cotton welts, "non-runs" and cotton feet.

(4) If a seller cannot find his ceiling price for his rayon hosiery in the tables, he must follow the procedure given in § 1401.105

(5) In § 1401.107 marking and posting requirements are set forth, which will provide purchasers with information as to ceiling prices for the various classes of sellers for each kind of hosiery. In § 1401.108 provision is made for information which must be furnished to persons other than ultimate consumers.

(6) This regulation does not provide maximum prices for the hosiery which is covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 95—Women's Nylon Hosiery,[1] and No. 274—Women's Silk Hosiery.[2]

§ 1401.102 Transactions in rayon hosiery which are prohibited by this regulation. On and after April 15, 1943, regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall:

(a) Sell or deliver any rayon hosiery at a price higher than the maximum price established by this regulation; or

(b) Sell or deliver any rayon hosiery for which a maximum price is not provided in § 1401.116 unless he receives from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a specific maximum price therefor, as provided by § 1401.105; or

(c) Require a purchaser to buy or agree to buy any other hosiery or other article, service, package or wrapper in connection with a sale or delivery of rayon hosiery; or

(d) Buy or receive rayon hosiery in the course of trade or business at a price higher than the maximum price established by this regulation; or

(e) Offer, attempt, or agree to do any of the acts prohibited by this regulation or

(f) Do any other act which directly or indirectly increases above the maximum price the consideration paid by the purchaser for the rayon hosiery. Any practice which is a device to secure the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price is as much a violation as an outright raising of the maximum price. This applies to the devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, discounts, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and all similar practices.

§ 1401.103 Enforcement and penalties. Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 339 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of license provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

§ 1401.104. Maximum prices for rayon hosiery—(a) Sales at retail. The maximum prices for which rayon hosiery may be sold, delivered, or offered for sale at retail are the prices per pair set forth below in Tables (3) and (6) of Appendix C (§ 1401.116).

(1) What is included in the term. A "sale at retail" is any sale to an ultimate consumer.

(2) Who is an ultimate consumer. An "ultimate consumer" is any person (other than an industrial or commercial user) who

(i) Buys rayon hosiery for a purpose other than that of reselling it, and

(ii) Did not sell rayon hosiery in any quantity after January 31, 1942.

(b) Sales at wholesale. The maximum prices for which rayon hosiery may be sold, delivered or offered for sale at wholesale are the prices per dozen pairs set forth below in Tables (2) and (5) of Appendix C (§ 1401.116). These maximum prices do not apply unless the sale is a "sale at wholesale" as defined in this section. Sales, other than at retail, which do not qualify as "sales at wholesale" must be priced in accordance with the maximum prices set forth in Tables (1) and (4) of Appendix C.

(1) What is included in the term. A "sale at wholesale" is a sale of rayon hosiery, in any quantity, by a "wholesaler", who buys the hosiery after it has been knitted and assembled and who sells that "rayon hosiery" to anyone other than an ultimate consumer. A "sale at wholesale" also includes a sale to a commercial or industrial user, made by a person who sells principally at retail.

(2) Who is a wholesaler. A "wholesaler" is a seller who

(i) Is engaged in the business of selling women's hosiery to retailers generally,

(ii) Regularly carries representative stocks of women's hosiery belonging to him, in his own place of business,

(iii) Sells at least 10% of his total sales of women's hosiery out of stock (as opposed to "drop shipments"),

(iv) Is not (a) a manufacturer, (b) an agent, employee, selling agent, or subsidiary of a manufacturer, or (c) a broker, and

(v) Was operating a wholesale business under the conditions prescribed in subparagraphs (2) (i) to (2) (iv), both inclusive, during the month of January 1942, or entered the business of selling women's hosiery for resale after January 31, 1942. (In the latter case, in order to qualify as a wholesaler, the seller must within 5 days after first engaging in the business of selling rayon hosiery for resale pursuant to this regulation, send a notice of his making sales at wholesale to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. This notice should be in writing and must state the seller's name and address, and the date upon which the seller first engaged in the business of making sales at wholesale after the effective date of this regulation).

(c) Sales by manufacturers. The maximum prices for which rayon hosiery may be sold, delivered or offered for sale in any sale by a manufacturer other than at retail, are the prices per dozen pairs set forth in Tables (1) and (4) of Appendix C (§ 1401.116).

(1) What is included in the term. "Sales by manufacturers" include any sale by a "manufacturer" as defined below. The maximum prices set forth in Tables (1) and (4) of Appendix C apply also to

(i) All sales (other than sales at retail) which do not qualify as "sales at wholesale" as defined above, and

(ii) Any sale of "rayon hosiery" which

(a) The seller knit, sewed, or assembled, or

(b) Was manufactured from yarn or other materials supplied, purchased, or furnished by the seller.

(2) Who is a manufacturer. A manufacturer is any person who, directly or indirectly owns or operates a business engaged in sewing, knitting or assembling women's hosiery, or whose business is owned, controlled, conducted or managed in any way by a person who owns, or is engaged in a business of sewing, knitting, or assembling hosiery.

(d) Classes of retail sellers. A retail seller is any person who sells or offers to sell any rayon hosiery at retail. Each separate selling establishment, and each separate department within an establishment, is a separate seller. Retail sellers are classified as follows:

(1) Class I retail women's hosiery outlet. Every seller at retail who is a Class I purchaser (excepting "house-to-house" sellers) is a "Class I retail women's hosiery outlet."

(2) Class II retail women's hosiery outlet. Every seller at retail who is (i) a "house-to-house" seller, or (ii) a Class II purchaser, or (iii) a Class III purchaser, is a "Class II retail women's hosiery outlet."

(e) Classes of purchasers. (1) "Class I purchaser" means the following persons:

(i) Every retail seller who is also a "manufacturer" of women's hosiery as defined in this section.

(ii) Every retail seller who is also a "wholesaler" of women's hosiery as defined in this section.

(iii) Every retail seller who meets both of the following requirements:

(a) First requirement. The seller, or the central buying organization to which the seller belonged, made total annual sales of women's full-length hosiery exceeding $250,000.00 in any year from 1939 to 1942, inclusive.

(b) Second requirement. The seller, or the central buying organization to which the seller belonged, had an average percentage of initial mark-up on women's full-length hosiery of 34% or less in any year from 1939 to 1942, inclusive. To determine this mark-up percentage, the seller must (1) compute the total of the initial retail prices at which all purchases of this hosiery were marked during a given year, (2) compute the total of all invoice charges on purchases of the hosiery during the same year (figured after all discount deductions, and including all transportation costs), and (3) subtract the total secured in (2) from the total secured in (1) and divide the remainder by the total obtained in (1).

(2) "Class II purchaser" means any retail seller who is not a Class I purchaser and who, alone or together with all sellers belonging to the same central buying organization, made total annual sales of women's full-length hosiery exceeding $100,000.00 in any year from 1939 to 1942 inclusive.

(3) "Class III purchaser" means any person who is not a "Class I purchaser" nor a "Class II purchaser". It includes industrial and commercial users.

(4) Central buying organization. A retail seller "belonged to a central buying organization" during any year from 1939 to 1942, inclusive, if during that year it was one of a group of sellers under common ownership or control, with a common purchasing office which bought 60% or more of the women's full-length hosiery that was bought by the entire group during that year.

(f) Drop shipments. A drop shipment of hosiery, sold at wholesale, is a shipment directly from the manufacturer to the purchaser.

(g) When taxes may be added to the maximum price. The seller may charge or collect in addition to the maximum price for any transaction the amount of tax levied on account of that transaction by any existing or future Federal excise tax statute, or by any State or municipal sales, gross receipts, gross proceeds, or compensating use tax statute or ordinance, under which the tax is measured by gross proceeds or units of sale, in the following cases only:

(1) Where the statute or ordinance requires the seller to state the tax to the purchaser separately from the purchase price; or

(2) Where the statute or ordinance requires the tax to be separately paid by the purchaser with money, tokens or other means of tax payment; or

(3) Where the statute or ordinance permits the seller to state the tax to the purchaser separately from the purchase price, and the seller actually does so.

§ 1401.105 Maximum prices for rayon hosiery not specifically priced in § 1401.116. Maximum prices for rayon hosiery not specifically priced in § 1401.116 can be established only by specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. No person is permitted to sell, deliver, or offer to sell rayon hosiery for which a maximum price is not provided in § 1401.116 unless he receives specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration.

A seller who wants to secure a specific maximum price for any type of rayon hosiery for which a maximum price is not provided in § 1401.116 must file with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., an application setting forth (a) a description in detail of the rayon hosiery for which a maximum price is sought; (b) a statement of the facts which differentiate such rayon hosiery from the rayon hosiery for which maximum prices are established under § 1401.116 of this regulation; and (c) such other information as may be required by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1401.106 Less than maximum prices may be charged. Lower prices than the maximum prices established by this maximum price regulation may be charged.

§ 1401.107 Information which must be furnished to purchasers—(a) By posting. On and after April 15, 1943, every person who sells or offers for sale rayon hosiery must post in a conspicuous place and in a manner plainly visible to the purchasing public in each department or portion of the premises where rayon hosiery is sold, or offered for sale, those portions of the tables set forth in Appendix C (§1401.116) which are applicable to transactions conducted on the premises.

(b) By marking—(1). Information required. On and after April 15, 1943, no person shall sell, deliver, or offer for sale rayon hosiery unless there is firmly affixed directly to each pair of such hosiery a transfer, marking or label which clearly and truthfully states identifying information as to the construction and price of the hosiery as follows:

(i) The word "ceiling" accompanied by the maximum price at retail under this regulation; (if the hosiery is circular knit and sold to a wholesaler the letter "W" must precede the maximum price);

(ii) The name, trade-mark registered in the United States Patent Office, or the Office of Price Administration registration number of the person who first sells the hosiery in a completely finished state; (such sellers can secure registration numbers by writing to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.);

(iii) The words "Grade A" or "Grade B" followed by the gauge or needle count of the hosiery;

(iv) The word "short" on all hosiery less than 27½" in length, which is size 9½ or smaller and on all hosiery less than 28" in length which is size 10 or larger;

(v) The word "long" on all hosiery more than 31½" in length which is size 10 or larger and on all hosiery more than 30" in length which is size 9½ or smaller;

(vi) The words "out-size" on all out-size hosiery;

(vii) The words "extra-long" on all hosiery more than 34" long;

(viii) The correct size of the foot in accordance with Commercial Standard CS 46–40 "Hosiery lengths and sizes"; and

(ix) The word "irregulars" on all irregulars; the word "seconds" on all seconds; and the word "thirds" on all thirds.

(2) Method of marking—(i) How the marking must be attached—(a)* To hosiery delivered on or after the effective date of this regulation. The marking must be firmly affixed directly to each pair of hosiery by a transfer or stamp in the case of any hosiery delivered by the manufacturer thereof on or after the effective date of this regulation.

(b) To hosiery delivered prior to the effective date of this regulation. Hosiery which was delivered by the manufacturer thereof prior to the effective date of this regulation must be marked with a label, ticket, marker or other device which is firmly affixed to each pair of the hosiery, except that, if the hosiery is sold in a sealed envelope containing only one pair of stockings the marking may be attached to, or written or printed on, the outside of the envelope. If the marking is attached to the outside of the envelope it must appear on the envelope at the time the hosiery is offered for sale and at the time it is delivered to the purchaser.

(c) Description of marking. The information required by § 1401.107 (b) (1) (i), (ii), and (iii) must be stamped or transferred on the welt within a block having dimensions no less than 1 inch by 1½ inches. No other printing or lettering is permitted within the block. Two examples of the block are set forth below:

Ceiling 92¢ X. Y. Z. Brand Grade A–45 gauge	Ceiling—W–35¢ O. P. A. No.—900 Grade A–260 ndls

Any of the other information required by § 1401.107 (b) may be placed on the welt provided it does not confuse or obscure the information contained in the block or it may be placed upon the foot of the stocking.

§ 1401.108 Information which must be furnished in sales other than at retail—(a) Information for marking and posting. Within 5 days after the receipt of a written request from a purchaser of rayon hosiery by any person who has sold for resale or manufactured the rayon hosiery, such seller or manufacturer shall furnish to the purchaser, all information with respect to the construction and quality of the rayon hosiery which is pertinent to the marking or posting required of the purchaser by this regulation.

(b) Disclosure of class of purchaser. Within 10 days after receiving a written request, every person who buys or offers to buy rayon hosiery must truthfully inform the seller in writing of the class of purchaser to which the buyer belongs. Classes of purchasers are defined in § 1401.104 (e).

§ 1401.109 Relation between Maximum Price Regulation No. 339 and the General Maximum Price Regulation[1]—(a) Provisions of General Maximum Price Regulation incorporated in this regulation. The General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply and this regulation shall apply to sales, deliveries and offers to sell rayon hosiery. However, the following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation are made a part of this regulation and each seller must comply with them:

(1) Current records (§ 1499.12).

(2) Sales slips and receipts (§ 1499.14).

(3) The registration and licensing provisions of §§ 1499.15 and 1499.16 of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to every person selling rayon hosiery at wholesale or retail.

(b) Definitions incorporated by reference. Unless the context otherwise requires, or unless otherwise specifically provided herein, the definitions set forth in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to the terms used herein.

§ 1401.110 Relation of this regulation to other maximum price regulations—(a) Maximum Price Regulation No. 157.[4] Maximum Price Regulation No. 157—Sales and Fabrication of Textiles, Apparel and Related Articles for Military Purposes—shall apply, and this regulation shall not apply to transactions regulated or governed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 157.

(b) Maximum Price Regulation No. 172.[5] Maximum Price Regulation No. 172—Charges of Contractors in Apparel Industry—shall apply, and this regulation shall not apply to transactions for which maximum prices are established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 172.

(c) Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[6] Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation shall apply, and this regulation shall not apply to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1401.111 Explanation of terms (definitions). (a) "Rayon hosiery" means any women's completely finished full-length hosiery which is made in whole or in part of rayon, except hosiery in which the leg is made of rayon in combination with silk, wool or nylon.

If the hosiery fails to meet any one or more of the minimum requirements set forth in Appendix B it is classed as Grade "B" hosiery.

(d) The "gauge" of full-fashioned hosiery is the number of needles per 1½" of the needle bar on which the hosiery is knit, assuming use of the full needle bar except for a tolerance of 4 needles.

(e) The "needle count" of circular knit hosiery is the total number of needles on the knitting cylinder of the machine on which the hosiery is knit.

§ 1401.112 How this regulation may be amended. Any person seeking an amendment which will have general applicability may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1401.113 Geographical applicability of this regulation. This regulation shall be applicable to the continental United States and to the District of Columbia, but not to the territories and possessions of the United States.

§ 1401.114 Appendix A: Standards of inspection. Both Grade "A" and Grade "B" rayon hosiery must be classified and marked according to the standards of inspection set forth below.

(a) Substandard quality. All hosiery which is not first quality is deemed to be substandard quality. Substandard quality includes:

(1) Irregulars. A pair of substandard quality stockings are "irregulars" if one or both stockings contain any imperfections or irregularities in size, color, knit or weave: Provided, That neither stocking contains any obvious mends, runs, tears or breaks in the fabric, or any substantial defect, irregularity or imperfection in material, construction or finish;

(2) Seconds. A pair of substandard quality stockings are "seconds" if one or both stockings contain any obvious mends, runs, tears or breaks in the fabric or any substantial defect, irregularity or imperfection in material, construction or finish: Provided, That neither of the stockings contains (i) welt menders in excess of ½ inch, (ii) leg menders or seamers in excess of ¼ inch or (iii) more than two medium, or three small menders; and

(3) Thirds. A pair of substandard quality stockings are "thirds" if either stocking contains (i) any of the following defects: (a) welt menders in excess of ½ inch, (b) leg menders or seamers in excess of ¼ inch or (c) more than two medium or three small menders or (ii) any other substantial defect, irregularity or imperfection which makes the hosiery a third, when judged by the seller's standards of inspection on the effective date of this regulation.

(b) Explanation of table of defects. The following table is not all-inclusive but it illustrates how hosiery containing any of the defects listed should be classified. Thus hosiery containing any of the defects listed in Column (1) cannot be considered first quality but must be considered irregulars. Similarly hosiery containing any of the defects listed in Column (2) must be considered seconds and not irregulars and hosiery containing any defects listed in Column (3) must be considered thirds.

(c) Table of defects. (Reference is to defect in either stocking).

(Column 1) Irregulars	(Column 2) Seconds	(Column 3) Thirds
(1) Welt defects. (i) Welts mismatched. (2) Leg defects (i) Minor yarn defects, such as slubs, knots, broken filaments, shiners. (ii) Visible rings or shadows. (iii) Visible sinker stripes or needle lines. (iv) Visible picked up pull threads. (v) Uneven stitch construction. (vi) Light color contrasts or shadings. (3) Foot defects (i) Heavy dye streaking. (ii) Light mismatching at instep.	(1) Welt defects. (i) Menders less than 1½". (2) Leg defects (i) Menders or seamers less than ¼". (ii) Major yarn defects, such as decided ridges, heavy slubs, kinks or large knots. (iii) Fuzzy stitch or needle line marks. (iv) Sharply defined color contrasts or shadings. (3) Foot defects. (i) Heavy mismatching at instep. (4) Overall defects. (i) Lengths under 26½". (ii) Menders, limited to three medium or three small menders.	(1) Welt defects. (i) Menders in excess of 1½". (2) Leg defects (i) Menders or seamers in excess of ¼". (3) Overall defects. (i) More than two medium or three small menders.

§ 1401.115 Appendix B: Minimum requirements for Grade "A" rayon hosiery—(a) Scope. The specifications apply to all completely finished, continuous filament, rayon hosiery the leg of which is knitted in plain stitch. The specifications do not apply to hosiery the leg of which is made of combination or spun rayon yarns, nor to non-run, mesh, or cut-and-sewn rayon hosiery. The specifications are minimum, in the sense that, unless the hosiery meets every one of the requirements of these specifications, it is classed as Grade "B" hosiery.

(b) General requirements—(1) Welt and afterwelt—(i) Length of welt. The minimum length of the welt shall be 3½ inches for full fashioned hosiery and 4 inches for seamless hosiery.

(ii) Length of afterwelt. (a) In circular knit hosiery no afterwelt is required, (b) in full fashioned hosiery, the minimum length of the afterwelt shall be 1½ inches, unless the hosiery is made with a welt of 5 inches or longer, in which case no afterwelt is required.

(iii) Stitch and design. No fancy lace bands, Jacquard designs or mesh designs may be used in the welt or afterwelt. Rows of picot stitches in the welt or afterwelt must be at least three-fourths of an inch apart except when used in the uppermost half inch of the welt.

(iv) Use of yarn. The yarn used in the afterwelt must be of the same weight, or heavier than the yarn used in the welt.

(v) Overlap. There shall be an overlap of at least four courses at the bottom of the afterwelt in which the leg yarn and afterwelt yarn are knit together.

(2) Heel. The heel shall be no more than 5 inches long and no shorter than 4 inches measured from the lowest point of the heel to the uppermost part of the heel.

(3) Narrowings—(i) In the flare and calf. In full fashioned hosiery, the total number of narrowings in the flare and calf, and the narrowings in the flare respectively, shall be no greater than the number of narrowings set forth in the table below for each gauge. The narrowings specified in this table are on the basis of 14 inch heads. If a larger head is used additional narrowings may be employed, proportionately, in the ratio of one narrowing for each additional four needles used on the knitting head.

	Maximum number of total narrowings in flare and calf on each side	Maximum number of narrowings in flare on each side
42 gauge and lower	42	6
45 gauge	44	8
48 gauge	46	10
51 gauge	50	10
54 and over	Optional	Optional

(ii) In the heel. The heel of hosiery made on a single unit machine must be fashioned in accordance with accepted trade practice for full fashioned hosiery.

(4) Yarn twist—(i) Leg yarns. The minimum twists which are required in the leg yarns of hosiery are the total number of turns per inch set forth below for each denier and construction respectively.

Denier	Full fashioned (turns required)	Circular knit (turns required)
150 (and higher)	8 turns per inch	Producer's twist.
125	10 turns per inch	10.
100	20 turns per inch	15.
75	25 turns per inch	20.
70	30 turns per inch	25

(ii) Welt and reinforcing yarns. The minimum twists required in welts and reinforcing yarns shall be the number of turns per inch set forth below for each denier and construction respectively.

Denier	Full fashioned (turns required)	Circular knit (turns required)
150 (and higher)	8 turns per inch	Producer's twist.
125	10 turns per inch	Producer's twist.
100	10 turns per inch	10
75	15 turns per inch	15

(iii) Resultant twist. The twist referred to herein is the resultant number of turns per inch in one direction, and does not refer to the applied or inserted twist. The twist of plied yarn must be the twist required for the equivalent singles yarn.

(5) Cotton reinforcements. Cotton reinforcing is required in the toe section of all full fashioned hosiery and in the toe and heel of all circular knit hosiery. The reinforcement must be in addition to a yarn of a weight equivalent to, or greater than the yarn used in the leg of the stocking. The cotton toe section shall extend at least 2 inches from the tip of the toe.

(6) Use of rayon yarns—(i) Yarns below 50 denier. Rayon yarns below 50 denier may be used only if plied and twisted to a total denier of 50 denier or higher. The denier of plied and twisted yarn is deemed to be equal to the sum of deniers of the component yarns.

(ii) Use of 65 denier cuprammonium. Sixty-five denier cuprammonium yarn shall be considered equivalent to 75 denier and may be employed as an alternate wherever 75 denier is specified.

(iii) Denier numbers. Denier numbers which fall between specified deniers are, for the purpose of these specifications, deemed to be the equivalent of the next lower specified denier.

(7) Length requirements—(i) Full fashioned hosiery. (a) Regular or medium lengths (hosiery not marked "short" or "long").

For sizes 8 to 9½, both inclusive the minimum length is 27½ inches and the maximum is 29½ inches.

For sizes 10 to 11, both inclusive. The minimum length is 28 inches and the maximum is 30 inches.

Regular or medium lengths must be furnished by the seller unless otherwise specified by the purchaser. "Proportioned" lengths may be supplied by the seller, only on specific request of the purchaser.

(b) Marking requirements. For marking requirements which apply to "short" and "long" hosiery, see provisions of § 1401.107 (b).

(c) Basic minimum lengths for all full fashioned hosiery. No Grade "A" hosiery may be made less than 26½ inches long in sizes 8 to 9½, both inclusive, or less than 27 inches in sizes 10 to 11, both inclusive.

(ii) Circular knit hosiery. (Regular or medium lengths.) The minimum length permitted is 29 inches. The maximum length permitted is 31 inches.

(8) Compliance with marking requirements. To be constituted Grade "A", hosiery must be accurately and completely marked in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

(9) Maximum fineness of yarns permitted—(i) In full fashioned hosiery. No finer yarns may be used than the deniers of rayon or counts of cotton yarn (for each specified gauge) set forth in Table No. 1 for the welt, leg, heel and sole reinforcing and toe reinforcing yarns respectively.

(ii) In circular knit hosiery. No finer yarns may be used than the deniers of rayon or counts of cotton yarn (for each specified needle count) set forth in Table No. 2 for welt, leg, and reinforcing yarns respectively.

(10) Courses—(i) Minimum total courses required. The minimum total courses required for hosiery 29 inches long is the number of courses in the leg and welt for each specified gauge respectively set forth in Table 1 for full fashioned hosiery and for each specified needle count respectively set forth in Table No. 2, for circular knit hosiery. If the hosiery is less than 28 inches long it may be coursed proportionately lower, as compared with 29 inch hosiery, thus hosiery 27 inches long must have a minimum of 27/29ths of minimum courses required for 29 inch hosiery. If the hosiery is longer than 30 inches it must be coursed proportionately higher than 29 inch hosiery, thus hosiery 31 inches long must have 31/29ths of the minimum courses required for 29 inch hosiery.

(ii) How courses are calculated. The minimum total courses specified are based on the following reference points:

(a) Full fashioned hosiery—(1) Conventional two-unit machines. Total courses are counted from the start of the knitting to the heel loose course.

(2) Single-unit machines. Total courses are counted from the start of the knitting to the widest point of the heel.

(b) Circular knit hosiery. In circular knit hosiery courses are counted from the top of the low heel to the end of the inside turn of the welt.

* * *

(d) The certificate may be issued either on Form OPA R-905 or on Form OPA R-403 (certificate for purchase of typewriters). If Form OPA R-403 is used, it must be properly prepared and corrected. PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 11,[1] Amendment 45]

FUEL OIL RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In § 1394.5051 (b), the phrase "1394.5310" is inserted between the phrase "1394.5266 (b) (3)" and the phrase "1394.5604"; and a new § 1394.5310 is added; as set forth below:

Auxiliary Rations

§ 1394.5310 Special cases: Supplemental rations for heating premises used for residential purposes. (a) A person to whom a ration has been issued for heat or both heat and hot water in premises used for residential purposes, other than a house trailer, who finds that his fuel oil on hand and coupons the valid period of which has not expired are insufficient to meet his minimum heating or heating and hot water requirements for the balance of the heating year, may apply to his board for a supplemental heating or heating and hot water ration. The applicant shall present to the board a signed statement setting forth:

(1) The amount of fuel oil on hand and the number, kind and gallonage value of his coupons the valid period of which has not expired;

(2) The efforts he has made to secure maximum heating efficiency of his oil burning equipment and to eliminate loss of heat due to the condition of the premises;

(3) The efforts he has made to reduce his consumption of fuel oil, including without limitation, the maintenance of minimum temperatures and to use coal or wood burning heating stoves;

(4) The reasons why he has not converted his oil burning facilities to the use of coal; and

(5) The number of gallons of fuel oil estimated by the applicant to meet his minimum heating or heating and hot water requirements for the balance of the heating year.

(b) The applicant shall supply such additional information concerning the premises, the heating equipment therein and the matters set forth in subparagraphs (1) to (5) of paragraph (a) of this section as the board may deem necessary for its recommendation, including the submission by the applicant for the inspection of the board of his coupon sheets, representing his ration.

(c) No application for a supplemental ration shall be granted unless the board is satisfied that:

(1) The applicant's fuel oil on hand and coupons the valid period of which has not expired are insufficient to meet the applicant's minimum heating or heating and hot water requirements (as the case may be) for the balance of the heating year;

(2) The applicant has taken all reasonable measures within the limits of his financial ability to secure maximum heating efficiency of the oil burning equipment and to eliminate loss of heat due to the condition of the premises;

(3) The applicant has taken all reasonable measures within the limits of his financial ability to reduce his consumption of fuel oil;

(4) The oil burning facilities for use in which the ration is required are not convertible facilities as defined in § 1394.5001 (a) (9), except that where the application is made for private dwelling premises the supplemental ration shall not be denied because the applicant's oil burning facilities are convertible if no member of his household is physically able to operate heating equipment using an alternate fuel or he cannot obtain the services of any other person to operate such equipment; and

(5) Where application is made for private dwelling premises, the applicant's total floor area constituting necessary living and sleeping quarters and space used for occupational purposes, set forth in his original application, did not exceed the maximum allowable area specified in § 1394.5258 (b).

(d) If the board is satisfied that the applicant meets the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section, it will promptly prepare, in duplicate, its written findings and recommendation of the number of gallons of fuel oil which the applicant will require, in addition to his fuel oil on hand and coupons the valid period of which has not expired, to meet his minimum heating or heating and hot water needs for the balance of the heating year. The board will forward to the district or State office having jurisdiction of the area in which the board is located, a copy of its findings and recommendation together with the applicant's statement, original application, and all other documents upon which its findings and recommendation are based. Within five (5) days from the receipt thereof, such district or State office will review the record submitted by the board and make its decision in writing, adopting, modifying or setting aside the recommendation made by the board. Such decision together with the record submitted will be transmitted to the board which will promptly dispose of the application in accordance with such decision and notify the applicant thereof.

This amendment shall become effective on March 13, 1943.

MEMORANDUM OPINION, ETC.

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 4 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 4; for changes in shipping points of certain mines; and requesting the establishment of an additional price instruction in the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 4 for all shipments except truck.

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 4 for the establishment of an additional price instruction in the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 4 for all shipments except truck.

Memorandum opinion and order granting intervenor's requests, partially denying temporary relief, severing Docket No. A-1836 Part II, and notice of and order for hearing.

The original petition in the above-entitled matter which was filed with this Division, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, requested the issuance of orders establishing temporary and permanent price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 4, and further requested the establishment of an additional price instruction in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for All Shipments Except Truck, which would permit all coal going through any one of several preparation plants listed in said petition to be invoiced as having originated at said preparation plant irrespective of whether such coals were produced at the mine of which such preparation plant is not a part.

A petition of intervention has been filed by District Board No. 2, requesting (1) that the portion of Docket No. A-1836 relating to the price instruction set forth in paragraph numbered 10 in the original petition filed herein, be severed from the remainder of Docket No. A-1836, and designated as Docket No. A-1836, Part II; (2) that a hearing be held in said Docket No. A-1836, Part II, and (3) that the prayer for temporary relief contained in said original petition be denied, without prejudice to the renewal of such request for temporary relief, upon further showing or upon the basis of the record to be made at the hearing to be held in Docket No. A-1836, Part II.

It appears that this petition of intervention and the allegations contained in that portion of the original petition involved herein, raise issues upon which the interested parties in this matter should be heard. It also appears that granted herein, terminated as of the date

a reasonable showing of necessity for temporary relief, pending final determination of this matter, has not been shown at this time. In view of these facts, the Director is of the opinion that the requests contained in said petition of intervention should be granted; that the request contained in the original petition for temporary relief should not be granted at this time, and that the portion of the original petition which relates to the request for the establishment of an additional price instruction, should be scheduled for hearing.

Therefore, it is ordered, That said petition of intervention be, and the same hereby is, granted.

It is further ordered, That the request for temporary relief contained in said original petition be, and the same hereby is, denied without prejudice, however, to the renewal of such request for temporary relief, upon further showing or upon the basis of the record to be held in Docket No. A–1836, Part II.

It is further ordered, That the portion of the original petition filed in Docket No. A–1836, relating to the establishment of an additional price instruction in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for All Shipments Except Truck be, and the same hereby is, severed from Docket No. A–1836 and designated as Docket No. A–1836, Part II.

It is further ordered, That a hearing in Docket No. A–1836, Part II, under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules of the Division, be held on March 31, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, in Washington, D. C. On that date the Chief of the Records Section will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That W. A. Cuff or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all parties herein and to persons or entities having an interest in this proceeding and eligible to become a party herein. Any person desiring to be admitted as a party to this proceeding may file a petition of intervention in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division for proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, setting forth the facts on the basis of which the relief in the original petition is supported or opposed or on the basis of which other relief is sought. Such petitions of intervention shall be filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before March 26, 1943.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered therein, may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the petition, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the petition, petitions of intervention or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the relief, if any, granted on the basis of this petition.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the petition of District Board No. 4 for the establishment of an additional price instruction in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for All Shipments Except Truck, which shall read as follows: "All coal going through any one of the preparation plants listed below may be invoiced as having originated at said preparation plant, to-wit:

FORD COLLIERIES CO.

ORDER DISMISSING PETITION FOR RECONSIDERATION, AND REVOKING TEMPORARY RELIEF

In the matter of the petition of the Ford Collieries Company, a producer in District No. 2, for a reduction in the effective minimum prices in size groups 7 and 8 coals for shipment into market area 10.

This proceeding was instituted upon a petition filed with the Bituminous Coal Division, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, by the Ford Collieries Company, a code member in District No. 2 requesting a reduction in the classification of the coals of petitioner's Berry Mine (Mine Index No. 12) and Francis Mine (Mine Index No. 72) in Size Groups 7 and 8, for shipment by rail to all destinations in Market Area 10, from "C" to "E", and a consequent reduction in the effective minimum price of said coals from $2.05 to $1.95 per ton; or, in the alternative, that such change be restricted to one consumer in Market Area 10, the Hammermill Paper Company. Petitions of intervention were filed by various persons.

Thereupon, on December 6, 1940, temporary relief, pending final disposition of the petition, was granted by the Director as prayed in the petition.

Thereafter, pursuant to appropriate orders, and after notice to interested persons, a hearing was held before J. D. Dermody, a duly designated Examiner of the Division, at a hearing room thereof in Washington, D. C., at which interested persons were afforded an opportunity to be present, adduce evidence, cross-examine witnesses, and otherwise be heard.

The Examiner filed his Report, Proposed Findings of Fact, Proposed Conclusions of Law, and Recommendations, and petitioner filed exceptions to the Examiner's Report. These exceptions were duly considered.

On March 25, 1942, an Order was entered overruling petitioner's exceptions, approving and adopting the Proposed Findings of Fact and Proposed Conclusions of Law of the Examiner as the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law of the Acting Director, denying petitioner's prayers for relief, and revoking the temporary relief previously granted.

Thereupon, petitioner on April 8, 1942, moved to continue the effectiveness of the temporary relief pending its filing of a motion for reconsideration; and on April 11, 1942 an Order was entered suspending the effective date of the Order of March 25, 1942, until April 21, 1942.

On April 27, 1942, petitioner filed a petition for reconsideration of the Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law, as adopted, and the Order dated March 25, 1942, requesting that the temporary relief previously granted, be continued, and on April 30, 1942 an Order was entered suspending the Order of March 25, 1942 until a determination of the petition for reconsideration of the Order of March 25, 1942.

On October 13, 1942, a Memorandum Opinion of the Director concerning the petition for reconsideration of the Order of March 25, 1942, was issued, wherein it was found, inter alia, that petitioner has not made an adequate showing that minimum prices for its coals are not properly related to District 2 "C" coals or to District 3 "F" coals, and petitioner was granted an opportunity to file within twenty days a petition seeking a re-coordination of its coals and certain District 3 coals.

By letter dated January 15, 1943, petitioner advised the Director that it is unable to adduce any further or different evidence and that petitioner does not intend to file a new petition.

The petitioner not having availed itself of the opportunity provided for by the Memorandum Opinion of the Director:

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the petition of the Ford Collieries Company, for reconsideration of the Order of the Acting Director, dated March 25, 1942, denying relief and revoking temporary relief be and it hereby is dismissed;

It is further ordered, That the Order of the Acting Director, dated April 30, 1942 suspending the effective date of the Order of March 25, 1942 until a determination of the petition for reconsideration thereof be and the same hereby is revoked, and the temporary relief granted herein, terminated as of the date hereof.

It is further ordered, That the Order of the Acting Director, dated March 25, 1942 be and the same hereby is in all other respects effective as of the date hereof.

Dated: March 6, 1943.

Chapter X—Food Production Administration

[FPO 5, Directive 1]

PART 1206—FERTILIZER

CHEMICAL FERTILIZER CONTAINING CHEMICAL NITROGEN

§ 1206.101 Directive 1—(a) Distribution and delivery of chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen. Pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (d) (1) and (d) (2) of Food Production Order 5, the distribution and delivery of chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen shall be governed by the following directions:

(1) In the general distribution of chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen, manufacturers shall direct allocations to dealers and agents in areas where there is an immediate need for such fertilizer before supplying areas where the fertilizer is normally used later in the season.

(2) Requirements of farmers for straight nitrogen material for use on either group A or group B crops shall be delivered from any kind of straight nitrogen material available to the manufacturer, dealer or agent, regardless of the kind of material used by the farmer in the past, taking into consideration the variation between the nitrogen content of the material previously used by the farmer and the material to be delivered.

(3) In making preferred deliveries of chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for use on group A crops as provided in paragraph (h) (3) of Food Production Order 5, the following rules shall apply.

(i) Where farmers apply to a manufacturer, dealer or agent for chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for immediate use on both group A crops and group B crops for which they are eligible to receive chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen in 1943, their actual requirements for group A crops, established as provided in paragraph (i) (1) of Food Production Order 5, shall be delivered in full, and such quantities shall be delivered on their group B crop requirements, established in accordance with paragraph (i) (2) of Food Production Order 5, as the current and assured stock position of the manufacturer, dealer or agent may warrant, taking into account the over-all need of the geographic locality served by the manufacturer, dealer, or agent and the restrictions contained in paragraphs (h) (4) and (h) (5) of FPO–5.

(ii) Where farmers apply to a manufacturer, dealer or agent for chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for immediate use on group A crops and for later use on group B crops for which they are eligible to receive such fertilizer in 1943, their actual requirements for the group A crops shall be delivered in full and no delivery need be made on their group B crop requirements until the time the fertilizer for group B crops would normally be applied and then on the basis set out in the preceding paragraph (i).

(iii) Where farmers apply to a manufacturer, dealer or agent for chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for immediate use on group B crops for which they are eligible to receive such fertilizer in 1943 and for later use on group A crops, deliveries shall be made against their group B crop requirements in such quantities as the current and assured stock position of the manufacturer, dealer or agent may warrant, taking into account the total demand on such manufacturer, dealer or agent for both group A and group B crops throughout the season, and no delivery need be made on group A crop requirements until the time the fertilizer for group A crops would normally be applied. (b) In computing requirements and making deliveries of chemical fertilizers containing chemical nitrogen pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (h) and (i) of Food Production Order 5 and the provisions of paragraph (a) of this Directive 1, such requirements and deliveries shall not be based upon a percentage of the quantities of such fertilizer previously used by the applicant and shall not be

(d) Compensation from insurance. Section 22 (b) (5) (relating to exclusion from gross income of compensation for injuries or sickness) is amended by striking out "Amounts received" and inserting in lieu thereof "Except in the case of amounts attributable to (and not in excess of deductions allowed under section 23 (x) in any prior taxable year, amounts received".

porate income derived from discharge of indebtedness) is amended to read as follows:

(9) Income from discharge of indebtedness. In the case of a corporation, the amount of any income of the taxpayer attributable to the discharge, within the taxable year, of any indebtedness of the taxpayer or for which the taxpayer is liable evidenced by a security (as hereinafter in this paragraph defined) if the taxpayer makes and files at the time of filing the return, in such manner as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, by regulations prescribes, its consent to the regulations prescribed under section 113 (b) (3) then in effect. In such case the amount of any income of the taxpayer attributable to any unamortized premium (computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be included in gross income and the amount of the deduction attributable to any unamortized discount (computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be allowed as a deduction. As used in this paragraph the term "security" means any bond, debenture, note, or certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by any corporation. This paragraph shall not apply to any discharge occurring before the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1939, or in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1945.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 7. Section 22 (b) (9)–1 is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the heading and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Income from discharge of indebtedness—(a) Taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938 and before January 1, 1942.

(B) By inserting in the first sentence immediately after the word "provides" the following: ", with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1938, and before January 1, 1942,".

(C) By striking from the fourth paragraph wherever occurring therein the words "this section" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "this subsection".

(D) By striking out the last paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

With respect to any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, and before January 1, 1942, discharges of indebtedness occurring (1) in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1938, (2) after June 29, 1939; (3) in a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1942, are governed by the provisions of section 22 (b) (9) prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942 and by the provisions of this subsection.

Section 22 (b) (9) and this subsection are inapplicable in the case of any discharge occurring in any proceeding under section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act of 1898, as amended, under Chapter X or XI of such Act, or under Chapter XV of such Act if the proceeding under such chapter was initiated by a petition filed on or before July 31, 1940 (see paragraphs 3 to 16, inclusive, of the Appendix to these regulations), and with respect to any discharge of indebtedness to which section 22 (b) (10) applies.

(b) Taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, and before January 1, 1946. Section 22 (b) (9) also provides, with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, and before January 1, 1946, a method whereby a corporation may elect to have excluded from its gross income the amount of income attributable to a discharge, within the taxable year, of its indebtedness or of indebtedness for which it is liable as, for example, in the case of a debt arising from an assumption of liability of another corporation. To be entitled to the benefits of the provisions of section 22 (b) (9) for such years a corporation must file with its return for the taxable year a consent to the provisions of the regulations, in effect at the time of the filing of the return, prescribed under section 113 (b) (3) (see §§ 19.113 (b) (3)–1 and 19.113 (b) (3)–2, relating to adjustment of basis). The requirement with respect to unsound financial condition prescribed for years covered by paragraph (a) of this section does not apply with respect to discharges of indebtedness occurring in taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942, and before January 1, 1946.

As used in this paragraph "indebtedness" means indebtedness evidenced by a security, that is, by a bond, debenture, note, or certificate, or other evidence of indebtedness issued by either the taxpayer corporation or any other corporation regardless of when issued.

Discharges of indebtedness (including discharges occurring in a proceeding under Chapter XV of the Bankruptcy Act of 1898, as amended, if such proceeding was initiated by petition filed on or after October 16, 1942, and on or before November 1, 1945) occurring in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, and prior to January 1, 1946 are governed by the provisions of section 22 (b) (9), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942.

If as a result of the discharge of indebtedness there remains unamortized premium or unamortized discount, the amount of the income attributable to such premium is to be excluded from gross income and the amount of the deduction attributable to such discount shall be disallowed as a deduction. The unamortized premium and unamortized discount, as the case may be, is in each instance to be computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which the discharge of indebtedness occurred.

Section 22 (b) (9) and this paragraph are inapplicable in the case of any discharge occurring in any proceeding under section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act of 1898, as amended, under Chapter X or XI of such Act, or under Chapter XV of such Act if the proceeding under such chapter was initiated by a petition filed on or before July 31, 1940 (see paragraphs 3 to 16, inclusive, of the Appendix to these regulations), and with respect to any discharge of indebtedness to which section 22 (b) (10) applies.

PAR. 8. There is inserted immediately following § 19.22 (b) (9)–2 the following:

[SEC. 22. GROSS INCOME]

(b) Exclusions from gross income. The following items shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from taxation under this chapter:]

SEC. 114. EXCLUSION OF INCOME FROM DISCHARGE OF INDEBTEDNESS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(b) Railroad corporations; Discharge of indebtedness in certain judicial proceedings. Section 22 (b) (relating to exclusions from gross income) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(10) Income from discharge of indebtedness of a railroad corporation. The amount of any income attributable to the discharge, within the taxable year, of any indebtedness of a railroad corporation, as defined in section 77m of the National Bankruptcy Act, as amended, to the extent that such income is deemed to have been realized by reason of a modification in or cancellation in whole or in part of such indebtedness pursuant to an order of a court in a receivership proceeding or in a proceeding under section 77 of the National Bankruptcy Act, as amended. In such case the amount of any income of the taxpayer attributable to any unamortized premium (computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be included in gross income and the amount of the deduction attributable to any unamortized discount (computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which such discharge occurred) with respect to such indebtedness shall not be allowed as a deduction. Paragraph (9) shall not apply with respect to any discharge of indebtedness to which this paragraph applies. This paragraph shall not apply to any discharge occurring in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1945.

(c) Taxable years to which amendment applicable. The amendment made by subsection (b) shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939.

§ 19.22 (b) (10)–1 Income from discharge of indebtedness of railroad corporations. By section 22 (b) (10) the amount of any income attributable to the discharge, within the taxable year, of any indebtedness of a railroad corporation as a result of an order of a court in a receivership proceeding, or in a railroad reorganization proceeding under section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act of 1898, as amended, is, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939, and before January 1, 1946, excluded from the gross income of the railroad corporation. The section is applicable only in a case where income accrues to a taxpayer from the modification or cancellation of the corporate indebtedness (whether in whole or in part) pursuant to a court order.

The railroad corporations to which this section and section 22 (b) (10) apply are those defined in section 77m of the Bankruptcy Act of 1898, as amended, namely, any common carrier by railroad engaged in the transportation of persons or property in interstate commerce, except a street, a suburban, or interurban electric railway which is not operated as a part of a general railroad system of transportation or which does not derive more than 50 percent of its operating revenues from the transportation of freight in standard steam railroad freight equipment.

As used in section 22 (b) (10) and this section the term "indebtedness" means an obligation, absolute and not contingent, to pay on demand or within a given time, in cash or another medium, a fixed amount.

If, as a result of the discharge of indebtedness, there remains unamortized premium or unamortized discount, the amount of the income attributable to such premium is to be excluded from gross income and the amount of the deduction attributable to such discount shall be disallowed as a deduction. The unamortized premium and unamortized discount, as the case may be, is in each instance to be computed as of the first day of the taxable year in which the discharge of indebtedness occurred.

The provisions of section 22 (b) (10) and this section are applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939, and before January 1, 1946.

[SEC. 22. GROSS INCOME]

SEC. 115. IMPROVEMENTS BY LESSEE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Exclusion of income from lessee's improvements. Section 22 (b) (relating to exclusions from gross income) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(11) Improvements by lessee on lessor's property. Income, other than rent, derived by a lessor of real property upon the termination of a lease, representing the value of such property attributable to buildings erected or other improvements made by the lessee.

* * * * * *

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

§ 19.22 (b) (11)–1 Exclusion from gross income of lessor of real property of value of improvements erected by lessee. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, income derived by a lessor of real property upon the termination, through forfeiture or otherwise, of the lease of such property and attributable to buildings erected or other improvements made by the lessee upon the leased property is excluded from gross income. However, where the facts disclose that such buildings or improvements represent in whole or in part a liquidation in kind of lease rentals, the exclusion from gross income shall not apply to the extent that such buildings or improvements represent such liquidation. The exclusion applies only with respect to the income realized by the lessor upon the termination of the lease and has no application to income, if any, in the form of rent, which may be derived by a lessor during the period of the lease and attributable to buildings erected or other improvements made by the lessee. It has no application to income which may be realized by the lessor upon the termination of the lease but not attributable to the value of such buildings or improvements. Neither does it apply to income derived by the lessor subsequent to the termination of the lease incident to the ownership of such buildings or improvements.

The provisions of this section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. The A Corporation leased in 1935 for a period of 50 years unimproved real property to the B Corporation under a lease providing that the B Corporation erect on the leased premises an office building costing $500,000, in addition to paying the A Corporation a lease rental of $10,000 per annum beginning on the date of completion of the improvements, the sum of $100,000 being placed in escrow for the payment of the rental. The building was completed on January 1, 1937. The lease provided that all improvements made by the lessee on the leased property would become the absolute property of the A Corporation on the termination of the lease by forfeiture or otherwise and that the lessor would become entitled on such termination to the remainder of the sum, if any, remaining in the escrow fund. The B Corporation forfeited its lease on January 1, 1942, when the improvements had a value of $100,000. Under the provisions of section 22 (b) (11), the $100,000 is excluded from gross income. The amount of $50,000 representing the remainder in the escrow fund is forfeited to the A Corporation and is included in the gross income of that taxpayer. If, in this example the lease covered a period of only 25 years and the building upon completion had an estimated value of $75,000 as of the end of the lease term and in accordance with an option granted by the regulations the A Corporation included in gross income the sum of $3,000 for each taxable year from 1937 to 1941, both years inclusive, then there shall be excluded from gross income for the taxable year 1942 and subsequent taxable years any such amounts otherwise includible in gross income for such years and attributable to the building erected by the B Corporation, notwithstanding the exercise of such option. As to the basis of the property in the hands of the A Corporation, see section 19.113 (b) (3)–3.

PAR. 9. There is inserted immediately preceding section 22 (c) the following:

SEC. 117. ADDITIONAL ALLOWANCE FOR MILITARY AND NAVAL PERSONNEL. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Section 22 (b) (relating to exclusions from gross income) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(13) Additional allowance for military and naval personnel. So much of the amount received, before the termination of the present war as proclaimed by the President, by personnel below the grade of commissioned officer in the military or naval forces of the United States as salary or compensation in any form from the United States for active service in such forces during such war, as does not exceed $250 in the case of a single person and $300 in the case of a married person or head of a family. The determination, for the purposes of this paragraph, of the taxpayer's status in the armed forces and his family status shall be made as of the end of the taxable year.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

§ 19.22 (b) (13)–1 Compensation of military and naval forces. For any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, a person below the grade of commissioned officer in active service in the military or naval forces of the United States during the present war may exclude from gross income salary or compensation received in any form from the United States, for such service, in an amount not in excess of $250 if single or $300 if married or the head of a family. If the husband and wife both meet such requirements, then each is entitled to the $300 exclusion. The exemption does not apply to compensation received before January 1, 1942, or after the present war, the date of the termination of the war to be fixed by proclamation of the President. For the purpose of this section the military and naval forces of the United States include (but are not necessarily limited to) the Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the Army Nurse Corps, Female, the Navy Nurse Corps, Female, the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, the Women's Reserve branch of the Naval Reserve (the "WAVES"), and the Coast Guard Reserve, including the Women's Reserve ("SPARS") which is a branch of the Coast Guard Reserve. Personnel serving with the Army Specialist Corps are not within the scope of the exemption.

A person is in active service if he is actually serving in such forces, not necessarily in the field or in the theatre of war. Personnel in the inactive reserve or on retirement are not in active service. Periods during which a person is absent from duty on account of sickness, wounds, leave, internment by the enemy, or other lawful cause are periods of active service.

This exemption does not apply to salary or compensation received by such person subsequent to discharge or release from active service even though payment may have been made as compensation for services rendered while in active service.

For the purposes of this section, whether a person is in active service in the military or naval forces of the United States and whether such person is single, married, or the head of a family is determined by such person's status on the last day of the taxable year.

§ 21.0 Introductory. (a) Chapter 6 (Capital Stock Tax) of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. Part 1), as amended, and applicable for capital stock tax years ending June 30, beginning with the year ending June 30, 1942, provides in part as follows:

SEC. 1200. TAX. (As amended by section 205 of the Revenue Act of 1940, section 301 of the Revenue Act of 1941, and section 301 of the Revenue Act of 1942.)

(a) Domestic corporations. For each year ending June 30, beginning with the year ending June 30, 1939, there shall be imposed upon every domestic corporation with respect to carrying on or doing business for any part of such year an excise tax of $1.25 for each $1,000 of the declared value of its capital stock.

(b) Foreign corporations. For each year ending June 30, beginning with the year ending June 30, 1939, there shall be imposed upon every foreign corporation with respect to carrying on or doing business in the United States for any part of such year an excise tax equivalent to $1.25 for each $1,000 of the declared value of capital employed in the transaction of its business in the United States.

SEC. 1201. EXEMPTIONS.

(a) The taxes imposed by section 1200 shall not apply—

(1) Corporations exempt from income tax. To any corporation enumerated in section 101;

(2) Insurance companies. To any insurance company subject to the tax imposed by section 201, 204, or 207.

(b) Common trust funds.

For exemption of common trust funds from the capital stock tax, see section 169 (b) of chapter 1.

SEC. 1202. DECLARED VALUE. (As amended by section 301 of the Revenue Act of 1939, section 202 of the Revenue Act of 1941, and section 301 of the Revenue Act of 1942.)

(a) Declaration of value. The declared value shall be the value as declared by the corporation in its return for the year (which declaration of value cannot be amended). The value declared by the corporation in its return shall be as of the close of its last income-tax taxable year ending with or prior to the close of the capital stock tax taxable year (or as of the date of organization in the case of a corporation having no income-tax taxable year ending with or prior to the close of such declaration year).

(b) Credit for China Trade Act corporations. For the purpose of the tax imposed by section 1200 there shall be allowed in the case of a corporation organized under the China Trade Act, 1922, 42 Stat. 849 (U. S. C., 1940 ed., title 15, ch. 4), as a credit against the declared value of its capital stock, an amount equal to the proportion of such declared value which the par value of the shares of stock of the corporation, owned on the last day of the taxable year by (1) persons resident in China, the United States, or possessions of the United States, and (2) individual citizens of the United States or China wherever resident, bears to the par value of the whole number of shares of stock of the corporation outstanding on such date. For the purposes of this subsection shares of stock of a corporation shall be considered to be owned by the person in whom the equitable right to the income from such shares is in good faith vested; and as used in this subsection the term "China" shall have the same meaning as when used in the China Trade Act, 1922.

(b) Subchapter B of Chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended and applicable to income-tax taxable years ending after June 30, 1942, provides as follows:

SUBCHAPTER B—DECLARED VALUE EXCESS-PROFITS TAX

SEC. 600. RATE OF TAX. (As amended by section 204 of the Revenue Act of 1940, section 506 of the Second Revenue Act of 1940, section 302 of the Revenue Act of 1941, and section 302 of the Revenue Act of 1942.)

If any corporation is taxable under section 1200 with respect to any year ending June 30, there shall be imposed upon its net income for the income-tax taxable year ending after the close of such year, a declared value excess-profits tax equal to the sum of the following:

$6^{6}/_{10}$ per centum of such portion of its net income for such income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 10 percentum and not in excess of 15 per centum of the declared value;

$13^{2}/_{10}$ per centum of such portion of its net income for such income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 15 per centum of the declared value.

SEC. 601. DECLARED VALUE. (As amended by sections 302 (a) (2) and 303 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1942.)

The declared value shall be determined as provided in section 1202 as of the close of the preceding income-tax taxable year (or as of the date of organization if it had no preceding income-tax taxable year).

SEC. 602. NET INCOME. (As amended by section 202 of the Revenue Act of 1941, and section 304, of the Revenue Act of 1942.)

For the purposes of this subchapter the net income shall be the same as the net income for income tax purposes for the year in respect of which the tax under section 600 is imposed, computed without the deduction of the tax imposed by section 600, but with a credit against net income equal to the credit for dividends received provided in section 26 (b) of Chapter 1.

SEC. 605. INCOME-TAX TAXABLE YEAR OF LESS THAN TWELVE MONTHS. (As added by section 303 of the Revenue Act of 1942.)

(a) General rule. If the income-tax taxable year is a period of less than twelve months on account of a change in the accounting period of the taxpayer, the net income determined under section 602 for such income-tax taxable year (referred to in this section as the "short taxable year") shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year and dividing by the number of days in the short taxable year. The tax shall be such part of the tax computed on such annual basis as the number of days in the short taxable year is of the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year.

(b) Exception. If the taxpayer establishes the amount of the tax under section 600 for the period of twelve months beginning with the first day of the short taxable year, computed as if such twelve-month period were an income-tax taxable year, under the law applicable to the short taxable year, and using the adjusted declared value applicable in determining the tax for such short taxable year, then the tax determined under subsection (a) for the short taxable year shall be reduced to an amount which is such part of the tax computed for the twelve-month period as the net income for the short taxable year is of the net income established for such twelve-month period. The taxpayer (other than a taxpayer to which the next sentence applies) shall compute the tax and file its return without the application of this subsection. If, prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, the taxpayer has disposed of substantially all its assets, in lieu of the twelve-month period provided in the preceding provision of this subsection, the twelve-month period ending with the close of the short taxable year shall be used. For the purposes of this subsection, the net income for the short taxable year shall not be placed on an annual basis under the provisions of subsection (a), and the net income for the twelve-month period used shall in no case be considered less than the net income for the short taxable year. The benefits of this subsection shall not be allowed unless the taxpayer, at such time as regulations prescribed hereunder require, makes application therefor in accordance with such regulations, and such application, in the case of a taxpayer required to file return without regard to this subsection, shall be considered a claim for credit or refund. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary for the application of this subsection.

SEC. 603. OTHER LAWS APPLICABLE.

All provisions of law (including penalties) applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by chapter 1, shall, insofar as not inconsistent with this subchapter, be applicable in respect of the tax imposed by section 600, except that the provisions of section 131 of that chapter shall not be applicable.

SEC. 604. PUBLICITY OF RETURNS.

For provisions with respect to publicity of returns under this subchapter, see subsection (a) (2) of section 55.

(c) Section 53 of Chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code provides in part:

SEC. 53. TIME AND PLACE FOR FILING RETURNS.

(a) Time for filing.

(1) General rule. Returns made on the basis of the calendar year shall be made on or before the 15th day of March following the close of the calendar year. Returns made on the basis of a fiscal year shall be made on or before the 15th day of the third month following the close of the fiscal year.

(2) Extension of time. The Commissioner may grant a reasonable extension of time for filing returns, under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe with the approval of the Secretary. Except in the case of taxpayers who are abroad, no such extension shall be for more than six months.

(b) To whom return made.

(2) Corporations. Returns of corporations shall be made to the collector of the district in which is located the principal place of business or principal office or agency of the corporation, or, if it has no principal place of business or principal office or agency in the United States, then to the collector at Baltimore, Maryland.

(d) Section 145 of Chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code provides in part:

SEC. 145. PENALTIES.

(a) Failure to file returns, submit information, or pay tax. Any person required under this chapter to pay any tax, or required by law or regulations made under authority thereof to make a return, keep any records, or supply any information, for the purposes of the computation, assessment, or collection of any tax imposed by this chapter, who willfully fails to pay such tax, make such return, keep such records, or supply such information, at the time or times required by law or regulations, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

(b) Failure to collect and pay over tax, or attempt to defeat or evade tax. Any person required under this chapter to collect, account for, and pay over any tax imposed by this chapter, who willfully fails to collect or truthfully account for and pay over such tax, and any person who willfully attempts in any manner to evade or defeat any tax imposed by this chapter or the payment thereof, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

(d) Person defined.

The term "person" as used in this section includes an officer or employee of a corporation or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

* * * * *

(e) Section 62 of Chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code provides:

SEC. 62. RULES AND REGULATIONS.

The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe and publish all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this chapter.

(f) Pursuant to the above-quoted provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and other provisions of the Code, the following regulations are hereby prescribed with respect to the declared value excess-profits tax imposed by the Internal Revenue Code for income-tax taxable years ending after June 30, 1942.

§ 21.1 Definitions. As used in these regulations, the term:

(a) "Declared value" means in the case of a domestic corporation the value of its capital stock declared by the corporation under section 1202 of Chapter 6 of the Internal Revenue Code, and the regulations respecting the capital stock tax imposed by such chapter for the year ended June 30, 1942, and succeeding years. In the case of a foreign corporation "declared value" means the value of the capital employed in the transaction of its business in the United States as declared under such section 1202, and such regulations.

Prior to the amendment of Code section 1202 made by section 301 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942 and applicable to years ending after June 30, 1942, new declarations of capital stock value were to be made only for "declaration years," and a declaration so made was binding with certain adjustments, for the other years, known as "adjustment years." The value for any year, whether a declaration or an adjustment year, was known as the "adjusted declared value." Under the said amendment of Code section 1202 a new declaration is made each year, and since there is no longer any adjustment of the value so declared, the term "adjusted declared value" has been superseded, for the year ended June 30, 1942, and succeeding years, by the term "declared value." Code section 605 (b), as added by section 303 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942, in providing a special method of tax computation with respect to short taxable years, uses the term "adjusted declared value." However, while section 605 (b) is retroactively applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939, and ended prior to July 1, 1942 (covered by previous regulations), it applies also to years ending after June 30, 1942, and as to such latter years "adjusted declared value" as used in section 605 should be taken to mean "declared value."

(b) "Tax", except as otherwise indicated, means the declared value excess profits tax imposed by section 600 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(c) (1) "Income-tax taxable year" means the calendar year, a fiscal year ending during such calendar year, or the fractional part of a year, for which the corporation's net income is computed and for which its income tax returns are made for Federal income tax purposes.

(2) "Short taxable year" means such fractional part of a year.

(d) "Net income" means net income within the contemplation of section 21 of the Internal Revenue Code, with the following exceptions:

(i) Interest on obligations of the United States or instrumentalities thereof which is exempt by statute from excess profits tax is not included in gross income and no deduction for amortization of premium on such obligations is allowable.

(ii) None of the credits allowed corporations against net income for income tax purposes is applicable in respect of the declared value excess profits tax except the credit against net income for dividends received provided in section 26 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code. This credit is limited to 85 per centum of the dividends received from a domestic corporation subject to income taxation, and may not exceed 85 per centum of the taxpayer's adjusted net income reduced by the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to the excess profits tax imposed by Subchapter E of Chapter 2.

(iii) The declared value excess profits tax may not be deducted from net income in computing the declared value excess profits tax.

§ 21.2 Scope of tax. The declared value excess profits tax, imposed by section 600 of the Internal Revenue Code, applies to the net income of every corporation for each income tax taxable year ending after the close of any year ending June 30 in respect of which the corporation is subject to the capital stock tax imposed by section 1200 of the Internal Revenue Code. The tax covered by these regulations is for years ending after June 30, 1942.

§ 21.3 Measure and rate of tax—(a) Domestic and foreign corporations. With respect to income-tax taxable years ending after June 30, 1942, the declared value excess-profits tax is imposed in an amount equal to the sum of (1) $6^{6}/_{10}$ percent of such portion of the corporation's net income for the income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 10 percent and not in excess of 15 percent of the declared value, plus (2) $13^{2}/_{10}$ percent of such portion of its net income for the income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 15 percent of the declared value, on the capital stock tax return for the last preceding capital stock tax taxable year. (See example 1, § 21.4.) No variation is permitted between the declared value set forth in the corporation's capital stock tax return and the declared value set forth in its declared value excess profits tax return.

(b) Short taxable years—(1) General—(i) Old adjustment method superseded. Prior to its amendment by section 303 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1942, Code section 601 provided that if the income-tax taxable year in respect of which the declared value excess-profits tax was imposed was a period of less than twelve months the adjusted declared value should be reduced to an amount which bore the same ratio thereto as the number of months in the period bore to twelve months.

By the amendment this provision for adjustment of the declared value is made inapplicable to short taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939. It remains applicable to short taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1940. As to the method of adjustment pursuant to Code section 605 added by section 303 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942, see succeeding paragraphs.

(ii) Several taxable years ending in one twelve-month period. The declared value excess profits tax for any short income-tax taxable year is governed by the declaration for the immediately preceding capital stock tax taxable year, even though a full income-tax taxable year is covered by the same declaration. The declared value excess-profits tax for any income-tax taxable years ending during a twelve-month period closing June 30 of any calendar year is governed by the capital stock tax declaration for the capital stock tax year ending on the last preceding June 30, regardless of the number of such income-tax taxable years within such twelve-month period. (See example 2, § 21.4.)

(2) Change of accounting period.—(i) Regular method of computation. If, due to a change of accounting period an income tax taxable year ending after June 30, 1942, is a period of less than twelve months, the net income is to be placed on an annual basis for declared value excess profits tax purposes. Under the general rule established by Code section 605 (a) added by section 303 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942, for declared value excess profits tax purposes when a short taxable year is due to a change of accounting period, the net income for the short taxable year is put on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the short taxable year, and dividing by the number of days in the short taxable year. The tax for the short taxable year is that part of the tax on the net income computed on such annual basis as the number of days in the short taxable year is of the number of days in the twelve-month period. (See example 3, § 21.4)

(ii) Special method of computation. Section 605 (b) provides a special method of computing the declared value excess profits tax liability in cases where the short taxable year is due to a change of accounting period. Under this method the tax for the short taxable year is determined by computing a tax on the basis of the net income for the twelve months beginning with the first day of the short taxable year or (if prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, the taxpayer disposes of substantially all its assets) on the basis of the net income for the twelve-month period ending with the close of the short taxable year. In any case the net income for the twelve-month period shall be deemed to be at least as much as the net income of the short taxable year. The tax for the short taxable year shall be an amount which is the same percentage of the tax computed on the basis of the net income of the twelve-month period as the net income of the short taxable year is of the net income of the twelve-month period. (See example 4, § 21.4)

(iii) Application for use of special method. A taxpayer desiring the benefit of subsection (b) of section 605 must file with the Commissioner an application therefor. If at the time the return for the short taxable year is filed the taxpayer is able to determine that the twelve-month period ending with the close of the short taxable year will be used in the computation under subsection (b), then the tax on the return for the short taxable year may be determined under the provisions of subsection (b). In such a case, an income tax return form covering the computation for the twelve-month period shall be attached to the return as a part thereof, and the return will be considered the application for the benefit of subsection (b) required by the statute. In all other cases, the taxpayer shall file its return and compute its tax as provided in subsection (a) (see paragraph (i)), and the application for the benefit of subsection (b) (see paragraph (ii)) shall be made in the form of a claim for credit or refund. The claim shall set forth the computation of the net income and the tax thereon for the twelve-month period, and must be filed not later than the time prescribed for filing the return for the first taxable year ending on or after the twelfth month running from the beginning of the short taxable year. If the Commissioner determines that the taxpayer has established the amount of the net income for the twelve-month period, any excess of the tax paid for the short taxable year over the tax computed under subsection (b) (see paragraph (ii)) will be credited or refunded to the taxpayer in the same manner as in the case of an overpayment.

The net income for the twelve-month period is computed, under the same provisions of law as are applicable to the short taxable year, as if the twelve-month period were an actual accounting period of the taxpayer. All items which fall in such twelve-month period must be included even if they are extraordinary in amount or of an unusual nature. If any other item partially applicable to such twelve-month period can be determined only at the end of a taxable year which includes only part of the twelve-month period, the taxpayer, subject to review by the Commissioner, shall apportion such item to the twelve-month period in such manner as will most clearly reflect the income for the twelve-month period.

§ 21.4 Method of computation; examples. The application of the provisions of § 21.3 of these regulations may be illustrated generally by the following examples:

Example (1). The M Corporation, the income-tax taxable year of which is the calendar year, is subject to the capital stock tax imposed by section 1200 of the Internal Revenue Code, for the year ended June 30, 1942. The value of its capital stock declared in its capital stock tax return for the year ended June 30, 1942, is $100,000. The net income of the corporation for the calendar year 1942, determined under the Internal Revenue Code, is $25,000. During 1942 the corporation received dividends from corporations subject to taxation under chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code, amounting to $5,000. The declared value excess-profits tax for the calendar year 1942 is $1,089, computed as follows:

Net income for calendar year 1942	$25,000
Less: Credit for dividends received (85 percent of $5,000)	4,250
Balance of net income	20,750
Less: 10 percent of the value declared in the capital stock tax return for the year ending June 30, 1942 (10 percent of $100,000)	10,000
Net income subject to declared value excess-profits tax	10,750
Less: Amount taxable at 6⅘ percent, portion of net income in excess of 10 percent and not in excess of 15 percent of the value declared in the capital stock tax return ($15,000 minus $10,000)	5,000
Amount taxable at 13⅖ percent	5,750
Declared value excess-profits tax at 6⅘ percent (6⅘ percent of $5,000)	330
Declared value excess-profits tax at 13⅖ percent (13⅖ percent of $5,750)	759
Total declared value excess-profits tax ($330 plus $759)	1,089

Example (2). The corporation indicated in example (1) properly files a return for the short taxable year beginning January 1, 1943, and ending April 30, 1943, for reasons other than a change in accounting period. The taxable net income for that period is $5,000. No declared value excess-profits tax is due since this amount of income would not be in excess of 10 percent of the value, $100,000, declared on the capital stock tax return for the year ended June 30, 1942.

Example (3). The circumstances are the same as in example (2) except that the short taxable year is due to change of accounting period. The present method of computation under section 605 (a) would be as follows:

Number of days in 12 months ending April 30, 1943	365
Number of days in short taxable year	120
$5,000 × 365/120	$15,208.33
Less: 10 percent of declared value ($100,000)	10,000.00
	5,208.33
Amount taxable at 6⅘ percent	5,000.00
Amount taxable at 13⅖ percent	208.33
Declared value excess profits tax at 6⅘ percent (6⅘ percent of $5,000)	330.00
Declared value excess profits tax at 13⅖ percent (13⅖ percent of $208.33)	27.50
Total declared excess-profits tax for the twelve-month period	357.50
120/365 of $357.50 = $117.53 declared value excess-profits tax due for short taxable year

Example (4). The same corporation desires its declared value excess profits tax computed in accordance with section 605 (b) on the basis of a twelve-month period including the short taxable year. The assets having been distributed in August, 1943, which was prior to one year from the date of the beginning of the short taxable year, computation must be on the basis of the twelve months ending with the close of such short taxable year. The income of such twelve-month period is $11,000. The computation is as follows:

Income for the short taxable year	$5,000
Income for the twelve-month period	11,000
10 percent of declared value ($100,000)	10,000
Difference	1,000
Declared value excess profits tax (6⅘ 10 percent of $1,000)	66
5,000/11,000 of $66 = $30

This amount is less than that computed in accordance with section 605 (a) (see example (3)) and it may, if there has been compliance with the required procedure (see section 21.3 (b) (2) (iii)) be taken as the amount of the tax.

§ 21.5 Returns. Every corporation which is subject to the capital stock tax imposed by section 1200 of the Internal Revenue Code, for any year, shall make a declared value excess-profits tax return for each income-tax taxable year which ends after the close of the capital stock tax taxable year and not later than the close of the next capital stock tax taxable year. There is no provision in the Internal Revenue Code which authorizes the making of a consolidated return by an affiliated group of corporations for the purpose of the declared value excess profits tax imposed by section 600 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended. Accordingly, every corporation which is liable for the making of a declared value excess profits tax return under section 600 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended (for any income-tax taxable year ending after June 30, 1942), whether or not such corporation is a member of an affiliated group of corporations, must make its declared value excess-profits tax return and compute its net income separately, without regard to the provisions of section 141 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Where, however, Form 1122 executed by such affiliated corporation appears as part of the consolidated return on Form 1120 of the common parent corporation for the same taxable period and such consolidated return, in compliance with the requirements of the regulations relating to consolidated returns, includes the gross income and deductions of such affiliated corporation, the items of which are shown in detail on a schedule attached to such consolidated return, the affiliated corporation in filing Form 1120 for purposes of the declared value excess-profits tax for such taxable period will not be required again to furnish the same items of gross income and deductions on Form 1120, but will be required only to identify by appropriate notation on page 1, Form 1120, the consolidated return in which such items appear, furnish the necessary adjustments to show the net income of the corporation computed on the basis of a separate return, prepare the declared value excess-profits tax computation on page 2 and execute and acknowledge the return on page 1.

The declared value excess-profits tax return shall be made within the time prescribed for making the corporation's Federal income tax return for the income-tax taxable year, and shall be made to the collector of internal revenue to whom such income tax return is required to be made.

Where a consolidated income tax return is made for an affiliated group of corporations, a declared value excess-profits tax return made by a member of the group shall be made to the collector of internal revenue to whom a separate income tax return of the member would be required to be made. Such declared value excess-profits tax return may, however, be made to the collector to whom the consolidated income tax return is required to be made.

§ 21.6 Payment of tax. The declared value excess profits tax for any income-tax taxable year shall be paid within the time prescribed for paying the Federal income tax for such taxable year.

§ 21.7 Credits against tax prohibited. Foreign income and profits taxes may not be credited against the declared value excess profits tax imposed by section 600 of the Code.

§ 21.8 Determination of tax, assessment, collection. The determination, assessment, and collection of the tax, and the examination of returns and claims in connection therewith, will be made under such procedure as may be prescribed from time to time by the Commissioner.

§ 21.9 Taxable years affected. These regulations relate solely to income-tax taxable years ending after June 30, 1942, and supersede any previous regulations relative to declared value excess profits tax for such years.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A-1849]

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices, and for changes in shipping points and freight origin group numbers for the coals of certain mines in District No. 8.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices and changes in the shipping points and Freight Origin Group numbers for the coals of certain mines in District No. 8; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, §328.11 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–I, § 328.21 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–II, and § 328.34 (General prices for high volatile coals in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and commencing forthwith the shipping points and freight origin group numbers appearing in the aforesaid Supplement R for certain mines are effective in lieu of the shipping points and freight origin group numbers heretofore established for said mines.

The request that the shipping point for the coals produced at the Yorke No. 1 Mine, Mine Index No. 1391, operated by Mullins, Vernon & L. E. Woofter (Vernon Mullins) be changed from Clay, West Virginia, to Yorke No. 1 Mine, is denied for the reason that the latter point cannot be identified as a rail shipping point.

The request that the shipping point for the coals produced at the Vance & Perkins Mine, Mine Index No. 5122, operated by Vance & Perkins (Wm. Perkins) be changed from Red Ash, Virginia, to Raven, Virginia, is denied for the reason that it appears that Vance & Perkins (Wm. Perkins) has been succeeded by Perkins & Son (Wm. Perkins) as the operator of this mine, who retained Red Ash, Viginia, as the shipping point for the coals produced at the Vance & Perkins Mine, Mine Index No. 5122.

The request for the establishment of rail prices for the coals produced at the Abbott Creek Mine, Mine Index No. 546, operated by A. B. Ewen, is denied herein to the extent that the said Mine Index No. 546 is deleted from the original petition filed herein, and is granted herein to the extent that the requested prices are established for the coals produced at this mine as Mine Index No. 3600, for the reason that it appears that the said Abbott Creek Mine has been heretofore designated as Mine Index No. 3660.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure Before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: February 13, 1943.

Director.

C. J. DILL

C. J. Dill of New Orleans, Louisiana in May 1942 began the construction of a dance hall to be known as "Dreamland." The construction was on property owned by C. J. Dill, situated near the intersection of Metairie Road and Harlem Avenue in Metairie, Louisiana, a suburb of New Orleans. The total cost of this building, when completed, was expected to be about $30,000 and expenditures for materials and labor after June 15 were in excess of $8,000.

The beginning of this construction was never authorized by the War Production Board and constituted a wilful violation of Conservation Order L-41. Furthermore, the construction was not terminated by June 6, 1942, as required by Supplementary Conservation Order L-41-a but continued until about November 17, 1942 in wilful violation of that order.

These violations of Conservation Orders L-41 and ~~L-41-a~~ have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.250 Suspension Order S-250. (a) Neither C. J. Dill nor any other person shall order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory, or in any other manner secure or use construction plant in order to continue or complete construction of the dance hall situated near the intersection of Metairie Road and Harlem Avenue in Metairie, Louisiana.

(b) No application filed by C. J. Dill or any other person for authorization to complete the dance hall mentioned in paragraph (a) hereof shall be granted.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

CESCO ELECTRIC SUPPLY CO.

Fanny and Max Kelman, doing business as Cesco Electric Supply Company, 478 Alexander Street, Rochester, New York, are engaged in the business of selling copper products at wholesale. Their operations are subject to the provisions of General Preference Order M-9-a. During the period of February 6, through September 17, 1942, this concern persisted in wilfully violating this order by delivering copper wire to fill orders which either bore no preference ratings or preference ratings lower than those required by the amendments of General Preference Order M-9-a. The concern also wilfully violated Limitation Order L-78 by selling fluorescent fixtures constructed for the operation of tubes having a rated wattage in excess of 30 watts each and falsifying their records of such sales.

These violations have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.253 Suspension Order S-253. (a) Deliveries of material or equipment to Fanny or Max Kelman, individually, or doing business as Cesco Electric Supply Company, or otherwise, their successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be applied, assigned, or extended to such deliveries by any preference rating certificate, preference rating order, general preference order, or any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) No allocation shall be made, directly or indirectly, to Fanny or Max Kelman, individually, or doing business as Cesco Electric Supply Company or otherwise, their successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Fanny or Max Kelman, individually, or doing business as Cesco Electric Supply Company, or otherwise, their successors and assigns, shall not sell, transfer or deliver copper products except in fulfillment of purchase orders bearing preference ratings of AA–2 or higher, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Fanny or Max Kelman, individually, or doing business as Cesco Electric Supply Company, or otherwise, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on March 12, 1943, and shall expire on September 12, 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

(1) The exercise of rationing control over the sale, transfer, delivery or other disposition of fuel oil by any person to any consumer, in cases in which either such person or such consumer is within the limitation area, and over the use of fuel oil by any person: Provided, That such authority shall not include the power:

(i) To limit or restrict the quantity of fuel oil obtainable by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States or by government agencies or other persons to the extent to which they acquire fuel oil for export to and consumption or use in any foreign country; and

(ii) To deny fuel oil to any person for the operation of oil burning equipment (other than equipment furnishing heat or hot water to any building or structure) for the reason that such equipment can be converted to the use of fuel other than fuel oil, except where the denial of fuel oil is recommended by the Office of Petroleum Coordinator for War and approved by the Director General for Operations.

(2) The requiring of the delivery of such coupons, certificates or other evidences as the Office of Price Administration may prescribe, as a condition to the sale, transfer, delivery or other disposition of fuel oil by any person to any other person in cases in which either person is within the limitation area.

(b) The authority of the Office of Price Administration under this supplementary directive shall include the power to regulate or prohibit the sale, transfer, delivery or other disposition of fuel oil to, or the acquisition or use of fuel oil by, any person who has acted in violation of any rationing regulation or order prescribed by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) The Office of Price Administration is authorized, in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order No. 9125, and to the extent that it may deem necessary to the enforcement of the authority delegated in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this supplementary directive:

(2) To require any person wherever located, who is involved, directly or indirectly, at any stage in the distribution of fuel oil which is ultimately sold, transferred, delivered or otherwise disposed of in the limitation area (whether by such person or by other persons), or which is ultimately used in the limitation area, to comply with any rule, regulation or procedure promulgated or established pursuant to the authority delegated in paragraph (a) of this supplementary directive.

(d) As used in this supplementary directive, the term "fuel oil" means any liquid petroleum product commonly known as fuel oil, including grades Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, whether or not blended or rebranded, such as Bunker C, Diesel oil, kerosene, range oil, and gas oil. The term also includes any other liquid petroleum product having the same specifications as the above designated grades and used for the same purposes as such grades.

The term "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, government or governmental agency, and any other organized group or enterprise; the term "consumer" means any person who uses fuel oil for any purpose, including use as a component part of any manufactured article, material or compound; the term "limitation area" means the States of Connecticut, Delaware, Florida (east of the Apalachicola River), Georgia, that part of the State of Idaho including the counties of Ada, Adams, Benewah, Boise, Bonner, Boundary, Canyon, Clearwater, Elmore, Gem, Idaho, Kootenai, Latah, Lewis, Nez Perce, Owyhee, Payette, Shoshone, Valley and Washington, the States of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and the District of Columbia.

[2] The Conservation Division of the War Production Board issues, periodically, a publication showing the relative scarcity of materials entitled "Materials Substitutions and Scarcity".

[3] Under Supplementary Order M–1–d, aluminum scrap may not be used for any of the purposes listed unless such use is specifically authorized by the Director.

ment of quantity production of authorized controlled materials orders (as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1) or of other quantity production orders bearing priority rating AA-2X or higher. However, notwithstanding the provisions of Supplementary Order M-1-d, a manufacturer may use aluminum to make new pattern equipment: Provided, That the new equipment will be used to fulfil any quantity production orders, and provided that he supplies the aluminum in the form of defective or obsolete equipment to make the new equipment.

(vi) Pistons, for use in Diesel engines, where the piston diameter is under 7½ inches, one- and two cylinder air-cooled gasoline engines, motorcycle engines, engines for trucks of 1½ ton capacity or over, engines for heavy duty tractors and engines in portable fire fighting equipment.

The total amount of aluminum [3] used by any person for deoxidizing steel during any month may not average more than 0.6 pound of aluminum per ton of carbon steel ingot (except for cartridge cases and cartridge boxes), and 2.0 pounds of aluminum per ton of alloy steel ingot, produced by him during such month. The total amount of aluminum [3] used by any person for deoxidizing steel for plate, sheet and strip for cartridge cases and cartridge boxes may not exceed 4.0 pounds of aluminum in each ton of such steel produced by him. The total amount of aluminum [3] used by any person for deoxidizing steel for steel castings during any month may not average more than 2.5 pounds of aluminum per ton of metal charged into the furnace by him during such month.

(viii) Tools, portable electric and pneumatic:

(a) In pneumatic and high cycle electric tools, except grinders: (1) net weight—eight pounds or under—any parts; (2) net weight over eight pounds and up to and including twenty-three pounds—motor housings and gear housings only; (3) net weight over twenty-three pounds—motor housings only.

(c) In all other universal electric tools and in pneumatic and high cycle electric grinders—any parts.

(d) In handles cast integrally with motor housings.

(5) Repair. The restrictions of this order (other than those against the use of aluminum in manufacture where the use of less scarce materials as a substitute is impracticable) shall not apply to the use of aluminum in the manufacture of repair parts to make a specific repair of a used article or to the use of aluminum in repairing a used article, if the manufacturer of the parts or the person making the repair does not use aluminum weighing in the aggregate more than two pounds and any manufacturing, processing, assembling or finishing done by him is for the purpose of making the specific repair; nor shall the restrictions of this order (other than those against the use of aluminum in manufacture where the use of less scarce materials as a substitute is impracticable) apply to the use of aluminum in the manufacture of repair parts to make a specific repair of a used article or to the use of aluminum in repairing a used article: Provided, That the manufacturer of the parts or the person making the repair does not use aluminum weighing in the aggregate more than one pound in excess of the aluminum scrap derived from the article being repaired, that all such scrap is disposed of in compliance with the provisions of Supplementary Order M-1-d, and that any manufacturing, processing, assembling or finishing done by him is for the purpose of making the specific repair.

(d) Requests for authorization to use aluminum. Any person who, after March 10, 1943, seeks to obtain the specific authorization of the Director to use aluminum in manufacture for a purpose not permitted by paragraph (c) of this order, should do so by applying by letter to the Aluminum & Magnesium Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M-1-i, which letter should be filed in duplicate and contain substantially the following information:

(1) Weight, form and alloy of aluminum for which authorization to use is requested.

(2) The number of months the quantity of aluminum requested will cover the estimated requirements of the manufacturer.

(3) The part to be fabricated or other use to be made of the aluminum requested.

(4) The product into which such part will be incorporated, and end use of the product.

(5) The reasons, in detail, why material other than aluminum or less aluminum per unit was used in the last calendar quarter of 1942, if such was the case; and why an alternate material or a lower grade of aluminum cannot be used, even though aluminum or aluminum of the particular grade is specified.

(6) If previous requests for this use have been authorized or denied, give reference number on authorization or denial.

(7) If a CMP allotment has been issued, state allotment number and the weight of aluminum allotted.

(e) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) No person shall deliver any aluminum if he knows or has reason to believe that such aluminum is to be used in violation of the terms of this order. A certification in general terms that the recipient of aluminum is entitled to receive delivery of or use aluminum under applicable regulations and orders of the War Production Board, does not constitute evidence on which a person making delivery may rely if he has knowledge or reason to believe that the person receiving the aluminum intends to use it in violation of this order.

(2) Unless such delivery is made pursuant to a specific direction of the Director of the Aluminum and Magnesium Division, no person shall make delivery after March 31, 1943, of aluminum produced by him in a form or shape constituting a controlled material (as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1), and no person shall accept delivery thereof after such date, if such aluminum is to be processed by the person accepting delivery and sold to his customers in another form and shape constituting a controlled material as thus defined.

(f) Reports. Any person who has used aluminum in excess of 1,000 pounds in any calendar month, in the manufacture of aircraft, aircraft parts, or equipment, or in the manufacture of any item incorporated into or carried on an aircraft as it flies, exclusive of guns, ammunition, bombs, and pyrotechnics, shall file a report for said calendar month on or before the fifteenth day of the month following, on Form PD-40A Aircraft, or such other form as may be prescribed for this purpose by the Director. All other persons shall file such inventory and other reports as may be prescribed from time to time by the Director.

(g) Tolling. Except as the Director may specifically authorize on Form PD-114 or otherwise, no aluminum shall be delivered or received for melting under any toll, repurchase or similar arrangement.

(h) Operations of same person in different capacities. Any person who, in the use of aluminum in manufacture, operates in more than one capacity (for example, both as a producer and fabricator) shall, in each such capacity, be subject to the applicable obligations and restrictions imposed by this order. The initial putting into fabrication or other use of raw aluminum by a person who produced the same shall be deemed a delivery thereof hereunder.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priorities control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

Issued this 10th day of March 1943.

Director General for Operations.

(2) Quality of paperboard, no higher than bleached manila lined news, basis 75 sheets per 50 lb. bundle.

(2) When packing such rolls for shipment each manufacturer shall pack the same in multiples of a dozen, with a minimum of 36 per shipping case, except that cutter boxes containing rolls of 200 feet or more in length may be packed a minimum of 24 per shipping case.

(e) Prohibition of new designs and brands. No manufacturer or distributor of waxed paper household rolls in cutter boxes shall use on or in connection with the cutter boxes for such rolls any trade design or brand the original plates for which were not in existence on or before February 20, 1943.

(f) Temporary exception for existing inventories. Until April 21, 1943, but not thereafter, any person may notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this schedule, manufacture waxed paper household rolls for enclosure in cutter boxes out of paper of any basis weight or in any width or lengths, or wind the same on any weight cores, or package the same in any boxes or any number per shipping case, or affix metal cutting edge to or upon cutter boxes, necessary to utilize such person's inventories of paper, cores, metal cutting edges, boxes or shipping cases on hand the 20th day of February, 1943.

Issued this 10th day of March 1943.

[General Preference Order E-9]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of precision measuring instruments and testing machines for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3170.1 General Preference Order E-9—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of precision measuring instruments and testing machines.

(3) "Precision measuring instruments and testing machines" mean any precision device, whether power driven or hand operated, of the types listed on Schedule A attached hereto having a retail sales price of $200 or more, excluding automotive maintenance equipment and precision devices designed specifically for laboratory use.

(b) Restrictions on sales and purchases. On and after March 10, 1943, no person shall sell, transfer, deliver or accept delivery of any precision measuring instrument or testing machine unless there has been assigned to the purchase thereof a preference rating of A-1-a or higher by a preference rating certificate PD-1A, PD-3, PD-3A, a preference rating certificate in the PD-408 series, a preference rating order No. P-19-h, or by a rerating direction or certificate PD-4X or PD-4Y. From and after March 10, 1943 every producer shall require any person placing a purchase order for a precision measuring instrument or testing machine to furnish to the producer a copy, reproduced in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 5, of the preference rating certificate PD-1A, PD-3, PD-3A, PD-408, the preference rating order P-19-h or the rerating direction or certificate PD-4X or PD-4Y.

(c) Repair parts. Nothing in this order shall be deemed to prevent the sale and delivery of any part manufactured for use in the repair or maintenance of precision measuring instruments or testing machines. Purchase and delivery of such repair parts shall be in accordance with current regulations and orders of the War Production Board.

(d) Schedules to be filed. (1) The Director General for Operations may from time to time require any producer to notify the War Production Board of all unfilled orders for any type of precision measuring instrument or testing machine, together with such producer's proposed schedule for delivery thereof. Thereafter, until otherwise directed by the Director General for Operations, such producer shall immediately notify the War Production Board of each new order, together with his proposed schedule for delivery thereof, for any precision measuring instrument or testing machine of the same type as any concerning which notification has been previously required. Any notification required by this paragraph shall be filed on Form PD-669 in accordance with the instructions attached thereto.

(2) Until otherwise directed by the Director General for Operations, every producer who shall have been required to file any notification of unfilled orders and proposed schedule of delivery of precision measuring instruments or testing machines pursuant to paragraph (d) (1) hereof shall also file on Form PD-670 notification of shipment of any such precision measuring instruments or testing machine by such producer and notification of any change in any order previously reported immediately following such shipment or immediately following change in any such order by such producer as the case may be.

(e) Postponement of purchase orders. Unless the Director General for Operations specifically orders otherwise, no higher preference rating shall operate to postpone or in any way affect any delivery of any precision measuring instrument or testing machine under a purchase order already scheduled for delivery where such delivery is to be made within 60 days of receipt of such higher preference rating.

(f) Specific modifications of schedules. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this order, the Director General for Operations at any time may direct or change the schedule for deliveries, allocate any order to any other producer, or direct the delivery of any precision measuring instruments or testing machine to any other person in accordance with prices and terms regularly established for sales by the supplying manufacturer to such a purchaser.

(g) Applicability of regulations. All transactions affected by this order are subject to applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time except to the extent that any provisions hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(h) General Preference Orders E–1–b and E–5 superseded. This order supersedes General Preference Orders E–1–b and E–5, as to precision measuring instruments and testing machines.

(k) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(l) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(m) Communications. All communications concerning this order, except where specific reference is made herein to the contrary, shall be addressed to Industrial Specialties Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: E–9.

PART 3194—RECTIFIER TUBES

[General Limitation Order L–264]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of rectifier tubes and of materials used in the manufacture of such tubes for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3194.1 General Limitation Order L–264—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Rectifier tube" means any argon-filled, hermetically sealed bulb using a hot cathode, and designed to transform alternating into direct current, but limited to tungar, rectigon and similar types.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of producing or assembling any rectifier tube or part therefor.

(3) "Military exemption order" means a purchase order, contract or subcontract for rectifier tubes, or parts for such tubes (whether or not physically incorporated into rectifier tubes) to be purchased by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration or the Armed Forces of any country eligible for Lend-Lease assistance pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(b) General restrictions. (1) On and after March 10, 1943 no manufacturer shall produce any bases for rectifier tubes containing any metal, except

(i) Iron and steel;

(ii) Copper, copper base alloys and zinc in protective coatings;

(iii) Copper or copper base alloys in fulfillment of military exemption orders;

(iv) Brass in eyelets or pins; or

(v) Pursuant to specific authorization of the Director General for Operations granted on Form PD–556 pursuant to an application filed on said Form.

(2) On or before the fifteenth day of March and on or before the fifteenth day of each third succeeding calendar month thereafter, each manufacturer shall file with the Director General for Operations a statement in writing which shall include:

(i) Such manufacturer's proposed production schedules for rectifier tubes so far as then planned, but in any event for not less than the three calendar months following the filing of the report; and

(ii) His proposed delivery schedules of rectifier tubes so far as then planned, but in any event for not less than the three calendar months following such filing. The Director General for Operations shall notify manufacturers of his approval or disapproval of the production and delivery schedules for the calendar quarter or more covered in the report. The Director General for Operations may, at any time, change any schedules; direct the cancellation of any order shown on any schedule; prescribe any other schedule for production or deliveries for any period, regardless of whether a schedule for such period, or any part thereof, has been reported by the manufacturer or theretofore approved by the Director General for Operations; allocate any order listed on the report to any other manufacturer; or direct the delivery of any rectifier tubes so listed to any other person, at the established price and terms. No manufacturer shall produce or deliver any rectifier tubes except in accordance with schedules approved or prescribed by the Director General for Operations as above provided; and no manufacturer shall alter any such approved or prescribed production or delivery schedules unless authorized or directed to do so by the Director General for Operations.

(iii) If the schedule for production or deliveries approved under the provisions of this order do not correspond to the authorized production schedule approved for the same quarter under the Controlled Materials Plan (on Form CMP–4B, or any other designated form) then the schedule approved under this order shall constitute the authorized production schedule of the manufacturer.

(c) Applicability of other orders. In so far as any other order heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities, the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations limits the use of any material in the production of rectifier tubes to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(d) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(e) Avoidance of excessive inventories. No manufacturer shall accumulate for use in the manufacture of rectifier tubes or parts therefor, including inventories of raw materials, semi-processed materials or finished parts in quantities in excess of the minimum amount necessary to maintain production as permitted by this order.

(f) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve, for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(g) Audit and inspection. All reports required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(h) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time require.

(i) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–264.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1340—FUEL

BITUMINOUS COAL SOLD FOR DIRECT USE AS BUNKER FUEL

Section 1340.313 (a) (6) is amended so that Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 shall now read as follows:

Maximum prices for bituminous coal used for bunkering vessels at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters have heretofore been established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 120, where such coal was delivered from a mine or preparation plant, or by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, where delivery was made from other facilities.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the supplying of bituminous coal for use as bunker fuel, whether delivery is made from a mine or preparation plant or other facility, presents, under existing conditions, a specialized problem from the standpoint of coal marketing and requires for its proper regulation a separate Maximum Price Regulation.

At the request of the Price Administrator the Bituminous Coal Division, United States Department of Interior, has cooperated with the Price Administrator in the formulation of the maximum prices established by this regulation in accordance with the arrangement effectuated by the letters, dated March 9 and March 13, 1942, exchanged between the Price Administrator and the Secretary of the Interior. So far as practicable, representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation have been consulted and their advice obtained.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations[2] involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 is hereby issued.

§ 1340.301 Maximum prices for bituminous coal sold for direct use as bunker fuel. On and after August 1, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease, or other obligation, no supplier of bunker fuel shall sell or dispose of bituminous coal in any quantity, for direct use as bunker fuel at points on the Great Lakes or their connecting or tributary waters or at tidewater at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A, incorporated herein as § 1340.313; and no person shall, in the course of trade or business, buy or receive bituminous coal so sold or disposed of, at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A hereof, incorporated herein as § 1340.313; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, That a supplier of bunker fuel is hereby permitted to receive not more than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A, incorporated herein as § 1340.313, as to bituminous coal delivered for direct use as bunker fuel on and after May 18, 1942; and any person to whom bunker fuel was so delivered on and after May 18, 1942 may pay such prices.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that the prohibition contained in any price regulation against buying or receiving any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by such regulation shall not apply to any war procurement agency, or any government whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States.]

§ 1340.302 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in Appendix A (§ 1340.313) may be charged, demanded, paid or offered: Provided, That where the supplier of bunker fuel is subject to the jurisdiction of the Bituminous Coal Division and where the effective minimum price now or hereafter established by the Bituminous Coal Division for any particular shipment of bunker fuel by such supplier is higher than the maximum price provided in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 for such a shipment, the particular shipment may be made at not more than the applicable minimum price.

§ 1340.303 Adjustable pricing. No person subject to the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 shall enter into any agreement permitting the adjustment of the prices of bituminous coal provided by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 to prices which may be higher than such maximum prices, except that any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to, or at prices not in excess of, the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. In an appropriate situation, where a petition for amendment or for adjustment or exception requires extended consideration, the Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1340.304 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to, bituminous coal for direct use as bunker fuel for vessels on the Great Lakes or their connecting or tributary waters or at tidewater, as defined herein, alone or in conjunction with bituminous coal used for other purposes or with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

§ 1340.305 Records and reports. (a) Every supplier of bunker fuel shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than two years complete and accurate records of each such sale and purchase of bunker fuel made by him on and after May 18, 1942, showing the date thereof; the price received by him for the bituminous coal sold as bunker fuel; and the price, if any, paid by him for such coal; the name and address of the purchaser; the name and address of the pier or other facility from which delivery was made; the name, flag and gross tonnage of the vessel bunkered; the method of transportation or handling employed in transferring the fuel from land transportation or storage facilities to vessel bunkers; the quantity delivered; and where known, the names and mine index numbers (Bituminous Coal Division designations) of the mines at which the coal sold for bunker fuel originated, and the kind, size, quality, brand or trade name.

(b) Not later than August 25, 1942, except where additional time may be granted by the Office of Price Administration in individual cases, every supplier of bunker fuel at points at tidewater shall file with the Bituminous Coal Division of the United States Department of the Interior, at 734 15th Street NW., Washington, D. C., a statement setting forth:

C., a statement setting forth:

(1) All prices charged by such person between April 15 and April 30, 1942, inclusive, for bituminous coal sold for direct use as bunker fuel at each point at which the coal was sold and for each size, kind and quality of coal for each class of purchaser;

(3) The rate of interest, if any, charged on delinquent accounts or on any note, trade acceptance or other evidence of indebtedness accepted in payment of an account during the period April 15–30, 1942, inclusive;

(d) Persons who are suppliers of bunker fuel shall submit such other reports and keep such other records as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1340.306 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 or any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest district, state, field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C., or with the nearest statistical bureau of the Bituminous Coal Division, United States Department of the Interior, or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1340.307 Petitions for amendment and applications for adjustment. (a) The Office of Price Administration may adjust any maximum price established under this regulation in the following cases:

(1) In the case of any supplier, of bunker fuel who shows:

(i) That such maximum price causes him substantial hardship and is abnormally low in relation to the maximum prices established for competitive suppliers of bunker fuel; and

(ii) That establishing for him a maximum price, bearing a normal relation to the maximum price established for competitive suppliers of bunker fuel, will not cause or threaten to cause an increase in the level of retail prices.

No application for adjustment filed after November 15, 1942 will be granted under this subparagraph (1).

(2) In the case of any supplier of bunker fuel who is reselling the same and who shows that his maximum price is too low, in relation to the purchase cost of such fuel resold by him, to permit the continuance of the sale of bunker fuel, and such discontinuance will impair the ability of bunker fuel consumers to obtain supplies thereof which aid in the war program. An adjustment granted pursuant to this subparagraph will generally increase the applicable maximum price by the amount of increase in said purchase cost.

Applications for adjustment shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

(b) Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

[NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 5087, 5665) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Supplementary Order No. 9 (7 F.R. 5444) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, with the exception of those on scrap, waste, and salvage materials.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

§ 1340.309 Applicability of other regulations. (a) With respect to sales or other disposals of bituminous coal for direct use as bunker fuel, the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 supersede the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 120—Bituminous Coal Delivered from Mine or Preparation Plant, and Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122—Solid Fuels Delivered from Facilities Other Than Producing Facilities—Dealers.

(b) Nothing contained in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 shall be construed to excuse any violation of any provision of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 as amended, the Bituminous Coal Code promulgated thereunder or of any schedules, regulations, rules or orders now or hereafter made effective by the Bituminous Coal Division of the United States Department of the Interior, on the part of any person subject to the jurisdiction of that agency.

§ 1340.310 Maximum price instructions. (a) The following maximum price instructions are applicable to the maximum prices set forth in § 1340.313 (Appendix A hereof).

(1) Where a supplier of bunker fuel maintains more than one separate facility for the sale of bunker fuel, whether at the same or different locations, separate maximum prices, in accordance with the provisions of § 1340.313 (Appendix A hereof) shall be established for each such facility.

(2) Where such charges are not included in the maximum prices provided in § 1340.313 (Appendix A hereof) there may be added to such maximum prices the charges for such service items as (specifically but not exclusively) leveling, trimming and lightering, or for the furnishing or procuring of these or other services. In the case of sales of bunker fuel at points at tidewater, such charges shall not exceed the charges made for the same service during the period January 1–15, 1942, inclusive, by the same supplier of bunker fuel; and in the case of sales of bunker fuel at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters, shall not exceed the charges made for the same service by the same supplier of bunker fuel in the period April 15–30, 1942, inclusive.

(3) The rate of interest on overdue accounts or a note, draft or trade acceptance, or other form of indebtedness accepted in payment of an account shall not exceed the rate charged on similar transactions by the same supplier of bunker fuel during the period January 1–15, 1942, inclusive, in the case of sales of bunker fuel at points at tidewater and the period April 15–30, 1942, inclusive, in the case of sales of bunker fuel at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters (except to the extent that such rate may be lower than the rate of interest required to be charged by the seller on delinquent accounts under the orders of the Bituminous Coal Division of the United States, Department of the Interior).

(4) There shall be deducted from the maximum price established in § 1340.313 (Appendix A hereof) the cash and quantity discounts and other allowances (except freight rate absorptions) made or available to the purchasers by the same supplier of bunker fuel during the period January 1–15, 1942, inclusive, in the case of sales of bunker fuel at points at tidewater and the period April 15–30, 1942, inclusive, in the case of sales of bunker fuel at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters.

§ 1340.311 Federal and State taxes. (a) Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing, or use of bituminous coal as bunker fuel, or the supplying of a service in connection therewith, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the supplier's maximum price for such commodity or service and in preparing the records of such supplier with respect thereto:

(1) As to a tax in effect during the period January 1–15, 1942 with respect to sales of bituminous coal as bunker fuel at points at tidewater or during the period April 15–30, 1942, with respect to sales of bituminous coal as bunker fuel at points on the Great Lakes or their connecting or tributary waters: (i) If the supplier paid such tax, or if the tax was paid by any prior vendor, irrespective of whether the amount thereof was separately stated and collected from the supplier, but the supplier did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price during the period January 1–15, 1942, or the period April 15–30, 1942, as the case may be, the amount of the tax paid by him or tax reimbursement collected from him by his vendor, the supplier may not collect such amount in addition to the maximum price, and in such case shall include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189.

(ii) In all other cases, if, at the time the supplier determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the supplier from stating and collecting the tax separately, the supplier may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the supplier by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the supplier shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189.

(2) As to a tax or increase in a tax which becomes effective after January 15, 1942 with respect to sales of bituminous coal as bunker fuel at points at tidewater or after April 30, 1942 with respect to sales of bituminous coal as bunker fuel at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters: If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax or increase does not prohibit the supplier from stating and collecting the tax or increase separately from the purchase price, and the supplier does separately state it, the supplier may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the supplier by the vendor from whom he purchased.

(b) An amount per net ton not in excess of the tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 when such tax has been incurred in the transportation of bituminous coal for bunkering vessels may be added to the maximum prices established under § 1340.313, Appendix A, of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189: Provided: That, the tax so incurred shall be stated separately from the price paid by the purchaser.

[§ 1340.311 as amended by Amendment 5, 7 F.R. 10529]

§ 1340.312 Posting of maximum prices, sales slips, and receipts. (a) On and after August 15, 1942, every person who is a supplier of bunker fuel subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 shall post the maximum price per ton of all bunker fuel offered for sale by him at the places in the business establishment where such coal is offered for sale. The maximum price shall be stated as follows: "Ceiling price $____"; or "Our ceiling $____".

(b) On and after August 15, 1942, any person subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip or receipt or itemized statement or similar evidence of purchase shall continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser any person subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the name and address of the supplier, the price charged therefor, and, where known, the kind, size, and quality of the coal sold.

§ 1340.313 Appendix A. Maximum prices for bituminous coal for use as bunker fuel. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 189 establishes maximum prices for all bituminous coal sold or otherwise disposed of, in any quantity, by a person who is a supplier of bunker fuel, for delivery from a mine or a preparation plant operated as an adjunct of a mine or mines, or for delivery from a yard, dock, pier, elevator, bin, or other terminal facilities, or from a transportation vehicle or vessel, to a vessel at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters or at tidewater, as such terms are defined in this regulation, for use as bunker fuel therein. Bituminous coal otherwise sold or delivered, including bituminous coal sold to another person for general use or for delivery by such other person for use as bunker fuel, is not subject to this regulation, but shall be subject to Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 or Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 as the case may be.

(a) The maximum price for the sale of bituminous coal for bunkering vessels by a supplier of bunker fuel at points at tidewater shall be:

(1) The highest price at which the same person sold or delivered bunker fuel at the same point and from the same facilities, between January 1–15, 1942, inclusive. This shall be the price for the sale of:

(i) The same size, kind, and quality of bituminous coal where these elements are a price factor;

(ii) To purchasers of the same class (e. g. spot or contract purchasers; for tug, freighter, liner; for domestic or foreign bunkers, etc.);

(iii) By the same method of delivery or handling from shore facilities; (e. g. car dump, lighter, loading from pockets, conveyor, etc.); and

(iv) Under the same terms of delivery.

(2) If the maximum price cannot be determined under (1) above, the maximum price shall be the highest price in a contract executed prior to January 15, 1942 and in effect during the period of January 1–15, 1942, inclusive, for the sale of bunker fuel at the same point and for delivery from the same facilities. This shall be the price so provided for the sale of:

(i) The same size, kind, and quality of bituminous coal where these elements are a price factor;

(ii) To purchasers of the same class (e. g. spot or contract purchaser; for tug, freighter, liner; for domestic or foreign bunker; etc.);

(iii) By the same method of delivery or handling from shore facilities; (e. g. car dump, lighter, loading from pockets, conveyor, etc.); and

(iv) Under the same terms of delivery.

(3) If the maximum price cannot be determined under (1) or (2) above, the maximum price shall be the price specified in the last price schedule, list, or circular issued by the same person on or before January 15, 1942, and in effect during any portion of the period January 1–15, 1942, inclusive, for the sale of bunker fuel at the same point and for delivery from the same facilities. This shall be the price so specified for the sale of:

(i) The same size, kind, and quality of bituminous coal where these elements are a price factor;

(ii) To purchasers of the same class (e. g. spot or contract purchaser; for tug, freighter, liner; for domestic or foreign bunker; etc.);

(iii) By the same method of delivery or handling from shore facilities; (e. g. car dump, lighter, loading from pockets, conveyor, etc.); and

(iv) Under the same terms of delivery.

(4) If the maximum price cannot be determined under (1), (2) or (3) above, the maximum price shall be the maximum price applicable to any competitive supplier of bunker fuel in the same locality, for the sale of bunker fuel at the same point and for delivery from similar facilities, under the provisions of this section. This shall be the price for the sale of:

(i) The same size, kind, and quality of bituminous coal where these elements are a price factor;

(ii) To purchasers of the same class (e. g. spot or contract purchaser, for tug, freighter, liner, etc.);

(iii) By the same method of delivery or handling from shore facilities; (e. g. car dump, lighter, loading from pockets, conveyor, etc.); and

(iv) Under the same terms of delivery.

(5) There may be added to the maximum prices established in subparagraphs (1) to (4) of this paragraph (a) not more than the exact amount per net ton of any railroad freight rate increases which became effective between January 15, 1942 and April 30, 1942, and which are actually incurred by the supplier of bunker fuel.

[Paragraph (5) added by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 6684]

(6) The maximum price per gross ton for the sale of bituminous coal produced at mines in Districts Nos. 7 and 8, sold for delivery to New York Harbor for bunker fuel use shall be the maximum price established for sales of bituminous coal produced at mines in District No. 1 for such use, in accordance with subparagraphs (1) to (5) of this paragraph (a), plus an amount not to exceed the difference between the freight rate on which the particular bituminous coal produced at the Districts Nos. 7 and 8 mines moved, and $2.84.

[Paragraph (6) added by Amendment 4, 7 F.R. 10470; amended by Amendment 7, March 9, 1943]

(b) The maximum price for the sale of bituminous coal for bunkering vessels by a supplier of bunker fuel at points on the Great Lakes and their connecting or tributary waters shall be:

(1) The highest price at which the same person sold or delivered bunker fuel at the same point and for delivery from the same facilities between April 15–30, 1942, inclusive. This shall be the price for the sale of:

(i) The same size, kind, and quality of bituminous coal where these elements are a price factor;

(ii) To purchasers of the same class (e. g. spot or contract purchasers; for tug, freight, liner; for domestic or foreign bunkers, etc.);

(iii) By the same method of delivery or handling from shore facilities; (e. g. car dump, lighter, loading from pockets, conveyor, etc.); and

(iv) Under the same terms of delivery.

(2) If the maximum price cannot be determined under (1) above, the maximum price shall be the highest price in a contract executed prior to May 1, 1942 and in effect during the period of April 15–30, 1942, inclusive, for the sale of bunker fuel at the same point and for delivery from the same facilities. This shall be the price so provided for the sale of:

(i) The same size, kind, and quality of bituminous coal where these elements are a price factor;

(ii) To purchasers of the same class (e. g. spot or contract purchaser; for tug, freighter, liner; for domestic or foreign bunker; etc.);

(iii) By the same method of delivery or handling from shore facilities; (e. g. car dump, lighter, loading from pockets, conveyor, etc.); and

(iv) Under the same terms of delivery.

(3) If the maximum price cannot be determined under (1) or (2) above, the maximum price shall be the price specified in the last price schedule, list, or circular issued by the same person on or before May 1, 1942, and in effect during any portion of the period April 15–30, 1942, inclusive, for the sale of bunker fuel at the same point and for delivery from the same facilities. This shall be the price so specified for the sale of:

(i) The same size, kind, and quality of bituminous coal where these elements are a price factor;

(ii) To purchasers of the same class (e. g. spot or contract purchaser; for tug, freight, liner; for domestic or foreign bunkers; etc.);

(iii) By the same method of delivery or handling from shore facilities; (e. g. car dump, lighter, loading from pockets, conveyor, etc.); and

(iv) Under the same terms of delivery.

(4) If the maximum price cannot be determined under (1), (2) or (3) above, the maximum price shall be the maximum price applicable to any competitive supplier of bunker fuel in the same locality, for the sale of bunker fuel at the same point and for delivery from similar facilities, under the provisions of this § 1340.313. This shall be the price for the sale of:

(i) The same size, kind, and quality of bituminous coal where these elements are a price factor;

(ii) To purchasers of the same class (e. g. spot or contract purchaser, for tug, freight, liner, etc.);

(iii) By the same method of delivery or handling from shore facilities; (e. g. car dump, lighter, loading from pockets, conveyor, etc.); and

(iv) Under the same terms of delivery.

(c) The following special rule shall apply to bunker fuel produced in Districts 1–4 and 6–8:

(1) Not more than 25 cents per net ton may be added to the maximum prices determined in accordance with paragraph (a) or (b) of this section when the bunker fuel has been produced at mines in Districts Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, or 6.

(2) Not more than 25 cents per net ton may be added to the maximum prices determined in accordance with paragraph (a) or (b) of this section when the bunker fuel is high-volatile bituminous coal produced in Districts 7 and 8; and not more than 40 cents per net ton may be so added when the bunker fuel is low-volatile bituminous coal produced in Districts 7 or 8.

(d) Where the maximum price of any supplier of bunker fuel is established under paragraphs (a) (4) or (b) (4) of this section, such supplier shall submit to the Bituminous Coal Division, 734 15th Street NW., Washington, D. C., not later than ten (10) days after the sale of the bunker fuel at a price so established, a description of the sale made at such price, a statement of the reasons why the maximum price could not otherwise be determined, the name of the competitive supplier of bunker fuel whose maximum price was used, and the amount of such price.

(e) Where the maximum price cannot be determined under paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section, then the maximum price shall be a price determined by the supplier in accordance with specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration. A supplier who seeks an authorization to determine a maximum price under the provisions of this paragraph shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Solid Fuels Branch, Washington, D. C., two copies of an application setting forth (1) a description of the bunker fuel for which a maximum price is sought, including the producing districts and mine index numbers of the originating mines, and, where a mixture is involved, the proportions of each of the different coals mixed; (2) a statement of the reasons why the bunker fuel in question cannot be priced under paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section; and (3) any other facts which the supplier wishes to submit in support of the application.

PART 1341—CANNED AND PRESERVED FOODS

FROZEN FRUITS, BERRIES AND VEGETABLES

A new paragraph (j) is added to § 1341.202, and subparagraph (2) of § 1341.210 (a) is amended by Amendment 4 so that Maximum Price Regulation No. 207 shall read as follows:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, seasonal conditions and other factors affecting the sale of frozen fruits, berries and vegetables by packers have resulted in the establishment under the General Maximum Price Regulation[3] of maximum prices for such sales which are not generally fair and equitable as applied to the 1942 pack and which are not best calculated to assist in securing adequate production of such commodities. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 207 is issued by the Price Administrator in order to establish for the packers of frozen fruits, berries and vegetables maximum prices which are fair and equitable and which will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.[4] A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[4]

The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of frozen fruits, berries and vegetables prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has consulted with representatives of the frozen fruit, berries and vegetables industry.

The maximum prices established herein are not below prices which will reflect to the producers of the raw agricultural commodities from which frozen fruits, berries and vegetables are manufactured, a price for their products equal to the highest of any of the following prices therefor determined and published by the Secretary of Agriculture: (1) 110 per centum of the parity price for such commodity, adjusted by the Secretary of Agriculture for grade, location and seasonal differentials; (2) the market price prevailing for such commodity on October 1, 1941; (3) the market price prevailing for such commodity on December 15, 1941; or (4) the average price for such commodity during the period July 1, 1919 to June 30, 1929.

(b) In determining the packer's maximum price:

(1) The "weighted average price" shall be the total gross sales dollars charged for each kind, grade and container size, divided by the number of units sold of such kind, grade and container size. All sales made in the regular course of business during the first 60 days after the beginning of the 1941 pack shall be included, except sales made to the armed forces of the United States. Sales made prior to such period shall not be included, even though delivery is made during the period.

[Paragraph (1) as amended by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 8875]

(2) The "actual increase in the cost of the raw agricultural commodity" shall be:

(i) The difference per dozen or other unit of each kind, grade and container size between (a) the weighted average cost per unit to the packer of the raw agricultural commodity purchased for the 1941 pack, computed by dividing the total amount paid by the number of units purchased, and (b) the weighted average of the prices per unit, paid or contracted to be paid by the packer to the grower for the same raw agricultural commmodity in 1942, based on not less than the first 75 per cent of his 1942 purchases: Provided, That in the case of strawberries any packer who in 1942 purchased his strawberries at less than eight cents per pound may include in the 1942 cost of such strawberries any amount per pound subsequently paid by him to the grower which when added to the amount already paid does not exceed the sum of eight cents per pound.

(ii) But in no case to exceed: (a) For all fruits, the following maximum amounts:

Raw agricultural commodity:	Maximum permitted increase (per ton)
Apples	$8
Apricots	23
Cherries, red sour pitted	50
Cherries, sweet	56
Grapes	14
Peaches, freestone (including freestone nectarines)	15
Pears	15
Plums	2
Prunes	13

[Table amended by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 8875]

(b) For all berries, except strawberries, the amount of three cents per pound.

(d) For all vegetables, the difference between the weighted average cost per ton of raw material delivered at the packing plant in 1941 and the weighted average cost per ton delivered at the packing plant in 1942 of at least 75 per cent of the packer's 1942 raw material requirements, but excluding from such weighted average costs in 1942 any raw material costs incurred on or after July 6, 1942, in excess of the market prices of such raw material delivered at the packing plant prevailing on the respective dates on which such raw material was contracted for.

(iii) The actual increase per dozen or other unit which any cooperative packer or packer-grower is entitled to recognize hereunder shall be the actual increase which the most closely competitive non-cooperative packer is entitled to recognize for the same kind, grade and container size.

[Paragraph (iii) amended by Amendment 2]

(iv) In converting the increased cost of the raw agricultural commodity into increased cost per dozen or other unit for each grade and container size, the increase shall be allocated to each grade and container size in the same proportion as costs of raw materials in 1941 were allocated to each grade and container size.

(v) The actual increase per dozen or other unit in the cost of the raw agricultural commodity shall not be computed until the packer has purchased 75 per cent or more of his 1942 requirements. Such increase, as determined hereunder by a packer, shall be deemed to be his actual increase and shall not be subject to adjustment thereafter for later fluctuations in the cost of the raw agricultural commodity.

(c) If the maximum price for any kind, grade and container size of any frozen fruits, berries or vegetables cannot be determined under paragraphs (a), (b) or (i) of this section, the packer's maximum price for such kind, grade and container size shall be the maximum price of the most closely competitive packer.

(d) If the packer's maximum price cannot be determined under paragraphs (a), (b), (c), or (i) of this section, the maximum price shall be a price determined by the packer after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on application setting forth (1) a description in detail of the kind, grade and container size of the frozen fruits, berries or vegetables for which a maximum price is sought; and (2) a statement of the facts which differentiate such kind, grade and container size of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables from the most similar kind, grade and container size for which he has determined a maximum price, stating such most similar kind, grade and container size and the maximum price determined therefor. When such authorization is given, it will be accompanied by instructions as to the method for determining the maximum price. Within ten days after such price has been determined, the packer shall report the price to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., under oath or affirmation. The price so reported shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

[Paragraphs (c) and (d) as amended by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 2192]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 23 (7 F.R. 8478) provides that on and after October 24, 1942, no report filed with the Office of Price Administration pursuant to any price regulation need be notarized.]

(e) Any packer who believes that the maximum prices determined pursuant to the provisions of this section are such that they subject him to hardship with respect to any particular brand of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables may apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for authorization to compute his maximum prices hereunder separately for such brand. Such application shall set forth, under oath or affirmation, (1) the maximum prices which would be established under this section for each kind, grade and container size of such brand if such prices for such brand were computed separately under the foregoing paragraphs of this section, (2) the number of years in which the packer has packed under such particular brand, (3) the amount of each kind, grade and container size of that particular brand packed by him during the 1941 pack, (4) the amount of the same kind, grade and container size packed by him during the 1941 pack which was not packed under such brand, (5) the extent to which the brand in question was used and advertised during the year 1941, (6) the price relationship between the particular brand in question and his other brands or unbranded frozen fruits, berries and vegetables of the 1941 pack, (7) the number of brands, other than the particular brand in question under which the packer packed the same kind of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables in 1941, and (8) such other facts as the packer may deem relevant.

(f) The maximum price for each kind, grade and container size for a packer who owns more than one factory shall be determined separately for each factory, except that if any group of two or more factories located in the same growing or packing area had the same f. o. b. factory prices in 1941, the maximum prices shall be determined uniformly for the entire group by using the combined figures for all of the factories in the group in computing the maximum price under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, or if that cannot be determined, by using the price of the most closely competitive packer, under paragraph (c) of this section, as the maximum price of the entire group. In applying for the specific authorization of a price under paragraph (d) of this section, the application may be made for a uniform maximum price for all of the factories in such group.

(g) Any packer who sold and delivered a particular brand of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables packed by him during the calendar year 1941 on an established uniform delivered price basis by zone or area, may add to the maximum price per dozen f. o. b. factory computed under the foregoing paragraphs of this section for each grade and container size of such brand of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables, the freight charge he added to his f. o. b. factory price during the calendar year 1941, for such grade and container size of such brand of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables in the same zone or area. The resulting price shall be the packer's maximum delivered price for such grade and container size of such brand of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables for the zone or area in which the same freight factor was used in 1941.

(h) No packer shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials, including price differentials between different classes of purchasers and price differentials between brands, except when authorized to compute brand differentials pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section, unless such change results in a lower price.

(i) New container types and sizes. (1) The maximum price per dozen or other unit for a kind and grade of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables packed in any container type or size of which the packer made no sales during the first 60 days after the beginning of the 1941 pack shall be calculated as follows. He shall:

(i) Determine the base container. If the packer sold the same kind and grade of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables during the first 60 days following the beginning of the 1941 pack, but only in other container types or sizes, he shall first determine the most similar container type in which he is able to calculate a maximum price for that kind and grade of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables under this regulation (even though he no longer sells that container type). From that container type he shall choose the nearest size which is 50% or less larger, or if there is no such size, 50% or less smaller (even though he no longer sells those sizes). This will be the "base container." If there is no such smaller size, he shall go to the next most similar container type and proceed in the same manner to find the base container.

NOTE: In most cases "the most similar container type" will be merely the container type which the packer is adding to or replacing, like the tin which he may be replacing with glass. Where there has been only a size change, "the most similar container type" will, of course, be the same container type. This is also true in the reverse situation; where there has been a change only in container type, the "nearest size" will be the same size.

(ii) Find the base price. The seller shall take as the "base price" his maximum price per dozen, f. o. b. factory, for the kind and grade of frozen fruit, berries or vegetables when placed in the base container. However, if this maximum price is a price delivered to the purchaser or to any point other than the seller's factory, the seller shall first convert it to a base price f. o. b. factory by subtracting whatever transportation charges were included in it.

(iii) Deduct the container cost. Taking his base price, f. o. b. factory, the seller shall then subtract the direct cost, of the base container. "Direct cost of the container" means the net cost, at the packer's factory, of the container, caps, label and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton, but it does not include costs of filling, closing, labeling or packing.

(iv) Adjust for any difference in contents. The figure obtained by this deduction shall then be adjusted, in the case of a size change, by dividing it by the number of ounces or other units in the base container and multiplying the result by the number of the same units in the new container.

(v) Add the new container cost to get the price f. o. b. factory. Next, the seller shall add to the adjusted figure the "direct cost of the container" in the new type and size. If his maximum price for the commodity in the base container is an f. o. b. factory price, the resulting figure is the seller's maximum price, f. o. b. factory.

(vi) Convert to a maximum delivered price, if the maximum price for the base container is on a delivered basis. If the seller's maximum price for the frozen fruit, berries or vegetables in the base container is a delivered price, he shall figure transportation charges to be added, as follows: The seller shall take the transportation charges which he first deducted to get his base price and adjust them in exact proportion to the difference in shipping weight. If for any reason the frozen fruit, berries or vegetables in the new container will move under a different freight tariff classification, the seller shall figure his transportation charges (by the same means of transportation and to the same destination) on the basis of the new shipping weight, but at the rate in effect for that freight tariff classification during March 1942. Increases in tariff rates or transportation taxes made since March 31, 1942, shall not be taken into account. (Similar principles shall apply where shipping volume is the measure of transportation charge.) The seller shall then add these transportation charges to his f. o. b. factory price for the commodity in the new container. The resulting figure is the seller's maximum delivered price.

(2) If the packer has established a maximum price for any new item prior to February 23, 1943, under § 1341.202, (c) or (d), he may retain that maximum price, or, at his option, he may establish a maximum price under this paragraph.

[Paragraph (i) added by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 2192]

(j) Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust any selling price to a price not higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application in an appropriate situation, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made while the petition is pending in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 34 (7 F.R. 10779) permits special packing expenses to be added to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

§ 1341.204 Transfer of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade of a packer are sold or otherwise transferred on or after August 24, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over to the transferee, all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions contained in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 207.

§ 1341.205 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 207 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to frozen fruits, berries or vegetables, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of any commission, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1341.206 Records and reports. Every packer who makes sales of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables packed after the 1941 pack, shall (a) preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration for a period of two years all his existing records which were the basis for the computations required by § 1341.202, and (b) preserve for the same period all records of the same kind as he has customarily kept, relating to the prices which he charged for frozen fruits, berries or vegetables sold on and after August 24, 1942, and (c) file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 10 days after determining his maximum prices for each kind of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables, a statement certified under oath or affirmation showing his weighted average price and his increase in the cost of the raw agricultural commodity, as determined under § 1341.202 hereof, together with the maximum price determined hereunder for each grade and container size of such kind of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables and all his customary allowances and discounts, and (d) in those cases in which the maximum price of any kind, grade and container size of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables was determined by the maximum price of the most closely competitive packer, showing the maximum price of such kind, grade and container size and the name and address of the packer whose maximum price was so adopted, and (e) in those cases in which a packer made sales and deliveries of a particular brand of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables packed by him in 1941 on an established uniform delivered price basis by zone or area, showing his maximum price per dozen f. o. b. factory for each grade and size of such brand of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables, the freight charge which he added to his f. o. b. factory price during the calendar year 1941 for each zone or area and the maximum delivered price for each kind, grade and container size of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables packed after the 1941 pack delivered in each zone or area, and (f) preserve for a period of two years a true copy of each such statement filed with the Office of Price Administration for examination by any person during ordinary business hours. Any packer who claims that substantial injury would result to him from making any such statement available to any other person, may file such copy of such statement with the appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration. The information contained in such statement will not be published or disclosed unless it is determined that the withholding of such information is contrary to the purposes of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 207.

§ 1341.206a Information to purchasers from packers. (a) Any packer selling any frozen fruits, berries or vegetables packed after the 1941 pack to any wholesaler, retailer or other purchaser, shall, before or at the time of delivery, disclose in writing to his purchaser, for each such kind, grade, brand and container size included in the sale, (1) the packer's weighted 60-day average price, as defined in paragraph (b) (1) of § 1341.202, adjusted to reflect the storage prescribed in paragraph (a) (1) therein, designated as the "base price", (2) the packer's maximum price, as computed under the provisions of this Regulation, designated as the "maximum price", and (3) the amount of the difference between such "base price" and such "maximum price", designated as the "permitted increase". In calculating the "permitted increase", the packer shall adjust any fraction of a cent to the nearest fractional unit in which the wholesaler customarily quotes prices for that item. Such statement may also contain similar information for any other brand, kind, flavor and container type and size of frozen fruits, berries and vegetables covered by this Regulation.

(b) When any packer has established a maximum price for any kind, grade and container size by using the maximum price of his competitor, as provided in paragraph (c) of § 1341.202, his base price shall be deemed to be the same as the base price of such competitor.

(c) When any packer makes application to determine a maximum price after specific authorization by the Office of Price Administration, as provided in paragraph (d) of § 1341.202, such authorization will be accompanied by instructions as to the method for determining the price to be deemed the base price.

[§ 1341.206a added by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 6831; amended by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 8875]

(d) When any packer has established a maximum price under paragraph (i) of § 1341.202, he is not required to notify his wholesalers or retailers under the provisions of this section.

[Paragraph (d) added by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 2192]

§ 1341.207 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 207, are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

§ 1341.208 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 207 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[5] (§ 1341.208 amended by Supplementary Order 26, 7 F.R. 8948)

[NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 5087, 5665) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Supplementary Order No. 9 (7 F.R. 5444) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, with the exception of those on scrap, waste, and salvage materials.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

§ 1341.209 Applicability. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 207 shall be applicable to the United States, its territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

§ 1341.210 Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 207 the term:

(2) "Packer" means a person who freezes and packs, either as a quick-freezer or as a cold-packer, one or more of the products defined herein as frozen fruits, berries and vegetables. A packer of any kind of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables covered by this regulation shall be a packer when selling any other kind covered by this regulation unless he sells that other kind as a wholesaler or retailer. "Wholesaler" and "retailer" mean the persons respectively referred to as "wholesalers" and "retailers" in Maximum Price Regulation No. 255 and Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 256.

(3) "Frozen fruits, berries and vegetables" means any fruits, berries or vegetables which have been frozen and packed.

(4) "1941 pack" of any frozen fruits, berries or vegetables shall be that pack the major portion of which was frozen and packed during the calendar year 1941.

(5) "The most closely competitive packer" means the packer who:

(i) Sells to the same class of buyers,

(ii) Packs the same or similar quality range of the product in question,

(iii) Has sold in the past the same kind of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables at approximately the same prices as the packer establishing a maximum,

(iv) Has used the same general merchandising methods, and

(v) Is located in the same general growing and packing area, or if there is no such packer in the same general growing and packing area, is located in the nearest growing and packing area.

(6) "Kind", when referring to any frozen fruits, berries or vegetables, also refers to the style of the pack of such frozen fruits, berries or vegetables.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1341.212 Sales of frozen strawberries before effective date. In any case in which a packer has sold before August 24, 1942, any frozen strawberries which were packed after the 1941 pack, such packer is hereby authorized to receive further payments from his buyer to the extent that such payments, when added to those already received under the contract of sale, do not exceed the maximum price which would have been established for him by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 207 had sale or delivery occurred after August 24, 1942.

§ 1341.213 When prices established under § 1341.202 may be charged. Every packer of frozen fruits, berries and vegetables shall take inventory of his stock of frozen fruits, berries and vegetables as of August 24, 1942, and shall deduct therefrom all such frozen fruits, berries and vegetables as were packed after the 1941 pack and prior to August 24, 1942. The difference so obtained shall be the quantity which such packer is hereby required to sell subject to maximum prices computed in conformity with the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation before he is entitled to sell any frozen fruits, berries and vegetables subject to the maximum prices established under § 1341.202 of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 207.

[MPR 226,[1] as Amended March 9, 1943]

FRUIT PRESERVES, JAMS AND JELLIES

Section 1341.302 (i) is added and § 1341.314 (a) (2) is amended, so that Maximum Price Regulation 226 shall read as follows:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, seasonal conditions and other factors affecting the sale of fruit preserves, jams and jellies have resulted in the establishment under the General Maximum Price Regulation[2] of maximum prices which are not generally fair and equitable as applied to the 1942 pack and which are not best calculated to assist in securing adequate production of these commodities. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 226 is issued by the Price Administrator in order to establish for the packers of fruit preserves, jams and jellies maximum prices which are fair and equitable and which will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations[3] involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

The Price Administrator has given due consideration to the prices of fruit preserves, jams and jellies prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has consulted with representatives of the fruit preserves, jams and jellies industry.

The maximum prices established by this Regulation are not below prices which will reflect to the producers of the raw agricultural commodities from which fruit preserves, jams and jellies are manufactured, a price for each such commodity equal to the highest of any of the following prices, as determined and published by the Secretary of Agriculture: (1) 110 per centum of the parity price, adjusted by the Secretary of Agriculture for grade, location and seasonal differentials; (2) the market price prevailing on October 1, 1941; (3) the market price prevailing on December 15, 1941; or (4) the average price during the period July 1, 1919, to June 30, 1929.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, Maximum Price Regulation No. 226 is hereby issued.

§ 1341.301 Prohibition against dealing in fruit preserves, jams and jellies above maximum prices. (a) On and after September 26, 1942, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no packer shall sell or deliver any fruit preserves, jams or jellies covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 226 at a price higher than the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 226.

(b) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any fruit preserves, jams or jellies from a packer at a price higher than the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 226;

(c) No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of these things.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that the prohibition contained in any price regulation against buying or receiving any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by such regulation shall not apply to any war procurement agency, or government whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States.]

§ 1341.302 Packer's maximum prices for fruit preserves, jams and jellies. (a) The packer's maximum price per dozen or other unit f. o. b. factory for each kind, flavor, brand and container type and size of fruit preserves, jams and jellies covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 226 shall be:

(1) The weighted average price per dozen or other unit f. o. b. factory charged by the packer for the kind, flavor, brand and container type and size during the applicable 1941 base period; plus

(2) 1.4¢ for each pound of finished fruit preserves, jam or jelly in a dozen or other unit of that size container; plus

(3) The difference per dozen or other unit between the weighted average cost delivered at the factory of 1941 fruit purchased or contracted for during and prior to the 1941 base period, adjusted in the case of cold-packed fruit to include six months' storage, and the weighted average cost delivered at the factory of 1942 fruit purchased or contracted for during and prior to the 1942 base period, adjusted in the case of cold-packed fruit to include six months' storage; except as limited in paragraph (b) (7) of this section; plus

(4) The difference, if any, per dozen or other unit between the weighted average cost, exclusive of fruit, which the packer actually incurred during the year 1941 in cold-packing fresh fruit of the given flavor for use in his 1941 pack and the weighted average cost which he actually incurred during the year 1942 in cold-packing fresh fruit for use in his 1942 pack. However, in no event shall this difference exceed 1 cent per pound of the frozen fruit.

[Paragraph (3) as amended and (4) added by Amendment 5, 8 F.R. 2023]

(b) In determining the packer's maximum price:

(i) The "weighted average price" shall be the total gross sales dollars charged for each kind, flavor, brand and container type and size, divided by the number of units of that item sold. All sales made in the regular course of business during the applicable base period of 1941 shall be included, except sales made to the United States. Sales made prior to this period shall not be included, even though delivery was made during the period.

[Paragraph (1) as amended by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 8889]

(2) The "applicable base period" shall be:

(i) The months of June and July for the following flavors: apricot, black raspberry, cherry, currant, guava, pineapple, raspberry and strawberry, except that for the purpose of determining the "weighted average cost delivered at the factory of 1942 fruit" the 1942 base period shall be the months of June, July, August and September.

(ii) The months of August and September for the following flavors: blackberry, boysenberry, elderberry, loganberry, peach, plum, tomato and youngberry, except that for the purpose of determining the "weighted average cost delivered at the factory of 1942 fruit" the 1942 base period shall be the months of August, September and October.

[Paragraphs (i) and (ii) as amended by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 8890]

(iii) The months of October and November for the following flavors: apple, boiled cider, crabapple, grape and quince.

(3) In the case of any mixed flavor, the "applicable base period" shall be the base period prescribed in paragraph (b) (2) of this section for the flavor which predominates by weight in the fruit mixture.

(4) The "weighted average cost" shall be the total amount paid for fresh, canned and cold-packed fruit of the flavor being priced divided by the total number of pounds or other unit of that fruit purchased.

(5) "1941 fruit purchased" and "1942 fruit purchased" shall include only fresh fruit or fruit which was canned or cold-packed during the years 1941 and 1942, respectively.

(6) In computing the weighted average cost delivered at the factory of 1942 fruit purchased or contracted for during and prior to the 1942 base period, the packer shall estimate to the best of his ability all fruit costs which he reasonably expects to incur from that time until the end of the base period. However, as to those flavors for which the applicable base period is October and November, the weighted average cost shall be computed as of a date no earlier than September 28, 1942.

(7) In computing the weighted average cost delivered at the factory of 1942 fruit purchased or contracted for during and prior to the 1942 base period, the packer shall exclude from the computation any amounts paid for fruit in excess of the following amounts:

(i) For all canned and cold-packed fruits and berries, the maximum prices which the packer's supplier or suppliers were entitled to charge him under Maximum Price Regulation No. 185 and Maximum Price Regulation No. 207 in the respective sales by which the canned and cold-packed fruits were acquired by the packer.

(ii) For all fresh fruits, but not including guavas, quince or berries, the sum of (a) the weighted average cost delivered at the factory of 1941 fruit purchased or contracted for during and prior to the 1941 base period and (b) the following respective amounts:

Raw agricultural commodity:	Maximum permitted increase (per ton)
Apples	$6.50
Apricots	23.
Cherries, red sour pitted	50.
Cherries, sweet	56.
Crabapples	6.50
Grapes	14.
Peaches (clingstone)	7.
Peaches (freestone)	15.
Plums	2.
Tomatoes	1.

[Table as amended by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 8889]

(iii) For guavas and quince, the market prices delivered at the factory prevailing on the respective dates on which the guavas and quince were contracted for.

(iv) For all fresh berries, the sum of (a) the weighted average cost per pound delivered at the factory of 1941 fruit purchased and contracted for during or prior to the 1941 base period and (b) three cents per pound.

(8) In converting the increased cost of fruit into increased cost per dozen or other unit for each kind and container type and size, the increase shall be allocated to each kind and container type and size in the same proportion as costs of fruit in 1941 were allocated.

[Paragraph (8) corrected, 7 F.R. 8798]

(c) The maximum price for each kind, flavor, brand and container type and size for a packer who owns more than one factory shall be determined separately for each factory. But if any two or more factories had the same f. o. b. factory prices in 1941 a maximum price may be determined uniformly for that group by using the combined figures of the group in the computations required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. In applying for the specific authorization of a price under paragraph (b) of § 1341.303, application may be made for a uniform maximum price applicable to the whole group.

(d) Any packer who regularly sold a purchaser any item of fruit preserves, jams or jellies on a delivered price basis during the calendar year 1941 shall increase the maximum price for the item, as computed under the preceding paragraphs of this section, by the amount of the freight charge for that item which he added to his f. o. b. factory price during March 1942. The resulting price shall be the packer's maximum delivered price for that purchaser.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 34 (7 F.R. 10779) permits special packing expenses to be added to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

(e) New container types and sizes. (1) The maximum price per dozen or other unit for a kind, flavor and brand of fruit preserves, jams or jellies packed in any container type or size which the packer did not sell during the 1941 base period shall be calculated as follows. He shall:

(i) Determine the base container. If the packer sold the same kind, flavor and brand of fruit preserves, jams or jellies during the 1941 base period, but only in other container types or sizes, he shall first determine the most similar container type in which he is able to calculate a maximum price for that kind, flavor and brand under this regulation (even though he no longer sells that container type). From that container type he shall choose the nearest size, which is 50% or less larger, or if there is no such size, 50% or less smaller (even though he no longer sells those sizes). This will be the "base container". If there is no such smaller size, he shall go to the next most similar container type and proceed in the same manner to find the base container.

NOTE: In most cases "the most similar container type" will be merely the container type which the packer is adding to or replacing, like the tin which he may be replacing with glass. Where there has been only a size change, "the most similar container type" will, of course, be the same container type. This is also true in the reverse situation; where there has been a change only in container type, the "nearest size" will be the same size.

(ii) Find the base price. The packer shall take as the "base price" his maximum price for the kind, flavor and brand of fruit preserves, jams or jellies when packed in the base container. However, if this maximum price is a price delivered to the purchaser or to any point other than the packer's factory, the packer shall first convert it to a base price f. o. b. packer's factory by deducting whatever transportation charges were included in it.

(iii) Deduct the container cost. Taking his base price f. o. b. factory, the packer shall then subtract the direct cost of the base container. "Direct cost of the container" means the net cost, at the packer's factory, of the container, cap, label and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton, but it does not include costs of filling, closing, labeling or packing.

(iv) Adjust for any difference in contents. The figure obtained by this deduction shall then be adjusted, in the case of a size change, by dividing it by the number of ounces or other units in the base container and multiplying the result by the number of the same units in the new container.

(v) Add the new container cost to get the price f. o. b. factory. Next, the packer shall add to the adjusted figure the "direct cost of the container" in the new type and size. If his maximum price for the commodity in the base container is an f. o. b. factory price, the resulting figure is the packer's maximum price, f. o. b. factory.

(vi) Convert to a maximum delivered price, if the maximum price for the base container is on a delivered basis. If the packer's maximum price for the fruit preserves, jam or jelly in the base container is a delivered price, he shall figure transportation charges to be added, as follows: The packer shall take the transportation charges which he first deducted to get his base price and adjust them in exact proportion to the difference in shipping weight. If for any reason the fruit preserves, jam or jelly in the new container will move under a different freight tariff classification, the packer shall figure his transportation charges (by the same means of transportation and to the same destination) on the basis of the new shipping weight, but at the rate in effect for that freight tariff classification during March 1942. Increases in tariff rates or transportation taxes made since March 31, 1942, shall not be taken into account. (Similar principles shall apply where shipping volume is the measure of the transportation charge.) The packer shall then add these transportation charges to his f. o. b. factory price for the commodity in the new container. The resulting figure is the packer's maximum delivered price.

(2) If the packer has established a maximum price for any new item prior to January 25, 1943, under Section 1341.303, he may retain that maximum price, or, at his option, he may establish a maximum price under this paragraph.

[Paragraph (e) added by Amendment 3, 7 F.R. 10226, amended by Amendment 4, 8 F.R. 1134]

(f) Packers selling to consumers. Any packer who regularly sells any item of fruit preserves, jams or jellies to ultimate consumers other than industrial, institutional and commercial users shall calculate a maximum price for the item separately to that class of purchasers. If during the 1941 base period such a packer sold the item also to wholesalers or retailers, he shall calculate his maximum price to ultimate consumers (other than industrial, institutional and commercial users) by adding to his maximum price to such consumers under the General Maximum Price Regulation, the permitted increase which he has calculated under this regulation for his retailers or for his wholesalers (converted to retail units). If during the 1941 base period he sold the item only to ultimate consumers (other than industrial, institutional and commercial users), he shall add the permitted increase which the nearest comparable packer who sells to retailers or wholesalers has computed for his retailers or for his wholesalers (converted to retail units).

[Paragraph (f) added by Amendment 3, 7 F.R. 10226]

(g) Separate maximum prices in sales to wholesalers and retailers. Any packer who has an established practice of selling an item to wholesalers and retailers at substantially different prices may calculate separate maximum prices to these classes of purchasers. For this purpose, the packer shall accordingly segregate his 1941 prices for the item when calculating weighted average prices charged during the 1941 base period.

(h) Sales to the United States and agencies. Any packer selling an item to the United States or its agencies shall take as his maximum price in that sale the maximum price established for him in sales to wholesalers, or, if he sells only to retailers, the maximum price established for him in sales to retailers. A packer who sells only to the ultimate consumer shall take as his maximum price the maximum price which the nearest comparable packer who sells to wholesalers or retailers is entitled to charge.

[Paragraphs (g) and (h) added by Amendment 5, 8 F.R. 2023]

(i) Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust any selling price to a price not higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application in an appropriate situation, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made while the petition is pending in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1341.303 Inability to fix maximum prices under § 1341.302. (a) If the packer's maximum price for any item cannot be determined under § 1341.302, his maximum price shall be the maximum price of the most closely competitive packer.

(b) If the packer's maximum price for any item cannot be determined under § 1341.302 or under paragraph (a) of this section, the maximum price shall be a price determined after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on application setting forth (1) a detailed description of the kind, flavor, brand and container type and size; and (2) a statement of the facts which differentiate it from the most similar item for which he has determined a maximum price, identifying the similar item and stating the maximum price determined for it. When authorization is given, it will be accompanied by instructions for determining the maximum price. Within ten days after the price has been determined, the seller shall report it to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. This price shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1341.304 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 226 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1341.305 Customary allowances and discounts. The maximum prices established by §§ 1341.302 and 1341.303 shall be reduced to reflect the packer's customary allowances, discounts and other price differentials.

§ 1341.306 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets, or stock in trade of any packer are sold or otherwise transferred on or after September 26, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify those prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over to the transferee, all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions contained in this regulation.

§ 1341.307 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 226 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to fruit preserves, jams and jellies, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of any commission, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1341.308 Enforcement. Any person violating a provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 226, is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

§ 1341.309 Records and reports. Every packer who makes sales of any fruit preserves, jams or jellies covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 226, shall (a) preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration for a period of two years all his existing records which were the basis for the computations required by § 1341.302; and (b) preserve for the same period all records of the same kind as he has customarily kept, relating to the prices which he charged for fruit preserves, jams or jellies sold on and after September 26, 1942; and (c) file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 10 days after determining his maximum prices for each kind, flavor, brand and container type and size of fruit preserves, jams or jellies, a statement showing (1) his weighted average price and his increase in the cost of the raw agricultural commodity, as determined under § 1341.302, together with the maximum price determined under this regulation and all customary allowances, discounts and differentials, and (2) in those cases in which the maximum price was determined by the maximum price of the most closely competitive packer, the maximum price and the name and address of the packer whose maximum price was adopted; and (d) preserve for a period of two years a true copy of each such statement filed with the Office of Price Administration for examination by any person during ordinary business hours. Any packer who claims that substantial injury would result to him from making any such statement available to any other person, may file a copy of the statement with the nearest regional, State, district, or field office of the Office of Price Administration. The information contained in the statement will not be published or disclosed unless it is determined that the withholding of the information is contrary to the purposes of this regulation.

§ 1341.309a Information which packers must give their customers.—(a) Notice from packers to wholesalers. In the case of any item of fruit preserves, jams or jellies which is being sold by a packer to a wholesaler for the first time after the packer's maximum price for it has been established under §§ 1341.302 or 1341.303, the packer shall send the wholesaler (before or at the time of delivery) a written statement which lists for each such item included in the sale (1) the weighted average price charged by the packer during the month of December 1941, called the "base price", (2) the packer's maximum price, as calculated under the provisions of this regulation, called the "maximum price", and (3) the amount of the difference between the "base price" and the "maximum price", called the "wholesaler's permitted increase". If the packer has established a maximum price under paragraphs (a) to (d) of § 1341.

302, but made no sales of the item during December 1941, his base price shall be his highest offering price during December 1941, but if he had no offering price, he shall report only the permitted increase which the most closely competitive packer calculated for his own wholesalers. If the packer has established a maximum price under paragraph (e) of § 1341.302, he is not required to notify his wholesalers under the provisions of this paragraph. If the packer has established a maximum price by taking the maximum price of his competitor, as provided in § 1341.303 (a), and he made no sales of the item during December 1941, his base price shall be his highest offering price during December 1941 or, if he had no offering price, the base price of the most closely competitive packer. When any packer asks for special authority to determine a maximum price under § 1341.303 (b), the Office of Price Administration will instruct him how to determine his base price. When calculating the "wholesaler's permitted increase", the packer shall adjust any fraction of a cent to the nearest fractional unit in which the wholesaler customarily quotes prices for the item.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Amendment 3, 7 F.R. 10226, and Amendment 4, 8 F.R. 1134]

(b) Notice from packers to retailers—(1) General package requirement. Every packer who sells any item of fruit preserves, jams or jellies under his own label during the 90-day period beginning November 6, 1942, whether to a wholesaler or a retailer, shall include with its shipping case (or other package unit in which the retailer usually purchases the product) a "Notice of Retailer's Permitted Increase". This notice must be either pasted or stamped on the outside of each shipping case sold or printed on a slip and enclosed. In the latter case the packer shall place this statement on the outside: "Retailer's Notice Enclosed". The packer shall calculate the retailer's permitted increase for the item by reducing the permitted increase which he computed for the wholesaler under paragraph (a), where necessary, to the units in which the commodity is usually sold at retail. When making this calculation, the packer shall adjust fractions of one-half cent or more to the next higher cent and fractions of less than one-half cent to the next lower cent. Except for the proper insertion, the Notice of Retailer's Permitted Increase shall read as follows:

NOTICE OF RETAILER'S PERMITTED INCREASE

[Paragraph (b) (1) as amended by Amendment 5, 8 F.R. 2023]

(2) First sales directly to retailers; where notices do not accompany packages. In the case of any item of fruit preserves, jams or jellies which is being sold by a packer to any retailer for the first time after the packer's maximum price for it has been established under §§ 1341.302 or 1341.303 and which for any reason is being sold in a form which does not include a packer's Notice of Retailer's Permitted Increase, the packer shall send the retailer (before or at the time of delivery) a written statement that (i) clearly identifies each such item included in the sale and (ii) states the "permitted increase" for it which the retailer is directed to add to his maximum price as established under the General Maximum Price Regulation. When preparing the statement the packer shall calculate the retailer's permitted increase for the item by reducing the permitted increase which he computed for the wholesaler under paragraph (a), where necessary, to the units in which the commodity is usually sold at retail. When making this calculation, the packer shall adjust fractions of one-half cent or more to the next higher cent and fractions of less than one-half cent to the next lower cent. Each statement shall be accompanied by this notice:

Your new OPA ceiling price for each item noted is your March ceiling price plus the permitted increase shown per retail container. OPA requires you to keep this information for examination.

This statement may also contain similar information for any other items covered by this regulation even though they are not included in the sale.

(c) Notification of wholesalers and retailers where the packer's maximum price has again been changed. In cases where the packer is required to revise his maximum price for an item because of an amendment changing the packer's pricing method, the packer shall insert shipping case notices, in the manner explained above in paragraph (b), for 90 days after the change is made. If the packer previously sent out retailer notices for the item, he shall add the following sentence to the new notice: "OPA has made a new change in the packer's ceiling price and it now directs you to re-figure your ceiling as provided in this notice." The packer shall also notify his wholesalers in the manner explained in paragraph (a), and in each case where a wholesaler notice for the item has already been sent out he shall add the same new sentence and shall request that the wholesaler do likewise when notifying retailers.

PART 1341—CANNED AND PRESERVED FOODS

APPLE BUTTER

Section 1341.452 (g) is added, so that Maximum Price Regulation shall read as follows:

[1] 5 F.R. 3558.

[2] 7 F.R. 7778, 7966, 8890, 8948, 10226; 8 F.R. 1135

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, seasonal conditions and other factors affecting the sale of apple butter have resulted in the establishment under the General Maximum Price Regulation[3] of maximum prices which are not generally fair and equitable as applied to the 1942 pack and which are not best calculated to secure adequate production of this commodity. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 232 is issued by the Price Administrator in order to establish for the packers of apple butter maximum prices which are fair and equitable and which will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Regulation has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[4]

The Price Administrator has given due consideration to the prices of apple butter prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has consulted with representatives of the apple butter industry.

The maximum prices established by this regulation are not below prices which will reflect to apple growers a price for apples equal to the highest of any of the following prices, as determined and published by the Secretary of Agriculture: (1) 110 per centum of the parity price adjusted by the Secretary of Agriculture for grade location and seasonal differentials; (2) the market price prevailing on October 1, 1941; (3) the market price prevailing on December 15, 1941; or (4) the average price during the period July 1, 1919, to June 30, 1929.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1341.451 to 1341.466, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

(a) On and after October 1, 1942, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no packer shall sell or deliver any apple butter at a price higher than the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 232;

(b) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any apple butter from a packer at a price higher than the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 232;

(c) No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of these things.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that the prohibition contained in any price regulation against buying or receiving any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by such regulation shall not apply to any war procurement agency, or government whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States.]

§ 1341.452 Packer's maximum prices for apple butter. (a) The packer's maximum price per dozen or other unit f. o. b. factory for each brand, container type and size of apple butter shall be:

(1) The weighted average price per dozen or other unit f. o. b. factory charged by the packer for the brand, container type and size during the months of October and November 1941; plus

(2) ½¢ for each pound of finished apple butter in a dozen or other unit of that size container; plus

(3) The sum of the weighted average cost increases for raw materials. The increase shall be computed for each raw material by taking the difference per dozen or other unit of the finished product between the weighted average cost delivered at the factory of the raw material purchased or contracted for between March 1, 1941, and October 1, 1941, and the weighted average cost delivered at the factory of the raw material purchased or contracted for between March 1, 1942, and October 1, 1942; except as limited in paragraph (b) (3) of this section.

(b) In determining the packer's maximum price:

(1) The "weighted average price" shall be the total gross sales dollars charged for each brand, container type and size divided by the number of units of that item sold. All sales made in the regular course of business during the months of October and November 1941 shall be included, except sales made to the United States. Sales made prior to this period shall not be included, even though delivery was made during the period.

[Paragraph (1) as amended by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 8890]

(2) The "weighted average cost" of any raw material shall be the total amount paid for it divided by the total number of pounds or other unit purchased.

(3) In computing the weighted average costs of raw materials delivered at the factory, the packer shall exclude from the computation any amounts paid in excess of the following amounts:

(i) For raw materials other than fresh apples the maximum prices which the packer's supplier or suppliers were entitled to charge him under the General Maximum Price Regulation or under any other pertinent maximum price regulation in the respective sales by which the raw materials were acquired by the packer.

(ii) For fresh apples the sum of (a) the weighted average cost delivered at the factory of apples purchased or contracted for between March 1, 1941, and October 1, 1941, and (b) $8 a ton.

(4) In converting the increased cost of raw materials into increased cost per dozen or other unit for each brand and container type and size, the increase shall be allocated to each container type and size in the same proportion as costs of raw materials in 1941 were allocated.

(c) The maximum price for each brand, container type and size for a packer who owns more than one factory shall be determined separately for each factory. But if any two or more factories had the same f. o. b. factory prices in 1941 a maximum price may be determined uniformly for that group by using the combined figures of the group in the computations required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. In applying for the specific authorization of a price under paragraph (b) of § 1341.453, application may be made for a uniform maximum price applicable to the whole group.

(d) Any packer who regularly sold a purchaser any item of apple butter on a delivered price basis during the calendar year 1941 shall increase the maximum price for the item, as computed under the preceding paragraphs of this section, by the amount of the freight charge for that item which he added to his f. o. b. factory price during March 1942. The resulting price shall be the packer's maximum delivered price for that purchaser.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining any applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No 34 (7 F.R. 10779) permits special packing expenses to be added to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

(e) New container types and sizes. (1) The maximum price per dozen or other unit for a brand of apple butter packed in any container type or size which the packer did not sell during October and November 1941 shall be calculated as follows. He shall:

(i) Determine the base container. If the packer sold the same brand of apple butter during October and November 1941, but only in other container types or sizes, he shall first determine the most similar container type in which he is able to calculate a maximum price for that brand under this regulation (even though he no longer sells that container type). From that container type he shall choose the nearest size which is 50% or less larger, or if there is no such size, 50% or less smaller (even though he no longer sells those sizes). This will be the "base container." If there is no such smaller size, he shall go to the next most similar container type and proceed in the same manner to find the base container.

NOTE: In most cases "the most similar container type" will be merely the container type which the packer is adding to or replacing, like the tin which he may be replacing with glass. Where there has been only a size change, "the most similar container type" will of course, be the same container type. This is also true in the reverse situation; where there has been a change only in container type, the "nearest size" will be the same size.

(ii) Find the base price. The packer shall take as the "base price" his maximum price for the brand of apple butter when packed in the base container. However, if this maximum price is a price delivered to the purchaser or to any point other than the packer's factory, the packer shall first convert it to a base price f. o. b. packer's factory by deducting whatever transportation charges were included in it.

(iii) Deduct the container cost. Taking his base price f. o. b. factory, the packer shall then subtract the direct cost of the base container. "Direct cost of the container" means the net cost, at the packer's factory, of the container, cap, label and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton, but it does not include costs of filling, closing, labeling or packing.

(iv) Adjust for any difference in contents. The figure obtained by this deduction shall then be adjusted, in the case of a size change, by dividing it by the number of ounces or other units in the base container and multiplying the result by the number of the same units in the new container.

(v) Add the new container cost to get the price f. o. b. factory. Next, the packer shall add to the adjusted figure the "direct cost of the container" in the new type and size. If his maximum price for the commodity in the base container is an f. o. b. factory price, the resulting figure is the packer's maximum price, f. o. b. factory.

(vi) Convert to a maximum delivered price, if the maximum price for the base container is on a delivered basis. If the packer's maximum price for the apple butter in the base container is a delivered price, he shall figure transportation charges to be added, as follows: The packer shall take the transportation charges which he first deducted to get his base price and adjust them in exact proportion to the difference in shipping weight. If for any reason the apple butter in the new container will move under a different freight tariff classification, the packer shall figure his transportation charges (by the same means of transportation and to the same destination) on the basis of the new shipping weight, but at the rate in effect for that freight tariff classification during March 1942. Increases in tariff rates or transportation taxes made since March 31, 1942, shall not be taken into account. (Similar principles shall apply where shipping volume is the measure of the transportation charge.) The packer shall then add these transportation charges to his f. o. b. factory price for the commodity in the new container. The resulting figure is the packer's maximum delivered price.

(2) If the packer has established a maximum price for any new item prior to January 25, 1943, under § 1341.453, he may retain that maximum price, or, at his option, he may establish a maximum price under this paragraph.

[Paragraph (e) added by Amendment 2 7 F.R. 10226, amended by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 1135]

(f) Packers selling to consumers. Any packer who regularly sells any item of apple butter to ultimate consumers other than industrial, institutional and commercial users shall calculate a maximum price for the item separately to that class of purchasers. If during the 1941 base period such a packer sold the item also to wholesalers or retailers, he shall calculate his maximum price to ultimate consumers (other than industrial, institutional and commercial users) by adding to his maximum price to such consumers, under the General Maximum Price Regulation, the permitted increase which he has calculated under this regulation for his retailers or for his wholesalers (converted to retail units). If during the 1941 base period he sold the item only to ultimate consumers (other than industrial, institutional and commercial users), he shall add the permitted increase which the nearest comparable packer who sells to retailers or wholesalers has computed for his retailers or for his wholesalers (converted to retail units).

[Paragraph (f) added by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 10226]

(g) Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust any selling price to a price not higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application in an appropriate situation, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made while the petition is pending in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1341.453 Inability to fix maximum prices under § 1341.452. (a) If the packer's maximum price for any item cannot be determined under § 1341.452, his maximum price shall be the maximum price of the most closely competitive packer.

(b) If the packer's maximum price for any item cannot be determined under § 1341.452 or under paragraph (a) of this section, the maximum price shall be a price determined after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on application setting forth (1) a detailed description of the brand, container type and size; and (2) a statement of the facts which differentiate it from the most similar item for which he has determined a maximum price, identifying the similar item and stating the maximum price determined for it. When authorization is given, it will be accompanied by instructions for determining the maximum price. Within ten days after the price has been determined, the seller shall report it to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. This price shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1341.454 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 232 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1341.455 Customary allowances and discounts. The maximum prices established by §§ 1341.452 and 1341.453 shall be reduced to reflect the packer's customary allowances, discounts and other price differentials.

§ 1341.456 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets, or stock in trade of any packer are sold or otherwise transferred on or after October 1, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify those prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over to the transferee, all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions contained in this Regulation.

§ 1341.457 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 232 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to apple butter, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of any commission, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1341.458. Enforcement. Any person violating a provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 232, is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

§ 1341.459 Records and reports. Every packer who makes sales of any apple butter covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 232, shall (a) as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 continues in effect, preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration all his existing records which were the basis for the computations required by § 1341.452; and (b) preserve for the same period all records of the same kind as he has customarily kept, relating to the prices which he charged for apple butter sold on and after October 1, 1942; and (c) file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 10 days after determining his maximum prices for each brand, container type and size of apple butter, a statement showing (1) his weighted average price and his increases in the cost of raw materials, as determined under § 1341.452, together with the maximum price determined under this regulation and all customary allowances, discounts and differentials, and (2) in those cases in which the maximum price was determined by the maximum price of the most closely competitive packer, the maximum price and the name and address of the packer whose maximum price was adopted; and (d) as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 continues in effect, preserve a true copy of each such statement filed with the Office of Price Administration for examination by any person during ordinary business hours. Any packer who claims that substantial injury would result to him from making any such statement available to any other person, may file a copy of the statement with the nearest regional, State, or district office of the Office of Price Administration. The information contained in the statement will not be published or disclosed unless it is determined that the withholding of the information is contrary to the purposes of this regulation.

§ 1341.459a Information which packers must give their customers.—(a) Notice from packers to wholesalers. In the case of any item of apple butter which is being sold by a packer to a wholesaler for the first time after the packer's maximum price for it has been established under §§ 1341.452 or 1341.453, the packer shall send the wholesaler (before or at the time of delivery) a written statement which lists for each such item included in the sale (1) the weighted average price charged by the packer during the month of December 1941, called the "base price", (2) the packer's maximum price, as calculated under the provisions of this regulation, called the "maximum price", and (3) the amount of the difference between the "base price" and the "maximum price", called the "wholesaler's permitted increase". If the packer has established a maximum price under paragraphs (a) to (d) of § 1341.452, but made no sales of the item during December 1941, his base price shall be his highest offering price during December 1941, but if he had no offering price, he shall report only the permitted increase which the most closely competitive packer calculated for his own wholesalers. If the packer has established a maximum price under paragraph (e) of § 1341.452, he is not required to notify his wholesalers under the provisions of this paragraph. If the packer has established a maximum price by taking the maximum price of his competitor, as provided in § 1341.453 (a), and he made no sales of the item during December 1941, his base price shall be his highest offering price during December 1941 or, if he had no offering price, the base price of the most closely competitive packer. When any packer asks for special authority to determine a maximum price under § 1341.453 (b), the Office of Price Administration will instruct him how to determine his base price. When calculating the "wholesaler's permitted increase", the packer shall adjust any fraction of a cent to the nearest fractional unit in which the wholesaler customarily quotes prices for the item.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Amendments 2 and 3, 7 F.R. 10226, 8 F.R. 1135]

(b) Notice from packers to retailers.—(1) General package requirement. Every packer who sells any item of apple butter during the 90-day period beginning November 6, 1942, whether to a wholesaler or a retailer, shall include with the shipping case (or other package unit in which the retailer usually purchases the product) a "Notice of Retailer's Permitted Increase". This notice must be either pasted or stamped on the outside of each shipping case sold, or printed on a slip and enclosed. In the latter case the packer shall place this statement on the outside: "Retailer's Notice Enclosed". The packer shall calculate the retailer's permitted increase for the item by reducing the permitted increase which he computed for the wholesaler under paragraph (a), where necessary, to the units in which the commodity is usually sold at retail. When making this calculation, the packer shall adjust fractions of one-half cent or more to the next higher cent and fractions of less than one-half cent to the next lower cent. Except for the proper insertion, the notice of retailer's permitted increase shall read as follows:

NOTICE OF RETAILER'S PERMITTED INCREASE

Your new OPA ceiling price for the enclosed item is your March ceiling price plus ---- cents per retail container. OPA requires you to keep this information for examination.

(2) First sales directly to retailers; where notices do not accompany packages. In the case of any item of apple butter which is being sold by a packer to any retailer for the first time after the packer's maximum price for it has been established under §§ 1341.452 or 1341.453 and which for any reason is being sold in a form which does not include a packer's Notice of Retailer's Permitted Increase, the packer shall send the retailer (before or at the time of delivery) a written statement that (i) clearly identifies each such item included in the sale and (ii) states the "permitted increase" for it which the retailer is directed to add to his maximum price as established under the General Maximum Price Regulation. When preparing the statement the packer shall calculate the retailer's permitted increase for the item by reducing the permitted increase which he computed for the wholesaler under paragraph (a), where necessary, to the units in which the commodity is usually sold at retail. When making this calculation, the packer shall adjust fractions of one-half cent or more to the next higher cent and fractions of less than one-half cent to the next lower cent. Each statement shall be accompanied by this notice:

Your new OPA ceiling price for each item noted is your March ceiling price plus the permitted increase shown per retail container. OPA requires you to keep this information for examination.

This statement may also contain similar information for any other items covered by this regulation even though they are not included in the sale.

[§ 1341.459a added by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 8890]

§ 1341.460 Petition for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation 232 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[1]

[§ 1341.460 as amended by Supplementary Order 26, 7 F.R. 8948]

§ 1351.701 Purposes of Maximum Price Regulation No. 255. Maximum Price Regulation No. 255 is issued to establish maximum wholesale prices for certain food products at levels which will permit their distribution through the normal trade channels. In most cases wholesale price increases have been necessary because of upward price adjustments which various maximum price regulations have made at the processor level. In some cases the necessary wholesale adjustments have already been made in separate commodity regulations. By including such adjustments, this regulation covers in unified form all wholesale food adjustments in which wholesalers, by modifying their prices under the General Maximum Price Regulation,[1] are permitted to take account of the individual price increases which have already been allowed to processors and of which the processors are required to give them written notice.

§ 1351.702 Prohibition against selling and buying above maximum prices. (a) On and after November 6, 1942, regardless of any contract or obligation, no wholesaler shall sell or deliver an item of any food product at a price higher than the maximum price established for it by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 255. No person shall buy or receive an item of any food product from a wholesaler in the course of trade or business at a price higher than the maximum price established for it by this regulation. Nor shall any person agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) However, prices lower than maximum prices may be charged and paid.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that the prohibition contained in any price regulation against buying or receiving any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by such regulation shall not apply to any war procurement agency, or government whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States.]

§ 1351.703 Wholesaler's maximum prices for certain listed foods—(a) Maximum price rule. For each item of the food products listed in paragraph (d), the wholesaler's maximum price to any class of purchasers shall be his "base price" plus his "permitted increase" (all per dozen or other customary wholesale selling unit).

(b) "Base price" means the wholesaler's maximum price as calculated under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, except that for the purposes of this calculation the wholesaler shall substitute the base month named with the food product in paragraph (d) for the words "March 1942" wherever they appear in that section. With this qualification, the wholesaler shall use every pricing method provided by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation which may be necessary to establish a base price for the item.

[Paragraph (b) as amended by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 10472]

(c) "Permitted increase" means the amount which the wholesaler's supplier is required to report to him under the maximum price regulation applicable to the supplier. Where there is more than one supplier the wholesaler shall take as his permitted increase the amount reported to him by the supplier who by the time the wholesaler is establishing his maximum price has delivered to him the largest total amount of that item from the 1942 pack. Exceptions: (1) For Hawaiian canned pineapple and Hawaiian canned pineapple juice the wholesaler's permitted increase shall be the difference, f. o. b. canner's shipping point, between the canner's November 1941 list price for the item and the canner's maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(d) This regulation shall apply to these products:

(1) Canned fruits, canned berries and canned juices, whether packed in tin, glass or any other hermetically sealed container, as follows, using February 1942 as the base month:

Fruits. Apricots; cherries, red sour pitted; cherries, sweet; figs; fruit cocktail; fruits for salad; peaches, clingstone (including clingstone nectarines); peaches, freestone (including freestone nectarines); pears; Hawaiian pineapples; plums; prunes, fresh.

Berries. Blackberries; blueberries; boysenberries; cranberries; gooseberries; huckleberries; loganberries; raspberries, black; raspberries, red; strawberries; youngberries.

Juices. Fruit juices and nectars, plain or mixed, made from any of the fruits listed in this subparagraph. Berry juices made from any of the berries listed in this subparagraph.

(2) Frozen fruits, berries and vegetables, using March 1942 as the base month, except that for sales to institutional purchasers October 1941 shall be taken as the base month.

(3) Fruit preserves, jams and jellies, using February 1942 as the base month.

(4) Apple butter, using February 1942 as the base month.

(5) [Revoked by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 1266.]

(20) Fig bars, using March 1942 as the base month.

(21) Bakers' fillings for fruit pie and pastry, using March 1942 as the base month.

(22) Peanut candy, using March 1942 as the base month.

(23) Extracted honey packed in containers of a capacity of ten pounds or less, using February 1942 as the base month.

[Paragraphs (7) to (23) added by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 10471]

(24) Canned chili con carne, using March 1942 as the base month.

(25) Shoestring potatoes, using March 1942 as the base month.

[Paragraphs (24) to (32) added by Amendment 3, 8 F.R. 1266]

(e) Maximum prices for new container types and sizes for which the wholesaler has received no permitted increase or cannot calculate a base price. (1) If only a new container type is involved, that is, if the wholesaler sold the same kind, style, flavor, brand, and size, but only in other container types, during the base period named in paragraph (d), he shall select from that kind, style, flavor, brand, and size the most closely comparable container type for which he is able to calculate a maximum price either under this Regulation or under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation (even though he no longer sells that container type). He shall then add to the current delivered cost of the container type being priced the same dollars and cents markup which he added to the delivered cost of the container type selected (all per dozen or other customary wholesale selling unit). The resulting figure shall be the wholesaler's maximum price for the item.

(2) If only a new size is involved, that is, if the wholesaler sold the same kind, style, flavor, brand, and container type, but only in other sizes, during the base period named in paragraph (d), he shall select from that kind, style, flavor, brand and container type the nearest size for which he is able to calculate a maximum price either under this regulation or under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation and which is one-third or less larger or, if there is no such size, one-third or less smaller (even though he no longer sells that size). He shall then add to the current delivered cost of the size being priced the same dollars and cents markup which he added to the delivered cost of the size selected (all per dozen or other customary wholesale selling unit). The resulting figure shall be the wholesaler's maximum price for the item.

(3) If both a new container type and a new size are involved, that is, if the wholesaler sold the same kind, style, flavor, and brand, but only in other container types and sizes, during the base period named in paragraph (d), he shall first select from that kind, style, flavor, and brand the most closely comparable container type for which he is able to calculate a maximum price either under this regulation or under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation (even though he no longer sells that container type), and from that container type he shall select the nearest size which is one-third or less larger or, if there is no such size, one-third or less smaller (even though he no longer sells that size). If there is no smaller size, he shall go to the next most closely comparable container type and proceed in the same manner to find a base container type and size. He shall then add to the current delivered cost of the container type and size being priced the same dollars and cents markup which he added to the delivered cost of the container type and size selected (all per dozen or other customary wholesale selling unit). The resulting figure shall be the wholesaler's maximum price for the item.

(f) Maximum prices for items for which the wholesaler cannot otherwise calculate maximum prices. If the wholesaler is unable to calculate a maximum price for a new item under the preceding paragraphs, he shall (1) select from the same general class or kind and price range as the item being priced the most closely comparable item for which a maximum price is established under any regulation; (2) divide his current selling price for that item by its actual cost, delivered to him; and (3) multiply the figure so obtained by the current cost, delivered to him, of the item being priced (all per dozen or other customary wholesale selling unit). The resulting figure shall be the wholesaler's maximum price for the item.

[Paragraphs (e) and (f) as added by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 10472]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (except-ing coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 34 (7 F.R. 10779) permits special packing expenses to be added to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

(g) Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust any selling price to a price not higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application in an appropriate situation, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made while the petition is pending in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1351.704 Customary allowances and discounts. No wholesaler shall change any customary allowance, discount, or other price differential to a class of purchasers if the change results in a higher net price to that class of purchasers.

§ 1351.705 When maximum prices may be established or changed under § 1351.703—(a) What must be done before a maximum price may be established. No wholesaler may establish a maximum price for any item under § 1351.703 until he has received delivery of a customary amount of the item after this Maximum Price Regulation No. 255 has become applicable to it. To this extent the regulation shall be considered as having been in effect since August 5, 1942, for canned fruits, berries and juices; August 28, 1942, for frozen fruits, berries and vegetables; September 26, 1942, for fruit preserves, jams and jellies; October 1, 1942, for apple butter; October 5, 1942, for canned apples, apple sauce, and apple juice.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 10471]

(b) When a maximum price is established. On and after November 6, 1942, a maximum price becomes "established" (that is fixed) for any wholesaler as soon as he has either filed a price for the item or disclosed it to any prospective customer, whether by sale, delivery, offer or notice of any kind. A maximum price may be established only once and having been established it may not be changed except with the written permission of the appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration in cases of clerical error or other formal mistake.

(c) What price becomes established as the maximum price. The price which is established in this way as the wholesaler's maximum price is the one which he filed or disclosed. In most cases the maximum price so established will be the price which the wholesaler computed under § 1351.703. However, in some instances the wholesaler may want to disclose a lower price than the one which he computed and at the same time save his right to sell at the higher figure. He can establish the higher price as his ceiling price at the time of disclosure only by recording and naming it as such, in ink on his books, before he discloses the lower price.

§ 1351.706 Information which wholesalers must give their customers—(a) Wholesaler's notice to retailers. The wholesaler's obligation to notify his retailers of "permitted increases" is limited to cases in which the packer has not done so. The packer is required in some cases to include with the carton or other package unit in which the wholesaler usually handles the product a "Notice of Retailer's Permitted Increase", either stamped on the outside or printed on a slip and enclosed. In the latter case the packer is further required to indicate on the outside that such a notice has been included. In this way the wholesaler is able to determine as to any item when his own duty to notify a particular retailer exists.

In the case of any item which is being sold by a wholesaler to any retailer for the first time after the wholesaler's maximum price for it has been established under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 255 and which is being sold in a form which does not include a manufacturer's or producer's Notice of Retailer's Permitted Increase, the wholesaler shall send the retailer (before or at the time of delivery) a written statement that (1) clearly identifies each such item included in the sale and (2) states the "permitted increase" for it which the retailer is directed to add to his maximum price as established under the General Maximum Price Regulation. When preparing the statement the wholesaler shall calculate the retailer's permitted increase for each item by reducing his own permitted increase under § 1351.703, where necessary, to the units in which the commodity is usually sold at retail. When making this calculation, the wholesaler shall adjust fractions of one-half cent or more to the next higher cent and fractions of less than one-half cent to the next lower cent. Each statement shall be accompanied by this notice:

Your new OPA ceiling price for each item noted is your March ceiling price plus the permitted increase shown per retail container. OPA requires you to keep this information for examination.

The statement may also include similar information for any other items covered by this regulation even though they are not included in the sale.

Although this regulation requires no special form for listing items and permitted increases, an example of an approved form which may be helpful to many wholesalers is set forth below. The particular example given happens to be one for fruit preserves, jams and jellies, but the item columns may readily be redrawn and renamed to fit any of the other products covered by this regulation.

(b) Notice to wholesalers. In the case of any item which is being sold by a wholesaler to any other wholesaler to whom he customarily sells, for the first time after the seller's maximum price for it has been established under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 255, the seller shall send the buyer (before or at the time of delivery) a written statement that (1) clearly identifies each item included in the sale for which the seller has determined a maximum price under this regulation, and (2) states the permitted increase which the purchaser is entitled in each case to add when computing his maximum price under § 1351.703. This permitted increase shall be the same permitted increase which was reported to the seller by his supplier.

§ 1351.707 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 255 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to any of the commodities covered by this regulation, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of any commission, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1351.708 Enforcement. Any person violating a provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 255 is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

§ 1351.709 Records and reports of wholesalers—(a) Base period records. For each food product covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 255, every wholesaler shall (1) keep for examination by the Office of Price Administration all his existing records relating to the prices which he charged in sales in which delivery was made during the base month named in § 1351.703 and also his offering prices for delivery during that month, and (2) keep for examination by any person during ordinary business hours the notices of permitted increases given him by his suppliers and a statement prepared by him showing the information which the wholesaler must keep for examination under clause (1) plus all his customary allowances, discounts, and other price differentials. Any wholesaler who claims that he would be substantially injured by showing the statement or any notice to another person may file it with the appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration. The information will not be shown to anyone unless withholding it would be contrary to the purposes of this regulation.

(b) Current records. Every wholesaler selling any food product covered by this regulation shall keep for examination by the Office of Price Administration records of the same kind as he has customarily kept relating to the prices which he charged for each such food product that he sells after this regulation becomes applicable to it.

(c) Reports. Within 30 days after making his first sale of any item subject to this regulation each wholesaler shall prepare a written statement showing for the item and each class of purchaser (1) his base price, (2) his permitted increase, and (3) his maximum price, all as determined under § 1351.703, and he shall file the statement with the nearest District Office or, in the absence of a District Office, the nearest State Office of the Office of Price Administration. The statement may also contain similar information for any other items covered by this regulation even though they are not required to be filed at that time. It shall be in the following form:

The wholesaler shall also include as part of the statement an attached list of all discounts, allowances, territorial differentials and any other price differentials customarily charged by him.
